

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Local Business Situation Shows Improvement for the Better. Country Collections are Still Slow.

Favorable Weather Conditions Give Impetus to Business Most Lines of Trade—Course of the Wholesale Markets.

A week ago it was pointed out that trade at this season is governed in a very large degree by the weather conditions, and that no great activity could be expected in the movement of "snow" goods until there should be a considerable fall in the "beautiful" of the coming of snow and wet weather.

Reports from the country are of a hopeful character, speaking, as they do, of a good demand on the part of retail buyers.

Collections do not show any improvement and while jobbers have been as particular as possible during the past year or more about credits there is no denying the fact that money comes in slowly.

As to prices, there have been some changes in the market.

The manufacturers of Battle Axe plug tobacco marked up their price 3 cents per pound. Carbon oils show a slight advance.

The latest advices are to the effect that the market catch on the American coast.

Members of the trade are calling attention to the fact that the weather is becoming more favorable for the winter season.

Some improvement in the dry goods line, and the trade for the past week is a very satisfactory condition.

There has been no material change in the market for staple cottons during the past week.
