All the Others Except the Chaplain Who Had Been Forecasted for Pinces Secured Them on the First Ballot.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.-The roublicans Maine for speaker of the Fifty-fourth congress. This action was anticipated, as at no time had any effort been inaugurated to contest his election. Hon, Galusha Grow, who was speaker of the house in 1859, nominated Mr. Reed in the caucus. He simply presented Mr. Reed's name, and the nomination was made by a rising vote and amidst cheers. Mr. Grow, Mr. Cannon and Mr. Payne escorted Mr. Reed to the hall, and when the cheering, which greeted his appearance, had subsided, he made a brief speech of acceptance.

'Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen-"For the had once the good fortune to be so placed patriotic sense of a great party, and it is to that patriotic sense of our party that you tender the tribute of your matured, as well as your temporary approval. History will accord us praise for what we did in the Piftyfirst congress, and it may accord us its praise in this for what we do not do.

DUTY OF THE PRESENT CONGRESS. "We have unfortunately a divided govern-ent, which usually leads to small results. But there are times when rest is as healthgiving as exercise. We must not forget that our first and greatest duty is to do all we can to restore confidence to business, and that we must avoid all business legislation, except in the direction of improved business. Rather than run risk we can afford to wait until well matured plans give us assurances of per-manent benefit. Crude and hasty legislation is above all things to be shunned. Could we cause our immense popular majority to overflow into the other branches of the government, and could we have full control, we would create, not a perfect world perhaps world rather more fit to live in than we have lately had. (Applause.) Even as things are, I do not for a moment doubt that our patriotic instincts will lead us to make every sacrifice, except of principle, to rescue our country from its temporary disaster. "Not only have we been elected by the overwhelming vote of the people, as their servants, but as a house of representatives we are the majority, the right to initiate taxation for the people is by the constitution placed in our hands as a sacred trust, which we have no right to surrender.

o'ner things, assuredly maintain. "That we shall be ready at all times to furnish adequate revenue for the government according to our sence of public duty no man

This is the great nation of this hemisphere, and while we have no desire to interfere with other nations, we shall maintain our position with firmness and self-respect. and at the same time, with consideration of facts, and that conservatism of action which shall leave no bad question to trouble our future. In tals, I trust the whole govern nt and all its branches will be in accord with each other, and with the people."

When Mr. Reed has finished his speech of acceptance Mr. Fess of Illinois and Mr. Hilborn of California each presented him with a gavel. These he accepted with appropriate remarks, in the course of which he alluded to the fact that he had spent some years on the Pacific coast as a young man. In his remarks Mr. Reed said: "To all the auas to their metallic views.

The gavel presented by Mr. Foss was made wood from the home of Henry Clay in Kentucky, and was handsomely carved and mounted with silver and gold. The gavel from California was from the old warship Hartford, which has recently been refitted in the Mare island navy yard.

SLATE ALMOST SLIPPED THROUGH. Previous to Mr. Reed's nomination caucus had organized by electing Mr. Gros-venor of Ohio chairman of the caucus by a vote of 158 to 74 for Mr. Henderson of Iowa. Mr. Ellis of Oregon was elected sec-retary by a vote of 139 to 77 for Mr. Hooker of New York. These officers arrived during the scaleon.

Mr. Grosvenor's election was a victory for what was known as the McDowell combine on house offices, and foreshadowed the success of the combine ticket. In order the following officers were selected by the caucus, the vote for each being about the same as that given to Mr. Gresvener: Clerk, Alexander McDowell of Pennsylvania; sergeant-at-arms, Benjamin F. Russell of Missouri; doorkeeper, William J. Glenn of New York; postmaster, Joseph C. McElroy of Ohio.

The successful candidate for clerk, Representative McDowell, was nominated by Henderson of Illinois, also an ex-representa tive, was nominated by Mr. Cannon of Illi nois. The vote was : McDowell, 164; Hen erson, 74. Mr. Russell was nominated by ir. Barthold of Missouri, and Mr. Evans of Kentucky presented the name of Mr. Ed Parker of his state. Mr. Evans said that the south was a few years ago practically without representation on the republican side of the house; the republicans of that section had by determined work wrested twentythree representatives from the democrats. Party policy demanded that these efforts should be recognized in the distribution officers and he thought that the position of sergeant-at-arms should be accorded that see Parker. It was thought that after General Henderson had been defeated for clerk that he might be presented for sergeant-at-arms. but the general found that the combination was too strong to be broken in that way. Mr Payne of New York nominated Mr. Glenn fo doorkeeper and Mr. Liney of North Carolina named William Tipton of Tennessee for the same position. The vote was: Glenn, 174

Mr. Northway of Ohio nominated Mr. Mc Mr. Northway of Ohio nominated Mr. Mc-Eiroy for postmaster, and Mr. Tipton of Ten-nessee was named by Mr. McCall of that state for the place. The vote was: McEiroy, 167; Tipton, 70. The most protracted contest was for the position of chaplain. Nine men were nominated, only two being outside of the District of Columbia. Rev. H. N. Couden of Michigan was nominated on the third bal-lot, receiving 102 votes, against 36 for H. C. lot, receiving 102 votes, against 26 for H. C. Fisher of Kansas, the other candidates hav-ing been in the meantime withdrawn. The caucus adjourned at 1:15 Sunday morning, after providing for the employment of two additional pages in the house.

NEBRASKA DELEGATION DIVIDES Two Vote for McDowell and Three for

Henderson in Caucus. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(Special Telegram.)-Attempts made during the week to get the Nebraska delegation together on the question of house officers proved unavailing and the vote for clerk in the republican cau cus stood Hainer, Melklejohn and Strode for Henderson; Mercer and Andrews for McDowthe successful candidate. Both Mercer and Andrews explain their position by saying that McDowell was a candidate for the at the moment it was known the republicans would return to power; that in consequence of this candidacy, they gave him their sup-port, knowing no other man in the field. Throughout the list of offices to be filled Monday, the Nebraska delegation was divided, three of the members vote for the Kentucky man for sergeant-at-arms, as against Russell of Missouri, the combine candidate. All ports of opinions could be heard after the causouthern members, who say that the republican party has gone back on the very section it needs in the next election to make assurance doubly sure. The middle west and the cast are jubilant tonight. Iowa cast its yote tor Henderson, and South Dakota for Me-

nate the Old Officers. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 .- Sixty-two members of the democratic minority met in caucus this afternoon to form the democratic organization and renominate their officers in the last congress. Mr. Culberson of Texas, who has held his seat since the Forty-fourth congress, was elected chairman of the demoeratic caucus for the Fifty-fourth congress, to succeed Mr. Holman of Indiana. Messrs. Robertson of Louisiana and Rush of Maryhonor which you have conferred upon me, I tender you my sincere chanks. I am not in the least liable to confound with my own personality this tribute of your kindness. I of the Fifty-third congress were selected as the democratic slate without opposition. Selection of the three or four minor officers whom the minority is permitted to name was postponed. Nominating Mr. Crisp, Mr. Richardson touched upon the future policy of the party. He said that he had been selected to especially name one who had already been named in the hearts of all. He spoke of the election of Mr. Crisp to the speakership of the Fifty-second congress by the 240 democrats, after a sharp and brilliant contest, his elec-tion the second time by the democrats of the Fifty-third congress, and said they had met a third time to honor him.

Why," he continued, "this is not the occasion nor the place to inquire. I believe it is not because any great number of those who have heretofore followed the dimocratic standard have deserted their flag. Our party has heretofore buried in forgotten graves every political organization that ever contended against it, and we have an abiding faith that it will do the same with its present great rival. To do so all strife should cease in our own family, and we should choose as leaders in all the states such fearchoose as leaders in all the states such fear-less and patriotic democrats as the gentleman we are about to name. We should inscribe on our banners the policy and principles of the triumphant democracy, lay aside all new-fangled doctrines and continue the battle for a reduction of taxation on the people, give them cheaper clothing and supplies; to broaden and make better markets, for the products of our farms and manufactories; to reduce the public expenses; for greater sim-collective in our national affairs; for home rule reduce the public expenses; for greater sim-plicity in our national affairs; for home rule and local self-government; for an ample cirand local serigovernment, for an ample circulation for our trade and commerce; for will be again triumphant and the country will

Will Demand Control of the Committees Which Deal with Western Questions-Favor a Distribution of Appropriation Bills.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 .- A number of republican senators, including Messrs. Hansbrough, Pettigrew, Clark, Carter, Mantle, Dubols, Shoup, Chandler, Gallinger and Proctor, held an informal meeting last night, and decided to advocate an attempt at reorganization of the senate in the caucus to be held next Monday. They also pronounced in favor of the distribution of the appropriation bills among the various senate committees, and also discussed the committee assignments of senators. It was made evident that the western men would stand together to secure the control of the committees which deal especially with western questions. The scheme for the enlargement of the finance committee also secured the favorable endorsement of the meeting and the opinion was expressed that Senators Cameron and Platt should be selected to fill the two places which will be at the command of the reand the committee is enlarged.

Senator Dubois, as soon as practicable after the convening of the senate, will present the resolution which he offered last session for the distribution of the appropriation bills. His plan is to distribute these bills as follows: The agricultural bill, to the committee on agriculture; consular and diplomatic, to foreign relations; army and military academy bills, to military affairs; naval, to naval affairs; postoffice, to postoffice; Indian, to Indian affairs; river and harbor, to commerce: fortifications, to coast defense: District of Columbia, to District of Columbia committee, and the pension bill to pensions, leaving only the legislative, executive and judicial, sundry civil and the deficiency bills to be dealt with by the committee on appropriations. The proposition undoubtedly be vigorously antagonized.

The opening speech of the district attorney, he said, was not open to objection. It was the evident intention of Holmen, said Judge Arnold, to take off the entire Pitzel family in order to secure property belonging to the murdered man. As to the statement of Mrs. Pitzel, the judge instructed the jury not to be influenced by the woman's statement. He closed by saying that the court approved the verdict and refused a new trial. District Attorney Graham then arose and asked that sentence be pronounced. Holmes was ordered to stand up. Judge Arnold said: "Herman W. Mudgetts, have you anything

This was the condition of a man who had committed the crime rather than one who was trying to con ceal the cyldence of a suicide. CHARGES AGAINST AGENT BUBB. Army Officer in Charge at Colville Accused of Incompetency.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.-General allegations of incompetency against Captain J. W. Bubb, the agent in charge of the Colvilla Indian reservation in Washington state, were filed at the Indian bureau several months ago. They were referred to Special Agent John Lane, who is maiking his regular inspec-tion of the reservations in that locality. Agent They were referred to Special Agent Lane is now at the agency and is making an investigation, but has made no report to the bureau and will not for some time. There were no formal charges, but general statements made by individuals whom officials here say they believe to be personally interested in a change of office. During the allotment of lands in severalty to the Kalispell Indians, which lasted a year, and was completed about August 1, there was some friction between the special allotting agent, George H. Newman, and Agent Bubb. Newman claimed that Bubb interfered with his work, but the matter was soon quieted. Captain Bubb has a good record and is one of the appointees un ier the policy inaugurated by Secretary Smith in naming army officers instead of civilians as agents. Indian officials believe that no serious allegations will be substantiated.

HOLMES WAS UNMOVED.

When the words that settled his doom were pronounced in low, impressive tones, Holmes was unmoved. During the entire time he did not flinch, but looked the judge squarely in the eye, and as the last sound died away he turned to one of his attorneys and remarked quietly: "Well, that settles all."

He was then led from the dock. The opinion covered about forty pages of type-written copy. All the facts brought out in the evidence were carefully set forth, and the varied statements made by the prisoner regarding the identity of the body and manner of death were critically analyzed. Every one of the numerous exceptions submitted by the defendant were overruled, and in one eipt of the following Thanksgiving dona-
