

CAMPOS CALMS THE WARRIORS

Sends a Significant Notice to the Ultra-Spanish Agitators in Havana.

HOPES FOR A DECISIVE MEETING SOON

Belief General in Official Circles that an Engagement Between Regulars and Rebels Cannot Long Be Avoided.

(Copyright, 1896, by Press Publishing Company.) HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 10.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—The numerous reports circulated in the past ten days that General Campos had resigned, had been recalled, would be superseded and what not, I have avoided. Nearly all these rumors came from interested parties, who are hostile to General Campos' enlightened policy. These malcontents became bold and expressed their feelings openly. The old soldier knew or suspected all this.

MOVEMENTS OF THE REBELS.

Great confidence is felt in official circles that the insurgents are in peril; that capture or serious defeat awaits them. A member of the captain general's staff informs me that while Gomez's expedition is not known here, his own opinion is that the eastern chief will go to the Vuelta Abajo coast, and that he will sail for the eastern part of Pinar del Rio province.

General of Brigade Garcia Navarro, who was promoted yesterday on his merits to be general of division, engaged Mexico's rear guard yesterday near Cabanas, which is a point of great importance. He is reported to be avoiding a battle, moving north and west. Colonel Arizon afterward had a brush with the rebels. The loss to the Spaniards was fifteen wounded. The rebel loss was not known.

A large Spanish force is stationed so as to cut off, if possible, a movement by Maceo eastward.

Suarez Valdez telegraphs that Gomez continues his westward movement beyond San Cristobal.

Gomez was in the neighborhood of San Cristobal yesterday. He is in the Western railway, in Pinar del Rio province. Another division of his force, commanded by Maceo, was near Banes, but to the westward of that point.

A Spanish force is reported to have been destroyed in the mountains of Guanajuato.

Additional intelligence was received today concerning the condition of the Western railway. It is reported that the line is now open for traffic between Havana and San Cristobal, sixty-two miles from here.

The work at San Cristobal was done by the portion of the insurgents who were in the region, sandy and unproductive. The insurgent chief undoubtedly destroyed the railway to prevent the use of the line by the Spanish general in pursuit of him.

The question of subsistence is now an important one to Spaniards and rebels alike. Gomez's followers no longer have their staple foodstuffs, and are being driven to the Pinar del Rio province, but the country in which the rebels moved yesterday morning will not support a large number of men.

The Spanish supplies were sent by rail to Guanajuato, and thence by train. The Western railway is useless beyond Salud, twenty miles from Havana, and there is a long detour by land before the city of Pinar del Rio or the Vuelta Abajo tobacco region is reached.

JACQUES ST. CERRE ARRESTED. Well Known Paris Journalist Charged with Attempted Blackmail.

(Copyright, 1896, by Press Publishing Company.) PARIS, Jan. 10.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—A great sensation was caused tonight by the news of the arrest of Jacques St. Cerre of the Figaro and the New York Herald for an attempt at blackmailing the late Max Lehmann, the unlucky politician, who died while performing military service.

St. Cerre's name has been frequently mentioned in connection with the Lehmann blackmailing scandal. He was arrested after irrefutable evidence of his guilt was obtained. He had written in Figaro on international politics for six years, distinguishing himself by his brilliant and biting articles on Italy and Italy. His real name is Rosenthal, not St. Cerre, he being of German origin. He has previously been charged with blackmailing several Paris papers.

Only yesterday it was announced that Vicomte Eric de Clery, editor of Echo de Paris, had been arrested on the charge of blackmailing young Leboucq and the same day it was stated that M. Jalloux, also charged with blackmailing T. L. Baily, had absconded, leaving liabilities amounting to 6,000,000 francs, of which sum 2,000,000 francs are said to have belonged to the Leboucq estate.

St. Cerre was arrested here on January 7. Count Leboucq was arrested here on January 10. Newspapers arrested here on January 10. Count Leboucq was arrested here on January 10. Newspapers arrested here on January 10.

Arrest of Suspects Continues. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A dispatch to the Herald from Caracas, Venezuela, says: General Domingo Sifontes, who was in charge of the Domingo Sifontes at the time Sergeant Barrios was arrested by the Venezuelan authorities, has been arrested in Ciudad Bolivar on the accusation that he has been mixed up in the late rebellion.

NO WORRY OVER GERMANY'S ATTITUDE

Kaiser's Message to Krueger More than Offset by the Importance of Trade Between the Two Empires.

(Copyright, 1896, by Press Publishing Company.) LONDON, Jan. 10.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Warrick, or to state it more accurately, precautionary activity continues unabated in English dock yards, arsenals and military camps, yet real doubts of a hostilities between Germany and England are not expressed. It is true that the Kaiser's message to Krueger was a momentary and unconsidered outburst, with the assent of his cabinet, it is true, but of a cabinet which is merely the echo of the turbulent young monarch's will or whim. While the English press is a unit in meeting boldly any threat of war, German newspapers of yesterday and today are almost unanimous in now disclaiming a warlike interpretation of the Kaiser's telegram. It remains, nevertheless, as an unexplained proof of his hostility to England, and England must henceforth reckon with it and its possibilities. It will undoubtedly moderate in the future what United Europe now does not scruple to call English aggression in all international, and particularly in all colonial, affairs.

HENRY BOLIN UNDER ARREST

Warrant Served on Him at His Home Last Night.

COMPELLED TO PASS A NIGHT IN JAIL

Information Charges Him with Embezzlement and Larceny of City Funds During His Service as City Treasurer.

Henry Bolin, ex-city treasurer of Omaha, was arrested last night shortly after 7 o'clock at his residence, 1823 Wirt street, on a warrant served by Officer Bloom.

A complaint was sworn to about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Assistant County Attorney Day, charging Bolin with the embezzlement and larceny of city funds, but the information was kept strictly secret and the clerk of the police court instructed not to divulge its contents on any pretense. Officer Bloom was given the warrant and told to serve it without delay. He immediately began a round of the usual haunts of the ex-treasurer, but failed to find him at any one of them. No one had seen Bolin during the afternoon, and it was feared by the police that he had been given a tip of the impending arrest and had left the city. About supper time the officer visited the house of Bolin, but was informed that he had not returned home, but was expected shortly.

Returned again after half an hour Officer Bloom found Bolin at home, and proceeded to read the warrant. It was received by Bolin in surprise, but he quietly replied that he would go to the station as soon as he had eaten his supper, which privilege was granted.

Mrs. Bolin broke down completely when it was announced that her husband was under arrest, and the parting between them was affecting. Mr. Bolin showing considerable emotion.

Arrived at the station, Mr. Bolin was asked if he would be able to secure bonds for his appearance, and he replied that he thought it doubtful, as few of his friends knew of his arrest, and he thought it highly probable that he would have to pass the night in the jail. Inasmuch as Judge Gordon had gone home, Mr. Bolin stated that he thought it highly probable that even should he be able to get bondsmen it would avail him little, as the amount of them had not been fixed by the Judge.

Mrs. Davidson Unable to Remember Any Details Which Occurred in SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—In the police court this afternoon the preliminary examination of Mrs. M. A. Davidson on the charge of extorting money from Rev. Dr. Brown was resumed. Mrs. Davidson, on cross-examination, said her mind was an absolute blank as to what happened to her from 1874 to 1887. She did not know where she had been, what she had done, whether she had ever served a term in the Essex house of correction in Massachusetts; if she had given birth to a child, or if she had wedded various persons, whose names the prosecution mentioned. Two witnesses testified that Mrs. Davidson's attorney, Mr. Davidson, asserts she accepted the money from Dr. Brown.

E. S. Simpson, editor of the Chronicle, testified that Matt Gordon had called at his office and offered to sell him a story about a prominent man for $1,000, but did not mention the name of the man involved. Mrs. Davidson was held in $5,000 bail to answer to the charge of extortion.
