Park Commissioners Get Retrenchment Fever but Soon Recover.

RESOLVE ON SWEEPING ECONOMY

Then They Take It Back and Expunge the Matter from the Record—Salaries Will Go On.

The Board of Park Commissioners made a huge stab in the way of retrenchment yesterday afternoon. And then they took it back. They passed a resolution by which they proposed to dispense with their salaries of $200 a year and serve for nothing if the members of the other city boards would follow their example and sacrifice an equal amount from their salaries. Then they reconsidered the resolution and expunged it from the records.

As originally proposed, the resolution contained three propositions. The first was the proposition relating to salaries. The second proposed to dispense with the secretary and request that one of the comptroller's clerks be deputized to come up and check up their accounts once a month. The third stated their willingness to give up their offices for court room purposes and take quarters in some other part of the city hall.

These resolutions were signed by President Tukey and Commissioners Redfield, Bates and Kildpatrick. But Judge Lake refused to add his signature. He said that he could not see the way to retrench in his opinion, and this is the amount members were formerly assessed to maintain the same service. The park board was the only department of the city government in which an economical example had been set, and the true history of the board continued in the same way it was doing all that was required. He contended that the board for final consideration in two, as the greater part of them were simply "exhibitions of laziness," and did nothing except to sun themselves and draw their salaries.

After some further discussion the clause relating to the secretary was stricken out. The different committee of the members decided that they were not willing to allow the records to get out of their possession. It was stated that an arrangement might be made by which the president would remain in the office all the time and take care of the records himself.

The resolutions were then declared passed. Judge Lake voting no. Then Mr. Redfield stated that the resolutions were designed to set an example for the other departments, but it would have the effect of representing the unanimous action of the board. Therefore, the whole matter was rescinded.

Rules were adopted by which the superintendent was authorized to suspend park policemen, keepers and borlats and report his action to the board for final consideration. The committee on employment and supplies was given the power to employ and discharge common laborers.

Will Confer on Terminal Charges.

President Stephen of the South Omaha Live Stock Exchange has appointed the following committee to confer upon the railway managers and the stock yard officials in regard to terminal charges: J. A. Hake, J. B. Blanchard, R. Gilchrist, J. G. Martin, D. B. Olney, A. C. Foster and W. V. Babcock. The committee will endeavor to have the railroad rescind the order which went into effect January 1, which compels shippers to pay terminal charges. The charge for cars has been set at 10c, and 10c per car for unloading. Formerly the railroads paid this bill, but under the recent order the shipper now has to pay it, and railroad agents fear that should the order continue to be enforced there will be a less of business at this market. The commission men are of the same opinion, and the committee will be made by this committee to arrive at some understanding with the railroads and do away as possible with the objectionable order.

Extended 10 to this Market.

According to a decision made yesterday by the Transmissorial association, mixed stock may now be carried in the same cars, without a partition being built. Heretofore the order has been that when cattle and sheep were shipped in the same car, heavy board partitions should be placed in the car, thus separating the stock. This applied to the Omaha market only. Shipments from twelve to fifteen car lots were not compelled to separate the stock. Thus they saved considerable expense. The doing away with this rule will help to increase the receipts at this market, as many owners of small ranches shipped to the city. They are now being forced to pay the expense of partitioning of the cars when a mixed load was sent to market.

Buckled Charrtense Into a Favorite and Won. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The fourth race at Ingleside was a dandy one, owing to scratches and but five races were run, the best of which was the mile race, MacDonogh's Charrtense II, who was backed into favoritism, won, pulled up in three lengths. The time, 1:14, is the fastest ever made at the Ingleside track. Caldwell found it a difficult task to get the horses off, owing to the large fields, there being from twelve to fifteen starters in each of the different races, and the last race was run in semi-darkness. Charrtense and Olive were the only winning favorites, being chosen securing the other events. Weather, fine; attendance, large; track fast. Jockey W.
