NOT AN UNMIXED BLESSING

Two Views of the Coming Visit of the Yale Crew to Henley.
YACHTS HEADED FOR SOUTHERN WATERS
Some of Them Encountered Rough Weather—Gossip of the Theatrical World—Willard Coming to America.

(Copyright, 1896, by the Associated Press.)
LONDON, Feb. 8.—Socially and politically this has been a dismal week, although there has been a revival of interest in politics, in view of the approaching opening of Parliament.
In sporting circles there has been considerable attention aroused by the cable dispatches announcing Yale's intention to send a crew across the Atlantic to compete at the Henley regatta. The news met with a kindly reception among the amateur oarsmen, and no doubt is felt that the appearance of a sportsmanlike crew, such as Yale is supposed to be, will do much to efface the bitterness resulting from the Dunraven incident and the unfortunate experience of the Cornell crew in England last year.
Truth, discussing the prospects of Yale sending a crew to England says: "With every desire to welcome Yale we cannot help expressing the selfish wish that for one short year no foreign crew will come to Henley. Their presence raises the excitement to a great extent destroyed. However, a crew of two will undoubtedly come, and in order to meet emergencies, the Oxford University Boat Club has ordered more racing boats."
It is not disguised here that the success of the popular loan in the United States was a great surprise, and is held to justify the more hopeful view of the situation. It is generally interpreted as showing that the Americans believe that the loan will be repaid in silver. A representative of the Associated Press called yesterday at the Rothschild banking house and asked the representative of the firm what he thought of the new United States loan. He said: "The promissory with which the loan was taken was something of a surprise to London bankers. President Cleveland is to be congratulated upon its success. There may, however, be some trouble in readily finding gold to take the bonds. In that case would have been more easily accomplished by a syndicate. I do not know what proportion of the loan is subscribed for in Europe, but I think it is only a small amount."
At the J. S. Morgan banking house a representative of that firm remarked: "I cannot say accurately how the government loan has fared, but I believe that the loan will be repaid in silver. I think about $5,000,000."
At Brown, Shipley & Co. a representative of the firm said: "I have some orders from customers, but nothing in proportion to the former loan."
The secretary of the Bimetallist league remarked: "I am not inclined to see simply a gold issue in the wonderful manner in which the loan was subscribed. It seems to have come from general sources, and I do not believe the subscribers are among the silver men. I regard it entirely as a gold loan."
OSBORNE GOES TO BEATRICE.
It is stated in some of the newspapers that in the event of the death of the queen it will be found that her majesty has bequeathed Osborne house to Princess Beatrice, including the right of gift of the living of Whippam church. Farly for this reason, it is added, Princess Beatrice wishes the remains of her husband to be interred there. It is understood that the prince of Wales, after the queen's demise, will have Balmoral castle, as he is the only member of the royal family capable of supporting it, or else it will be sold and the proceeds divided between the duke of Connaught, the Princess Christian and Louise, and the children of the late duke of Albany.
There has been an exodus of yachts this week toward the Mediterranean, where they

UNION TO BUILD UP OMAHA

Jobbers, Retailers and Traveling Men Disposed to Combine.
COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION NAMED
Designed to Co-Operate with All Bodies Having Practically the Same End in View—How the Project Was Discussed.

A joint meeting of the jobbers and traveling men was held at Krug's hall last evening. F. C. Tuttle called the meeting to order. G. M. Tibbs was elected chairman and R. F. Hodgins secretary. Mr. Tuttle stated that the object of the meeting was to form an organization to be presented at the next meeting of Nebraska jobbers and retailers. The idea of an organization of the kind came from Kansas City, where the agricultural implement dealers have such an association. It was thought that it would require too many associations to have a separate organization for each line of business, so it was proposed to embrace all in one. It was proposed to formulate a plan and then call a convention and invite the retailers from all sections of the state to place themselves in part in the organization. "We want the retail merchants of the state to become acquainted with the heads of the Omaha jobbing houses," said the speaker. "They know us, the traveling men, but they are not acquainted with our jobbers. It is not intended to form an organization that shall be antagonistic to the Manufacturers' and Commission's association, but rather the twin brother."
RETAILERS TO BE INCLUDED.
Mr. Hodgins proposed that the organization include the retailers in western Iowa, South Dakota and other sections reached by the Omaha jobbing houses.
Dan Farrell said that it was a fact that the South Platte country was gradually drifting away from Omaha and the object of the organization should be to induce the merchants of the state to buy their goods in Nebraska.
Mayor Broatch said that he felt that the jobbers of Omaha ought to place themselves in accord with the merchants of the state. He was in favor of making the organization broad enough to reach all tributary territory. Mr. Cannon said that it was very difficult to hold the trade in the southern part of the state. Even within fifty to sixty miles of Omaha the merchants seem to prefer to buy in other markets, and we feel that there must be some reason for it. In the northern part of the state the merchants seem to prefer to buy in Sioux City. We realize that we must do something to change this.
Edward Rosewater was called upon and replied that he realized that the feeling in the state toward Omaha was not what Omaha like to see it, and that it was an opportunity to promote friendly relations between city and country should be lost. He pointed out that the newspaper is the advance agent of the business man, but in Omaha papers had been handicapped by poor mail facilities. The government was using its influence to drive everything into the great metropolis and Omaha was the loser. A cordial handshake would do wonders toward setting up a business.
Mr. Hoopes said that as president of the Retailers' club, he could assure the organ-

LABOR WILL HAVE A LAUNDRY

Will Be Co-Operative and for Women Only.
WHY THE PROJECT HAS BEEN UNDERTAKEN
It is to Relieve the Female Unemployed Who Talk of Suicide and Woe Their Suffering Begins Tomorrow.

It has been determined that an attempt shall be made to dissolve what has been called "the suicide club." This club has no organization. Its members have no bond of union save the sympathy begotten by want and on account of unassisted want, despair, daily circumstances, since the establishment of the employment bureau in connection with the Labor Temple scheme, have attested not only the fact that thousands of men and heads of families are at the extremity of subsistence, but, what more creates compassion, that hundreds of women are in the same respect in such sore straits that many declare it is a choice between starvation and the burnt district, or the getting of bread by the barter of their honor.
One said the other day: "If I can't get work, soon, I will go down and live in those in the burnt district, and some have said that rather than live longer as they are, they would quit living at all."
On the subject of labor officials and how decided that something be done especially for the women and girls who are out of work. Since General Kelly came to the city the situation has been discussed, not more earnestly, but with more hope than before and a remedial course agreed on. A co-operative laundry will be established unless this desperate account it has of General Kelly fail. If established, it will be the first co-operative labor institution in the city, and it is designed that it shall be exclusively in the hands of women and girls without other employment and without prospect of obtaining any.
General Kelly has had some experience in this respect and will remain in Omaha for the next sixty days to labor in furtherance of the undertaking. He was one of the promoters of a like institution in Oakland, Cal., and will use here the same methods that proved to be so successful there.
A building suitable both in itself and in its location will be first secured, either free rent or by rent. Then equipment will be sought, and it is believed that this, and possibly the use of the building, will be donated or furnished at small cost. No attempt will be made to put in expensive machinery. The washing will be tub washing, but some lumber must be had and a steam boiler, and the fitting up of the room will be by the labor of unemployed men.
As at Oakland, the workers every Saturday night, after deducting for expenses and 10 per cent for a contingent fund, will divide among them the receipts pro rata according to the time put in at labor. No one will be paid a higher rate than another, the manager receiving the same per hour as those in the wash rooms. The laborers will be worked in shifts, one company a few hours in the morning, another, and so on, the aim being constantly to relieve those most in need of relief.
General Kelly says that at Oakland the recompense averaged about $2 per week, and the general popularity of the enterprise was shown by the fact that on the first day work was solicited, one party secured orders for $50.
The work of establishing the laundry will be commenced tomorrow.
Pleased with Street Work Plan.
Local organized labor is, on the whole, very well pleased with the understanding that has been reached between the officials of Central Labor union and the city council with regard to the cleaning of the streets. Though the relief to the unemployed that has already begun cannot go far toward the relief of the unemployed, it is considered a point that was well worth striving for.
It will be seen that the men employed

AT STREET CLEANING ARE THOSE ONLY WHO ARE IN IMMEDIATE DESTITUTION, AND AS A RULE PREFERENCE WILL BE GIVEN TO MARRIED MEN WHO HAVE FAMILIES DEPENDENT UPON THEM.

The Board of Public Works has agreed for the present at this rate, to pick men for the work from lists sent by Central Labor union officers, and by the latter very careful inquiry will be made of applicants. Parties who expect help must be residents of Omaha and make affidavit that they are in actual want and give such other information as will make possible a verification of their statements.
Men will be worked in shifts. As soon as one set has earned enough to relieve want for a few days, another set will be put to work. The 100 men who were asked for was not made, it is expected that the $3,000 fruit of the half mill will be augmented by almost as large a sum from the road fund.
KELLEY AT THE LABOR TEMPLE.
Resolutions Condemning Associated Charities A. P. Passed.
Labor temple was crowded to the doors last night, the attraction being General Charles T. Kelley, who was billed for a speech. There were several women present and they manifested a lively interest in the proceedings.
John G. Kuhn occupied the floor for a few moments in telling the gathering about the little red label designed by the Central Labor union. It was designed to designate goods made in Nebraska by union labor. He asked all interested in the progress of organized labor to see that this label appeared on all goods purchased.
Mr. Waller made a brief talk on the subject of scab beer.
General Kelly was then introduced. He spoke of the competition between the small merchants and the big department stores. He advised the workmen to keep out of the matter entirely and let the people who were interested fight it out. The working man had always made the mistake of pulling chestnuts out of the fire for the benefit of the capitalist, not more earnestly, but with more hope than before and a remedial course agreed on. A co-operative laundry will be established unless this desperate account it has of General Kelly fail. If established, it will be the first co-operative labor institution in the city, and it is designed that it shall be exclusively in the hands of women and girls without other employment and without prospect of obtaining any.
General Kelly has had some experience in this respect and will remain in Omaha for the next sixty days to labor in furtherance of the undertaking. He was one of the promoters of a like institution in Oakland, Cal., and will use here the same methods that proved to be so successful there.

MEETING OF MUSICIANS' ASSEMBLY.

Musicians assembly No. 5927, Knights of Labor, elected the following officers for the ensuing term last Monday evening: Master Workman, John Green; worthy foreman, Thomas Dillon; past master, working, F. W. Lesantini; recording secretary, F. Clark; financial secretary, Charles Bechtold; treasurer, Thomas Edwards.
The appropriate officers will be named at the next meeting.
A special meeting was called for Sunday, February 16, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of installing the new officers. A resolution was passed changing the regular meetings from semi-monthly to monthly and placing the date of meeting on the first Sunday of each month at 2 p. m. A resolution was passed providing for a fund of $5 on any member hiring musicians outside of the members of the assembly, unless actually compelled to do so, as in cases where all the members are engaged. The resolution was adopted and the secretary will be initiated at the next regular meeting and the secretary thereupon requests that every member be present.

GOLD STANDARD DISCUSSION.

There will be a general discussion of gold as a single standard of values at the Knights of Labor hall, 110 South Fourteenth street, next Friday evening. John O. Yelzer will open and Thomas Kilpatrick will answer in twenty-minute addresses, after which the meeting will be thrown open for general discussion.
From the Local Labor Field.
A club of colored laboring men is being organized. When it has secured a membership of 200 it will take quarters in Labor Temple. Arrangements have been made to organize this week under the American Railway union and the American Federation 200 local workmen.
Foreign papers are beginning to be received at the Labor Temple reading room. Two are now coming from London, two from Australia, one from Ireland and one from France.
Labor Temple will issue in a few days a labor directory. It will be a pamphlet of 100 pages. In it will appear a history of the Labor Temple movement, of the American Railway union, of the American Federation of Labor and of Central Labor union. Meeting nights and official rosters of all organizations connected with the Labor Temple club will be given and a large array of details respecting organized labor in Omaha.

J. W. Pierce, Republic Co., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can heartily recommend it to every man, woman and child. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself."
