Wheat Closed Heavy at the Pottom Price of the Day.

THERE WAS A BRISK TRADE THROUGHOUT

Corn Wes Very Dull and Rather Heavy, but the Break in Price Was Insignificant, Everything Considered.

CHICAGO, March 23 -As the result of a break in oats and provisions and a failure of the export movement in New York in grain, wheat today closed heavy at the bottom price of the day. Compared with Saturday night, it shows a net less of he-Corn lost 14c, oats 34c and provisions from

There was a good trade in wheat within a 1% range. The feeling developed was a little unsettled, the tone carly being stronger, after which a weaker feeling set in and the close was easy at from 140 to %c decline. The news at the start was of a character to encourage nolders and induce buying. To start with cables came quite strong, both English and continental, Liverpool showing a gain of from 15d to 54d. The world's shipments were re-ported smaller than inst week at 5,424,000 bu, and this imparted a good deal of strength to the situation and good deal of strength to the situation and private Liverpool advices stated that the same started the advance there. There was a decrease on ocean passage of 480,000 bu, which was also a "bull factor," and then the visible supply on this side showed a larger decrease than figured on at 755,000 bu, which likewise had a stimulating tendency. At the advance there was free and active relling by the large professionals and prices finally yielded, the demand not being sufficient to absorb the same. The market was further weakened by moderate exports. The weather, too, cut some figure, the cold wave failing to materialize; on the contrary, warmer conditions being indicated; northwestern receipts, too, were again larger than last week. The break in provisions and oats had some little effect on the session and started 'lengs' to realizing, which increased as the session advanced. May opened 3/c higher at 63/4c, sold between 62c and 63/4c and closed easy at 62c. private Liverpool advices stated that the corn market was very du'l and rather at 62c.

The corn market was very du'l and rather heavy, but the break in the price was insignificant, taking into consideration the extreme weakness of cats and the sumpy manner in which wheat acted after its early buige. May opened unchanged at 29%c, sold sparingly at 29%c and closed at that price bid.

Outs were active, weaker and lower, with free general liquidation by longs and selling by local traders. Prices declined to from %c to %c and the close was tame at the bottom. May and July were the active months and there were good buying of July and selling of May, which spread the difference from %c at the close Saturday to %c today. The buying was mainly by shorts and did not attract especial attention. The market opened steady, but weakened under realizing sales. May opened at 20%c, sold at from 20%c to 20%c, declined to 19%c and closed with that price bid, a drop of %c since Saturday. July ranged from 20%c to 20%c to 19%c and rested with the latter price bid.

An unusually active speculative business was transacted in hog products and the market, in a general way, was greatly unsettled. The market opened rather firm with moderate buying, mainly to provide for outside orders, and prices were higher temporarily in sympathy with the hortest buying, mainly to provide for outside orders, and prices were higher temporarily in sympathy with the hog market. The easiness in the grain market, however, and considerable desire to unload by longs caused a decided y lower market. As prices declined there was considerable pressure to sell, especially by parties carrying property on stop loss orders and on narrow margins, which resulted in a marked decline on all the speculative articles. At inside figures the demand improvement on the inside figures reached.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 50 cars; oats, 400 cars; hogs.

HIDES AND TALLOW.

HIDES AND TALLOW.

This is the time of year to write depressing stories about hides, according to the Shoe and Leather Review. March hides are, as every one knows, the worst of the year. It is an old story of how hides that would go into the lightweights if short-haired when long-haired and dirty weigh sixty-one pounds or mare and bring le per pound more.

All these matters should of course be considered by the prudent buyer, but his scruticy should not end there. It is a fact that hides this winter, while running grubby, are not in bad condition. The winter has been a mild one and the take-off is less undesirable than usual. The packers are not very knistent on prices and concessions are easily secured as the quality depreciates. The packers are, however, simulating a weakness they do not feel. Their principal anxiety is to enter the short-haired season with no long-haired hides on hand. The proclear was HIDES AND TALLOW. anxiety is to enter the short-haired season with no long-haired hides on hand. The packers are not altogether successful in disguising their project, which is to engineer a substantial ad-vance before the June roses are in bloom. Quota-

STOCKS AND BONDS. Fraders Had the Day's Limited Mar Ket Entirely to Themselves. NEW YORK, March 21.—The traders had to-lay's limited market entirely to themselves. financial community at large holding aloof n account of various uncertainties in the situa-ion that are likely, or are considered to b paying special attention to the grangers, Louisville & Nashville, New Jersey Central, Kansas & Texas preferred and some of the industrial shares. Renewed liquidation was discernible in Tennessee Coal and resulted in a concession of 15 per cent. As is usual in a singuish market, weak spots were found in a number of the usualty inactive shares. Solling by houses with Washington connections was quite marked. The losses at the low level 1612 points in the prominent shares, with Burlington and New Jersey Central the chief sufferers. Among the less conspicuous shares with Eurington and New Jersey Central the chief sufferers. Among the less consideration of two cases. The trading in the foremore was apathetic, but in the late session the market became animated at the expense of values. The pressure to sell abated in the last half hour, and a movement by shorts, in which Tobacco figured for a point and other shares to a fractional extent, occurred. The selling was steady at the improvement, but with the net lossed general as the result of the day's operations. Business in bonds was restricted, and the market developed heaviness in sympathy with the stock market. Texas seconds declined 2 per cent. Other net lesses of consequence were in Chesapeake & Ohio 49s, Northern Pacific firsts and Northern Pacific thirds, Union Pacific and Denver & Gulf firsts, Cordage firsts, trust receiples and Kansas & Texas firsts, all of which declined 1 per cent. The aggregate dealings were $73,000. Governments were irregular within a narrow range of dealings of $4,000.

The Evening Post's London financial cablegram easys: The stock markets were idle today. The sectionent in mines begins tomarrow and the general settlement on Wednesday. The tone was steady, except for Argentines, which have failen on a further rise in the gold premium there and a renewal of the talk of strained relations with Chill on the frontler question. Americans were gonds were exceptionally flat. The Berlin market weak on the aspect of Egyptian affairs.

 to raise a mob to lynch George Morgan, the murderer of little Ida Gaskill, November 5, was put on frial in the criminal court yesterday afternoon. When the case was called Broglin said he had no attorney and had had no opportunity to get one Marriage Licenses. Permits to wed were issued yesterday to the following parties: as he had been in jau, for some time on another charge. After some inquiry of Brog-lin the court learned that the defendant had no witnesses, and ordered the trial to proceed without an attorney for Brog-lin. A jury was empaneled and the wit-nesses for the prosecution were called to the stand. Five of the witnesses were po-licemen and the other one was a common citizen. Broglin conducted the cross-exam-ination of each witness, and he showed that he did not require an attorney. HOGS—Only twelve loads of hogs were received today, the receipts, as usual on a Moxday at this point, being extremely light. Operatioms were so limited by the small number of hogs on sale that it could hardly be called a market. The buyers wanted hogs and they put on 5c, bidding $3.75 for the bulk and $3.80 for the tops. Salesmen seemed to want $3.80 for about everything and owing to the difference of opinion as to the matter of values the trade was slow.

Decree Granted on the Ground of Descriton-Husband's Bill Ignored on Account of Failure to Prosecute.

TRENTON, N. J., March 23 .- Chancellor McGill filed a decree today granting an absolute divorce to Mrs. Charlotte Coleman Drayton from J. Coleman Drayton on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Drayton is the daughter of the late William Astor. None of the evidence taken in the case is on file in the chancery clerk's office, all being in the possession of the chancellor. In the beginning the decree says:

"It is impossible to escape the conviction that the defendant's suspicions of his wife's infidelity were not destitute of foundation in questionable circumstances at least, but I fail to find any judicial precedent which holds that under a statute similar to that of this state a husband may with impunity be guilty of desertion of his wife, merely because he believes her, even under gravely suspicious circumstances, to have been guilty of adultery.

"Desertion," the chancellor holds, "la justified only when it is shown by clear and satisfactory proof that the deserting party has been so offended against as to authorize at his instance a decree for divorce or judicial separation,
"If the defendant would rely upon his charge of adultery as a defense against her charge of desertion, he must prove it. There is no evidence that it was the inten-tion of the defendant at the time he left the petitioner to institute a suit for divorce on the ground of adultery. He did, in fact, commence such a suit in June, 1894, a time so remote from the commencement of the separation that more than the period pre-scribed by law in which desertion must continue to contribute a cause for divorce had intervened and thereby a cause for divorce had become available to her, and even after the lapse of that time his suit was not prosecuted with diligence.

"A mere institution of a suit for divorce on the ground of adultery will not avail as a defense to a sult for divorce on the ground of desertion. The adultery must be proved. It was the husband's duty to act expeditiously, so that his wife should not remain longer than necessity required, if guilty, un-convicted, and if innocent, under the shadow convicted, and if innocent, under the shadow of such a scandalous and disgraceful charge." The chancellor finds that there was no collusion on the part of the husband and wife to secure a divorce and says that the mere fact that both desired to be divorced does not constitute collusion. There must be a disagreement. In the decree reference to the testimony is made, but the chancellor does not mention Hallet Alsop Borrowe by name. "One B—, a neighbor," is however, referred to and "this one B—" is mentioned as having been named as a co-respondent in the suit brought by Drayton against his wife. Borrowe was co-respondent in that suit.

In reviewing the testimony the chancellor says it appeared that Drayton questioned his wife's fidelity while they were living at Bernardsville, in this state, and that she then went to her father's home. This was in October, 1891. In November a partial reconciliation was effected between Mr. and Mrs. Drayton. They then went to England and while there the estrangement widened and Mrs. Drayton, according to her own testimony, became unhappy and miserable and determined that separation was necessary. Having no one in whom to confide, she telegraphed to America for B-, and he met her at a Lon-America for B—, and he met her at a London hotel, where arrangements had been made for her to meet an American lawyer. The lawyer was late in arriving, and Mrs. Drayton and B— went into another room, where they had lunch, a waiter being in the room with them. While in this room Drayton and two men, presumably detectives, entered and identified her, afterward departing. After this in accordance with an Offerings of Cattle Were Menger and There Was an Advance.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Offerings of cattle were meager today and there was an advance of from the place of the beauty beeves showing the least imhusband's lawyer, Mrs. Drayton went to Wimbledon to bed her children goodbye. She then went to Paris to meet her father, who persuaded her to seek a reconcillation for the sake of the children.

The chancellor says he is satisfied that this effort at reconciliation was made in good faith by Mrs. Drayton, but was rejected by her hueband, because of his continued belief in her unfaithfulness. He points out that the legal time for bringing a suit for desertion had elapsed, and that the desertion was willful, continued and obstinate only point, he says, was whether the deser-tion was justifiable. He refers to the fact that the husband's suit for divorce on the ground of adultery was not brought until June, 1894, and that since that time no proof of the adultery had been adduced, and that in the present suit the husband made no charge of adultery, but contented himself with a denial of the desertion.

It is not a miracle. It won't cure everything, but it will cure piles. That's what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will do, because it has done it in hundreds of cases.
