HERTZMAN FOUND TOO ILL TO ATTEND

Experts Tell of Funds Drawn Out and Unnecounted For-Defense Offers in Evidence the Reports of the Comptroller.

When the criminal court opened yesterday morning Dr. J. F. Hertzman, for whom an attachment was issued Monday to compel trial, was not on hand. The county attorney applied to the court for a board of physicians to make an examination into the alleged illness of Hertzman, remarking to the court that he had reason to question the certificate of some alleged physician to the effect that Hertzman was unable to appear.

The court thereupon appointed Dr. George S. Tilden and County Physician S. D. Mercer to make such examination, and these parties were instructed to find Hertzman as soon as possible and report his condition.

Expert Louis E. Wettling was called to the witness stand and testified that the $5,000 drawn from the funds of the Board of Education in the Midland State bank and paid in eash to Bolln March 28, 1892, had not been credited to the account of the funds of the Board of Education. The witness testified to the same effect regarding an item of $1,500 drawn from the school funds deposited in the German Savings bank by Bolin, June 7, 1892. Also an item of $2,000 drawn February 28, 1894, from the city funds deposited in the First National bank. An item of $3,500 drawn from the school funds in the National Bank of Commerce, March 22, 1893, was not entered anywhere except on the bank balance book and no entry of the withdrawal was made in that record until in July following: On cross-examination the witness stated that the items just testified to had not en-tered into his finding of a shortage of $115,000. The defense attempted to show by the witness that a great many mistakes had been made by the experts in checking over the books, but the witness retained his self-presession under warm cross-ques tioning and held his ground. In going into detail regarding the methods employed by the experts, the defense got more than it bargained for. Mr. Wettling illustrated by giving an instance in which they found a withdrawal of $5,000 from one bank, and $5,500 from another, which could not be accounted for. There was no record of the deposit in any other city bank, but a close investigation showed that the money was deposited for six months in the Citizens bank at Stanton, Neb.

N. Wise, a third expert, was called. He testified regarding his experience in handling mercantile accounts, and his employment on the tax lists of Omaha. witness also testified that the total dis-bursements curing Bolln's first term term amounted to $6,021,675.79. The disburge ments during Bolln's second term, up to July 11, 1895, amounted to $2,966,783.82, making a total of $8,988,459.61. The grand total of receipts during his entire incum-bency amounted to $9,399,180.12. The amount which should have been on hand and turned over to Bolln's successor was $410,720.51. The amount which was actually on hand and turned over to Bolhr's successor was $295,531.85, leaving a difference of $115,-188.66. The witness testified from a written statement, which he said had been prepared by himself. In testifying to the total disbursements, he said they amounted to $395.-531.85, but when his attention was called again to the figures he changed the first figure to a "2," saying he had made a mistake in the footing. This action was made the most of by the defense on cross examination, and the attorneys also "twigged" witness about an error of $10,500 he had made while employed in the treasurer's office under Bolln S. R. Crickmore, bookkeeper in the city comptroller's office, was called. He produced the report made by the treasurer to the comptroller June 18, 1895, showing the balances in the several funds. The witness testified that this report showed that a balance of $232,080.55 was on hand. An exami-ration made by the witness showed that the actual balance on hand was $126,586.03. This left a shortage in the balance amounting to $105,494.52. After the report was received in the comptroller's office, the witness testified that it had been changed by the treasurer's office by adding an entry of $77,which reduced the shortage by that William Schwarick was recalled at the opening of the afternoon session yesterday. He testified that he found in his desk the morning Bolin disappeared, June 18, a small package addressed "To My Son, Otto." The witness gave the package to Bolln's son, who at once left the office with the package. Shortly afterward Bolln's father-in-law came into the office and read to the contents of a note contained in the package. It was attempted to show by the witness that the note showed that Bolln contemplated suicide, but this evidence was ruled out, for the reason that the witness did not read the note himself.

Ed Wittig was called and identified tw notes for $250 each and a check for $1,000 given by himself to Belln in payment for a liquor license, which he said had never paid by him. The check had been held by Hollu and was never presented for pay-

At this point Dr. Tilden came into court and reported that he had made a visit to Dr. G. F. Hertzman, as directed by the court, and had found him just recovering from the effect of a surgical operation and entirely unable to come into court. This is the man for whom an attachment was issued the county attorney to compel his attendance as a witness.

only balanced each six months, and this would be attended to by Belln himself. CHECKS TAKEN UP. Thomas Swobe was recalled for cross-ex amination regarding the bundle of checks carried in the safe of the treasurer's office. The witness testified that the checks composing this bundle were those of James Stephenson for $2,444.75. John Grant for $500, G. M. Hitchcock for $240, Saunders, MacFarland & Dickey for $300 and Henry Pundt for $1,000. The witness testified that these checks were subsequently taken up by the makers. The amounts forcested

The first witness called for the defense was John W. Lauer, the expert employed by the bondsmen of Bolln to keep an eye on the checking up of the books of the treasurer's office. He described the manner in which Examiner Resolution. the city experts conducted the examination tubs of tax receipts which had not been checked, although the corresponding in the cash book had been checked. practice of the experts, he said, was to add the total of the unchecked stubs to the total of the cash book. He called the attention of the experts to this error, and they cor-rected it. He denied the testimony of Expert Wettling to the effect that Lauer had told the bondsmen in the presence of the experts that the examination had been fairly

The defense offered in evidence the certificates of J. M. Gillan, excretary of the Board of Education, notifying Bolln that his statements for the following months had been received and found correct: January, 1997. 1895; February, June and the first ten days of July of the same year, and the certificate for the month of January, 1896, to the effect that the report for that month was correct with the exception of "the old deficit of $10,000" which had not been turned over to his successor by Bolln.

The defense also offered in evidence th cenart of Comptroller Olsen to the city coun cell under date of April 15 1895, informing the council that he had "examined the treasurer's annual report, and also checked up the various amounts on hand in the various banks, together with the cash on hand, and found the same correct in every particular;" also a report of the comp-troller, dated May 1, 1894, reading as follows. "Requested to technically conform to the requirements of the charter. I here-with have the honor to report that I have checked the annual report of the city treasurer and have found the same to be correct."

With this evidence the court was adjourned until 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Examiner Resolution.

FIX SALARIES IN THE TREASURER'S OFFICE

Move to Repeal the Curfew Ordlnance Laid on the Table-Council Declines to Grant Another Clerk for the Police Court.

The city council indulged in a very unventful session last evening. A number of mmittee reports on the more important matters were held over, and the members ere offered nothing to inspire them oratorical efforts.

The resolution which provided for the the inspector of buildings was vetoed by the mayor on the ground there was no prersng necessity for the addition of such an official at this time. Act on on the veto was postponed to the end of the meeting, and the vote came after a futile effort to get it further postponed to an adjourned session The veto was then sustained, Allan, Duncan, Taylor, Saunders and Thomas voting for

In explaining his vote, Christie pointedly remarked: "That in the name of economy Mayor Broatch had requested that the resolu-tion be passed. In the name of economy ha and asked that his man be appointed to th position. After he had found that his man and vetoed the resolution, also in the interests of economy."

In reply to a question, Inspector Harte stated that he could get along without an examiner.

The special committee appointed at revious meeting to readjust the salaries of employes in the office of the city treasure, reported a recommendation that the ordinance be amended to provide the following: One deputy treasurer at $150 per month, one bond cierk at $125, one bookkeeper at $70, one assistant bookkeeper at $70, one clerk at $70, one tax collector at $80, and one tax nmissioner at $80. The report was reterred to the committee on jud clary, on whose recommendation the ordinance was provided amended as provided for in the ST. JOSEPH AND THE EXPOSITION. PREPARING FOR SUMMER BUSINESS Street Railway Company Improving the Leavenworth Street Line.

The Omaha Street Ralway company making active preparations for handling the rowds that will patronize the West Leaven worth street lines this summer. New dynamos have been put in at the Twentieth and Nichclas streets power house and work men are now engaged in stringing new feed wires from that place to the fair grounds, along the Leavenworth street line. One of the officials of the street railway company stated that the new feed wires would more than double the power and it was expected that no delays in climbing the hills would be experienced, no matter how great the crowd

Painters are finishing up their work on a large number of open cars, which will soon be put on for use during the summer.

HARD BLOW TO SUMMER SCHOOLS Board of Education Ruling Drive Them Out of Business. The decision of the Board of Education t

efuse to give teachers the use of school coms for summer schools will be a decided backert to a somewhat remunerative practic of some of the local teachers. During previous years anywhere from six o a dozen or more rooms have been fur n'shed to teachers who employed their vaca-tion in giving special instruction to such pupils as were willing to pay for it. As the year, there is likely to be a general stagna Kalamazoo, Mich, is famous for celeryalso as the home of Thos. Slater, whose ad rooms cost the teachers nothing, they were able to add not a little to their annual income.

Now that the board has decided that in such accommodation will be accorded this
