the Breast.

Mr. A. H. Crausby, of 158 Kerr St. Memphis, Tenn., says that his wife paid no attention to a small lump which appeared in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the worst type. and notwithstanding the treatment of the best physicians, it continued to spread and grow rapidly, eating two holes in her breast. The doctors soon pronounced her incurable. A celebrated New York specialist then treated her, but she continued to grow worse A and when informed that both her aunt and grandmother had died from cancer he gave the case up as hopeless. Someone then recommended S.S.S.

and though little hope remained, she begun it, and an improvement was no-ticed. The cancer commenced to heal and when she had taken several bottles it disappeared entirely, and although sevyears have elapsed, not a sign of the disease has ever returned.

Board of Public Works Takes Action to Protect Its Employes.

STREET FORCE TEMPORARILY LAID OFF

Two Foremen Accused of Coercing Laborers Discharged Smooth Scheme Nipped in the Bud.

The program of coercion of the employee of municipal departments which is being pursued by Mayor Broatch and his henchmen received a decided backset yesterday morning. The Board of Public Works met in special session at 9 o'clock and passed the following self-explanatory resolutions:

"Whereas, W. J. Broatch, mayor, has persistently interfered with the employes of the Board of Public Works, giving orders to discharge those who do not wish to do political work for him, and further demands that a large force of men shall be put to work, so as to have their support at the primaries on the 28th inst.; therefore, be it "Resolved, That in order to protect the taxpayers and the city treasury it is ordered that the street commissioner's employes and the sewer commissioner's employes be laid off until Tuesday, June 1, 1896.

The second resolution was: "Whereas, J. F. Brown, general foreman under the street commissioner, also Andrew Wiggins, foreman, have been, and are new using undue influence with the employes working under them for political purposes; and, "Whereas, Such work is demoralizing the different forces working for the city under this department to the great detriment of the best interests and discipline of the men under this department; therefore, be it "Resolved, That the services of the aforesaid Brown and Wiggins be and are hereby dispensed with and they shall not be reemployed except with the concurrence of the Board of Public Works."

BROATCH'S POLITICAL CLUB. In calling the meeting Chairman Munro stated to Street Commissioner Kaspar that the board had been convened because it had been ascertained that the force was being demoralized for political purposes. The em-ployes had assured him that they had been called before the mayor and told that unless they worked for his interests they would be discharged, and Brown and Wiggins had also made similar threats to the men under their control. He had investigated the com-plaints and had found that such conditions existed. He had never considered it right that men who worked in public departments should be compelled to do political work in order to retain their positions and he did not propose that the Board of Public Works should be converted into a political machine.

Commissioner Kaspar said that he did not know that any such business was going on. He had never attempted to coerce his employes and he had no objections to laying off the men.

Commissioner Winspear said that he did not think that his colleague had manipulated the street force himself, but the board had conclusive evidence that it had been done by Broatch and by the foremen. It was a well known fact which could be substantiated by the records that when Broatch was mayor before he had put on a big force of men under Joe Kent just before the primaries and it cost the city hundreds of dollars to assist him in his political combinations. It was a disgrace that such methods should be attempted and the best way to avoid bring-ing a scandal on the department was to stop all work until after the primaries were Kaspar feebly suggested that he did not believe that any effort had been made to coerce the men, but Winspear retorted that he knew positively that Breatch had even sent to his own foreman and warned him that unless he got out and assisted him in his canvass he would be discharged as soon as the board was reorganized.

Kaspar finally voted for the resolution, laying off both departments, but opposed the dismissal of Brown and Wiggins. BROATCH MAKES SOME THREATS The action of the board yesterday morning was the result of complaints that have been coming to the board for several days. It began Saturday, when several men were laid off on account of their refusal to work for Tuesday Broatch called four of Broatch. the employes of the street department into his office and told them himself that they must either work for him or quit. He stated that he was going to tell Mr. Kaspar to discharge every man who was not favorable to him and that Kaspar had promised to do as he asked. Then he roasted the other mem-bers of the board and dismissed the men with the assurance that their only chance to eta'n their positions was to get into his band wagon.

At least one of the men thus threatened has a large family. He has been out of work and his job in the sidewalk repair gang means bread and butter for his wife and children. He went to Chairman Munro and told him of the threat that had been made and with tears in his eyes asked what he could do. He could not conscientiously neglect his work for the city to work for Breatch and he could not afford to lose his job.

Other employes of the department told a similar story and it did not require an ex-tensive investigation to assure the chairman that the street department was being worker for all it was worth. It was also discovered that Broatch had threatened Mr. Winspear's foreman with dismissal unless he got into line and it was decided that the best plan was to put a stop to such proceedings by laying off both gangs. It was determined to discharge Brown and Wiggins on account of conclusive evidence that they had been intimidating the men under them in a similar manner. to hold two conventions, the one to elect delegates to the state convention, called to meet June 17 at Clay Center, the other Monday afternoon several councilmen, most to meet June 17 at Clay Center, the other Monday afternoon several councilmen, most to meet June 18 months are convenient to the convenient of the con of whom are favorable to Broatch, intro-duced resolutions by which a large amount of work was ordered done on Farnam, Cum-ing and Sixteenth streets. No one tumbled to the scheme until it was pulled through, and the resolutions were passed without opposition. Early yesterday morning seventeen wagon loads of men accompanied by Broatch lieutenants as bosses were sent out to these streets, and any one who was willing to dated with a job. But by the resolution passed by the board the improvement of these streets will be delayed until next week, and orders were immediately sent swear allegiance to Broatch was accommo out to that effect.

Johnny Clarke and his confidence games are still in evidence. He tried a new one at the Union Pacific headquarters Tuesday, but it falled to work. He called on President Clark of the railroad company He called on and requested that as a favor to Mayor Broatch the employes of the company should be given a chance to get out and work at the primaries. President Clark replied that it was impossible, as the men could not be spared. But he agreed that some of the men at the shops might be allowed to lay off if they were willing to lose their time. This was not what Clarke wanted, but he tried to make it answer. He at once went out among the clerks and other employee and assured them that he had just had a conference with President Clark at which he had secured a two days' holiday for them with pay. This favor came from Mr. Broatch, and he would like to have them do what they could to assist Mr. Broatch in his candidacy.

Of course the impression sought to be conveyed was that the Union Pacific company was for Broatch and had given the just had a conference with President Clark pany was for Broatch, and had given its employes a vacation in order that they might get out and hustle for him. But it happened that some of the boys had had experience with John before, and before laying off they concluded to investigate. The result was that the fraud was discovered, and Broatch will not get much assistance from Union Pacific headquarters.

Baldwin, it is said, had to mortgage his bousehold furniture in order to raise the amount. It comes from good authority that Mr. Broatch is working both sides in his campaign for gubernatorial honors. He has been out among the Irish Catholics and has told them he is being knifed by the A. P. A.'s on account of the stand that he has taken in behalf of the Catholics. While working the people who lean toward the Catholic church, Mr. Broatch and his friends have also been out emong the A. P. A.'s, telling the members of that order that they must stand by him on account of the great fight that he made against the Romanists last fall.

(prior to the meeting of the convention.) It was then found that the administration faction had a majority of one and the committee selected the convention chairman without dissent from the siverites. Then the question arose, 'Shall delegates holding proxies from counties other than their own be entitled to vote on temporary organization? The admin stration, or gold delegates, voted against this proposition, to which there was no opposition. But after the committee had adjourned, and after just before the assembling of the convention, they—the goldites—decovered they would be gan. Chairman Boller presented the temporary organization and read the report of the committee meeting. He explained that it was the unanimous decision of the committee. Then a vote that the factor of the committee that it was the unanimous decision of the committee. it was the unanimous decision of the com-mittee. Then a vote was taken relative to the report of the committee on the question of proxies, and notwithstanding the adverse ruling of the chair, the proxies were voted and counted. Indiana Republican Committee Spli Into Two Factions. INDIANAPOLIS, May 27 .- The two factions of the republican state central committee held meetings in this city today. The faction opposing Chairman Gowdy and demanding his position as chairman has been in session at a hotel near the Union station while Gowdy, with a number of friends, while Gowdy, with a number of friends, has been quartered at the Denison.

James A. Mount, candidate for governor, was sent for. The anti-Gowdy men told him he could settle the fight and they demanded Gowdy's scalp as chairman of the state committee. Mr. Mount deployed the factional troubles in the midst of a campaign and was inclined to side with Chairman Gowdy. It was said that each district man Gowdy. It was said that each district whose representative had voted to oust Gowdy would be called upon to hold a con-vention for the purpose of repudiating the action of the representative on the com-mittee. SINGLE-ISSUE FACTION SCORED FIRST Fight on the Money Question Among the Probibitionists Precipitated at the Very Start Scenes of Disorder.

PITTSBURG, May 27 .- Various and caustic in the extreme was the first day's scosion of the seventh national prob bitton convention. At least one-half the time the delegates were in a bediam of confusion, and on several occasions the presiding officer had to call upon the band to play in order to quiet the disorder. There was a fight between the broadgauge and the single issue or gold standard men from the east. The fight was precipitated a few moments after the convention was called to order and in the morning and evening sessions things in general ran riot. The free silver faction carried the day, however, and at 6 o'clock this evening elected C. W. Stewart of IIIInois permanent chairman over A. A. Stevens of Pennsylvania, who was backed by the gold standard delegates. And tonight the free silver faction are in an ecstacy of delight over the victory.

The convention was held in the Exposition The convention was held in the Exposition building and there were ever 5,000 spectators in attendance. It was not as large as the leaders had expected, but there were enough people to fill the hall, and what they lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm. Elated with victory, the free silver crowd was determined to carry through a broad gauge platform, while the opposition is quite as determined it shall be a single issue platform, declaring for prohibition alone. Each faction claims a majority, but from today's calling the convention to order approached the enthusiasm increased. WELCOME TO PITTSBURG. It was long after 10 o'clock when Samuel Dickie, chairman of the national central committee, stepped upon the platform and called the convention to order. When he had done this he called upon Rev. Louis Affred Banks, D.D., of Brocklyn, to invoke the blessing of God.

The call of the convention was read, after which H. N. Castle of this city made an address, welcoming the delegates to this city. In t Castle said: In the course of his address, Mr. "Six months ago, through your executive committee, you were invited to come to Pittsburg. You accepted our invitation and now I have the honor of welcoming you to consecrated women as ever gathered under any banner or made warfare against any enemy. You have come from all sections of this vast country, from east, from west, from north, from south, you have come to our spiendid city of Pittsburg, the city whose nat onal boundaries include the apot where Washington first demonstrated his ability to be a leader of men; the city where the republican party in purity and truthful-and growth of the prohibition movement he concluded as follows: "And may God Almighty bless your coming and may an Almighty God, through you, curse and blight and wither and destroy the Clay County Candidate for Governor legalized liquor traffic, the greatest foe to God and humanity ever invented in hell or patented on earth."

When the applause following this address had died away, Chairman Dickie made a brief reply in which he thanked Mr. Castle and the citizens of Pittsburg for the cordial treatment the representatives of the pro-hibition party had received. He had at-tended many conventions of the party. He had attended it when it was a party of minor importance in the eyes of the older political bodies, but he thanked God that he had lived to see it become of such proportions that it was now recognized throughout the nation. Both speakers were frequently interrupted by applause.

SILVER IS A LOSER. When he had finished his response to the address he said he had the honor to introduce the gentleman chosen to act as temporary chairman by the national committee, Mr. A. A. Stevens of Pennsylvania, When he said this, Chauncey L. Dunn of
