

MUCH MARRIED MR. HOPKINS

Wife Number Four Granted a Divorce by Judge Powell.

DEFENDANT CHARGED WITH CRUELTY

Three Women Discovered That Marriage Was a Failure, While a Fourth Died Before Asking for a Decree.

Judge Powell has granted Mrs. Pearl E. Hopkins, nee Tyler, a divorce from Albert M. Hopkins.

Hopkins was for several years a court reporter in this district and figured very prominently in the divorce court on former occasions. The last Mrs. Hopkins was No. 4, and all have been divorced except No. 1, who died.

Hopkins first entered into the matrimonial ring in which he became a star performer, courted in Valparaiso, Ind., where he married Miss Bessie Stora of that place. She died in about six months, and about one year afterward Hopkins married Miss Grace Garrison, also of Valparaiso. He deserted her in a few months and came to Omaha, she afterward suing for and getting a divorce on the ground of desertion.

In Omaha Hopkins figured quite prominently as a member of the Young Men's Christian association, and of the Presbyterian church, taking a prominent part in the proceedings and always having a great deal to say.

After he had lived in Omaha about four years he was introduced to a young woman of good family, and the young couple lived at the home of the wife's parents for a few weeks, after which they moved into a flat down town. About four months after their marriage Hopkins sent his young wife home, telling her he was tired of her and that she must leave him. He told her what to tell her parents, and instructed her that he would write her letters, begging her to come back to him, but that if she came back he would kill her.

FLANNAGAN SECURES A JUDGMENT

Wins in the Lingscott Brought Against Van Eiten.

Mrs. Julia Flannagan recovered a judgment against David and Emma Van Eiten amounting to $1,811.69, in Judge Dickinson's court yesterday morning.

Mrs. Flannagan sued Van Eiten for $2,000, that being the alleged value of the Flannagan homestead in Hoyt's addition, in the northwestern part of the city, which had been sold to satisfy a judgment obtained against the Flannagans on a note they had signed for Van Eiten without knowing the note and the fact that the Flannagans being able to read or write, Van Eiten put in a cross petition, claiming $800 as attorney's fees in defending the case in which the Flannagans were sued on the note given as an acknowledgment of Van Eiten. The jury ignored the cross claim and returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Lingscott Gets a Divorce

Judge Keyser rendered his decision yesterday in the Lingscott divorce case, granting the petition of the wife, and gave notice that in case the parties could not agree on the amount of attorneys' fees and alimony the court would fix it. In passing upon the case the judge stated that the allegation of the plaintiff had not been sustained in regard to habitual drunkenness of the defendant, but it had been clearly established the defendant became intoxicated at times and abused his wife and family. The judge also took occasion to scold some of the people in the neighborhood for spying into the family affairs of the Lingscotts.

Bolla Not Yet Out of Jail

Henry Bolla has not yet been released on bail, his bail bond not having been perfected. His brother arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon from Blair, and arrangements were made to have him and Hans Beckman, Henry's father-in-law, give the $50,000 bond required by the supreme court. Bolla stated yesterday morning he had not been able to see his attorneys to have the bond made up and taken to Lincoln for approval by the clerk of the supreme court.

Minor Matters in Court

The suit of George H. McCardle against Hayden Bros. is on trial in Judge Dickinson's court. McCardle sues for $10,000 damages for injury to his car, falling down the shaft of the freight elevator while engaged in loading a piano into a wagon.

Rachel V. Trussell has applied for a divorce from her husband, Lorenzo J. Trussell, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married in Cincinnati, O., in 1894, and the husband deserted the wife in May, 1896, since which time she says she has been ignorant of his whereabouts.

The jury in the Ellegan case found the defendant guilty of being the father of the little yellow baby of Cora Duncan, and the defendant was sentenced to jail to await sentence. The defendant is a boy about 18 years of age and the complaining witness is a colored girl apparently of about the same age.

The trial of Walter C. Faye was commenced in the district court late yesterday afternoon. Faye is charged with forging and counterfeiting a bond for $1,000 of the school district of Cook county, Illinois, with uttering and passing the same February 1, 1905, in this city on the Omaha Brewing association.

ROCK ISLAND'S MAMMOTH ENGINES

They Are Expected to Do Some Rapid Work.

The Rock Island road has just had constructed at its own shops two eight-wheeled, American type engines that are expected to develop some phenomenal speed and power. They are numbered 1101 and 1102, and are being broken in in the freight service of the road. They have already shown that they can run slightly miles an hour, and when placed in the passenger service they are expected to maintain a rapid rate of speed. They have been constructed with a view of surpassing all previous records of American or foreign type of engines, considering speed, power and economic operation.

The engines were built under the immediate supervision and on the plans and specifications of George F. Wilson, superintendent of motive power and equipment. These two engines are expected to give an hour and a long complete series of tests taken from experimental results of different patterns of locomotive building. The enormous size of these engines and view of its capabilities may be seen from the following dimensions:

Cylinders, 19x26 inches; boiler, 61 inches in diameter, with 1,985 square feet of heating surface and 242 square feet of grates surface, the fire box being 9 feet inside; total weight, 125,000 pounds; driving wheels base, 8 feet 6 inches; driving wheel diameter, 6 feet 6 inches; tender, water capacity, 4,500 gallons; tender, coal capacity, 7 tons; all wheels loaded, 76,000 pounds; number of flues, 290; wheel base, including tank, 48 feet 5 1/2 inches; tank, 20 feet 2 inches; length over all, 90 feet 8 1/2 inches.

OPPOSED TO SUNDAY EXCURSIONS

Railroad Men Say They Do Not Benefit the People.

Assistant General Passenger Agent Smith of the Burlington has returned from Kansas City, where he Tuesday attended a meeting of the roads in the transmissouri territory of the Western Passenger association. The subject of reduced rates for summer picnics out of Omaha and other large cities was considered. Owing to the absence of representatives of a number of the lines, however, no definite conclusions were reached. The opinion of the Burlington men is that the benefit of reduced rates for summer picnics out of Omaha and other large cities was considered. Owing to the absence of representatives of a number of the lines, however, no definite conclusions were reached.

South Omaha Ice Company's Plant

Destroyed by Fire. The mammoth ice house of the South Omaha Ice and Coal company, situated near Sixth and Nicholas streets, was struck by lightning yesterday morning shortly before 8 o'clock. The building was completely destroyed with the exception of that portion upon which the ice was standing. It was a well built structure and is said to have been the largest in the city. It was about 125 feet in size. It was owned by the Union National bank and valued at $3,000. There was no insurance. The house contained about 5,000 tons of ice, according to the manager of the company. The manager estimated this morning that about 40 per cent of this would be a total loss. It is thought that the remaining 60 per cent can be removed in a satisfactory condition.

MILITIA INVITED TO TAKE PART

Knights of the Al-Sarben Association for the Fall Parade.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Governors, Knights of Al-Sarben, yesterday a communication was received from G. W. Sues, suggesting that the militia companies of the state be invited to take part in the military and civic parade of September 1. He believed that the Omaha Guards and the Thurston Rifles could be interested in the matter and looking into the matter of the militia and the other of the Second regiment, as they are members. There are a number of vacant buildings in the city the use of which could be secured and these, if fitted with extra or straw stands, would make admirable quarters, the visitors furnishing their own meals. The idea met with hearty expression of approval and was referred to a special committee, which is to act with Mr. Sues.

The treasurer was instructed to keep up the insurance on the floats and paraphernalia at the den and to increase from time to time as the building went on.

The matter of costumes for the fall parade was thoroughly discussed and the parade committee was instructed to report the able cast at the next meeting. They are to be made from special designs, of the finest material and will in many respects resemble those of last year. Another large cast went through the "machinery" for the purpose of maintaining a secret society for the purpose of maintaining a secret society for the purpose of maintaining a secret society.

VISIBLE SUPPLY OF ICE REDUCED.

The building was almost immediately enveloped in flames, as the lightning seemed to traverse the structure to the north. An alarm was turned in from Twelfth and Nicholas streets, but it was some time before the department could get at work. In the meantime the flames spread rapidly, as a strong wind was blowing from the south. Difficulty was encountered in obtaining water. The nearest hydrant to the structure was at Tenth and Nicholas streets and it was found necessary to lay the hose over a considerable number of railroad tracks. Finally two streams were obtained, but these were weak, despite the assistance of engines, as the water had to travel a considerable distance. One thousand two hundred and fifty feet of hose was laid.

The rain which was falling was of material assistance in preventing the spread of the fire. There were four or five cottages just north of the ice house. The falling rain wetted the roofs of these structures, thereby averting the danger produced by flying sparks.
