USUAL NUMBER OF MINOR FUNCTIONS

Many People Preparing to Hie Them selves to the Cool Resorts, There to Remain During the Hented Term.

Society has finally taken on its summer quiet, and but little can be expected in a social way until the coming of autumn, aside from a few weddings that are to occur in the near future, the most important of which is the one that will unite Mr. Nicholson and Miss Kountze, and which will be celebrated into a home of their cwn. June 16. While this wedding will be a most quiet affair, it will be regarded as the event of the season, owing to the high social standing of the contracting parties. The list of invited guests to the wedding will not be large, yet it will include many of the prominent people of the city, as well as and Drake. some from abroad.

Last week the social events were the Barker-Smith and the Holden-House weddings. Aside from these two events, there was little that attracted the attention of the society people of the city. Of course there were the usual number of kensingtons and minor functions, but there was nothing that was upon a grand scale. It was not expected that much of social importance could occur, owing to the fact that, like birds of passage, society devotees were preparing to migrate to the cooler climes along the seashore, the woods and the mountains. Of course, everybody will not leave Omaha to remain away during the heated period, but most of the people who can scrape together a few dollars will seek some cool retreat, if they have to deprive themselves of e other luxuries of life. Just where to go something that egitates the men and the other luxuries of life. women of limited means, but they all feel in duty bound to take an outing, even if it is only for a few days, and that at some resort near by.

One of the prettiest and most artistic weddings that has occurred in Omaha for several seasons took place at Trinity cathedral Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Katherine Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barker, and Mr. Robert Franklin Smith of Council Bluffs were married. The church was beautifully and elaborately decorated with palms, beautiful potted plants, smilax, and pink and white roses were placed in large bunches on the altar. To the strains of the Lohengrin bridal march the bridal party entered the church, preceded by Dean Gardner, who performed the ceremony, and Bishop Worthington, who pronounced the

Two pretty little flower girls, Marion Haller and Rose Coffman, led the procession, wear-ing dainty little frocks of white organdie and carrying large baskets of la France roses, wearing wreaths of pink and white flowers. Then followed the ushers, Messrs. Herbert Wheeler, Stockton Heth, and George Wright nd T. C. Dawson of Council Bluffs.
The four bridesmaids, Misses Drake, Dickinson, Allen and Cady, were exquisitely lovely in gowns of pink mulle made over pink silk, trimmed in lace and ruffles. Miss Drake and Miss Dickinson were particularly quaint and pretty, with fichus going around the neck and tied in the back at the waist They all carried handsome bouquets of la France roses.

Miss Belle Hamilton, the maid of honor, was becomingly gowned in white organdie trimmed in parrow lace. She also carried a France roses. Then came the bride, who was escorted by her father. She was beau-tiful in her wedding gown of heavy white satin, which was elegantly trimmed with point lace. The veil was gracefully caught by a handsome pendant of diamonds and pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses.

The bridal party was met at the chancel by the groom and his best man, Mr. Thomas Metcalf of Council Bluffs. The entire brids! party entered the chancel, forming two rows, through which the bride and groom passed

The reception which followed at the hom of the bride's parents, from 9 to 11, was well attended by society people. The house was lavishly decorated with palms and ferns and was almost a bower of roses. The newly wedded pair received under a bower of roses and smilax. They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Churchill Parker, and Mr. Frank Swart. Mrs. Barker was attractive in a handsome gown of brocaded satin and trimmed in duchesse and point lace.

Mrs. Parker was gowned in black satin with a bodice of black chiffon over gray satin. Throughout the drawing rooms assisting were Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall, Mrs. L. J. Drake, Mrs. Dickinson, Mrs. Cady, Mrs. Haller, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Metcalf, Miss Hawley of Lincoln, Mrs. Cornish.
Punch was served by Misses Webster,

Squires, Dandy and Amy Barker in the Coffman and Mrs. Allen presided over the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with strings of smilax coming down to the four corners of the table and on which were la France roses candelabra and bonbons, while the mantel and sideboard were almost hidden by the palms and ferns.

Miss Dickinson caught the bride's bou-quet. The bride's traveling gown was of cadet blue cloth trimmed in white satin. The wedding presents were numerous and

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home to their friends in Council Blurs.

In honor of the bridal party, Miss Belle Hamilton gave a charming dinner Monday evening which was one of the prettiest and most complete of the season.

The guests were seated at two tables, which were prettily decorated with flowers. The centerpiece of one was composed of scarlet geraniums, the other was of white roses. A very enjoyable evening was spent roses. PROGRAM OF THE THREE DAYS SESSION

Many Important Topics to Be Discussed by Some of the Brightest Legal Minds of the Country.

The meeting of the Commercial Law League of America, which convenes in this city July 21 and continues three days, will bring to Omaha a large number of the legal fraternity from every state in the union. Judging from previous meetings and the correspondence of the officers, it is confidently expected there will be in attendance from 1,000 to 1,200 attorneys, who make a spe cialty of commercial law, and are thus brought in touch with the great financial interests of the land. While the meetings will be devoted entirely to the discussion of matters of little direct interest to the public, the visitors will have considerable time at their dispusal in which to view the ity, and it is noped they will return to heir clients with a good opinion of the town and its people.

The following program has been arranged for the meeting: Tuesday, July 21.—10 o'clock a. m., call to order, President W. C. Sprague; opening prayer, Rev. Warfield; addresses of welcome Hon. Charles F. Weller, in behalf of Commercial club; responses, John B. Green, New York, and Charles N. Fox, San Francisco; miscellaneous business; announcements. Afternoon: Annual address of president, W. C. Sprague; annual report of corresponding secretary, George S. Hull; annual report of treasurer, Edward K. Sumerwell; annual report of executive committee, Hon. E. M. Bartlett; discussion, theme, "The Commer-cial Law Practice;" address, "Ethics of Commercial Law." Hill Montague, Richmond Va.; address, "The Commercial Law Practice—Its Dignity and Usefulness," J. F. Burke, Milwaukee, Wis.; address, "Commercial Law as a Specialty," E. F. Wellingon, Rochester, N. Y.; discussion; miscel laneous business. Tuesday evening: Literary and musical entertainment.
