

SEQUEL TO A DIVORCE CASE

Former Co-Respondent Makes Things Warm for the One Time Husband.

LATTER ASKS FOR LEGAL PROTECTION

Lingefelt Alleges that Maxwell Broke Up His Home and Then, Upon Numerous Occasions, Assaulted Him.

A rather sensational sequel to the sensational divorce case of Lingefelt against Maxwell, which was concluded at the May term of the district court, is being conducted in the court of Justice of the Peace Powers just now, where two of the parties to the divorce suit are engaged in the second legal battle.

The history of the divorce case is fresh in the public mind. Harry L. Lingefelt, the husband, began the proceedings, making one Fred Maxwell a co-respondent. While the case was pending the life of the erstwhile plaintiff, setting up as grounds for separation, allegations of drunkenness and cruelty on the part of the husband. After a trial that was decidedly unsavory, racy and sensational the wife succeeded in getting the divorce.

It appears that after the divorce had been granted Maxwell did not cease paying attention to Mrs. Lingefelt. As a matter of fact, he maintained his position as a friend. The former wife, considering that she was now to all intents and purposes again a single woman, received him as such.

It also appears that despite the fact that his quarrel with her had secured a divorce, Lingefelt still retained a considerable interest in her. It is, in fact, said that he was jealous of her and her attentions to Maxwell, even though she was legally separated from him. This jealousy manifested itself in various ways, and, it is charged, especially in a surveillance of Maxwell's movements, particularly on the occasion of his visits to the previous Mrs. Lingefelt.

Such a condition of affairs was provocative of trouble, and, in fact, it was on the day that Maxwell did not think that Lingefelt had any further right to interfere in any way with the affairs of the divorced woman. The remark that Lingefelt put upon him was irksome, and became daily more so. Maxwell was finally unable to bear it any longer and took steps to put an end to the existing condition of affairs.

He is charged with putting his new line of policy into effect upon the first occasion that presented itself. It is said that he met Lingefelt on the street, and after a few vigorous expressions, assaulted him. Two more encounters followed, in both of which Maxwell was as victorious as the first. In one Maxwell is said to have committed the assault with his fists and in the other with an umbrella.

Lingefelt's spirit rebelled at continually getting the worst of his meetings with his rival, and, after the third encounter, he also laid out a new line of campaign. This consisted of making more or less than an appeal to the courts for legal protection. He asked, in Justice of the Peace Powers court, that Maxwell be placed under bonds to keep the peace. The proceeding was begun on August 25.

The case came up for hearing a couple of days ago. The plaintiff put his case setting out the facts of the assaults. The matter was then continued until next Saturday, when the defendant will have an inquiring. It is said that he will spend much time in denying the assaults, but will insist that he do not form under the circumstances sufficient cause to place Maxwell under bonds.

Midland State Bank Closed. Action Taken After a Meeting of Directors is Held. The Midland State bank closed its doors yesterday morning after requested the Board to take charge of the bank. This action was taken at a session of the directors of the bank, held during the morning. E. L. Dodder, Jr., of Grand Island, state bank examiner, was at once placed in charge and a notice posted on the doors, stating that the bank had voluntarily suspended and was in charge of the state bank examiner.

The officers of the bank stated to a Bee representative that the bank had been closed for the reason that during the past few days the depositors had been withdrawing their accounts. The directors had decided that, in order to protect all of the depositors the bank should be closed until the securities could be realized on and all of the depositors paid up in full. The officers said the securities were first-class, consisting principally of short-time paper well secured, but it was impossible to realize on any securities before maturity except at a sacrifice, and the depositors would suffer by succeeding. It was therefore decided to suspend all business until this paper could mature.

Attorney General Chambers appeared before Judge Powell at noon and applied for the appointment of a receiver to wind up the affairs of the bank. The officers of the bank signed a consent to the proceedings, and the court appointed Joseph W. Thomas, fixing the bond at $50,000.

ANOTHER OMAHA PIONEER GONE.

Mrs. Charlotte Medlock, a Forty-One-Year Resident, Dead. Another of the pioneer women of the city passed away Tuesday night at 10:20 o'clock, when Charlotte Medlock, wife of George Medlock, died at the family residence, 1518 Cass street. Mrs. Medlock was 80 years old.

George Medlock and Mrs. Medlock came to Omaha when the city was little more than an Indian village. They were English people. They lived for a time in the east, but gradually came west until their residence was in Delaware, from which state they removed to Pennsylvania. Then they went to Cleveland, then to Missouri, and finally to Omaha, where they lived on the west of Farnam street on May 10, 1855. For thirty-five years they lived on the premises on which Mrs. Medlock died.

Mrs. Medlock was engaged for some years in the employment of a frontier town, and among other things surveyed the town. When Prospect Hill cemetery was located, she was appointed sexton and remained in that position for twenty-seven years. He buried more than 7,000 men, women and children, while he held the office for 25 years.

Mrs. Medlock leaves three children, one son and two daughters, all of whom are married and living in this city. She had sixteen grand-children and seven great-grand-children. All of these are residents of Omaha.

The funeral of the deceased will occur at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, from the late residence. Interment will be in Prospect Hill cemetery.

BISHOP NEWMAN REACHES OMAHA.

Every Confidence in the Election of Major McKinley. The Bishop John L. Newman was in Omaha a few hours yesterday morning. The news of his arrival preceded him and the Messia of hundreds of old friends and admirers. The bishop was in his usual good spirits and health, and discussed current events with all the energy and familiarity which are characteristic of the good man. He said he was en route to Oakland, Neb., and from there intended returning to Corydon, Ia., to attend the Iowa conference, which meets there after which he purposed going east to New York.

The bishop declined to talk politics, saying his views had not changed in the least since writing the letter to Senator Stewart on the silver question. Everyone knew, he said, that he was and had always been a republican, and he had every confidence in the election of McKinley. In traveling about the country he said he had kept his political eye open and had seen enough to satisfy him that his confidence was not misplaced.

BRADSHAW HELD AS A SUSPECT.

Will Not Be Charged with Burglary of a Store. Louis Bradshaw is held at the city jail on suspicion of being the man who attempted to crack and rob a safe in a store at Pacific Junction last Saturday night. The burglars succeeded in obtaining entrance to the establishment and went so far as to knock the combination off the safe, but at that point they were frightened and hurriedly carried away a few articles from the store.

It does not seem probable, however, that Bradshaw will be charged with the crime. The sheriff of Mills county says he saw the prisoner in his town, but has no evidence with which to convict. The man will be held a few more days in the hope that proof will be found.

Arrested as a Suspicious Character.

The police have arrested Harry Meeks and charged him with being a suspicious character. He is said to be one of the men who held up a traveling man, by the name of Ross, recently, and robbed him of $30. Ross identifies him, but was not positively than he did another man who was arrested on his identification and was discharged before long. It is never ready to be advanced that the man of the trial, would not swear to his identity.

Anxious About Keastner.

Inquiry has been received from M. Alexander of Boise, Idaho, regarding Robert Keastner, who is said to be a man 48 years of age. Keastner left Fairfield, Ia., some time ago for Boise. He was ill and without money, but he never reached his destination. Alexander has become anxious regarding him. He says that he will pay the man's way to Boise if he is located.

Stumped Out an Epidemic.

The health authorities are now satisfied that danger of a smallpox epidemic is practically over. The single case on South Eighth street is nearly convalescent, and if the disease had been communicated the symptoms should have been in evidence before this.

Ready to Pay Premiums.

The Donkey company Agricultural society is now practically out of debt and warrants have been drawn for the payment of premiums awarded, both last year and this year. The single case on South Eighth street is nearly convalescent, and if the disease had been communicated the symptoms should have been in evidence before this. In addition to paying the amount, there was an old debt amounting to about $3,000, which is now practically wiped out.

ALEXANDER SULLIVAN IN TROUBLE.

Startling Rumor Affecting an Irish Citizen of Chicago. NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The World says: It was rumored late last night that Alexander Sullivan of Chicago, whose name figured so conspicuously, though indefinitely, in the Cronin murder case, has been arrested in Paris at the instance of the English police. In connection with the rumor, the World's Chicago correspondent telegraphed the following:

Alexander Sullivan went abroad two months ago, to Carlsbad, so it is said, he was met by a woman, the next morning Sullivan was stricken with apoplexy, and is now very ill. She said he was to have sailed today from Bremen. She was seen by a Chicago reporter, though it is rumored that Sullivan is under arrest. The belief is that Mrs. Sullivan's attack was caused by some distressing news conveyed in a cablegram. It is said by Irishmen here that Sullivan would not have gone into any dynamiting scheme. It is possible he was arrested on the charge of having been Irish invincible, but there is no evidence that he was even remotely connected with the invincibles.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—There is no truth in the report that Alexander Sullivan of Chicago, the Irish leader, has been arrested here.

MENACES JACKSON'S HOLE GAME.

Citizens of that Section Driving Out All Sheep. EVANSTON, Wyo., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—The residents of the Jackson's Hole country have found a new foe to the big hands of elk and deer which make the region their winter pasturing ground. The sheep which are trailed across the country are said to eat off the range so closely that the wild game will starve to death if the sheep are not kept out.

A half century ago the Indians hunted the people of the district proper to keep all sheep off the ranges. A mass meeting was held last week at which a resolution was adopted notifying owners of all sheep already in Jackson's Hole to immediately remove such sheep. The removal must be made within the shortest period of time and a committee was appointed to see that the order of the citizens was being carried out. A committee was also appointed to wait upon all sheep owners intending to drive sheep over the ranges of the Jackson's Hole country and notify them that under no circumstances whatever will they be permitted to come into the region with any sheep, whether for the purpose of grazing or passing through.

Wyoming County Seat Contest.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—The new county of Big Horn, which is being formed out of Johnson, Fremont and Sheridan counties, has a three-cornered contest on hand for the location of the county seat. The contesting towns are Cody, Basin City and a new town, called the oldest town in the territory embraced by the new county and at this time apparently has the best show of success in the contest for the county seat.

Cody City are supported by the projectors of the Cody canal enterprise. Cody City being the town completely by the projectors of the enterprise. Basin City is a new town started for the purpose of capturing the county seat. The contest promises to be an exceedingly lively one.

Held Up the New Corn Rate.

The new 20-cent tariff on corn from Chicago to New York, which was to go into effect next Monday, has been held up pending the action of a meeting of the Central Freight association lines in Chicago. The western roads for some time have been making strenuous efforts to prevent the diversion of grain to southern ports by making low rates to Chicago and shippers have now succeeded in convincing the eastern officials that so making an advance at this time would work serious injury to the eastern export trade.

LOUIS, Sept. 16.—Chris Von Ahe, president of the St. Louis Browns, is defendant in a suit filed in the circuit court today by Miss Annie Kaiser, who asks for $10,000 damages for breach of promise. When this was announced Miss Kaiser stated that Von der Ahe had promised to marry her, but the time had never been set for the wedding.

DEMOGOGUE WITH A FOUL MOUTH.

Alleged Free Silver Orator Insults Decey at Paxton. PAXTON, Neb., Sept. 14.—To the Editor of The Bee: On the evening of September 12 a couple of men struck this town to talk free silver. They traveled in a wagon. Quite a few of the people of Paxton turned out to hear them. Mr. Hutchinson, the first speaker, seemed like an old farmer—in fact one could almost see the hayseed in his hair—but he seemed to have a quick brain, full of statistics and hard knocks. The other man, "Dr. Johnson," as he styled himself, got off his subject entirely through the close questioning and talked not only what had no bearing on the money question but what was positively contrary to all democratic history, faith and tradition.

He said the republican party owned all the German voters in this country and herded them like cattle. That is a base slander about the republicans, and what he says, I have no German blood in my veins, but I have great respect for my German fellow citizens, and I have no objection to a vacation going through the country running down decent people without any reason for so doing. No matter what ticket my German fellow citizens vote for, I will support any country. During our late war, how many Germans followed that gallant officer, Franz Sigel, and talked not only what had no bearing on the money question but what was positively contrary to all democratic history, faith and tradition.

Not content with insulting our foreigners, the smooth demagogue took a running jump at the Catholic church, by telling a rotten story about the Catholics of Iowa, and an Irishman, he said, asked him how he stood on the A. P. A. He told the man he was opposed to Catholics, Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians, and every other denomination, and as he said something about "priests," anybody with common sense could plainly see that the lying demagogue of the republican party is also an infidel, irreligious, or perhaps I should have said, irreligious bigot. Solomon built a grand temple to the Most High, and he has a modern church. Was Solomon an infidel in all his wisdom and glory? Was he a liar and untruthful? If the Catholics of the United States build a grand temple to their God, is it less worthy an object to build churches as legislative halls? Where is the American who will give our country more business in a tent and give to the poor what money it takes to build and keep in repair our halls of legislation? Besides what demagogues in Christendom has more charitable institutions for the poor all over the civilized world than the Catholic church? Religious freedom is an American principle. Freedom of conscience is a democratic principle from Jefferson to Cleveland. Before the constitution of the United States one man's religion is as good as another man's. This is neither a Protestant country nor a Roman Catholic country, nor a Jewish country, nor an infidel country, nor a land of civil and religious liberty, and I hope it will ever remain so. I hope that the next silver orator who strikes this town will be more of a gentleman than this vulgar demagogue.

Cheated a Tailor

"WHY," said a prominent lawyer to one of our salesmen yesterday, "I don't believe that ready-made suits can be good suits." "Well," said the clerk, who is a bit of a wag, "maybe your honor isn't used to trying good suits" (law suits) and "his honor," who was quick to catch on, handed over $16.03 for one of our swell fly front suits and cheated his tailor out of a job. We are cheating the tailors out of a good many jobs this fall. We are selling some of the finest ready-made clothing in the world from $15.00 to $19.50 per suit, and we are guaranteeing it to fit as well, look as well, wear as well and hold its shape as well as any suit that any tailor can make you at double our price. Some people we can't fit, of course, but 99 men out of a hundred can come in here to "The Nebraska" and find the size they want, the style they want and the finish they want. And they can save all the way from $15.00 to $25.00 on any suit they buy. Such a statement as that may need proof. We are ready to furnish the proof.
