

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

Published every morning. Terms of subscription: Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year...

Advertisements: Single copy 1 cent. Per line per week 10 cents. Per line per month 25 cents.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Lists names like George E. Tschuck, J. B. Kitchen, and amounts in dollars and cents.

LEADING SPECIAL FEATURES. THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. HAGGARD'S NEW SERIAL STORY. PAIRING BY ELECTRICITY.

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. THE BEST NEWSPAPER.

The counting machine in Arkansas merely slipped a few cogs. The new campaign button, "Have you heard from Maine," is in great demand.

After a ticket is nominated it has to be elected. Delegates to the republican convention should bear this in mind.

Silver men are constantly vouching for one another's honesty. The man who has to have witnesses to his honesty will usually bear watching.

People having urgent business with the head of the two-tailed ticket can reach him by addressing, "Care of Train 16, Berth 1, Sleeping Car 'Defeat'."

Where does Watson come in in the New York fusion deal? Is Watson so much wamer than Bryan that the silk-tied Tammanyites intend to draw the line on him?

If Mr. Bryan has thirty-six states all solid for him, what is he doing down in the Carolinas? If the thing is all settled, why doesn't he come home and begin to prepare his inaugural message?

Watson's visit to Nebraska came during the very pleasant season of the year, but the ice he received from his supposed popular friends must have made him believe that it was already mid-winter here.

Mr. Bryan's paper, the World-Herald, refers to the proposed Emancipation day celebration at Des Moines as a "Cullud barbecue." Does the Bryan organ expect to attract the colored vote by such insulting comment?

It is well the poperats jubilated early over the Arkansas election. If they had waited for the complete returns they would not have jubilated at all.

The council combine has graciously undertaken to relieve the voters of the trouble of choosing their own representatives in legislative, county and city government. The question is, Do the voters want to abdicate in favor of such a precious gang?

Fourth district populists have insisted on having a populist candidate for congress. Seeing no other way of securing one, they have put one in nomination by petition. Here is a chance for the democrats to fuse by withdrawing their nominee and accepting the populist candidate.

In the language of the stage managers, Watson doesn't care whether Bryan is started or not, but he insists that his contract stipulates that he is to be featured more than Sewall. If the theater manager does not live up to the contract Watson threatens to break up the whole show.

Don't forget the assessors. Our assessment laws are admittedly barbarous, but administered by efficient and conscientious assessors they could be endured for a time. The assessor has as much, if not more, to do with fixing the tax rate than has the city council and the county board.

Now Chairman Jones has it all figured out that Nebraska is to go for Bryan by 30,000 majority. Where the votes are to come from he carefully refrains from saying. But there are no sane silverites in those parts who will carry Nebraska by 30,000 or by half of 20,000.

Everything we get in this world has to be paid for by somebody. Yet the number of people who permit themselves to be fooled into the belief that they can get something for nothing without expense to anybody appears to be as great now as it ever was since the world's history has been written.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

Published every morning. Terms of subscription: Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year...

Advertisements: Single copy 1 cent. Per line per week 10 cents. Per line per month 25 cents.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Lists names like George E. Tschuck, J. B. Kitchen, and amounts in dollars and cents.

LEADING SPECIAL FEATURES. THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. HAGGARD'S NEW SERIAL STORY. PAIRING BY ELECTRICITY.

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. THE BEST NEWSPAPER.

The counting machine in Arkansas merely slipped a few cogs. The new campaign button, "Have you heard from Maine," is in great demand.

After a ticket is nominated it has to be elected. Delegates to the republican convention should bear this in mind.

Silver men are constantly vouching for one another's honesty. The man who has to have witnesses to his honesty will usually bear watching.

People having urgent business with the head of the two-tailed ticket can reach him by addressing, "Care of Train 16, Berth 1, Sleeping Car 'Defeat'."

Where does Watson come in in the New York fusion deal? Is Watson so much wamer than Bryan that the silk-tied Tammanyites intend to draw the line on him?

If Mr. Bryan has thirty-six states all solid for him, what is he doing down in the Carolinas? If the thing is all settled, why doesn't he come home and begin to prepare his inaugural message?

Watson's visit to Nebraska came during the very pleasant season of the year, but the ice he received from his supposed popular friends must have made him believe that it was already mid-winter here.

Mr. Bryan's paper, the World-Herald, refers to the proposed Emancipation day celebration at Des Moines as a "Cullud barbecue." Does the Bryan organ expect to attract the colored vote by such insulting comment?

It is well the poperats jubilated early over the Arkansas election. If they had waited for the complete returns they would not have jubilated at all.

The council combine has graciously undertaken to relieve the voters of the trouble of choosing their own representatives in legislative, county and city government. The question is, Do the voters want to abdicate in favor of such a precious gang?

Fourth district populists have insisted on having a populist candidate for congress. Seeing no other way of securing one, they have put one in nomination by petition. Here is a chance for the democrats to fuse by withdrawing their nominee and accepting the populist candidate.

In the language of the stage managers, Watson doesn't care whether Bryan is started or not, but he insists that his contract stipulates that he is to be featured more than Sewall. If the theater manager does not live up to the contract Watson threatens to break up the whole show.

Don't forget the assessors. Our assessment laws are admittedly barbarous, but administered by efficient and conscientious assessors they could be endured for a time. The assessor has as much, if not more, to do with fixing the tax rate than has the city council and the county board.

Now Chairman Jones has it all figured out that Nebraska is to go for Bryan by 30,000 majority. Where the votes are to come from he carefully refrains from saying. But there are no sane silverites in those parts who will carry Nebraska by 30,000 or by half of 20,000.

Everything we get in this world has to be paid for by somebody. Yet the number of people who permit themselves to be fooled into the belief that they can get something for nothing without expense to anybody appears to be as great now as it ever was since the world's history has been written.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

Published every morning. Terms of subscription: Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year...

Advertisements: Single copy 1 cent. Per line per week 10 cents. Per line per month 25 cents.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Lists names like George E. Tschuck, J. B. Kitchen, and amounts in dollars and cents.

LEADING SPECIAL FEATURES. THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. HAGGARD'S NEW SERIAL STORY. PAIRING BY ELECTRICITY.

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. THE BEST NEWSPAPER.

The counting machine in Arkansas merely slipped a few cogs. The new campaign button, "Have you heard from Maine," is in great demand.

After a ticket is nominated it has to be elected. Delegates to the republican convention should bear this in mind.

Silver men are constantly vouching for one another's honesty. The man who has to have witnesses to his honesty will usually bear watching.

People having urgent business with the head of the two-tailed ticket can reach him by addressing, "Care of Train 16, Berth 1, Sleeping Car 'Defeat'."

Where does Watson come in in the New York fusion deal? Is Watson so much wamer than Bryan that the silk-tied Tammanyites intend to draw the line on him?

If Mr. Bryan has thirty-six states all solid for him, what is he doing down in the Carolinas? If the thing is all settled, why doesn't he come home and begin to prepare his inaugural message?

Watson's visit to Nebraska came during the very pleasant season of the year, but the ice he received from his supposed popular friends must have made him believe that it was already mid-winter here.

Mr. Bryan's paper, the World-Herald, refers to the proposed Emancipation day celebration at Des Moines as a "Cullud barbecue." Does the Bryan organ expect to attract the colored vote by such insulting comment?

It is well the poperats jubilated early over the Arkansas election. If they had waited for the complete returns they would not have jubilated at all.

The council combine has graciously undertaken to relieve the voters of the trouble of choosing their own representatives in legislative, county and city government. The question is, Do the voters want to abdicate in favor of such a precious gang?

Fourth district populists have insisted on having a populist candidate for congress. Seeing no other way of securing one, they have put one in nomination by petition. Here is a chance for the democrats to fuse by withdrawing their nominee and accepting the populist candidate.

In the language of the stage managers, Watson doesn't care whether Bryan is started or not, but he insists that his contract stipulates that he is to be featured more than Sewall. If the theater manager does not live up to the contract Watson threatens to break up the whole show.

Don't forget the assessors. Our assessment laws are admittedly barbarous, but administered by efficient and conscientious assessors they could be endured for a time. The assessor has as much, if not more, to do with fixing the tax rate than has the city council and the county board.

Now Chairman Jones has it all figured out that Nebraska is to go for Bryan by 30,000 majority. Where the votes are to come from he carefully refrains from saying. But there are no sane silverites in those parts who will carry Nebraska by 30,000 or by half of 20,000.

Everything we get in this world has to be paid for by somebody. Yet the number of people who permit themselves to be fooled into the belief that they can get something for nothing without expense to anybody appears to be as great now as it ever was since the world's history has been written.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

Published every morning. Terms of subscription: Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year...

Advertisements: Single copy 1 cent. Per line per week 10 cents. Per line per month 25 cents.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Lists names like George E. Tschuck, J. B. Kitchen, and amounts in dollars and cents.

LEADING SPECIAL FEATURES. THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. HAGGARD'S NEW SERIAL STORY. PAIRING BY ELECTRICITY.

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. THE BEST NEWSPAPER.

The counting machine in Arkansas merely slipped a few cogs. The new campaign button, "Have you heard from Maine," is in great demand.

After a ticket is nominated it has to be elected. Delegates to the republican convention should bear this in mind.

Silver men are constantly vouching for one another's honesty. The man who has to have witnesses to his honesty will usually bear watching.

People having urgent business with the head of the two-tailed ticket can reach him by addressing, "Care of Train 16, Berth 1, Sleeping Car 'Defeat'."

Where does Watson come in in the New York fusion deal? Is Watson so much wamer than Bryan that the silk-tied Tammanyites intend to draw the line on him?

If Mr. Bryan has thirty-six states all solid for him, what is he doing down in the Carolinas? If the thing is all settled, why doesn't he come home and begin to prepare his inaugural message?

Watson's visit to Nebraska came during the very pleasant season of the year, but the ice he received from his supposed popular friends must have made him believe that it was already mid-winter here.

Mr. Bryan's paper, the World-Herald, refers to the proposed Emancipation day celebration at Des Moines as a "Cullud barbecue." Does the Bryan organ expect to attract the colored vote by such insulting comment?

It is well the poperats jubilated early over the Arkansas election. If they had waited for the complete returns they would not have jubilated at all.

The council combine has graciously undertaken to relieve the voters of the trouble of choosing their own representatives in legislative, county and city government. The question is, Do the voters want to abdicate in favor of such a precious gang?

Fourth district populists have insisted on having a populist candidate for congress. Seeing no other way of securing one, they have put one in nomination by petition. Here is a chance for the democrats to fuse by withdrawing their nominee and accepting the populist candidate.

In the language of the stage managers, Watson doesn't care whether Bryan is started or not, but he insists that his contract stipulates that he is to be featured more than Sewall. If the theater manager does not live up to the contract Watson threatens to break up the whole show.

Don't forget the assessors. Our assessment laws are admittedly barbarous, but administered by efficient and conscientious assessors they could be endured for a time. The assessor has as much, if not more, to do with fixing the tax rate than has the city council and the county board.

Now Chairman Jones has it all figured out that Nebraska is to go for Bryan by 30,000 majority. Where the votes are to come from he carefully refrains from saying. But there are no sane silverites in those parts who will carry Nebraska by 30,000 or by half of 20,000.

Everything we get in this world has to be paid for by somebody. Yet the number of people who permit themselves to be fooled into the belief that they can get something for nothing without expense to anybody appears to be as great now as it ever was since the world's history has been written.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

Published every morning. Terms of subscription: Daily Bee (without Sunday) One Year...

Advertisements: Single copy 1 cent. Per line per week 10 cents. Per line per month 25 cents.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Lists names like George E. Tschuck, J. B. Kitchen, and amounts in dollars and cents.

LEADING SPECIAL FEATURES. THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. HAGGARD'S NEW SERIAL STORY. PAIRING BY ELECTRICITY.

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE. THE BEST NEWSPAPER.

The counting machine in Arkansas merely slipped a few cogs. The new campaign button, "Have you heard from Maine," is in great demand.

After a ticket is nominated it has to be elected. Delegates to the republican convention should bear this in mind.

Silver men are constantly vouching for one another's honesty. The man who has to have witnesses to his honesty will usually bear watching.

People having urgent business with the head of the two-tailed ticket can reach him by addressing, "Care of Train 16, Berth 1, Sleeping Car 'Defeat'."

Where does Watson come in in the New York fusion deal? Is Watson so much wamer than Bryan that the silk-tied Tammanyites intend to draw the line on him?

If Mr. Bryan has thirty-six states all solid for him, what is he doing down in the Carolinas? If the thing is all settled, why doesn't he come home and begin to prepare his inaugural message?

Watson's visit to Nebraska came during the very pleasant season of the year, but the ice he received from his supposed popular friends must have made him believe that it was already mid-winter here.

Mr. Bryan's paper, the World-Herald, refers to the proposed Emancipation day celebration at Des Moines as a "Cullud barbecue." Does the Bryan organ expect to attract the colored vote by such insulting comment?

It is well the poperats jubilated early over the Arkansas election. If they had waited for the complete returns they would not have jubilated at all.

The council combine has graciously undertaken to relieve the voters of the trouble of choosing their own representatives in legislative, county and city government. The question is, Do the voters want to abdicate in favor of such a precious gang?

Fourth district populists have insisted on having a populist candidate for congress. Seeing no other way of securing one, they have put one in nomination by petition. Here is a chance for the democrats to fuse by withdrawing their nominee and accepting the populist candidate.

In the language of the stage managers, Watson doesn't care whether Bryan is started or not, but he insists that his contract stipulates that he is to be featured more than Sewall. If the theater manager does not live up to the contract Watson threatens to break up the whole show.

Don't forget the assessors. Our assessment laws are admittedly barbarous, but administered by efficient and conscientious assessors they could be endured for a time. The assessor has as much, if not more, to do with fixing the tax rate than has the city council and the county board.

Now Chairman Jones has it all figured out that Nebraska is to go for Bryan by 30,000 majority. Where the votes are to come from he carefully refrains from saying. But there are no sane silverites in those parts who will carry Nebraska by 30,000 or by half of 20,000.

Everything we get in this world has to be paid for by somebody. Yet the number of people who permit themselves to be fooled into the belief that they can get something for nothing without expense to anybody appears to be as great now as it ever was since the world's history has been written.

The Financial News.

Registered for transmission through the Post in the United Kingdom and Foreign Parts.

Price One Penny.

Offices: 11, ARCHBISHOP-LANE, LONDON, E.C.

Branch Offices: PARIS: 12, CHAUSSEE D'ANTIN. Subscriptions and Advertisements: NEW YORK: 1, WILLIAM-STREET.

Subscription rates (Post-paid): Per Year £1 19s 6d, Six Months £1 6s, Three Months £1 0s.

All Changes and Post-Office Orders should be made payable to "C. F. Tombs, Secretary," and crossed "Parry & Bank, Limited."

Newsletters and the trade supplied in time for the early trains, at the Publishing Office, the Argus Printing Company, Limited, corner of Temple Avenue and Tudor-street, E.C.

THE FINANCIAL NEWS can be obtained in: PARIS: At the BRANCH OFFICE: 12, CHAUSSEE D'ANTIN; the Kiosques; and at the Railway Stations.

BRUSSELS: Librairie Kluyskens and Co., 72, Montagne de la Cour. NICE: Galignani's Library, 43, Quai St. Jean Baptiste.

NEW YORK: At the BRANCH OFFICE: 1, WILLIAM-STREET; ARCADE NEWS STAND, 71, Broadway.

STOCK EXCHANGE SETTLING DAYS. Settling Days on the Stock Exchange are as follows: CONSOLS, Tuesday, September 16.

Continuation of the Settlement Days. Pay Days: Thurs., Aug. 13, Thurs., Aug. 27, Thurs., Aug. 27, Thurs., Aug. 27, Thurs., Aug. 27.

WE have received numerous letters from American correspondents containing what purport to be editorials from THE FINANCIAL NEWS, and which have been reprinted in various Western papers as "campaign literature."

One Omaha paper prints an article stating that it is "from the London Financial News of March 19." No such article was ever printed by us, and its whole tenor is directly opposed to the view we have taken of the effect of free silver in the United States.

So far from advocating free silver change, we have persistently pointed out that it spells repudiation and the withdrawal of all European capital.

OMAHA, Sept. 14.—Hon. E. Rosewater, Editor Omaha Bee: Dear Sir—Some time ago The Omaha Bee took a good reason for publishing in a pamphlet issued by me an article credited to the London Financial News, and taken by me from the Omaha World-Herald, in which had been printed under the headline, "Paste This in Your Hat."

When I reproduced this article in good reason to believe that it was genuine, but when The Bee assumed it as a forgery and criticized me for giving circulation to a forgery, my indignation was aroused. I know Nebraska and I made another investigation. Had that investigation shown that The Bee was right I should have taken your advice and have are here from many states in the union and legislation is being enacted for thousands of communicants. To the Swedish people this conference is of great interest and the fact that the body was indeed to hold its session in Omaha is significant of the growing number of Swedes in the west, and particularly in Nebraska. No foreign nationality has done more to build up the resources of this state.

"An Amosian" Crisis. "I find as much enthusiasm for me here as in Nebraska," said Mr. Bryan to a Kentucky audience. This must have made the Amosian grin broadly. They know Nebraska and a sound money state as well as Kentucky.

All of One Mind. A poll of 500 Methodist ministers in Ohio did not return a single vote for the Chicago platform or the election of Bryan. Some of the number are Helweg democrats, and will not vote with the party when the coin debaters are shaken out of it.

An Unprecedented Situation. Bryan was nominated on the 10th of July, two months ago. During that long time there has not been a single party meeting in New York and distinction in the whole state of New York who has declared himself in favor of the candidate and the platform on which he was nominated. Nearly all the democrats of the state most honored by the party and influential in it have openly and formally repudiated the platform and are utterly undemocratic and unworthy of the confidence of any patriot.

Significant Feature. The silverites of Louisville, Ky., hurled a boomerang at the sound money notification meeting in that city Saturday night last when they started twenty-two counter-meetings throughout the city to draw away the crowd. But the counter-meetings were all failures, with the exception of one meeting was a complete success; and now the silverites admit, as they rub the cushions left by the boomerang, that they have abandoned hope of Kentucky. Leaf by leaf the roses fall; and one by one the states that were sure to be swept by Bryan are being converted into money and nickel pits still into the sound money column.

Bryan and the School Teachers. "If you will show me a school teacher who because of a salary involved and for the hope of getting larger dollars instead of more dollars, will favor the gold standard while the people of this county and state are suffering? I will show you a school teacher who does not deserve a place teaching the children of this country."—Bryan.

That is, Bryan denounces as unworthy of the places all the school teachers who receive wages or salaries in 100-cent dollars, instead of 50-cent dollars? He wants to put them on half pay, on the ground that their loss will be "made" silver bullion without buying necessary articles. But how can there be any gain for the seller when he, in his turn, must also pay two dollars for that he buys which he pays one now? Bryan has the impudence to make a threatening demand for an utterly useless sacrifice by all salaried men and wage earners.

Where the Combine Comes In. "The moment the mints of the United States are opened to the free coinage of silver," says Mr. Bryan, "70,000,000 people can go out and acquire silver, take it to their homes, and pay their taxes and other bills with it for the purchase of property." Oh, no they can't! The silver mites are owned by the big trusts and big corporations, and the people can no more go out and "acquire" silver than they can go out and secure gold or pearls of Haman. The silver mite owners would very quickly put an end to their "acquiring" if they should attempt it. It is just as much a crime to "acquire" silver bullion without giving an acceptable return for it, as to "acquire" a horse out of another man's stable.

destroyed every one of the pamphlets. But I became more convinced than ever that the article was genuine.

Since that time I have observed that the World-Herald has printed a facsimile of the article, and I believe the proof is conclusive to any person. But you have even denied the correctness of this facsimile. I observe that the World-Herald has made you an eminent fair representation of the article, and you have so far ignored, inasmuch as you appointed yourself the censor of my conduct, I feel that it shall not be impertinent if I shall assume to call your attention to a very serious lapse on your part. In an editorial you said, concerning myself:

"We are informed that our esteemed but over-zealous follower, J. B. Kitchen, has incorporated into his valuable column of 15 to 1 free money, that forged editorial from the London Financial News. None of our correspondents have proved to be a rank fabrication, we naturally supposed Mr. Kitchen's honesty would impel him either to withdraw his pamphlet from sale and circulate the article in the form of a forgery, or to revise it, and to be responsible for the circulation of a forgery."

I adopt in part your own words when I say: Now that the article has proved to be not a fabrication, I naturally suppose that Mr. Rosewater's honesty will impel him either to accept the World-Herald's challenge to sustain the proof to a committee or to retract the charge of forgery that he has caused to be spread broadcast. No honest gold champion would want to be responsible for the circulation of a falsehood. Will you explain why you do not act on the lines of common honesty, which lines you were so ready to lay down for the guidance of other people?

A reply will oblige not only myself, but others who have watched this controversy with considerable interest. Yours truly, J. B. KITCHEN.

To Mr. J. B. Kitchen—Dear Sir: My response to your letter of the 14th has been delayed in order to enable me to procure a fac-simile of the copy of the London Financial News editorial which you positively deny ever having published the article which you had seen in as an argument in favor of the opening of the United States mints to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. I regret exceedingly that you have put me to the trouble of forcing you, through the medium of The Bee, to inspect the document the original of which was placed at your disposal, but which you declined to look at because you evidently either did not want to be undecided or wanted to keep up the work of deception in which you have been engaged.

You say you are satisfied the "paste-this-in-your-hat" article is genuine and a true copy of the article that appeared in The Financial News. If you had compared this pretended extract with the cutting of which it purports to be a copy you would have seen that it was garbled and misquoted and bears upon its face the evidence of designing imposture.

You know also, or you ought to know, that the original "paste-this-in-your-hat" article was first alleged to have been clipped by an employe in the World-Herald office from the original paper received direct from London, and that it is now admitted that this story had no foundation in fact, but that the clipping was furnished by an Engineer Cutting Bureau to a Mr. Irvine in 1894. You know that the bogus extract inserted by yourself into your pamphlet was left without date by the express purpose of making people believe that it had been printed since the opening of the present campaign.

The only thing you have to sustain your pretense that the clipping of April 30, 1894, of which the World-Herald has printed a fac-simile, was taken from The Financial News, is the word of an English concern that makes a business of selling newspaper clippings. There is nothing on the face of the fac-simile to show from what paper it was clipped or on what date it was published, or whether it was an editorial or a contributed article. On the other hand, I have in my possession the original copy of the editorial denial of The Financial News and that disclaimer of the entire matter so far as The Bee is concerned.

You say that I have appointed myself the censor of your conduct. I say your conduct is your own censor. Had you been honestly desirous of learning the truth, you would have examined, as Mr. D. Clem Deaver has done, the documents in my possession, whose genuineness can not be disputed.

E. ROSEWATER.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS. It may be possible for the diplomats of Europe by sheer force of their power to shield the sultan of Turkey from the indignation of outraged humanity, and preserve intact his throne, but by no display of their subtle diplomacy can they any longer deceive the people with regard to the situation of affairs in the sultan's domains. All the world knows of the barbarities of this "anarchist" of Europe, and all humanity, speaking through that "grand old man" of the English speaking people, Mr. Gladstone, cries aloud for vengeance. No further apologies can be made for Abdul Hamid, and none will be accepted. Mr. Gladstone speaks for all when he demands swift punishment for this extermination of the Armenians. How long must we wait for it? Will the rulers of Europe, all of whom are numbered among Christian potentates, strip him at once of the power to perpetrate these crimes, or must the world hope on, viewing these tragedies daily, for the hand of God to render futile any further efforts to grind these few remaining people in the dust?

The czar's European trip is being made very unpleasant for him. Starting from home with the memory of having sacrificed 5,000 people on the plains of Moscow, at his coronation, he had scarcely left Vienna when Lobanoff, his foreign minister, dropped dead by his side. And now the smart English detectives startle the world by exposing an alleged plot to blow up the czar and his wife, Queen Victoria, and perhaps the representatives of royalty and royalty, to establish a reign of terror in London and the other European capitals. All this is calculated to make it disagreeable for the czar, and to convince him that he is on the throne of his ancestors. It is said that the czar has a very nervous disposition. Then it will be hoped that his trip to Vienna, such an exhibition illustrating the contributions of Portugal to the art of navigation, and setting forth her trophies of discovery, will be a great success. The czar's sister nation Spain, and in that period eclipsed those of any other maritime power. She is entitled to celebrate her achievements in the most glowing and generous manner, and invites the whole world to her ceremonial. It will be the perpetuation of an illustrious memory, which, with Columbus and Aguiar, and sharing it with Cabral and Pedro da Souza, both of whom, like Vasco da Gama himself, carried the standard of Portugal to the most remote lands, Brazil among them, providing an exile and an empire for its royal house which has ever existed in the world, and when the time was ripe abandoned, as it did a few years ago. The United States must not be unrepresented at the celebration, and Brazil, in particular, ought to put its best foot forward on the occasion.

Next year will complete the fourth century since Vasco da Gama set out from Portugal on the voyage which carried him around the Cape of Good Hope to India, thus opening a new pathway for the commerce between the Orient and the west, which destroyed old marts and built up new ones on the Mediterranean to the Baltic, entirely shifting the channels of trade in the European world, and giving a new direction to its commercial activities. The anniversary is to be celebrated by Portugal in an impressive manner, as it deserves, beginning on July 8, 1897, and continuing through three days of festival throughout the kingdom, with religious and patriotic ceremonies on a scale befitting the importance of the occasion. There will also be an exhibition illustrating the contributions of Portugal to the art of navigation, and setting forth her trophies of discovery, and giving a new direction to its commercial activities. The anniversary is to be celebrated by Portugal in an impressive manner, as it deserves, beginning on July 8, 1897, and continuing through three days of festival throughout the kingdom, with religious and patriotic ceremonies on a scale befitting the importance of the occasion. There will also be an exhibition illustrating the contributions of Portugal to the art of navigation, and setting forth her trophies of discovery, and giving a new direction to its commercial activities. The anniversary is to be celebrated by Portugal in an impressive manner, as it deserves, beginning on July 8, 1897, and continuing through three days of festival throughout the kingdom, with religious and patriotic ceremonies on a scale befitting the importance of the occasion. There will also be an exhibition illustrating the contributions of Portugal to the art of navigation, and setting forth her trophies of discovery, and giving a new direction to its commercial activities. The anniversary is to be celebrated by Portugal in an impressive manner, as it deserves, beginning on July 8, 1897, and continuing through three days of festival throughout the kingdom, with religious and patriotic ceremonies on a scale befitting the importance of the occasion. There will also be an exhibition illustrating the contributions of Portugal to the art of navigation, and setting forth her trophies of discovery, and giving a new direction to its commercial activities. The anniversary is to be celebrated by Portugal in an impressive manner, as it deserves, beginning on July 8, 1897, and continuing through three days of festival throughout the kingdom, with religious and patriotic ceremonies on a scale befitting the importance of the occasion. There will also be an exhibition illustrating the contributions of Portugal to the art of navigation, and setting forth her trophies of discovery, and giving a new direction to its commercial activities. The anniversary is to be celebrated by Portugal in an impressive manner,