Plans for the Reces at the Old Fair Grounds Track on Saturday.

GOOGLERS PREPARE A GREAT LAYOUT

Entries Already at Hand Promise the Best Afternoon's Rucing Ever Witnessed in Nebraska_Some of the Detnits.

club's racing meet at the old fair grounds track on Saturday afternoon, and it is not promising too much to say that if rain does not interfere there will be a sporting event to date from for a few years. Entries do not close until tomorrow night; yet the list already booked is a long one, made up of bona-fide racing men. Up to date the novice class is very slimly represented. There are some nice prizes for the novices and the young riders may yet drop in. But the big events have filled nicely, and some race sport may be confidently looked Umpire forward to.

Yesterday the local riders who are training on the track pronounced it lightning fast. It is one of the fastest two-lap tracks in the country, and was never in better shape than at present. And this is another tuarantee of the sport in prospect. Among the professional are men who have never met, and, as they are coming here from a distance, it is fair to presume they are coming for some of the money. There are nine events, one novice, four amateurs and four professionals. Two of these will be hot. No. 3, one mile, amateur, paced, will bring out the speediest of this class of oring out the speedest of this class of riders. In this event the prizes reach the League of American Wheelmen limit. Event No. 6 is the one mile, professional, paced, with $60 cash for the first man in. $25 for the second and $10 for the third. When men like Banks, Coulter, Becker. Mierstein, Ashley, Everhard, Maxwell, Donnan, McCall, Gadke, Frederickson, Holton Lawson, Gustaverson and McCullough meet in an event of this sort, there will be some track burning. A tandem team that can ride will set the pace on this. These are only two of the races? All are short, except the last one, the five-mile handicap for he amateurs, and all have good waiting for the winners. The prizes aggre-

Upwards of sixty of the best known riders between Chicago and the mountains have al-ready paid their entrance fees, and the meet Kearney will send half as many more, te list does not close until Friday night. All the Omaha riders are in, and all are training hard.

One thing the club has arranged for that will be appreciated is that only a single admission price is charged. The ticket that admits to the grounds admits to the grandstand, quarter stretch or paddock. But the track will be kept clear. On this especial stress is laid. Marshals sufficient to patro the stretch will see to it that riders only have the track.

Trial heats will be run off in the morning, and the finals in the afternoon.

GAMES OF THE NATIONAL LEAGUE. Cleveland Cinches Second Place and the Temple Cup Chance. CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—Cleveland today ecured the right to defend the Temple cup

From the showing made by the Jersey team today there is very little chance for it to save a single inning's defeat, with a good margin to the credit of the Australians.

California is Abandoneud. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 23.—The eastern tennis experts, R. D. Wrenn, W. A. Larned and Carr B. Neel are not to grace the far western courts with their presence this western courts with their presence this year. Their visit is off, and the tennis-isving people of San Francisco and neighboring towns, as well as the tennis players themselves, are sorely disappointed. The first intimation of the failure of the scheme was the delay in starting on account of the necessity of Larned's prosence at his home, where his parents were suddenly taken ill. Neel was delayed by the Wyandotte tournament in Unicago, which only ended yesterday. Then Wrenn, the champion, who is a student at Harvard, romembered just in time that the fall semester begins in September. Yesterday a final dispatch was received from Neel to the effect that Hovey had flatly refused to make the trip, and the project was thereupon abandoned.

Consideration.

Thomas Kilpatrick, Robert S. Wilcox, Anton Hospe, jr., Charles M. Wilbelm, Henry Hardy and John Hussie were last evening placed in nomination for directors of the Transmississippi Exposition by the Retail Dealers' association. The members present pledged themselves to work for the election of these men, and the secretary was authorized to notify all the members that the association expected hearty support given the nominees. This was the action that followed a ten minutes' discussion and the adoption of the following resolution: Whereas, The proposed Transmississippi and International Exposition is of neces-sity an enterprise which will require for its management men of ability and experience, Whereas, These men should be chosen Whereas, These men should be chosen with respect to their fitness to represent the several interests of our citizens, and Whereas. The interests of all of the citizens of Omaha, and especially those interested in the retail business, are vitally concerned in the success of this great enterprise, therefore, be it.

Resolved, That the Omaha Retail Dealers' association do now place in nomination and endorse six of its members for election to the board of directors of the Transmississippi and International Exposition.

"More" was present and favored each

"Mogy" was present and favored each member with a Transmississippi Exposition button, for which he received a vote of thanks. The barsh criticism of the Lincoln Journal on the parades of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben was again brought up for discussion, but action was postponed for one meeting. The thanks of the association were tendered the board of governors of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben for its recent work in preparing "the grand show that we all know it was,"

as one member expressed it.

The advisability of arranging some sort of an attraction for the month of November, similar to the society circus of last season, was discussed, but no action was taken. The association in an emphatic manner declared that the State fair must next year be held at a later date than it was this year. It was the general sentiment that the fair should be held the last week in September or the first week in October. A prominent dry goods dealer said that the time the fair was held this year was a poor one for every business man in the city, except those interested in serving liquid refreshments, that it was too late to sell summer goods and to early to dispose of fall stock.

An officer of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben wandered into the meeting at this juncture, and stated that the board of governors of that institution had decided that the street pageants should not be exhibited before the last of September next year. No communi-cation to this effect had been sent to the State fair managers, he explained, because the governors had grown weary of asking consideration from the State fair board. It was the sentiment of the meeting that the fair of 1897 must be held later, even should the State fair board be compelled to withdraw the Nebraska State fair western circui, in order to arrange a satisfactory date. A committee, consisting of F. Paffenrath, Albert Cahn and H. Hardy, was appointed to decide upon the time for the fair best suited to the local retailers, and to inform the State Board of Agriculture and the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben of that date and f the opposition of the retailers to the se-ection of any date far removed from that

Did Not Practice What He is Now Preaching. OMAHA. Sept. 23 .- To the Editor of The Omaha Bee: I have more than once been amused in reading Mr. Bryan's speeches to he people in the cast, as he rushes through the country from one place to another like a flying squadron, to see that often what he says to the people there, in his efforts American Humane association at to recommend himself to their good opinions is not strictly in accordance with his record as we happen to know it here. A fair illustration of this is afforded in his Philadelphia speech of yesterday, in which, after presenting the various platforms from 1884 to 1896 and denouncing the men in office who betray the people who livited them, said: 'I deny the right of any Ablic servant to secure office upon a platform and then abandon it after he is elected. I was reared in a different school of democracy. When I find my conscience will not permit ne to carry out a platform on which I am

> And yet does not Mr. Bryan and every Nebraskan know that the very last time he was elected to office he was guilty of that very thing. In 1892 Mr. Bryan secured his election to congress upon a platform that demanded the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act of 1890, and yet no sooner was he elected that his concience readily permitted him to willfully abandon that part of his platform and "be tray the people who elected him" by votin squarely against the repeal of the objection-thle feature of the Sherman law—and he lld not resign his office either, but drew his pay to the last moment, and his personal rgan in this city but yesterday applauded his treachery as an heroic act.
