Republicans in the Fifth Ward Have s Big Meeting.

SEARCHLIGHT TURNED ON FUSIONISTS

Colonel Moores Says He Will See that the Law is Enforced, and that the City Shall Be Orderly hips White He is Mayor.

A rousing meeting of the republicans of the Fifth ward was held at Erfling's hall on Sherman avenue last night. Notices of the meeting were issued only yesterday morning, but the large hall was well filled, notwithstanding the short notice.

D. H. Christie presided over the meeting and introduced J. J. Boueber as the first speaker. Mr. Boucher made an informal talk, which kept the audience in a good humor. He reviewed the legislative record of Ed Howell and mentioned a few of the Omaha. Mr. Boucher also spoke of the official record of Colonel Moores. He said he had been employed in Mr. Moores' office dur- fit to be the mayor of a city like Omaha. ing a part of the latter's term and had an opportunity of seeing for himself how things were managed. He denounced the charges which have been made against Mr. Moores as unfounded and said these things were only brought forward for the purpose of get only brought forward for the purpose of get-ting the populists in power in Omaha.

A. C. Troup was the next speaker and he gave the crowd a "tip" on what might be expected to happen in this city if Howell should be elected mayor. He said Howell was nothing but a populist and that the popwas nothing but a populist and that the populist party had cursed everything it had ever touched. If this party were put in power in Omaha, the speaker said, the city would be blighted by legislation and cursed by the establishment of a despotic government from which it would take years to recover. Mr.
Troup referred at same length to the charges Troup referred at some length to the charges which have been made against the head of the ticket and paid his respects to Redfield and his hangers-on. He called attention to the fact that every case which had been started against Moores for collecting illegal fees had either been adjudicated in favor of Moores or had been dismissed by the plaintiffs, and he denounced the hue and cry as mere political buncombe. AUDIENCE RISES TO ITS FEET.

As Mr. Troup finished his talk Colonel Moores entered the hall. Every man in the room rose from his seat and greeted the head of the republican ticket with rousing cheers. Amid the greatest tumult he moved to the front of the hall and motioned for quiet.

When order was restored, Colonel Moores made one of his characteristic speeches, which pleased the crowd immensely. He spoke in a most happy yein and was fre-spoke in a most happy vein, and was frespoke in a most nappy vein, and was tre-quently interrupted by applause. He re-ferred briefly to his record in office, cover-ing substantially the same ground as in his speech before the Veteran Republican club the night before, explaining the true in-wardness of the charges which have been made against him and showing the lack of foundation for the sensational statements which have been made. He also said that which have been made. He also said that the county had a gilt-edged bond with good surcties as a guaranty that he would account for every dollar in his hands, and said he had several thousand dollars worth of property which was subject to execution if anything wrong is found.

Continuing, Mr. Moores said: "It has been continuing, Mr. Moores said: "It has been said that if Moores is elected the town will be run wide open. I want to say right now that that is but so. If I am elected the laws on the statute books will be enforced. When people come here to visit the exposition we do not want them to think that Omaha is wild and woolly, but we want to make a favorable impression on them, and that can favorable impression on them, and that can best be done by having an orderly city. And I also want to say that if I am elected mayor no corporations or individuals will have any striegs on me. I will be the mayor and I shall have an advisory board of the best legal advisors and the most reliable business men in the city to advise with me on matters of importance, and I shall act upon the advice thus obtained for the best interest of the city. All that I have in the world is in Omaha, and what is for the interest of the city is for my interest."

At the conclusion of Colonel Moores' speech the applause was deafening, and it of importance, and I shall ac

GOOD MEETING AT HEADQUARTERS.

Laboring Men Manifest Their Interest

The republican rally at the headquarters at Thirteenth and Farnam streets last night was distinctively a gathering of laboring men-They were in a large majority in the crowd that filled the hall, and signified their interest in the campaign by the hearty approba tion that they accorded the numerous speeches. W. I. Kierstead presided and E. J. Cornish was introduced as the first speaker Mr. Cornish fired some very hot shot at the fusion candidate for mayor and vigorously assailed his action in sacrificing the interests of the people whom he was sent to Lincoln to represent in order to further his personal ambition to be mayor of Omaha. He showed how Senator Howell had assisted to displace Senator Flowell had assisted to displace Senator Evans in deflance of the will of the people as expressed at the polls solely be-cause the populists had demanded that Jeff-coat should be scated as a condition precedent to a populist endorsement of Howell's candidacy for mayor. The speaker declared that Howell stood convicted in the hearts of the people of having violated his oath of office by doing what he knew was not right. He had sold his vote in the state senate for a populist endorsement, and now he had the audacity to come before the people of Omaha and ask for their endorsement of his action. He contended that when Howell had given an office that paid $300 in return for the populist endorsement, he had committed as grave a crime as though he had paid the amount in cash for the same support. Mr. Cornish also vigorously denounced the action of Howell and his associates in regard to the fire and police commission and called on the voters of the city, independent of their political preferences, to declare against this effort to carry the saloens and the fire and police departments into politics.

MOORES' SUBSTANTIAL GENEROSITY. Mr. Kierstead spoke briefly, referring for the most part to the candidacy of Mr. Mcores. He told several stories of incidents that had come to his knowledge of the substantial ascome to his knowledge of the substantial as-sistance that Mr. Moores had given to poor families in their time of need and of the tact that he had used to prevent those whom he had assisted from feeling that they were the subjects of charity. In regard to the charges against Mr. Moores, in connection with the district court clerkship, Mr. Kier-stead showed that they were entirely un-founded. He detailed the differences that existed between the county and county authorities admitted that they excess of the amount they claimed from him.

Mr. Moores had tried to have the matter adjudicated a long time ago, but the county commissioners had delayed, hoping to compel Mr. Moores to bring suit against the county Mr. Moores to bring suit against the county for the amount due him, and thus allow the county to be on the defensive. City Attorney Connell was then introduced and made an effective appeal for the entire republican ticket. He took up the record of

Howell and his confederates in the legislature at length and showed how they had sacrileed the exposition bill and every other in terest that the people of Omaha were interested in, in order to force the Omaha public officials out of office and clear the decks so that he and his colleagues might find lucrative offices waiting for them when they came home. They talked of economy but the facts were that they had increased the salary of every office which they expected to have for themselves, and cut the salaries of those offices that they did not want. More than that they were now pushing a bill which prowas to consist of three judges, a clerk, three balliffs, and three stenographers with a to-tal salary list of $16,500 a year. This was an outrage on the taxpayers as this court was to take the burden from the district ert which was supported by the state. The Omaha taxpayers paid their proportion of the cost of the district court and under the pro-posed law they would be called on to pay the entire cost of the adjudication that should be done by the district court.

Short speeches were made by City Clerk Higby, Comptroller Westberg, Treasurer Ed-wards, Judge Gordon, Ernest Stuht, Fred J. Sackett and Charles Unitt. Mr. Unitt produced copies of the records of the city coun-cil which showed that when he was a mem-ber of that body Mr. Howell had evaded going on record on important questions by being conveniently absent when they were things he had done to the detriment of to be considered. He declared that a man who did not have the moral courage to vote one way or the other on a question was not

HOT SHOT AGAINST HOWELL

Republican Ward Meeting Touches Up the Plotter and His Aide. Second Ward Republican club held a meeting at Kessler's hall last night which brought out a large audience of representative ward men. W. W. Bingham, president of the club, took the chair and introduced as the first speaker, J. C. Wharton. Mr. Wharton reviewed the public career of Frank E. Moores and also those of the various other candidates on the city ticket. His speech was received with frequent cheers. I. R. Andrews was next introduced.

The speaker confined himself mainly to a discussion of the grounds upon which Howell and his best aide, Ransom, had ventured to make a plea for public favor. Referring to the work of these two men at Lincoln, the speaker said that Omaha and Douglas county had never been so poorly represented at a the most. Instead of applying their energies sissippi Exposition project, they had lost sight of the interests of the people and had followed personal advancement by pushing through the city charter. That a reorganization of the city offices was but a plan for Ransom and Howell to seek political plums was self-evident to any fair minded thinker. It now only remained for the people to turn down the schemers at the coming election. and this, the speaker felt, was already assured.

In connection with The Bee expose of the gambling deal, Mr. Andrews gave the seekers after public favors several hot shots, which were received with wild enthusiasm by the audience. That the popocrats should put in so much time in mud slinging against the republican nominees, the speaker asserted, would bear fruit to their detrimen at the polls. The fact that The Bee had printed a complete statement of the gambling combine which it had afterwards proved should be sufficient reason for every honest voter to cast his vote for hones ourage political plotting in designing politicians.

Short speeches were also made by J. E. Van Gilder and W. W. Bingham along the same lines.

SILVERITES FILE THEIR PETITION

Demand a Designation Not Provided The free silver republicans filed their pe tition with City Clerk Higby yesterday. As the silver republicans have no standing under the law as a political party they were compelled to present their candidates by petition. They demanded that the words, "Free Silver Republican," should follow the name of each candidate on the official ballot, but this was refused by the clerk on the ground that there is no such political party in the will go or the official ballot as "democrat, populist and by petition," unless the matter should be taken to the courts and a different lecision obtained.

The petition of Richard O'Malley as an independent candidate for the city council from the Third ward was also filed yesterday

The First Ward Democratic club held neeting in the hall of the South Side Improvement club. Tenth and Hickory streets last night to a small house. Ed J. Dee acted as presiding officer, and introduced George Bertrand as the first speaker. Mr. Bertrand occupied the greater portion of his time in abusing the republican candidates. There chanced to be a number of friends of Mr. Moores in the audience, and the attack upon the head of the republican ticket was received with but feeble cheers. The speake gave place to C. P. Halligan, who talked of the methods which he would employ if given a chance to preside over the police court. He concluded his address by so liciting the support of all those present a the polls. Short speeches were made by J. F. Lally, John Schupp, T. J. Flynn, Allie

McCann and others. Small Fusion Meeting.

A handful of the fusionists of the Sixth ward met at Twenty-fourth and Grant streets last night to listen to speeches from a number of the candidates. Ed P. Smith irged the record made by the party in the legislature as the best reason why the city ticket should be elected. He said Howell had been mainly instrumental in passing the new charter and hence he ought to be rewarded by being made mayor.

D. Clem Deaver talked about the candidates. He tried to say something nice about all of them, but it was a pretty difficult job and his oratorical efforts were rather painful. A number of the councilmanic candidates were present and they were paraded for the edification of the few spectators.

Co. of this city have arranged with Thomas Kilpatrick & Co. to serve it free of cost Sat-urday afternoon and evening. Chicory is an excellent substitute for coffee—is an addition to coffee—not an adulterant—is less harmfu than coffee, and is wholesome and agreeable to the taste. It is the development of a Nebraska industry. You can't make a really good cup of coffee without using chicory. The ladies are cordially invited to sample this splendid drink Saturday afternoon and evening at the dry goods store of Thomas Kilpatrick & Co. Samples will be dis-tributed free to all who call.

Pleased with the Gymnasts. Over 600 people attended one of the popuar symnastic exhibitions of the Young lar gymnastic exhibitions of the Young Men's Christian association last night. There was not even standling room in the auditorium, vociferous applause greeting each one of the excellent features of the program. The special number was the dumbbell drill of the woman's class of the Young Woman's Christian association, and it was given with great precision and beauty of motion. Other especially attractive features were the Finney brothers on the flying rings, scientific bag punching by King Denman, Miles Anderson in slack wire walking and catchy music by the Junior band. The entire program was furnished by regular attendants of the association's gymnasium.

AT THE PARTY OF TH South Omaha News.

THE REPORT OF THE PROPERTY OF Some members of the city council appear to think that the ordinance introduced a short time ago providing for the vacation of a large tract of land in the northwestern part of the city is loaded, consequently they hesitate about taking any action in the matter. It is feared that the request, which was made ostensibly by the sugar beet factory people, is only a scheme of the South Omaha Land company to throw its land over there back into acre property and thus reduce the taxes.
Ex-Mayor Johnston addressed the members of the council on the subject and gave them to understand that the land was to be occupied by a beet sugar factory. A few of the city officials are inclined to look with suspicion on any scheme which is fathered by Johnston, but in this matter he asserts that he is sincere. The superintendent of the new factory has also addressed the counclimen on the matter, and is apparently acting in good faith. Ed Johnston is local agent for the South Omaha Land company said that the sugar factory was going to locate on the blocks mentioned in the ordi-nance, and emphatically denied that there was any scheme in the deal. As far as rewas concerned, Mr. Johnston asserted that the taxes on the lots up there were only a triffe higher than on acre property in the immediate neighborhood, nd that there would be no object in having the land vacated for that purpose. The records in the office of the city treasurer will back him up in this statement as to the taxes. Mr. Johnston said.

The council has no desire to block any plan that will benefit the city, but it doesn't want to be taken in by any scheme.

Price of Ment Going Up. Owing to a scarcity of beef cattle the pack ng houses have raised the price of dressed meats. Cattle are now selling at from 60 to 75 cents per 100 pounds higher tham a month ago, which brings the price of dressed seef up to $1.50 for 100 pounds. On account of the raise in the wholesale prices the local butchers have been compelled to put up the etail price. Prime rib roasts and loin teaks have gone up 21/2 cents per pound and may go higher any day. Pork has also gone up, the packers having raised the whole-sale price 2½ cents a pound, and the butchers compelled to raise the retail price ust that much.

VOTERS GETTING INTO LINE

Public is Being Awakened to Conspiracy Backed by Fusionists.

REPUBLICANS PUSHING THE CAMPAIGN

false Reports by Insgruntled Politicians Have the Exect of Turning Many Votes to Moores and Other Republican Candidates.

The fusionist combination has fired its only gun at the republican battlements and the result has been most discouraging to the ambitious gunners who had expected that the shot would shatter the fortifications.

The attack on Frank E. Moores, republican candidate for mayor, with its surplusage of double-leaded type and its paucity of facts, has been largely discounted in advance, and in the light of the facts subsequently elicited it stands revealed as an unscrupulous deception made to serve a personal and political malice. The fair and indusputable statement of the facts as made by Colonel doores before several ward meetings has satisfied wavering republicans, and many who had taken stock in the slanderous stories have become his enthusiastic supporters. In the face of the attacks th reublican lines have been rapidly filling up and the campaign managers are now assured that there will be no split in the party. The committeemen at the headquarters in the Hellman block find that the party sentiment is crystallizing daily. The reports received from the various wards show that the ward meetings are largely attended and marked by a degree of enthusiasm that is excep-tional in off years. The meetings held Wednesday were particularly encouraging and they will be kept up every night during the remainder of the campaign.

One of the considerations that operates to solidify the republican party is the prospect of maladministration of the affairs of the Fire and Police commission in case Howel becomes mayor of Omaha. The taxpayer are overwhelmingly in lavor of a commission that is nonpartison in practice as well as in name. After having finally brought about a reform in that respect they do not propose to have all that has been accomplished nega tived by turning the fire and police depart ments over to any partisan machine.

OPPOSE A POLITICAL BOSS. The best citizens realize that if Howell is elected the fire and police departments will be dominated by an unscrupulous political mittee as follows: First ward, F. K. Dar ling; Second ward, Fred Hoye; Third ward Tom McVittie; Fourth ward, W. B. White horn; Fifth ward, C. A. Askwith; Sixth ward, Theodore Johnson; Seventh ward, C. L. Chaffee; Eighth ward, K. S. Fisher; Ninth ward, Charles Unitt.

While it is apparent that the campaign vill be largely fought on the mayoralty, the councilmanic contests are considered almost equally important. It is plain that the democrats propose to bend all their energies to the election of Howell and five councilmen, and the reguliteans propose to head them off on both propositions. The repub-lican councilmanic ticket is exceptionally strong, while the fusion candidates, with one or two exceptions, are conspicuously weak. Of the nine republican candidates, six lected last fall, and the terms to which they are rightfully entitled do not expir-until January, 1899. There is a strong feel ing among fair-minded men of all parties that these men are fairly entitled to serve out their terms, and as they have all made creditable records during their three months ervice, the popocrats are unable to give an eason why they should be displaced excep the necessity of a councilmanic majority order to carry out the conspiracy to build up a second edition of Tammany hall.

COUNCILMANIC CONTEST. The petition candidates are no to cut any material figure in the fight. O'Mal-ley and Prince are out with the admitted ention of defeating Burmester, but neither of them have any support outside of the Third ward. H. C. Betterman's independent Third ward. H. C. Betterman's independent candidacy in the Sixth is known to be instigated by J. H. Winspear, and Karr's friends are not losing any sleep over it. Tom Crocker of the Eighth has a popular opponent in F. J. Burkley, but his friends are confident that he will be elected. A number of taxpayers who are personally friendly to Burkley have stated that they proposed to yet for Crocker, as he has only proposed to vote for Crocker, as he has only been allowed to serve three months of the time for which he was elected, while Burkley was now a candidate for a third term. Bingham and Flynn are both making a hot campaign for re-election from the Second ward, and the indications are that Ringham will cut heavily into the natural democratic majority in the ward. In the other wards Bingham is conceded to be the stronger candidate and his friends are confident that he will be elected by a decisive

The city officials as well as those who are interested in the exposition are somewhat exercised for fear that the bond proposition to vote $50,000 in intersection bonds will be lost sight of in the other issues of the campaign. They show that as the finances of the city now stand there is only enough in the intersection fund to pave one or two ntersections, and if any paving is to be lone before the exposition the intersection onds must be carried.

Saturday morning we will place on sale a large invoice of Men's Hats in the very latest creations of the best hatters in the land. Included in this sale will be the new style Fedoras with flat rolled brim, which we will sell at the popular price of a dollar and a half instead of the usual price of three dollars. We will have them in two colors-black and Havana brown-and the quality is as good as is usually sold for three dollars in stores where style costs as much as quality. It doesn't cost anything here. That will exp'ain why we will sell you on Saturday some of the finest and handsomest derbies that ever went on a man's head for two dollars, and some of the latest blocks in Nebraska Specials for a dollar an' a half. Saturday will be one of our days for advertising our Hat Department by selling hats from one dollar to two dollars less than anywhere else in town. That's the kind of advertising that pays.
