Wheat Bewilders the Traders, but Makes a Slight Gain.

RISES AND FALLS ALL DAY LONG

Weather is the Principal Factor in the Market Corn and Oats Lose n Fourth and Provisions Advance.

CUICAGO, April 29.-Wheat today outside All of its recent actions. It boiled and froze alternately and kept on the jump the few traders who had herve enough to keep hold of the market. It closed at an advance of ac after reaming over a range of 2c. The weather played an important part in the quotations of the market. Corn lost 140, and oats the same, while provisions advenced 23-50714c Wheat started as it did yesterday, with a general feeling that a rally was about due. July opened at an advance of from tee, the first trades being at from 701ec to 70%c, with one or two transaction 70%c. That was the highest price paid in the first two hours of the ses sion, but in that time the market rose and fell in a manner that was bewildering, not to say dangerous. One feature of the speculative market was the gradual disappearance of the May premium, which was about ance of the May premium, which was about le at the opening, but before noon was nearly lost. The opening firmness was partly due to the had weather, frosts being reported in Kausas and Nebraska and more rain in the northwest, while the English market was holding with more steadiness than was expected in view of the decided break on this side yesterday. But the advance started free realizing raies and the market once started went to 6% in a hurry. The scalping element in the crowd had largely deserted the market and with the business thus reduced, it takes very little to start it running. After the decline to 6% c, the market turned. The recovery was gradual at first, but became more pressing about an hour from the cleaing, by which time July had risen to 7% c. Son Francisco advices reporting dry weather continuing and temperature rising had remething to do with the strength that developed, and a private cablegram from Berlin reporting strength of that market due to a continuation of the drouth in Russia was another factor. Liverpool closed weak at from 5d to 1% decline; northwest receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth were 290 cars against 257 a week ago and 239 last year. Chiesgo receipts were four carloads. Atlantic port exports of wheat and flour were equal to, only 75,600 bu. A late report from San Francisco giving the signals respecting the possibility of rain tomorrow, causes the market to take another sudden tumble in the last half hour, July winding up the day at 70% bid.

Carn was quiet and easy with some May pressure. The wet, cold weather had a strengthening effect at first, but prices weakened easily to liquidation, which started on predicted weather improvement tomorrow and consequent increased reic at the opening, but before noon was pressure. The wet, cold weather had a strengthening effect at first, but priess weakened easily to liquidation, which started on predicted weather improvement tomorrow and consequent increased recipis. The shipping demand was slow, Exports were $90,000 bit. July opened unchanged at 25% and slowly sold down to 25%, where it closed.

In outs liquidation of May on a liberal scale was the cause of the weak market. There was a good demand at the decline, but not enough to absorb offerings and the market was weak throughout. Exports twee $10,000 bit. May opened unchanged at 18% at the left of the constant of the weak market was weak throughout. Exports twee $10,000 bit. May opened unchanged at 17% at declined to 17% and reacted to 17% at where it closed.

Provisions had a rather casy start, the to the weakness of yard prices, but the market soon became firm and remained so. Prices have declined for three days and today saw a natural reaction. The Cudahys led the buyers. At the close July pork was 7% higher at $4.70.

CATTLE—The sun came out this morning and the market looked up again. Yesterday's glut was out of the way and in place of it there was a very light run of cattle, only forty-nine loads, so that with light receipts and fair weather the situation was much more favorable to sellers.

Beef steers of all kinds were more active and the light offerings were pretty much all taken early, prices showing an advance of 5000c over yesterday. The buyers seemed to want the cattle this morning and they bought stuff that they would not look at yesterday. The cornfed cattle were not very extra, the most of those on sale being good enough to bring only $4.0064.35.

Cows and helfers sold at steady prices, the six to seven loads here being soon cleaned up.

Only a few stockers and feeders were offered on the market, but what there were sold readily and fully as high as any time. One bunch of good light westerns sold at $4.75. Representative sales:
