CLAIMS TITLE TO MUCH OMAHA PROPERTY

Promises to Start Litigation that Will Attack Title to Five Hundred Acres of Land Near the Heart of the City.

The telegraphic columns of The Bee contain a dispatch from New York City which is of more than ordinary importance to the owners of a number of the "additions" lying in the southeastern part of the city. This dispatch is to the effect that George Francis Train is about to reopen his claim to a tract of about 500 acres of land in this part of the eity, which land is now in the possession of hundreds of different owners. The value of this immense tract of land is roughly estimated at $20,000,000 and in the event that Train should be successful in his suit be store promises something phenominally phenominal in the way of shoe values. would once more figure as prominently in the affairs of this city as during the days when the Union Pacific railway was in the course of construction and Train was recognized as one of the foremost citizens of Omaha.

In 1865 George Francis Train purchased from the Kountze brothers and Samuel E. Regers a tract of 500 acres of land lying in the eastern part of the city and south of where the Union Pacific tracks now run. This tract of ground is very irregular in form and can best be described by naming the principal additions now included within its bounds, the title to all of which will be involved in case any litigation is commenced, as proposed. In a general way this tract of ground extends from the Missouri river to Twentieth street and from th Union Pacific tracks to Spring street. I Third, Fourth and Fourth supplementary, S. E. Rogers' Improvement Association, Oka homs, Bowery Hill and the numerous small additions in the vicinity of Vinton street ly-ing between Sixteenth and Twentleth streets. HISTORY OF THE CLAIM.

Ex-Mayor Bends, who is a relative of Mr tion stated to a representative of The Bee that the purchase price of this land was about $100,000. At the time of the purchase Mr. Train paid $38,000 in cash and gave a mortgage as recurity for the balance.

The next move in connection with this land, so far as the present situation is concerned, was in 1873, when the land was sold under foreclosure proceedings. In the meantime the thrilling events with which Mr. Train's busy life was filled had followed one another in rapid succession, and at the time of the foreclosure he had been legally declared a lunatic and released from confinement in the Tombs prison in New York City, after being confined there five months.

This was during the famous Beecher-Tilton trial. Victoria Woodhull and Tennic C. Claflin were publishing a paper called "Woodhull & Claffin's Weekly," and had been impriconed in the Ludlow street jail for debt Train undertook the task of securing their release and turned the batteries of the Train League upon the author ties. The League was a newspaper published by Train, and in defending the women he printed copious lit-eral extracts from the scriptures, applying them to the Beecher Tilton case SENT TO THE ASYLUM.

Anthony J. Comstock had Train arrested and imprisoned in the Ludlow street jail for publishing an obscene and indecent paper, but when the authorities learned that Train's alleged obscenity and indecency con sisted in printing extracts from the scrip sisted in printing extracts from the scrip-tures, they concluded they had captured a white elephant and the charge was not pushed. Train refused to leave the jail until he had been tried on the charge which Comstock had preferred. A trial was finally secured and a verdict reached by the jury. Before the verdict was read, howevr, Mr. Bemis says that the trial judge, Davis, took the case away from the jury and entered a finding to the effect that Train was a lunation and committed him to the Utica asylum.

Habeas corpus proceedings were at once brought before another judge and Train was ordered released, but Mr. Bemis says the record showing that Train had been legally declared ireane was never changed. Train left the country the next day, going to

The point upon which it is understood that the claim to title will rest in attacking the foreclosure proceedings by which the land in this city was sold is that these proceedings were had and the land sold without a guardian ever having been appointed. It will be alleged that the courts of New York found Train insane and that he was no competent, therefore, to legally defend his interests at law and that a guardian should have been appointed to defend in the foreclosure proceedings. If this point is well taken, it is said to be a serious question whether the entire proceedings surrounding the foreclosure and sale may not be held if legal and void and the title of the hundreds of owners of this property swept away.

It is alleged that cattle in which Hardinger and the bank each had an interest were driven across the country in an improper manuer and thrown upon the market in poor condition, and that they sold for much less than they would have brought if properly cared for, all of which is charged as the fault of the bank and alleged as damage to Hardinger.

BRAIN WORKERS.

Should Have Proper Food to Sustain the Losses.

It is a well established fact that active mental effort drains the nerve centers of Phosphates. This fact should guide the brainy men and women of today in selection of proper food and drink to rebuild the losses and prevent Paresis and closure suits brought by the government, and Nervous Prostration in any of its many forms. In wheat, the Phosphates exist, with the gluten up next to the outer shell. Nearly 70 per cent of Postum Cercal Food Coffee consists of this part of the wheat, which practically accounts for the strong tonic effect and pronounced improvement in energy within a very few days after coffee abandoned and Postum used regularly. There is no medicine of any character in Postum. The highest practice of the heal ing art today is not so much in crutching tients along with medicines that will belp them temporarily, as it is to induce them to abandon the use of articles of food or drink that may act in individual case s a definite poison (as coffee does more largely than is realized). When this much is accomplished food of the right kind is the only thing that can build back the lost gray matter from the nerve and brain cells. Postum Cercal Food Coffee furnishes the needed elements in a condensed form, as a most palatable breakfast and after-dinner coffee, free entirely from the drug effect of the Peace Guardians.

The jall force is celebrating the advent of new water cooler, which most unexpectedly put in an appearance yesterday. The new cooler is a thing of beauty, of tall and slender proportions, and promises to dispense liquid refreshment this summer to the right-eous and wicked alike. There are memories connected with the old cooler which those who frequent the station would like to forget. Its introduction at the station dates back into ancient history. When first placed in posi-tion near the main entrance the old cooler attended strictly to business, but of late years it has been most generally on a strike. There were times when one man could turn the water through the faucet, but it required the combined efforts of the entire fall force to turn it off. These little eccentricities on the part of the cooler made it unpopular with the men. Its journey into colliviou, therefore, will probably not be hailed with regret, and the successor to the old cooler will be welcomed as a friend. This problem was given to Messrs. George, Farrell and Wilhelm to solve.

He asked the Commercial club to endorse a financial plan for their assistance. On motion of George W. Lininger, who headed the subscription list with $25, a resolution was passed commend-ing the scheme to Omaha business men and appointing & committee of five to canvass the city with the Rifles in seeking for aid. WANT BETTER MAIL FACILITIES. The need of fast mail service between the two oceans, without delays of from three to eight hours in Chicago, was again brought up before the club and endorsed. The com-mittee having the matter in charge reported progress. Commissioner Utt read the fol-lowing letter, a copy of that sent to the postal authorities at Washington in reference to the matter:

It is for the best interests of this section to have fast mail service between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Such service must be through Omaha, because now and acreafter this will be the shortest continental route by several hundred miles. In order to secure fast mail service, it must be continuous, that is, without serious delays in transfers at cities that are terminal points to rouds that form a part of the through line.

It is unreasonable to run special fast mail points to roads that form a part of the through line.

It is unreasonable to run special fast mail trains at a high rate of speed, then lose the time by slow transfers at terminal points. The loss of time in this progressive age is a loss of money.

Our commerce depends on our mails; business is suspended or expedited in proportion to the quick or slow arrival of mail. Again, the transfers can be expeditious as well as slow; therefore the detention is unnecessary. If the mails from the east reach Omaha at 11 o'clock they can be answered and a reply sent east the same day. With the present system of arrival there is a detention of twenty-four hours, as the letters reach the business places too late in the day to be answered and replies returned on the evening mail, so this affects the commercial interests of both east and west.

fects the commercial interests of both east and west.

The mail train leaving New York at 9:30 a. m. containing mail for Omaha is delayed in Chicago eight hours and forty minutes; the train leaving New York at 9 p. m. is delayed in Chicago two hours and thirty minutes. There is no reason why it should require to exceed thirty minutes to transfer mails at Chicago.

All the business interests of the country at large are injured to the extent of this unreasonable delay in Chicago. The only interests subserved, and which should be a minor condition, are the daily papers in Chicago. We hope, therefore, that you will investigate this matter and endeavor to have the delays in transfers reduced to a reasonable minimum. If any further information is desired on the subject we will be prompt in furnishing the same.

The resolution introduced expressed the satisfaction of the club at Senator Allen's position on the Cuban question. George Paimer quietly suggested that it might be more to the poin to thank Senator Allen for his work in se curing the Indian supply depot. Nearly all the members present thought this the more sensible course, if the executive committee were to go into the commendation business. The resolution was ridiculed from four sides of the room at once, and its author meekly crose to remark that he thought he had better withdraw it.

WAIL FROM TEXT BOOK AGENTS

The action of the Board of Education Mon day night in refusing to act on the text book question is said to have been a body blow to the numerous agents of various publishing houses who have been busily lobbying among hearing of an argument on a Union Pacific the members during the past month. The case. The Credit Commutation company of book men are inclined to believe that they show that they have been victimized. They were the most disgusted set of men in town yesterday One of them said that they would not think anything of it if they had precipitated the fight themselves. But the entire matter had been invited by the board. Resolutions declaring for a radical change in text books had been passed, and as a result, the put lishing houses had sent their representatives here to get in on the ground floor. Some of them had spent three weeks in the city at a considerable expense, and now the board had simply declined to act. Some of the agents were busy among members of the board yesterday to induce them to call a special meeting to take up the question again. Under the rules, no change in text books can be made except during May, and as the next regular meeting does not until June, it will require a suspension o the rules to act unless a special meeting it called. The reason of the delay on the part of the board is said to be a desire on the part of the majority to have a new geography, which one of the book companies is about to issue, considered. They assert that this book promises to be much superfor to any other that can now be had at the same price, and that there is nothing to lose, as the other com-panies will make as l'beral offers in July as now. They are, therefore, inclined to let the matter fest and take chances on securing the three months later.

PERFECT CURE

Always Truthful-A ways Satisfactory-Always Safe,

A whole suit of clothes for three dollars. But that's nothing new. It's a poor day when you can't read advertisements of "first class tailor made suits worth

all the way from twelve to eighteen dollars," for about two ninety-eight. Our's aren't that kind, The manufacturers made a few cents on 'em, probably, and we aren't losing anything on 'em ourselves, and we think you will find em better-much better-than suits that are being sold in some shops at a great sacrifice of time and money, for three dollars-or even four dollars-or even five. If three dollars is lower than you care to pay for your suit we have some at $4,50 that you would guess to be seven do'lar suits, and our lines at five dollars and five fifty, are the strongest lines at these prices that The Nebraska has ever shown,

The Nebraska's second purchases of the season are now ready. There is no cheap clothing so good; no good
