CRICKET MATCH DUE TODAY

Philadelphians Arrive at Oxford All Ready for the Fray.

VISITORS GENERALLY EXPECTED TO WIN

Ambitions Program Marked Out for Them, but It Does Not Include Match with an All-English Team.

OXFORD, June 6 .- The Philadelphia cricketers arrived here about noon today. No one met them. They spent the afternoon quietly, either strolling through the University grounds or lolling at ease and enjoying Milwaukee ...... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 the hot American weather. There does not Detroit ...... 0 0 0 2 0 2 0 0 0 0-4 seem to be much interest in the match among the townspeople, who have been relied upon to furnish a good gate. The present prospects are for a fast wicket tomorrow, although Biddle and one or two other members of the American team have not yet fully recovered from the effects of the yoyage. The men are quite confident that by the following the first own way today, hitting their own way today, hitting there was effective throughout Errors were responsible for the three runs which the Blues scored. Crooks' fielding was a feature. Gettinger joined the Blues and played great ball in center field. Score: selves.

The American visitors are pretty generally expected to win. It is also believed that later on they will defeat Cambridge, but it is not thought that they will be equally successful in the other matches. The program is ambitious, but it does not The program is ambitious, but it does not include an all-English match, but they will meet the best players in the respective county teams. This is doubtless a wise step on their part, though disappointing step on their part, though disappointing to English cricketers, who would have liked to see what Philadelphia could accomplish against England's finest eleven. Apropos of the visit, Prince Ran Jit Sithji.

one of the most popular cricketers in Eng-land, said yesterday to a representative of the Associated press:

There is, of course, a good deal of interest felt in the visit of the Americans and this will undoubtedly increase as their tour lengthens. Their quality as a team will have not been tested in the most effectual way, because they do not intend to play at any representative matches. I shall meet them when playing for my own country at Brighton, June 17 and 19. If I am engaged in any county match at the time they play Marylebone at Lords, I shall meet them again, playing there for the home team. At Bristol they will meet Dr. Grace. So far as the Oxford and Cambridge teams are concerned, the Philadelphia players may not find them very strong opponents, but unless the Americans are a theroughly capable team they will have very little chance against some of the county teams.

ENTRIES FOR NEXT WEEK'S RACES. Indications Favorable for an Interesting Meeting.

The June race meeting under the auspice of the Omaha Fair and Speed association will open next Tuesday and continue for four days. A number of special attractions have been provided for, and the purses for the racing events are very liberal. The entries for the races show what may be expected in that line, including as they do many of the best horses on the circuits The list to date is as follows:

Sunday Ball at Washington.

The old guard was present at University park yesterday afternoon to witness a game of ball between the University team of this saity and the Drakes of Des Moines. It was the third of the less, but was not specially good on that ount. There were few good plays, as he only interest attached to the contest was the ludicrous errors made. These were largely on the side of the Drakes, but there were some chargeable to the locals. At the close of the ninth linning, when many thought the locals had the game by one score, some one said it was a tie, and the players, actuated doubtless by a desire to give the old guard something for the morey spent in going out to the park, quietly proceeded to rub in another inning. When that had been finished the Universities were conceded the victors, and simebody said the scors was 17 to 15. The spectators gave a sigh of relief and pulled ther selves away from the boards upon which they had been painfully sitting for what seemed a week.

DISCUSSION OF WHIST LEADS.

Food for Thought About Long Suits and Trumps.

The approach of summer does not lessen the enthusiasm of the members of the Omaha Whist club. Twice a week the rooms are comfortably filled and every effort made to squeeze out the button winning scores. Returning to the discussion of last week n the proper lead from a hand in which the only long suit is headed with a nine

Returning to the discussion of last week on the proper lead from a hand in which the only long suit is headed with a nine, the writer finds in looking over the whist column of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat an exactly smilar discussion, based on a hand actually played at the Office Men's club of St. Louis. The hand was as follows: Spades, jack, seven; hearts, ten, nine, seven, four; clubs, jack, five, three; diamonds, ace, jack, seven. The king of clubs was turned up on the right. The player led the four of hearts and was severely criticised by his partar, who claimed that he should have led his best spade. A decision was requested as to the proper lead from the hand. The coincidence was carried out in the reply, viz.; "The lead of the four of hearts was conventionally correct, but many good players would have opened with the ten of that suit, the top of nothing, as given by Work of the Hamilton club of Philadelphia." The answer further reads: "The suggestion that the jack of spades should have been led is entirely erroneous, as that might have been taken by the Duriner as a call for trumps, and the hand above did not warrant such a cill."

There is another condition in whist that has provoked much discussion, i. e., leading trumps from five. Pole originally claimed that with five trumps it is always right to lead them." Cavendish discusses the matter at length, and, while not making it an absolute rule, still thinks that no harm can came of it. Work is very Indefinite on the subject and Hamilton thinks that he halance of the hand must warrant such a lead it would seem that Cavendish has the best of the argument, for he alone treats the partner's hand and says if partner has a long suit a lead of trump will help him if neither hand has strength a lead of trump were led it resulted in a loss of from two to four tricks. On Saturday night they were two hands choords I and 23) in which there was a great similarity in the hands held by north. In board 1 north holds five trumps (hearts), sx diamonds, one small club and

Eight of diamonds turned, west to lead.

Of course it is readily seen that the success of the trump lead was due to the great strength in south's hand. Therefore it cannot be said that these hands throw any light on the question, "When shall trumps be led from five?"

I would, therefore, submit a suggestion, viz.: That with five trumps an original lead should be trumps, and later the same, provided developments do not prevent it. In laying out the strategy of a hand before a card is led, it would be much easier if the locations of the trumps were known. If one's partner is shown to be strong in trumps one can play a much bolder game; the subject of finesse, the lead of high from king, queen and two others, and a number of plays will depend on the position of the trump strength. Therefore lead from five and show your partner. If the partner proves weak the trump need not be continued. There is an old saying in whist, as true now as of old, viz.: "Two leads of trump never hurt the leader." By delaying the lead until the hands are developed, not only may your partner's long suit be trumped, but a "double ruft" may be established against you.

On Wedneyday night the club rooms were fuled and all the noted whist players of the city, including Morrison, Griswod, Beindorff, Comstock and others, were present, also Messrs, McNutt and Howlett from Kanses City. The first nine colleges having the highest scores in the annual meet shall select rep-resentatives on the executive committee for that year. The meeting voted to add an evert to the meet brogram in the shape of a bicycle race, making a total of fifteen events. The executive committee was em-powered to have the track surveyed to ver-ffy measurements.

Australians Show Up Well. CHICAGO, June 6.-The kangaroo players from Australia gave the Illinois lycling club base ball team the scare of its Cycling club base ball team the scare of its life in the game this afternoon. The wheelmen won out by a sore of 13 to 8, only after the hardest kind of ball playing and with the assistance of a couple of bad throws on the part of the visitors. The Australians astonished the natives with the batting and in spots their fielding was equal to anything seen on an amateur field. They played in a manner that showed that the rudiments of the game were well grounded and that they were reaching out for the fine points. Second Baseman Ingleton of the Australian nine carried off the honors, accepting nine hard chances without an error.

Wheelman's Fast Run. A. J. Cochran, a Lincoln wheelman, made a most successful trip on his machine yes-terday from the capitol to this city. He terday from the capitol to this city. He left Lincoln at 5 a. m. and arrived in Omaha at 9:50, thus making the run in four hours and fifty minutes, or an average of thirteen miles per hour. His cyclometer registered sixty-one miles to the good. The trip was without incident with the exception of a header which the intrapid young wheelman took in a sand bank at Milford. Cochran left for his home yesterday afternoon.

Pilisbury Plays Blindfold Chess. BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 6.-A remark-able exhibition of simultaneous blindfold chess playing was given Saturday evening at the Brooklyn Ches club by Harry N. Pilisbury, the American chess champion. Eight members of the club started games in one room, while Mr. Pilisbury played from memory in an adjoining room. The games were well conducted on both sides. Mr. Pilisbury frequency startling his opponents by his combination. He announced a forced mate in four moves in one game and another in two moves. After four hours' playing the some showed that Mr. Pilisbury had won my games, lost none, two games being drawn.

HOPEFUL FEATURES DEVELOP

Wall Street Just Now Exhibits Many Favorable Symptoms.

FORERUNNERS OF PROSPEROUS TIMES

Without Special Stimulus or Speculative Effort There Has Been a Marked Revival of Buying Operations.

of the banking house of Henry Clews & Co.,

of the banking house of Henry Clews & Co., says:

The general symptoms developed in Wall errect during the past week have been the most hopeful features witnessed for many months past. Without any special stimulus or speculative effort, there has been a marked revival of buying operations and, with few exceptions, an advance in prices throughout the exchange list. There has been an extensive settlement of "short" accounts, without any attempt at compulsion from the "buil" side; and although that has been one cause, of the advance in quotations, yet the rise has been equally due to an increase of outside buying and a general gain of bueyancy of tone.

It is not difficult to trace the causes of this recovery. It comes from a favorable drift in a variety of conditions which lie at the root of the value of securities, Among these influences may be mentioned a generally satisfactory progress in the crop prospects. Although the weather has been cold and ungenial for the last ten days, with the effect of arresting the biade growth of the cereal crops, yet the check has been unattended with any injury and has laid the foundation for a better laier development of the plant and probably also an increase of the yield.

Also, it is a notable symptom that several persons of eminence and directly in touch with the farming interests and the larger industries have simultaneously expressed their views on the business outlook in unexpectedly hopeful terms. Mr. Thomson, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, Mr. Gould of the Missouri Pacific, Mr. Chauncey M. Depew and Mr. C. P. Huntington, who are among the foremost representatives of the railroad interests in different sections of the country, have uniformly expressed sanguine expectations as to the general outcome of the harvest and the prospects of business at large. Similar estimates of the drift of the crops and of business have been made by Mr. Andrew Carnegie, Hon. Roswell P. Flower and Mr. Hill, president of the Great Northern. Such a body of opinion, coming from men pos eresis, Simultaneously with these indications the Simultaneously with these indications the administration has given utterance to encouraging assurances. At the instance of President McKinley, the secretary of the treasury has given definite promises that, so soon as the tariff legislation is completed, there will be no neglect of the sound money piedges made to the country by the republican party. Either with or without the representatives of the Indianapolis money convention, or with or without the aid of a commission, the administration virtually repledges itself that by next December the attention of congress shall be occupied with definite measures for removing the unsound elements of our paper money and placing our finances upon a permanent solid gold basis. The president's utterances at Philadelphia were conspicuous for the evidence they ufford of a purson of the distinction of the constant o a permanent solid gold basis. The president's utterances at Philadelphia were conspicuous for the evidence they afford of a purpose to distinguish his term of office as a thoroughly business administration, and of his resolve to keep the promises of conservative government contained in the platform of his party. So much has been said and written tending to cast doubt upon the president's steadfastness in these matters that some such assurance may seem to have been needed; in any event, their effect has been most wholesome, an immediate advance in the prices of stocks having followed, and the increased application for discounts at the banks showing that the mercantile community felt encouraged to extend their operations.

Little open interest is taken in the Cuban question, mainly because there are no new incidents forthcoming. The Calhoun investigation, however, hangs over the market as a possible source of danger, and no vestigation, however, hangs over the market as a possible source of danger, and no doubt acts as a minor influence in checking the improving drift of affairs. The caution of the president against fostering any causes of disturbance to business encourages the hope that no serious changes in our relations with Spain may happen at present. Some interest is felt in the question as to whether the change of cabinet at Madrid may involve a change of attitude toward the United States. These are regarded as sensitive factors, but they excite no alarm nor scarcely uneasiness, but merely a prudent reserve. London has shown more interest in our securities. During the week it has bought about 40,000 shares of this market, apparently as a counterpart of sales of Kaffirs. The purchases seem to have been connected with the assurances relating to connected with the assurances relating to connected with the assurances relating to connected.

The purchases seem to have been connected with the assurances relating to currency reform given out by the administration through Secretary Gage's speech at Cincinnati. That, indeed, is the point upon which the confidence of English investors in American obligations at present principally hinges. With them, it is not merely a question of getting a sound currency system in place of an unsound one; it has also the political significance of being a test of our ability to control the settlement of a large and complex financial problem in a wise and wholesome sense, about which they seem to have entertained some serious doubts. They now have the highest official assurances that there is to be no evasion of this important question, and we may expect further benefit from this fact than has yet appeared.

BULL TALKERS HOLD THE BOARDS.

Advance in Prices Being Boomed by Enthusiastic Shouters.

NEW YORK, June 6,—The course of the general market is likely to be subjected to ome severe tests within the next few days. We have had a straightaway rise throughout the whole list during the last fortnight and some substantial gains have been cored. But the granger stocks are at higher figures than they have recently touched, and most of the rest of the list is up only a little less than the grangers. In the industrials, Sugar trust has this In the industrials, Sugar trust has this week risen a couple of points, though information from Washington is not so favorable to the company as earlier tariff forecasts promised. Other industrials, like Lead trust, Whisky trust and Leather trust, are being builed by people who talk tariff advantages about to be gained; but such gains are more remotely in prospect than are the gains claimed for the Sugar trust.

Camparatively little gold is being shipped abroad, though early in the week there were comparatively little gold is being shipped abroad, though early in the week there were indications that the export movement might develop into proportions of consequence. Eurane has been buying some American stocks this week, not largely, but with ap-parent confidence that better prices are ahead.

parent conneence that better prices are ahead.

Commission houses are beginning to do some business. Chicago continues bearish for the most part, though one or two trades here with Chicago principals have been conspicuous in the trading which has advanced Burington & St. Paul. The biggest traders in the street identified with the current buoyancy when it started are now unless good signs fall, casting anchors to the windward. One operator who has been especially prominent in the manipulation which has put up the grangers is credited in high circles today with having taken profits on most of the stocks, which he bought half a dozen points lower than the average at present.

The rank and file of Wall street—the talkers—are enthusiastically bullish. They are predicting an old-fashioned boom. They dears that good times are spreading all over the country, and that the stock market is merely discounting betterment which will appear in every business quarter speedily.

1,000
Gentlemen who provide these assurances are for the most part, however, gentlemen long of stocks anxious to see better prices.

Their facts evolve more from their hopes than from any actual observation.

If this enthusiasm continues throughout the coming week, and is supported by further immediate advances in the market, there is little doubt that the way will be open to a greatly improved security market, both as to breadth and strength. But this coming week is likely to provide crucial tests. A new Cuban smarl could play smash with a good many slock market so suddenly transformed in its superficial aspects ought to be watchful. It is not a market to go to sleep in. H. ALLAWAY.

CONDITION OF NEW YORK BANKS Increase of Loans Indicates a Large Expansion in Business.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Financier says The statement of the associated banks of lew York City for the week ended June s in many ways one of the most remarkabl issued. In indicates an expansion in business, the loans having increased $4,409,000. A closer analysis of the statement, however, reveals some very curious results, due almost entirely to the consolidation of the large New York banks. Thus for the week ended May 29 the total loans of the sixty-five clearing house institutions, inclusive of the Third and National City banks, were $174,455,400. For the week ended June 5 the loans of the same sixty-five banks were $174,655,900, an increase of only $259,500. The great increase of over $4,000,000 in the current statement, therefore, is to be found in the operation of two banks, and apparently is capable of easy solution. For the week ended May 29 the loans of the National City and the Third National banks combined were $33,084,300. For the week ended June 5 they were $73,222,809, an increase of $4,148,500. The deposits also show a similar result when analyzed closely, the variations of the total expansion of $5,655,100 reported by the sixty-seven clearing house banks. The deposits of the National City alone are $48,446,000. Although the statement stripped of its ambiguous features seems to show technical sued. In indicates an expansion in busithough the statement stripped of its ambig-uous features seems to show technical changes rather than a real business expan-sion, it must be said that the banks are doing a largely increased business.

London Money Market. LONDON, June 6.—The principal feature on the Stock exchange last week was the increased activity in American railway securities, started by German buying after realization. The market is much stronger than before and this seems to have infused life into the general market, Grand Trunks being especially favored as the result of the excellent April statement. South African shares are more quiet, but ther is no noteworthy fall. A good deal of attention is given to West Australians, where developments are promising. A decidedly holiday feeling pervades the city and the Stock exchange is closed until Tuesday, when the settlement in mining shares will be begun, to be followed on Wednesday by the general list. There is always some difficulty in carrying balances over holidays, as the ½ per cent rate for the Week really averages from ½ to %. Last week discounts and money rates fluctuated from day to day. The very large applications for the new Japanese bonds caused some fear, but the loaning by the India council since has made the market somewhat casier. ncreased activity in American railway seeasler.

Cattle Higher Than a Week Ago_ Hogs Slow and Lower.
CHICAGO, June 5.—The week closed on a drong market for beef cattle, prices averaging rom life to 15s averaging rom life to 15s averaging from 10c to 15c per 100 lbs. higher than a week ago. Only 43,450 cattle bave been received, against 47,934 last week and 47.428 the correspondagainst 47,934 last week and 47,428 the corresponding week last year, and as there was a fairly active demand from exporters, eastern shippora and the dressed beef trade, the offerings were easily disposed of. Bulls have been very duli and prices are off in some instances as much as 25c, heavy bulls suffering the most. Calves are selling at high prices, owing to a good demand. Steers today ranged from $4.00 to $4.30, and Texans at from $2.50 to $4.40, and Texans at from $2.50 to $4.70. .70. With an estimated run today of 18,000 hogs.

With an estimated run today of 18,000 hogs, trade was slow and prices were on an average of 2½c per 100 lbs. lower than yesterday, the build selling at from $3.47½ to $3.55, or about the same as a week sgo. Heavy picking lots brought from $2.25 to $3.43, and prime hogs sold at $2.50. The provision market has ruled decidedly lower this week under an extensive liquidation of speculative and weak holdings, and this helped to keep hogs from advancing, despite the decrease in the receipts.

There was the usual light Saturday supply of sheep, and they were lorgely consigned to local slaughterers. Sheep are selling at from $2.50 to $4 for the powers to from $4.55 to $5 to the best, chiefly at from $2.50 to $4. Spring lambs are active at from $4.75 to $5.0 $5 per 100 lbs.
