

FULLERTONS AND THE BONDS

Nice Mass Grows Out of Failure of the Merchants Bank.

FATHER AND SON'S SIGNATURES MIXED

Effort to Hold Them on the Depository Bond Will Result in Trouble for Treasurer Messervie on His Guaranty.

LINCOLN, July 1.—(Special)—The completion of the Fullertons with the bonds of State Treasurer Messervie and the Merchants bank is bringing forth some sensational developments. As previously reported the three Fullertons were hard workers in securing a bond for Mr. Messervie and one of the first signers of that document was J. W. Fullerton, who was president of the Merchants bank, father of W. and J. C. Fullerton, who was president of the Merchants bank, and when that institution gave bond for the state money it had on deposit one of the signatories was that of "William Fullerton" and the qualification was for $50,000. When the bank failed and there was talk of a suit against the bondsmen to recover the money William Fullerton, president of the bank, denied the signature on the bond, saying that he had been asked to sign but had refused to do so. However, when suit was brought against the bondsmen on the Fullerton name as well as the name of the bank, it was learned that J. W. Fullerton will claim to be the "William Fullerton" who signed the bond, and that he sometimes signs his name that way and sometimes "J. W. Fullerton" as on the treasurer's bond. He says that he signed the bond given by the bank, but that he did not sign on it. When he signed the qualification statement it was in blank, the amount not being filled in. He says that the notary afterward completed the document by inserting the amount—$50,000—and signed it over to the state without giving him further. He thinks that in view of these circumstances and of the fact that the signature in the suit has been secured on the bond of the Fullertons cannot be held on the bond. The signature on the two bonds in question have been compared, and it is quite evident that J. W. Fullerton's signature is correct and that he could sign both bonds, using the style of his father's signature on the bond given by the bank.

ONE MORE HEAVY FALL OF RAIN. Small Grain and Vegetables Can Now Only Be Damaged by Hail.

MALMO, Neb., July 1.—(Special)—Another heavy rain fell yesterday. Showers have been frequent and the crops are in excellent condition, but this last rain has done much good.

WARM WORDS FROM WATSON

Late Vice Presidential Candidates Fires Another Hot Broadside.

BOMBARDS FUSIONISTS WITH RHETORIC

Bryan's Payment the First Installment of the Purchase Price—Critiques His Late Running Mate.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 1.—Thomas E. Watson, in a signed editorial in today's issue of the people's party paper, charges that the fusionists have entered into a compact to deliver the popular vote to the democrats in 1900, and that the $1,500 recently contributed to the populist fund by Mr. Bryan out of the proceeds of his book sale is the first installment of the purchase money. His editorial concludes as follows: "Why have the fusionists taken Bryan's money if they are not under obligation to deliver him the popular vote in 1900?"

"We could wish that Mr. Bryan had kept his money in his pocket. He has made a mistake—just as he made a mistake when he joyously rushed a telegram of congratulation to McKinley. How such a devoted champion of the people could find it in his heart to support an election of the representatives of the aristocracy and corporations we have not yet been able to comprehend. "But having thrown out these few remarks we regret to say that we have the fusionists' paper taken Bryan's money if they are not under obligation to deliver him the popular vote in 1900."

The big steam shovel and grading outfit arrived yesterday and it is expected that work on the Armour parking house site will commence in earnest today. All day yesterday workmen were engaged in laying a temporary track for the grading apparatus and it was thought that enough track would be laid before night to allow work to be commenced on Monday. The site is now being cleared and the building will be commenced in earnest today. The big steam shovel and grading outfit will be removed rapidly, it being the intention to push the construction as much as possible.

Officials of the stock yards company are seriously considering the building of a wing on the exchange building. The exchange is now crowded and more room is badly needed. The plan called for is to build a wing at the west end to correspond with the east wing. The space between the two wings is being retained the east end of the building would be well lighted, have a marble floor, a huge fire place and a fountain. No decision has been reached by the directors of the stock yards company as to whether the wing will be built or not. The improvement will be made.

Plans for the Fourth. The details for the celebration July 5 are about all arranged, although some of the committees have a few minor matters to look after yet. Besides celebrating the independence of this country the day will also mark the birth of the city and the organization perfected. Many of the early residents of both counties have identified their intention of being present and assisting in the organization of the day. It is proposed to publish a history of the two counties as soon as it can conveniently be arranged after the organization, and each of the birth of the city and the organization perfected. Many of the early residents of both counties have identified their intention of being present and assisting in the organization of the day.

According to the arrangements now the parade will start at 11 o'clock and march promptly half an hour later. First will come a platoon of police under Chief Brennan, followed by the band of the First National Bank, the United States mail carriers and the city officials in carriages with the officers of the day. The second division will be the band of the city and the band of the city officials in carriages with the officers of the day. The parade will start at 11 o'clock and march promptly half an hour later.

There is also a deal of talk to extend the Q street line to Sapp's Mill. Joe Maltland, the owner of the park there, has offered the street car people a bonus to extend the line and the matter is being considered. The principal obstacle is the heavy grade on Q street. A petition is now being circulated among property owners over there asking the council to change the grade, and if this is done there will be some hope of the line being extended out that way.

Wilhelm Arrested for Shooting. Wilhelmsen, in the hide cellar of the Hammond Packing company, was arrested last evening for shooting at Mrs. E. Blake, who resides in the Mack block, at Twenty-fourth and M streets. Up till three months ago Wilhelm and his family lived in the Mack block, but they moved to Twenty-fourth and M streets, where they now live. Wilhelm says Mrs. Blake has been trying to break up his family by circulating false reports which led to his attempt to shoot her. Mrs. Blake, who is a widow, says she had retired, when she was aroused by some rapping on the window. She got up and discovered that it was Wilhelm. She was demanded of her what she had been telling about him and then shot at her, the bullet just missing her and lodging in a window above. She says that after firing the shot she was pulled down the stairs by a friend who was with him.

After tracing the street Wilhelm fired another shot and then ran up the street. He was captured at Twenty-fourth and N streets by Officer Sheehan.

Wilhelm has lived here for eleven years and has always borne a good reputation.

Finley Buys Some Property. John P. Finley yesterday purchased the property at the southeast corner of Twenty-fifth and N streets for $10,500. The purchase takes in the World's Fair saloon, Goldstein's clothing store, and the Leaver dry goods house. Mr. Finley has not decided yet whether he will tear down the buildings now standing on the lot at once or wait awhile. It is his intention, however, to erect a substantial business block on that corner.

Will Open Bids Tonight. A special meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening to open bids on the addition to be built at Hawthorn school. It is the intention to let the contract providing the bids are found to be low enough.

FRIDAY WILL BE STAR REMNANT DAY

The Stars will soon disappear.

Every short length in our store will be thrown on the counters marked in plain figures—The store will open at eight in the morning and will close promptly at six—Ten hours of importance to every buyer of dry goods. We have tried to arrange the goods with a view to making selling very simple. For instance—

Every yard of Dress Goods—colored and black—will be sold at exactly one-half the original price. It may increase your temperature to even think of woolen goods when Fahrenheit is trying to bust the bulb—colder days, however, will come—but after Friday the Star Remnant Sale will have gone forever.

At Silk Counter—More simple selling—All short lengths, whether 50c, 75c, $1.00 or $2.50, one round price—35 cents per yard. This lot includes Chinas—Japs—Fannies—Taffetas, etc.—some not one fourth the regular prices.

Ribbons—Laces and Embroideries—Everything in remnants regardless of quality just exactly half the original price.

Wash Goods—Seems foolish to do any further price cutting in the face of such selling as has never been known before in Omaha—Stars are smashed to pieces in this department. Simplicity itself in selling—three prices on Remnants of Wash Goods—5 cents for some—7 cents for others and 9 cents for the the topknot of quality.

At 5 cents you can buy Remnants of whatever sold as high as 12 1/2 cents. At 7 cents you will find goods that were 15 cents. At 9 cents—delighted indeed will be the buyer who will get a length to suit—for this price will include goods that sold at 25 cents and 35 cents per yard.

At Linen Counter—Every remnant of Crash—of Damask, etc.—at just one-half the original prices. Ladies long ago discovered that the linen business rightfully belongs to us—quality always the highest, prices always the lowest.

Sheeting Remnants—8-4—9-4—10-4—brown or bleached—one price for all widths—12 1/2 cents per yard.

---Watch the Papers on Friday Night--- Startling news about Saturday's doings—at 10 o'clock on the night of July 3d the Stars will disappear—we promise you Striking Star Surprises Saturday—Again we say Watch the Papers Friday Night.

city will detail a policeman for duty there on that day. The detail has never been made, consequently residents are not allowed the privileges of the park on that or any other day.

Ask Street Car Extensions. A meeting of property owners living in the vicinity of Twentieth street and Missouri avenue will be held some evening this week to appoint a committee to see what can be done about extending the Thirteenth street car line to Missouri avenue. Several of the heavy property owners in that locality have talked with officials of the Omaha Street Railway company and will try to get the matter and the matter is being considered. At the last conference between the interested parties President Murphy stated that the line would be extended as soon as the company secured some old rails. Now that the line on Sixteenth street is being retained the street car company it would be a good time to call Mr. Murphy's attention to his promise. The line on Thirteenth street has been extended to Douglas street and the matter is being considered. With an Omaha outlet so far east the pressure on the Twenty-fourth street line will be relieved considerably and will give an easy and quick means of reaching Riverside park. The people living east of Twenty-fourth street are greatly interested in the proposed extension and will do all they can to induce the street railway officials to build it.

There is also a deal of talk to extend the Q street line to Sapp's Mill.
