EASY CURE IN SUMMER.

Statistics of the Shepard Institute Show That Whatever the Nature of the Affliction or Allment, the Speediest Cures Are Realized by Those Patients Who Begin Treatment During the Months of Balm and Sunshine—It Is Then That Nature Herself Nurses the Sick and Helps the Physician in His Work.

In other words, during the summer season, when the air is full of natural medicine, full of healing balsams for the lungs and full of strengthening cordials for the stomach, and full of vitality and magnetism in the blood, the cure of disease and the relief of suffering is made easy and quick.

Statistics of the Shepard Medical Institute, which has been in operation for over thirty years, show that the average period occupied in a cure is less in summer than in winter.
