Mrs. G. W. White is lying at the point of death at her home on Harmony street. She was taken suddenly ill on Thursday and has grown rapidly worse since. Last evening her friends were informed that there was little or no hope for her recovery.

George Rudio returned yesterday from Chi-cago and Detroit. During his trip he was brought into contact of many capitalists who have heard of the great strike that some his Omaha friends had made in the Black Hills, and he sold 100,000 shares of the stock of the new mining company that has just been organized.

The fine monument crected in Fairview cemetery in memory of Joseph Parady was dedicated and unveiled by the Woodmen of the World yesterday afternoon. The monu-ment was erected by the order, and is one of the handsomest that has been placed in the cemetery during the season. The members of the Grand Army and Union Veteran Legion assisted in the ceremonies.

A young farmer named Smith, who persisted in declaring that he was Sam Jones, the revivalist, when he confronted Night Captain Maltby at the Central station, spent portion of the Sunday in the city jail. He was charged with intoxication and malicious mischief. At 1 o'clock resterday morning he went along Broadway tearing down all of the signs he could reach and carrying them off. An officer found him as he was lugging off a sign from Davis' drug store and took his into custody.

The Missouri Valley Medical society will neet here in regular session next Thursday. The meeting will last several days, and it is expected that a much larger attendance than ever will be called out. The society has grown wonderfully in the last year and at the present time numbers among its members nearly all of the physicians along the river between Sloux City and St. Joseph. The program shows that a number of interesting papers will be read by prominent doctors of Omaha, Kansas City and elsewhere.

FRANCHISE COMES UP AGAIN City Council Will Have Another Try at Motor Charters. COMPANY DOES NOT LIKE THI COMPROMISE

Representatives of the Most Interested Party Insist that the Provisions Will Not Be Accepted Without Change,

At the meeting of the council this evening the compromise franchise extension of the motor company will be taken up. Whether it will pass as fixed up at the secret meeting of the council in committee of the whole is

Two sections are very distasteful to the motor company, and the assurance has been semi-officially given that the company will refuse to accept the ordinance if these objectionable requirements are not eliminated. One is the requirement for the company to run one-half of its double Omaha trains around the Pierce street loop regardless of the loss or profit to the company. The other is the provision for a thirty-ride commutation ticket at a cost of $1.59, good for thirty days from date. All other portions of the charter as agreed upon are acceptable. The clause in the charter submitted by the com-pany provided for the running of two Omaha trains around the loop each day until March 1, 1898, and during that year every other train each day. After 1898 the clause pro vides that the company may be relieved from this expense provided it does not pay the cost and provided also that the company can convince the council of the fact. In the itizens' ordinance this section is the same with the exception that there is no oppor tunity given for a second appeal to the coun-cll if the operation of the big trains around the loop proves to be costly. The commutation ticket is even a more serious affair. At the present time the com-pany is issuing a ticket good for fifty rides during the calendar month and irredeemable, for $3.50. In the ordinance submitted the company offered to substitute a ticket for the same number of rides, good for thirty days from date, for $2.50. The citizens' or-dinance asked for a twenty ride ticket for $1 and unlimited within the year. When the effort was being made to harmonize the two ordinances by compromising the differences the motor company agreed to make it forty rides for $2, but this was relected and the thirty-ride ticket clause substituted. Repre-sentatives of the company declare that the ordinance cannot be accepted with these con-ditions in force, and say that rather than accept the extension with these clauses in it the company will prefer to let things take their course. If the company continues to operate under the old charter there will be o possibility of a reduction of fares for the next fifteen years, unless the company voluntarily chooses to make some changer n the tariff. In the discussion of the matter tonight another element will be introduced that may cause more trouble. The gardeners and hucksters will petition the council for a re-duction in the price they have been paying for bridge tolls, and will ask for a com mutation ticket that will confer upon them benefits equal to those received by the people who ride in the cars. The present tolls are 20 cents for a two-horse team with load and driver. They will ask for a reduction equal to that enjoyed by holders of commutation tickets.

SEEK A CURE FOR HOG CHOLERA. Government's Experiments in Page County Not Very Successful, COIN, Ia., Sept. 12,-(Special)-The United States government has had three experts at work in Page county, Jowa, all summer trying to stamp out the hog cholera in that county, and if they succeed the good work will be extended throughout the state and F. W. HODGE'S INTERESTING DISCOVERY It looks now as though the experiment in Page county would not result in any per-manent good. All summer the cholers or swine plague have been on the increase, the experts acknowledging that over 64,000 head have died in the county since January 1, 1897. But much good has been done and more could be done along the same line if the Ag-recultural department had more money at its dispotal for the purpose of defraying the ex-penses of these practical investigations. When Secretary Wilson determined to make these experiments he selected two states. Tennessee and Iowa, for the work. The states were requested to co-operate with the department and the general assembly of Iowa, in accordance with the suggestions of Secre-

In case of failure on the part of the inspector and the owner to agree as to the amount of compensation the swine shall be appraised by a board of clifzens of this state, one of whom may be appointed by the inspector, one by the owner of the swine, and the two thus appointed shall select a third, and these together shall proceed to appraise the amount to be paid to the owner for the animals destroyed. The investigations have been conducted by Dr. James McBirney, assisted by two expert inspectors. They do not claim to be able to cure a genuine case of hog cholera, but their work is along the line of sanitalion, inoculation, etc. When a herd is con-lemned the farmer receives 114 cents per ound for his hogs. The sick ones are slaughtered and the carcasses burned. The hogs not sick, but which have been exposed, are inoculated with an anti-toxine serum. This serum in order to be effective must be fresh and the amount injected must be graded to the size and age of the hog. Whether the process can be simplified so that an ordinary farmer can use the treatment remains to be seen. Good results have come from the inoculation, the disease having been stopped in several herds where inoculation was resorted to and followed by proper sanitary measures. Well hogs are also fed, at the expense of the government. the following preventative: Wood charcoal, 1 pound; sulphur, 1 pound; sodium chloride, Proofs that Indians Have Formarly Lived on the Mesa Escanada.

It was brought into prominence a few months ago by the expedition of Prof. William Libbey of Princeton university, who took rope-throwing mortars, huge kites, balloons and tons of apparatus to scale this hitherto inaccessible tableland. The purpose of the investigation has been to determine whether the summit of the mesa was at one time inhabited by the prehistoric Acoma Indians. Prof. Libbey reported no evidences of early occupancy. Mr. Hodge's on evidences of early occupancy. Mr. Hodge's on Shahulhel fort the commander found explorations have brought different results, | that position secure, but his rear guard was however, for after scaling the mesa he spent some time on the summit, found a number fragments of pottery, arrows, shell, bracelets, stone axes, etc., establishing con-clusively that the top of the mesa was at one time inhabited. Mr. Hedge was sent by the Bureau of country. Ethnology to examine a series of ruins in western New Mexico and to attend the snake dance of the Moki Indians. This done, he was directed to proceed to the Mesa Escanada and to scale its precipitous walls in any way he saw fit. He procured an extension ladder, comprising six sections of six feet each, together with an ample supply of rope, and proceeded to the mesa on September 3, accompanied by Major George H. Pradt, deputy United States surveyor at Laguna, N. M., who is familiar with that section; Mr. A. Vroman of Pasadena, Cal., who acted as photographer of the expedi-tion; Mr. H. C. Hoyt of Chicago and two Laguna Indians.

The mesa was determined to be 431 feet from the western plain to the top of the highest pinnacle above the cleft and the talus at the base of the cleft 224 feet above the plain. The climb was without any the plain.

serious difficulty, until the parpty reached a great sandstone. The ladders were hauled section by section to this point by means of the ropes, then fitted together and raised against the cliff. Mr. Hodge ascended to the top and climbing over the slope immediately above succeeded in lashing the top of the ladder to a huge bowlder that had fallen from above and lodged on the terrace some was then ascended by the remainder of the party and then the top was easily reached. The ascent consumed exactly two hours and a quarter.

The explorers had not been on the summit of the mesa five minutes before Major Pradu picked up a fragment of ancient pottery, which indicated clearly that the mesa had been visited, at any rate, in former times and that Prof. Libbey was mistaken in his conclusions. During the afternoon and the next day Mr. Hodge examined the ground critically, while Major Pradt made a survey of the mesa and Mr. Vroman secured a number of photographs. Several potsherds, two stone axes (broken), a fragment of a shell bracelet and a stone arrow point were the chief evidences of former occupancy found on the narow stormswept crest; but abundanpotsherds, etc., were found in the talus swept down from the summit. All vestiges of the ancient trail ascending the talus and tinuing thence to the summit by hand and foot holes in the solid rock have been ob-literated; but some traces of the holes remain. This verification of an Indian tradi-tion notable for inherent evidence of ac-curacy is peculiarly gratifying to students of anthropology. Prof. Libbey's ladder was discovered still lashed in place above the crevasse.

Mr. Hodge's researches will arouse great interest among American ethnologists and archaeologists, inasmuch as they are said to versy about divisions between the Union Pacific and the Oregon Short Line companies, which caused the opening of the Ogden Gateway and the establishment of through rates and trains connecting the Colorado lincs, has sulminated in the cancellation of all through reight and passenger tariffs on business to and from Portland and points on the Oregon Railway & Navigation company line and the discontinuance of train service by Granger and the Union Pacific. The cancellation takes effect September 21. It is claimed by shippers that this action will make little change in the handling of the freight busi-ness because the Union Pacific for several months past has discriminated against the Oregon lines by turning over its Portland usiness to the Southern Pacific at Ogden for transportation by Sacramento. The through passenger service via the Union Pacific is more important and its discontinu-ance will naturally divert the business of the Oregon Rallway & Navigation company to the through lines via Spokane and Ogden.

Sanctification Can Only Be Attained Through Prototype of Gethsemane. Rev. Dr. Senseney of Broadway church vesterday gave the last of the series of sermons on the human relationship to God. His subject was "Suffering and Glorification with Christ." His text was Collassians i "Who now rejoice in my suffering fo you and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church." He associated with this a portion of scripture from Phillipians iii 10: "That I may know Him and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings, being made con-formable unto His death." "All the great things of the world have been wrought through suffering," said the preacher. "Chastisement lies at the foot of all learning. It is an old adage that there is no excellence without great labor. We find that the greatest obstacles we have to overcome in life are found within ourselves Some lives are possessed with a purpose and others are possessed with and of a purpose. We will never accomplish anything worthy of notice till we have a purpose in life, and are mastered, are controlled by it. To be mastered by a purpose is to be enslaved by However, it may be a willing and joyful R. However, out of distress and anguish servitude. Out of distress and anguish comes the sweetest joy. God has always bound joy and suffering together in this world and the one who gets the most joy world and the one who suffers most. out of life is the one who suffers most. "It is a painful thing to be saved, es pecially if it is an adult sinner. It is bard for him to give up his old ways and habits, but suffering is the Christian's Gethsemane. By wading through this darkness and suffer-ing you come into relationship with Jesus. When Jesus assumed the responsibility of suffering for humanity he assumed a great responsibility. The Christian life enters into this responsibility. The pastor is re-sponsible for the spiritual welfare of his congregation, the parent for the children and the Sunday school teacher for his class. Anguish of the heart gives power. The minister must have the welfare and interest of his congregation on his heart or his preaching is fruitless. Christian, don't ask to be excused, when these graver trusts are pushe upon you.'

R. S. McCormack spent Sunday in the corridors of the city jail, having been arrested in an advanced stage of intoxicition. Late Saturday afternoon McCormack was before the commissioners for the insare with an information charging his brother, William V. with insanity, clused by excessive drinking.
