The Board of County Commissioners me committee of the whole yesterday to in bands to enable the county to participate in the exposition. Commissioner Ostrom preeided and the resolution was adopted by the committee after fully two hours of discussion. The board will meet in regular session today to adopt the resolution as unanimously recommended by the committee of the

.The preamble of the resolution quotes the petition recently submitted by more than 1,000 voters and the fact that a government and state appropriation of more than $200,000 has been made, as required by the law. It then provides for an issue of 412 per cent twenty-year bonds, "to provide for the expenses of promoting the interests of said county of Douglas by participating in said Interstate Exposition and by making at such exposition a county exhibit, and to improve and beautify the exposition grounds, and for the purpose of erecting or aiding in the erec-tion of a suitable building therefor, and for mainiand g the same duri g such exposit on."

The resolution provides that a copy of the notice shall be published in The Omaha Evening See, the official paper of the county, for four weeks previous to the election. The notice of the bond election, which is also included in the resolution, provides that the bonds shall be dated January 1, 1898, and that the interest shall be payable January 1 and July 1 of each year. The discussion was mainly on the details of the resolution with a view to securing absolute accuracy from a legal standpoint Commissioner Hoctor wanted a clause in serted that would definitely state the man-ner in which the money was to be expended, but it was suggested that this point was sufficiently covered in the law under which the proposition is to be submitted. question whether the bond proposition should be placed on a separate ballot or added to the county ticket was also raised, but was left for future consideration.

IN FROM NASHVILLE EXPOSITION

Southern People Feel an Interest in Nebraska's Big Show.

estry and Irrigation of the Department of Exhibits of the exposition, has returned from the Nashville exposition, where he went to secure a number of conventions to meet next year in Omaha. He stated yesterday that one of the things that struck most forcibly while there was the familiarity of the people of Nashville with the conditions in connection with the Transmississippi Exposition. "They know we are going to have an exposition next year," said Prof. Taylor, "and they know all about it. I had dozens of people to say to me that if their exposition had been as well advertised as the Transmississippi Exposition is being exploited all over the country they would be having a much larger attendance. They say that the Transmississippl Exposition is better known now than theirs who resigned on account of leaving the was at the time the gates were opened.

'Nashville is making great preparations They say they are going to give Nebraskans a sample of southern hospitality on occasion and should judge from all indications I saw that the whole country will be dyed a bright scarlet. Major Thomas, president of the exposition, told me that hey were making extensive preparations have Nebraska day one of the red letter

"One of the principal things which at agricultural part of the Nashville exposition," remarked Prof. Taylor "was the quality of the exhibits made by the various railroads. There were five roads having exhibits of the agricultural and mining prod-ucts along their lines. These were arranged in an attractive way and each road must have expended at least $5,000 in making its The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. having headquarters in Nashville, and I secured an application for 3,000 feet of space for a display to be made by this road. I expect to secure similar applications from the other roads, and if I succeed, Tennessee will be well represented."

HARVEST FOR THE LAWYERS

Wheels of Justice Are Again Revolving After the Summer's Vacation.

OPENING OF SEPTEMBER TERM OF COURT

Civil Docket Shows an Increase in Cases as Compared with Last Term_Not so Much Criminal Business as Formerly.

The September term of the district court was formally opened yesterday and the corridors of the court house were crowded with the usual concourse of attorneys, witnesses and jurors. The wheels of justice commenced to grind very slowly, the entire morning being used up in empaneling the jury and in going through the calls in the various civil court rooms.

Judges Baker, Powell, Slabaugh, Scott and Keysor opened the dockets in their respective court rooms at 10 o'clock. Judge Fawcett is in Burt county and will hold court there until the first part of next month. Judge works, pumps; Washington Manufacturing Dickinson will not open his court until company, clive oil; Alaska Cod Fish couthis morning. In all the court rooms the work was of a preliminary character.

There are 1,473 civil cases to be tried during the term, a considerable increase over the work that confronted the last term of court, when there were 1,353 cases. The criminal court will have fewer cases to look after, the number being 210, against 227 last term. A beginning upon this work will be made by a jury of seventy men, empaneled yesterday. The venire contained 120 names, but fifty of the jurors succeeded in presenting excuses that were succeeded at lafactory to exempt them from look after, the number being 215 considered satisfactory to exempt them from

In the criminal court yesterday the county attorney nolled the case of obtain-ing money under false pretenses against A. Brandhoffer and Albert F. Maine, a case of forgery against L. A. Brandhoffer, a case of grand larceny against Will Thomp-son, a case of assault against Ed O'Conner and a case of larceny from the person against Stella Green. The bond of Ida Mitchell, bound over to the district court on the charge of larceny from the person, was forfeited, as the defendant had fled from the city. The bond was signed by J. F. Lally.

George W. Morgan, the convicted murderer of little Ida Gaskill, is sentenced to meet his doom on Friday, October S, and he has about made up his mind that on that day he must hang. Yet he gives no outward signs of worrying over the matter. He is seemingly unconcerned over the near approach of the day. The case has passed yond the jurisdiction of the district court. Sheriff McDonald will go to Lincoln this week, probably on Wednesday, to see the governor in order to learn whether he is likely to intervene. It is not generally believed that Governor Holcomb will interfere with the execution. Morgan himself has no such hope and his counsel, Attorney Patrick, does not believe that there will be any further delay in the execution. Sheriff McDonald is given to understand that the hanging will not be further postponed he will at once upon his return take steps toward the erection of the scaffold. A good many people visited the court house grounds last week and called to Morgan, asking him, "How he liked it?" Mor-gan responded that he was worrying over his case considerably less than the people on the outside of the jail.

Consequently on January 9 the bond was once more pre sented with three additional signatures. bond was approved and accepted. original petition that was filed in the case now before the court the cause of action was based upon the instrument dated January 3, 1895. In the answer filed to this the defense alleged that the legal bond was the instrument bearing the date of January 9, 1895, and this is practically admitted in state's reply. When the case was called yesterday afternoon the defense at once insisted that the second instrument being the legal bond the suit was based upon it and therefore made a motion that the state should amend its petition to conform to the condition. Attorney General Smythe insisted that the two instruments were the same under the condi-

WETTLING WILL STAY IN KANSAS CITY

City's Main Witness in the Sul Against Bondsmen of Ex-City Treasurer Bolla Outside Jurisdiction of the Court.

The removal of Expert Louis Wettling to Kansas City, which occurred but a few days ago, has put the city in a position where it is without its principal witness in the trial of its suit against the bondsmen of ex-City Treasurer Bolln to recover the amount of his defalcation. As a conse quence of this condition of affairs, City Attorney Connell yesterday afternoon made a motion for a postponement of the trial of the case until next November He represented that the most important witness the city had, Wettling, was out of the city and could not be here until some tim n November. Judge Slabaugh refused to grant any post ponement for that length of time and set the trial for this morning at 9 o'clock. In taking this action the court stated that the city had been given plenty of time and there was no reason why it should not have It is stated that a couple of weeks ago Judge Slabaugh served notice upon the parties in the suit that the case would b the first to be called and that he would insist that it be tried at once. Yet in the face of this notice the city authorities allowed Wettling to leave the city only a few days ago without making any effort to de-tain him. He is now in Kans:s City, and, therefore, can not be brought to this city by any process of law. Another difficulty in the matter is that

City Attorney Council does not know, as a matter of fact, when Wettling will come back or whether he will come at all. When he left Wettling said that he would return to give testimony whenever he was wanted, but it appears now that he is not so willing to do so. As stated be-fore, Wettling left the city a few days ago and he had hardly departed before the auhorities discovered that they wanted him oday in the trial. Therefore City Comp roller Westberg was sent to Krasas City i see if he would come back at once and it not, when he would return. Yesterda City Attorney Connell received a telegram from City Comptroller Westberg, in which he latter said that Wettling would not re urn at once and asked if the case could be entinued until November.

The Bolln bondsmen insisted that the ase go to trial at once. They have the experts who went through Rolln's books in their interest here and they insist that the city could have been ready for trial i really wished to be. City Attorney Connel ladmits that the only expert testimony the city has regarding the condition of Bolin's books is Wettling's.
