Many of the members were in favor of making it seventy-five or even 100 feet in diameter and correspondingly higher, with the object of selling space to private exhibitors. The idea was suggested by Mr. Wollman, who said he would give $100 for en feet square on the ground floor. Many other less definite proposals for space came from others present, and it became evident that the association could dispose of enough space to almost defray the cost of the ground and building. Another suggestion was made that met with considerable favor, and that was to erect the building so that it could be easily taken down, and it was thought that it could be sold to the park commissioners and moved into Fairmount park. Its sides covered with galvanized iron would make it permanent and valuable acquisition to the park. A committee was appointed to confer with the architects of the city and secure working plans, ascertain exactly what the cost of the structure would be and report at the next sion I meeting, which will be held in the Grand place

ENJOINS ISSUING OF BONDS

Judge Gaynor of Sioux City Creates a Sensation. -

ACTION STARTED BY PROPERTY OWNERS

Says the City's Debt is Already Lurgely in Excess of the Legal Limit_Henring to Be Had Saturday.

SIOUX CITY, Oct. 21 .- (Special Telegram.) -Municipal and county business here has been practically brought to a standstill by a sweeping injunction issued by Judge Gaynor of the district court. The court has enjoined the city officers from issuing any more bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness against the city until the final adjudication of the action.

The application for the injunction was filed by the State Bank Building company, owner of large property interests in the city, and of the city's Indebtedness in excess of the per cent constitutional limit. It is alleged the city is in debt $1,500,000 on bonds and $300,000 more of a floating indebtedness and that the legal limit is but $300,000. These figures are probably somewhat exaggerated, but et any rate the injunction was issued and will remain in force until Saturday, when a hearing will be had upon the question. The county officers were also enjoined from levying certain taxes. The temporary injunction has caused quite a sensation in the city. A large number of property owners are back of the movement and it will be a bitter fight. Some time ago the city council voted to issue $256,000 of refunding bonds to take up a prior issue and this was vetoed by the mayor. The council then passed the resolu-tion over the mayor's veto, and now the citiwins have taken a hand in the matter and with the mid of the courts hope to stop the Issuance of the bonds. It is alleged the city officers have diverted the funds that should have been used to pay off bonds.

CUDAHY GOES TO SIOUX CITY Contract to Be Signed at Once and

Much Money to He Spent. SIOUX CITY, Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.) -It can be authoritatively stated that the Cudahys have concluded all arrangements with the Sioux City Stock Yards company to put in a large beef and hog packing plant n this city. All that remains to be done in o sign the contracts, and that will be done n Chicago, where a committee is conferring with the Cudahys. The Cudahys will spend $200,000 in putting the old plant in shape this fall and inside of a year 1,000 men will be employed. This means that very few hogs from west of the Missouri river can go east and it is likely another plant will be put in here as soon as Cudahy wants competition.

An interchange of congratulations closed the session. The evention will be held at a place to be decided upon by the executive committee

ESSENTIAL PRINCIPLES OF FAITH.

Universalists Adopt the New Conditions of Fellowship. CHICAGO, Oct. 21.-The Boston ministers plan, the substitute creed introduced yesterday drawn up by the ministers' alliance of Boston, was adopted by the Universalist general convention today by an overwhelming majority. If the action of the present body is ratified by the convention of 1899, ac ceptance of the Winchester creed will nonger be a condition of fellowship in th church and the old declaration of principles will remain in the constitution of vention merely as a profession of faith. The new conditions of fellowship are intended to be propositions upon which all Universalists can agree and as such received the endersement of the present convention. The new conditions of fellowship as slightly modified today are: The acceptance of the essential principles of the Universalist faith

A number of prominent Germans ex-pressed themselves in favor of the amaga-matica of the two republies. In that event they think that Germany should be allowed to take Samoa without interference on the part of the United States. This they deem a simple matter of fairness and justice. The Americans have the greatest amount of capital invested in the Hawaiian Islands and the country is thoroughly Americandjourned with prayer by Rev. D. Everett ized. In Samon, they argued, the Germans occupy the same position. The bulk of the money invested there had come from Germany and, therefore, Germany had as much right to absorb Samon as Uncle Sam had to
