

LOSS TO SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Directors' Carelessness Results in a Very Serious Deprivation.

MANY LEFT OUT STATE APPOINTMENT

Failure to Make Reports Necessary to Secure the Cash Gives State Superintendent No Choice in the Matter.

LINCOLN, Oct. 25.—(Special)—The population of some of the school districts of the western part of the state, as well as the carelessness of directors in other quarters, has had the effect to leave many districts out of the apportionment to the districts and the state superintendent has addressed the following letter to the various county superintendents:

Upon looking over the annual reports, I am somewhat surprised to find so large a number of districts which will lose their apportionment for the current year, and I desire at this early date to ask that you look into the affairs of certain districts and see if this condition cannot be improved. If not for this year, at least for coming years. To mention a few: Douglas, where the percentage of districts which will lose the apportionment is very small, but in the aggregate may amount to several thousand dollars. In Lincoln county, where failure to make reports has cost many districts the right to receive their apportionment is set forth in the following:

1. Failure on the part of the director to make a report.

2. Failure on the part of the director to hold a required amount of school lands. I know from experience that it is almost impossible to get a report from some districts. If the director of the district follows upon the one claiming it, there might not be any reason why the director should not know, but I write this in the hope that you will acquaint yourself with the number of months of school land for each district, and if you find one or more that ought to hold more months of school land, you should call attention to that fact, bearing in mind the number of months of school land for the current year, and that the number of months of school land for the following year. The basis of apportionment for the year 1897 is:

I respectfully call your attention in this connection to section 4A, subdivision 1, section 15, subdivision 1, section 16, and section 17, subdivision 1, of the school laws.

I would suggest that you make liberal use of the county papers in calling the attention of school boards and others interested to this matter.

CAPTURE OF PING YANG

Major Fetche, special aide of the adjutant general, has just received a copy of a Japanese military magazine which contains an illustration and descriptions of battles between the Japanese and Chinese in their recent war. There is an English translation of the magazine, which has been translated from the Japanese by the adjutant general. The magazine contains a description of the capture of Ping Yang. The magazine also contains a description of the capture of Ping Yang.

FOUND DYING BY THE RAILROAD

Unknown Man Discovered with His Throat Cut and Unconscious.

MEAD, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—About 4 o'clock this afternoon A. Swanson found a man lying in the grass, about one mile east of the station where the Pacific railroad with his throat cut and in an unconscious condition. He was brought to town and turned over to the city marshal, who took him to the hospital and placed him in charge of the county authorities. It is supposed that the man was a stranger here. He speaks Swedish and says that he is from Sweden. He was brought to town and turned over to the city marshal, who took him to the hospital and placed him in charge of the county authorities.

HOLD FOR ASSAULTING TRAINMEN.

Tom Suber and John Doe Pined Under Three-Hundred-Dollar Bonds.

KEARNEY, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—For an assault on a conductor and a brakeman of a Union Pacific train near here last night, Tom Suber and John Doe of Sidney have been arrested and are now under bonds of $300 each to appear at a hearing on October 27. There is great excitement over the case. The assault took place here last week. As a night train on the Union Pacific was passing through town, a loud noise on one of the cars that sounded as though some one were throwing of coal. He went forward to investigate and was instantly assaulted by a man who threw a brick on his head and severely hurt. Suber and Doe then made their escape.

WHY Build Another Story?

TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Allen & Brandage, publishers of the Tecumseh Chief, have purchased of P. W. Buertch the one-story brick building on the north side of the town. The building was built by the late owner, and was a very fine structure. It is now being used as a warehouse. The building was built by the late owner, and was a very fine structure.

Court Cases at Valentine.

VALENTINE, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—District court closed an eight days' term here today, Judge Westover presiding. The criminal docket was pretty well cleared, the culprit being Harry Scheldinger, who was sentenced to one year for horse stealing; John Carter three years for assisting; Herman Schwarber, five years for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Cremony for Elk Creek.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—The Beatrice Creamery company is going to build a creamery at Elk Creek near the southeast of Tecumseh. It is supposed that work on the new building will be commenced at once.

Sunday School Workers to Meet.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—The northwest district of the Johnson County

Sunday School Association will hold a convention at the Mount Zion church Sunday, October 31.

The meeting will undoubtedly attract the general attention of the Sunday school workers of the county and will be well attended. The program includes addresses by Rev. T. E. Betts on "The Necessity of Inculcating Scriptural Ideas"; by Miss Nina Blake on "The Need of Proper Preparation and Fitness on the Part of Teachers"; by Miss Jennie Mantley on "A Knowledge of the Scholar's Temperament"; and by Rev. T. E. Betts on "Salvation of the Soul."

DISGUSTS FUSION MANAGERS.

Abnity of Populist Voters is Anything but Encouraging.

LINCOLN, Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—W. J. Bryan and his official newspaper correspondent, J. G. Maher, came in from the southeastern part of the state this evening. There was no one at the depot to meet them and Mr. Bryan at once took a carriage for home.

A conference by the fusion managers was held tonight to discuss the prospects of the campaign. Bryan and Maher were both present. The conclusion was anything but encouraging on account of the reports of the apathy of the populist voters. It was decided in order to awaken a little enthusiasm they sent one of the governor's secretaries to the Lincoln hotel to post a notice of the coming of the fusion managers.

It is understood that Bryan goes from here to take part in the campaign in 1898, but this news as far as possible, is being kept from the public, as the managers feel that it will have a depressing effect on the campaign here, as none of the other fusion speakers are able to get people to listen to them.

Selling Beer Without a License.
HEBRON, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Billy Harlock is in custody of the sheriff charged with selling liquor without a license. His custom was to buy beer by the keg and in a certain place and would collect 25 cents from each and often as high as twenty-five would come.

Raises a Big Potato Crop.
TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—John McLaughlin, a farmer living in the northern part of the county, has just finished harvesting his potato crop. From a patch of seven acres he got an average yield of 150 bushels. He sold the potatoes at $2.50 per bushel, which would make $375 per acre.

Business Changes at Falls City.
FALLS CITY, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Two changes in business have occurred here during the past week. Sanders Brothers' department store was sold to Cleveland Brothers of Denver and the Branch & Stryker stock and bond exchange was sold to J. M. James, who formerly owned the store.

Rob a Clothing Store.
TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—A thief or thieves broke into C. L. Catchpole's clothing store in Sterling Friday night and made away with two overcoats, two or three pairs of shoes and some smaller articles. Evidence was gained through a back window. No clue.

Two Men Arrested on Suspicion.
TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—The authorities here have arrested two suspicious characters. When stopped the men were traveling through the country in a buggy, and had in their possession some goods which the officers believe they stole somewhere.

Diphtheria in Ord.
ORD, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Quite a number of cases of diphtheria, fortunately of a mild type are reported in town, and there has been some talk of closing the schools in consequence.

Nebroska News Notes.
The Kearney Daily Hub completed its ninth year last Saturday.

The street railway at Norfolk has never been a paying investment and the track is now being torn up and the business abandoned.

Considerable new corn has been marketed at Superior bringing 15 cents. It is of a fine quality and almost entirely free from worm holes.

German Congregational people of Butte are raising money to purchase a building which will be remodeled into a house of worship.

Water Graham of Eastern township, Knox county, was killed by a fall from a small mine in the T14 d. Fifth circuit.

The rat pest at Superior is assuming an epidemic form. Never were they so numerous in this western country, and in many places are eating them off the stalk in the field. Farmers who have to be careful not to pile much corn on the ground this year.

Thirty cars of potatoes aggregating 20,000 bushels, have been shipped from Gordon during the past two weeks and still the crop of "spuds" is by no means exhausted. The crop of bushels yet remain on the ship is still about 100,000 bushels, and is being "held up" for spring shipment. The crop is of the quality and the price paid is 20 cents a bushel.

Druggists know Dr. Davis' Anti-Headache is best of all headache remedies.

Read "Simon Dale" in The Sunday Bee. If you don't take it, subscribe now.

CONDITION OF NEW YORK BANKS.

Reserves Have Increased Nearly Ten Millions in Two Weeks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Financial Review says: The statement of the associated banks of New York City for the week ended October 23 shows an increase in reserves of $9,475,200 in two weeks. Loans in the same proportion, while deposits have remained about the same.

The liquidation, therefore, appears to have been carried on in a manner that has not disturbed the deposit item, but this affords no explanation of the current business of the banks. The gold reserve, which was $144,000,000 more gold than legal tenders. The specie reserve, of course, is due to the increase of the gold reserve. The expansion of legal tenders probably represents the first of the return tide of currency from the interior. The flow of money has been checked for the present, but the banks recognize the general tendency to strip it off this center for the present.

While the populists had a large majority in the Sixth circuit, in which their nominee is R. B. Black, certain of the judges, that is, in supporting Leming E. Gaff, the populist nominee, and there is no party division in the results. The populist nominee, however, appears to have a decided lead. A few populists, however, claim possibilities for S. E. Wilson, their nominee. Not more than thirty-two people, they say, has gone into the country.

With the blockade of the Yukon every possible cashes of treasure by steamer Portland. No gold will be seen outside of there. It is not unusual to see horses loaded with gold, but the mines are owned by men who know their value.

"One sees it on every hand" the returning miners say. "It seems plentiful, but that is closed and they cannot get out. There is any amount of gold in Dawson. It is not unusual to see horses loaded with gold, but the mines are owned by men who know their value."

Lost Life and Money.
STEVENS POINT, Wis., Oct. 25.—In a fire here this morning Miss Zdobrowski, aged 42, who returned to get her hat, was burned and the insurance company, which had returned for some clothes, was frightfully burned.

"THE ACADEMIE DE MEDECINE DE FRANCE HAS PLACED
Apollinaris
"AT THE HEAD OF ALL THE WATERS EXAMINED FOR PURITY AND FREEDOM FROM DISEASE GERMS."

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTIONS!

HOTELS: The Millard, 1217-1311 Broadway, N.Y.; The Barker Hotel, 1217-1311 Broadway, N.Y.

DEFENSE SCORES POINT

Company's Receipts for Money Received by Anderson Are Admitted.

PROGRESS OF THE HIPPLE EXAMINATION

Efforts Are Being Made to Bring Out as Much of the Prosecution as Possible at the Preliminary Trial.

PIERRE, S. D., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—The Hipple examination today was a repetition of the legal fight of Saturday and every question was fought out. The main point scored by the defense was the ruling by the justice admitting as evidence the receipts and copies of receipts from insurance companies for money received for by Anderson. The defense on cross-examination attempted to draw an admission of error out of the public examiner and to show political animus in the prosecution, but failed to secure any rulings in its favor on this.

A. B. Durrington, deputy treasurer, was the only other witness called today and nothing new was called out from him.

The case is causing a great deal of local discussion and from reports of persons who have come in from other points it is the subject of general comment over the state. Locally the matter is being fought in the preliminary hearing before Justice Robinson as bitterly as it could be, but the state auditor refused to pay it. The county commissioners have, therefore, authorized the commencement of proceedings to recover the amount from the state. It is doubtful, however, if the state auditor has power to pay the amount of the claim until the legislature appropriates the sum necessary to do so.

County Will Sue the State.
CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—Pueblo county and the state have locked horns over a claim of the former for about $1,500 for costs of cases arising in Pueblo county, which is unincorporated. The circuit court has granted a writ of mandamus auditor refused to pay it. The county commissioners have, therefore, authorized the commencement of proceedings to recover the amount from the state. It is doubtful, however, if the state auditor has power to pay the amount of the claim until the legislature appropriates the sum necessary to do so.

Runaway Boy is Arrested.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—The city police have captured Clark Macrally, a runaway boy from Glencox. His parents were told that he had been arrested and he is being held to await further instructions from them. The boy says his parents are too poor to properly care for the family and he wishes to earn his own living.

Farmer is Drowned in the River.
YANKTON, S. D., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—Barney Miles, a well known farmer of Higgins Bend, twelve miles east of this city, was drowned in the Missouri river today. He was found hanging to a skiff and life was extinct. It is thought to have been an accident.

Arrange a New Time Schedule.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—Officials of the Wyoming division of the United States railway are arranging a new time schedule, which will take effect on October 31. Slight changes will be made in passenger train and some important ones in freight schedules.

Confesses to Stealing a Team.
SHOU FALLS, S. D., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—Emil G. Grabowski was arrested here today for the theft of a team and buggy from Watertown. He was at first arrested on suspicion and then confessed that he had hired the team ten days ago.

Pardoned by the Governor.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—Governor Richards yesterday pardoned Orson Leavitt of Star Valley, sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a recent crime. Leavitt had served six months of his term.

Heavy Rain in South Dakota.
CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—After a remarkably sunny day for this season of the year, the heaviest rain for two months is falling this evening with every indication of continuing for some time.

Ireland in Pictures can be obtained at Stott's stationary store, 2408 N. street.

FILE FROM IMPENDING FAMINE.
MINERS Come From Dawson City, Where Provisions Are Scarce.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 25.—The steamer Humboldt arrived last night with five men from Dawson City, leaving there September 2, and three men from Minok and other points on the Yukon. They say no gold had come out this fall, as the steamer has taken the list of those who have come down the Yukon. The river is already frozen hard and no boats are left up for the winter.

The revolution in the mining camps of the Yukon is being carried on by John P. Miller and Frank E. Sims of this city; C. A. Harrison of Atchison, Kan.; William Babal, Jersey, and William Brand of Black Diamond, Wash. They were passengers on the river steamer Margaret. When they found the mouth of the river blocked with drift, they resolved to come over the mountains. For seven days they crept forward through terrible wind and snow storms. Some of them fell in their tracks and had to be helped by their stronger companions. They crossed the river covered with their pack by lying down and pushing their pack before them. The heavy snow and ice was not so much of the Yukon as the blizzards were. They were protected from the biting wind save by blankets.

At least 1,000 people in Dawson and vicinity at least 1,000 people will be obliged to flee from impending starvation. Up to September 2, when the Miller party left Dawson, six carloads numbered from three to twenty people daily, and there is no doubt that that ratio will be continued all winter. Three hundred men were working in the gulches and the hills were covered with prospectors all of whom knew nothing of the shortage and were depending on the company stores for provisions.

One way of relief is open to the miners. Five hundred or 1,000 cubic feet of water at Circle City, 100 miles below Dawson, and draw their supplies by dog train from at Fort Yukon. Circle City has 500 houses and is said to be the largest log cabin town in the world.

John P. Miller says there will not necessarily be starvation, but certainly miners will suffer extreme privations. Five hundred men intended to come down the river, but that is closed and they cannot get out. There is no doubt that the people of Dawson have been alive to the situation for six weeks. "Our leaving," says Sims, "was the result of a strike for grub. Transportation companies at St. Michaels and Fort Yukon claim the liquor traffic has no appreciable effect on the supply of provisions. Not more than thirty-two people, they say, has gone into the country."

With the blockade of the Yukon every possible cashes of treasure by steamer Portland. No gold will be seen outside of there. It is not unusual to see horses loaded with gold, but the mines are owned by men who know their value.

"One sees it on every hand" the returning miners say. "It seems plentiful, but that is closed and they cannot get out. There is any amount of gold in Dawson. It is not unusual to see horses loaded with gold, but the mines are owned by men who know their value."

Lost Life and Money.
STEVENS POINT, Wis., Oct. 25.—In a fire here this morning Miss Zdobrowski, aged 42, who returned to get her hat, was burned and the insurance company, which had returned for some clothes, was frightfully burned.

"THE ACADEMIE DE MEDECINE DE FRANCE HAS PLACED
Apollinaris
"AT THE HEAD OF ALL THE WATERS EXAMINED FOR PURITY AND FREEDOM FROM DISEASE GERMS."

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTIONS!

HOTELS: The Millard, 1217-1311 Broadway, N.Y.; The Barker Hotel, 1217-1311 Broadway, N.Y.

WOMAN DROWNED IN ALASKA.

Boat upset while on the way to the Skagway, Alaska, Oct. 12.—(Via steamer Parallon, Seattle, Wash., Oct. 25)—Sillas Hamilton of Seattle was drowned Friday morning in Fort Summitt lake, sixteen miles from Lake Bennett on the Skagway trail. Hamilton, Wesley Young and R. N. Redfield, also of Seattle, were going down the lake in a small boat heavily laden. The morning was very foggy, making navigation difficult and dangerous. A heavy squall sprung up, driving the boat into the breakers along the shore, and when it was in the lake, where it capsized. Its occupants were thrown into the water and Hamilton sunk like a stone. Young and Redfield swam toward the shore and were rescued by a passing boat. Hamilton's body has not been recovered and owing to the intense cold of the lake water it is thought it never will be. His parents reside in Iowa.

Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party of men to guard the cache and he and his men searched and looted the provisions on their horses. Then Bernard and a number of companions seized the men and were rescued by a passing boat. Three alleged thieves were captured Thursday on the Skagway trail. Their names are Charles O'Brien, John S. Day and William Daxley. They were formerly students of Seattle. These men are charged with stealing a quantity of provisions from Fred Bernard. The latter found a cache of food and meat and he tracked the three thieves, found where they had cached their plunder and set a watch upon it. A few days later he started a party