

General Business Situation Fleeting to Both Jobbers and Retailers.

There is a dearth of anything like exciting news in trade circles of Omaha, but reports all indicate a very satisfactory business that is fully up to what might be expected under conditions. In some few departments of trade there was a falling off in the volume of business, owing to the very mild weather. In the country the spring and summer weather was taken advantage of by the farmers, who kept at work in the cornfields or with their fall plowing, thus neglecting to visit the towns to the detriment of the country retail trade. In the city, where buyers can supply their own needs at any hour of the day, there has been no disposition to buy in advance, and so long as the weather continued so mild it was only natural that the retail trade should suffer. The change to cooler weather has stimulated business in the city and traveling men report that there have been storms in the west which have also helped the country trade in many localities.

COOLER WEATHER WILL BE A GREAT HELP

In some departments of the jobbing trade there has been no let up in the rush of orders for goods. The business situation as a whole has been highly satisfactory, both to the jobbers and retailers. The weather has been a great help to the business in the city and traveling men report that there have been storms in the west which have also helped the country trade in many localities.

John Hammetts of Portsmouth, Ia., was in the city this morning, placed some good orders with local jobbers. A. T. Austin, manager of the American Hand-Sewn Shoe company, is spending two days in the city. M. Flannery of Minneapolis, Ia., came in the other day and left several good orders for his retail store in his hometown.
