

LOCATE BOGUS WARRANTS

Report on Recent Frauds Perpetrated Against the Government.

SEVERAL PERSONS IN THE COMBINATION

Investigation of the Disclosures Concerning Creek Nation Crookedness Reveals Facts of Importance to the Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—J. W. Zeneley of the Indian department, who is selected by Secretary Bliss to make an investigation of the reported issue of fraudulent warrants by the governor to the Creek Indian nation, has returned to Washington after spending about a month in Indian Territory making the inquiry. The investigation made by Mr. Zeneley established the fact that Isparhecher, the principal chief, has no knowledge of the warrants and that all the warrants purporting to have been issued and signed by him were in fact issued and signed by an under secretary in his office. The investigation also developed the fact that a number of persons had combined together to defraud the Creek government out of a large sum of money. The warrants now known to be fraudulently issued amount to $28,794.83. Mr. Zeneley says their fraudulent character is established by indisputable testimony. The district attorney for the northern district of the Indian Territory reports that he has no knowledge of all the facts in the case, and the parties engaged in the conspiracy will all be prosecuted.

The department has located about $68,000 of the bogus warrants in the hands of various persons, but does not feel at liberty to give their names. None of these warrants have been paid. The internal revenue bureau has not warrants issued upon any government depository, but are ordinary warrants of the Creek government; the validity of the remaining warrants, in the judgment of the secretary of the interior, is not sufficiently established to warrant him in disbursing the money under this appropriation and he will report to the secretary of the interior his annual report and await further legislative action.

The government of the United States has lost nothing and the secretary says he has no opinion as to the liability of the Creek government touching the fraudulent warrants, but proposes to see that the Creek Indians are fully protected.

GOVERNMENT'S SPECIAL AGENTS

Something About the Work They Have Been Doing.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Supervising Special Agent Chance has submitted his annual report to Secretary Day. The salaries and expenses of special agents during the year amounted to $92,567, and undervaluations and erroneous classifications were discovered amounting to $424,236.

"In the prevention of smuggling," the report says, "some valuable work has been accomplished on the Canadian and Mexican frontiers, where the smuggling of horses, cattle, drugs, furs and clothing has not prevailed. The service apprehends that the powerful combinations for the smuggling of wool which were in existence prior to 1896 were renewed and the increased vigilance will be required.

"One special agent in Europe, with two subordinates, Great Britain, has during the year secured in securing data as to correct liabilities of imported merchandise and the investigation of irregularities connected therewith. In the United States and nearly $100,000.

During the year 5,889 Chinese passengers, other than laborers, applied for admission to the United States. Of this number 5,348 were admitted and 492 were refused admission. During the same period 1,651 Chinese emigrants departed from the United States and 1,639 of this class returned to this country by virtue of provisions of article II of the treaty with China. The number of Chinese who were deported of these 1,227 were deported and $10 were discharged.

CHANGE IN THE WALK TEAM

Charles Dudley, Left Half Back, Called Away on Account of Death.

OTHER WALK TEAMS IN GOOD CONDITION

Members of Both Harvard and Yale Are Making Great Preparation for Saturday's Gridiron Contest.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 11.—A change must be made in Yale's foot ball eleven at the last moment. Charles Dudley, left half-back, received news tonight of the death of his mother in Washington. He was summoned home and will be absent for several days.

The final practice of the foot ball team was held this afternoon and it occupied less than forty-five minutes. The work was very light but that there was of it indicated that the good form developed in the last week has been maintained.

At the close of the practice a questioning of the members of the eleven elicited information which makes it possible to state that the men are in good spirits, and that means a good deal.

Tonight the players were rehearsed in their signals and later the coaches, who are to coach at a protracted conference, at which methods were discussed and decided upon.

The players all retired early. Tomorrow morning the practice will be held at 10 o'clock, and after luncheon they will be taken via special cars to Boston, where they will spend the last night preceding the contest.

HARVARD IN GOOD FORM

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 11.—In view of the coming game with Yale the following statement of the condition of the Harvard team is given from an official source, and is considered a reliable summary.

The team has now reached its culminating point and satisfactory results have been obtained. The varsity team, and substitutes will come to the field Saturday night, and injuries that need cause anxiety as to their ability to last through the game. Except in the line, the team has shown good form, improved and should be in its best form Saturday.

The ends have covered their positions in excellent form throughout the season. Their fault is that they do not hold back. The line is well balanced. The probable line up on Saturday will be: Back, left end; Swain, left tackle; Bouve, left guard; Deane, center; Shaw, right guard; right tackle; Donald, right tackle; Moulton, right end; Garrison, quarterback; Doublin, left halfback; Sawin or Warren, right halfback; Warren or Haughton, fullback.

The practice of the Harvard eleven today was, as usual, in secret, and consisted of signal work, kicking and falling on the ball. There was a gratifying snap during the play and the different ends who tried got down the field in remarkably fast time. Not a man was injured, much to the relief of the coaches. The Harvard fullback, Doublin, was injured, and the team came out of the enclosure with scarcely a man limping or showing the effects of the hard work.
