CARNIVAL NOTES.

The first week's balloting in Central City found Miss Dehl Parker in the lead, with Miss Eva Agnew a close second and Miss Maud Scott and Mabel Berryman a tie for third place.

Kearney, Neb., is becoming feverish over the contest for a maid of honor, a number of the fair lady contestants are getting pointers from their gentlemen friends who know all the tricks and about the various political feuds. Miss Jessie Burger leads, Miss Grace Harner by just four votes, while Miss Bertha Brewster is well up to the front.

Three well-known citizens of Grand Island have charge of the maid of honor voting contest and it is keeping them quite busy. Miss Katherine Norris is in the lead, followed by Miss Lela McCombs, 191; Miss Lurline Brown, 169; Miss Bertha Gulon, 160, and twenty-five others with from two to fifty votes each.

The Hammond company employees will organize a carnival club in a few days. The costumes being adopted for the carnival are so inexpensive, comfortable and attractive that clubs are being organized all over the city.

The leading photographers appreciate the fact that the carnival is about to be a success and a number of them are after the photographing concession.

Wray Sues Hayden Bros. E. W. Wray has brought suit in the district court to recover $5,000 alleged damages from Hayden Bros. of this city. In his petition the plaintiff alleges that he was the owner of a piano and that on July 14 last, without authority, the defendants, by their agent, removed his piano and forcibly moved the piano in question. He also alleges that the excitement caused by the said removal caused his wife to become seriously ill, which time her health has been greatly impaired.

In answer to the petition of the plaintiff Hayden Bros. admit the taking of the piano, but allege that they had a right to do so, and they held a lease that gave them permission to take the property wherever found, providing the installments were not paid. They also allege that Wray had not made the payments in accordance with the terms of the lease.

Involves Question of Fees. The case of Albyn Frank, clerk of the district court against the county of Douglas as before Judges Keyser, Slaughter and Dickenson, sitting en banc, yesterday afternoon, the contention being that the defendants, by their agent, removed his piano and forcibly moved the piano in question. Some time ago the fee question was put before the Board of County Commissioners, at which time a portion of Frank's fee bill was ordered to be paid. Frank applied to the district court for the purpose of securing a ruling on the question of his right to charge in certain cases. No decision was rendered yesterday afternoon, the judges desiring to take time to investigate the case further and examine the briefs that have been filed.

Canal Stock Assessment. The case of J. P. Looney against J. H. MacColl has been filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of this county, although both of the parties reside in another county of the state. The plaintiff seeks to recover from the defendant, alleging that the latter is the owner and holder of stock of the Meridian Canal Company.

Yesterday MacColl filed his answer, in which he charges that while he owns some of the stock of the canal company in question the same is not up and is non-assessable. He also charges that the company owes him $1,600 in cash that he advanced some years ago.

Hughes Against Redick. In Judge Powell's court the case of Dorsey Hughes against C. Redick has been settled. The plaintiff in the case sues for $3,000, alleged damages to his reputation. The suit in question grows out of an arrest that was made in the police court, and is designated as a malicious prosecution.

After hearing the evidence Judge Powell instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant.

WHERE OUR ORANGES COME FROM.

Mexico at Present Supplies the Trade. Of all the people who enjoy a nice juicy orange gilt in halves and covered with sugar, how many ever stop to think from whence the golden balls come? Just now Mexico is supplying this and other western markets and thousands of boxes are imported from that country in spite of the heavy duty. In the course of a week or two California will have the first of the new crop on this market and for a time will displace the oranges from Mexico. As the season advances and the California fruit becomes more plentiful the Mexicans will be driven out and California will have the field almost unopposed.

Louisiana is an orange growing state, though probably by few people in this locality are aware of that fact and it will soon be a time for fruit from the gulf to put in an appearance. Very little of it, however, ever comes to Omaha, as the Louisiana orange is very sour and its natural acidity is increased by the habit of the growers of picking the fruit while it is still green. St. Louis and other southern markets generally consume the bulk of the gulf oranges.

At one time Florida sent thousands of boxes of oranges to this market, but the great freeze of a few years ago, which killed many of the trees down to the roots, so limited the yield that the east is able to take care of the most of it. A few Florida fruit dealers still grow a few Florida fruit but they are generally too high to admit of their being sold in competition with the California.

Find a Home for Her. Ida Clark, the weak-minded woman who was shipped into this city by unknown parties to Hedrick, La. was satisfactorily disposed of yesterday. Macon Bennett succeeded in finding a home for her with a family on West Leavenworth street and she was taken there last night.

SUITS TO SUIT TAX TITLES.

Investors in Delinquent Taxes Seek Protection in Court.

A new class of suit cases are finding their way into the district court and they are being filed at the rate of from thirty to fifty per day. The number has already reached something like 500 during the last twenty days and the end is not yet. These cases are foreclosures on tax liens and are brought by parties who hold tax certificates whereon they bought city property at tax sale some years ago.

Back in 1891 and 1892 tax certificates were considered the best investments in the state, and as a natural result bankers and capitalists flocked to the court house and bought everything that was offered at delinquent tax sale. Some years later and the time when the deeds became due some of the owners of property so sold, in some cases to the supreme court, alleging irregularities either in the levy, the assessment, the extension of the tax on the books, or advertisements, or the method of sale. This applied in most cases to the special taxes levied to pay the cost of grading, paving, constructing sewers or sidewalks. The supreme court held with the property owners and the purchase of property at tax sale stopped except in the case of parties who held mortgages and who failed to protect their interests.

On tax sale the statute of limitation runs in seven years, and as the bulk of the sales were made during the years heretofore referred to, the large number of cases are being commenced at this time.

In passing upon the cases brought before it the supreme court held that while the party asserting in the tax certificate could not secure a deed, depriving of value all his property, the latter must pay the original investment plus the legal rate of interest. The tax certificate could not be sold, but the tax could be advanced and an action at law and foreclosure lien be the same as he would foreclose a mortgage upon real estate. Such a course would prove satisfactory to the would-be tax purchaser of the case, and for this reason investors sought other places for placing their money. However, those who invested six or seven years ago have had other things to do, and hence the rush to institute cases in the district court.

At the last session of the legislature a large number of county officials appeared before the lawmakers and tried to induce them to enact a law that would cure the defects in the old law, but they refused, and as a result the taxpayers took the only course that was left for them to pursue.

Attorneys of the city who have made a study of the tax laws of the state still hold the opinion that the law as applied to property outside of the limits where special assessments are made is good and that tax deeds issued against such property are valid.

LABOR TEMPLE TO BE ENLARGED.

Demand for More Room to Accommodate Patrons of the Place.

The management of Labor Temple is considering plans for the enlargement of the institution. It is dickering for the lease of the two north stores of the Patterson block at Seventeenth and Douglas streets, on the top floor of which the temple is now located. The matter will continue for a few days.

The enlargement is found necessary on account of the demand made for additional hall room. A number of secret society lodges desire to have meeting places in the building. To satisfy the demand the directors decided to make an additional hall by throwing together the rooms at present occupied as reading and card rooms. A commodious hall can in this manner be built.

The reading and card rooms have become features of the temple and cannot be abolished. Therefore, if the north stores in the building are secured they will be turned into such rooms. It is believed that this location will be found better and more convenient than the other.

WETTING HELPS THE CLERKS.

Ex-Deputy Comptroller Assists City in Preparing Roll Bondsman Case.

Ex-Deputy Comptroller Wetting returned from Kansas City yesterday and is now engaged with the city legal department in the preparation for trial in the case of the city against the bondsman. It is expected that the case will be called next week and Mr. Wetting says he will remain here as long as his services are required. The entire legal department of the city, aided by Mr. Wetting and the clerks in the comptroller's and treasurer's departments, is working on the evidence and City Attorney Wetting says the city will certainly be ready to proceed with the trial at once.

Class for Nurses.

A feature has been added to the educational department of the Young Woman's Christian association in the form of a class for nurses. It was organized a week ago and began with an enrollment of eleven. Last night forty-two young women were present at the association parlors and the course was inaugurated with a lecture by Dr. S. H. Towne on the "Care of Common Diseases." The promoter of this class has been the Visiting Nurses' association. It hopes by this means to produce suitable material for the work. The meeting next Friday evening will be in charge of Miss Anna Millard.

What Physicians Say

PHYSICIANS SAY.—I find the Horo-Lithia Water the most palatable and effective remedy for the urinary tract. This water is an ideal one when it is demanded. Edw. M. Hale, M. D.

I have used Horo-Lithia Water for a number of years in the treatment of the urinary tract. I have found it to be a most effective remedy in all cases of urinary disease. Wm. F. Kiver, M. D.

The combined effects of several antiseptics and irrigation, as presented by Horo-Lithia Water, is highly desirable. It is a most effective means of combating the various forms of irritation and inflammation that attack the various parts of the urinary tract. I have found it to be a most effective remedy in all cases of urinary disease. Wm. F. Kiver, M. D.

WISE ADVICE TO HUSBANDS.

Those Who Have Ailing Wives Will do Well to Accept It.

Do not wrangle and quarrel, and finally rush into the courts and try to get a separation from your faithful wife; but just stop a moment and think! Your wife, who was even-tempered and amiable, and all that was lovely when you married her, has changed. Now she is peevish, irritable, jealous, discontented and miserable—in a word, she has uterine disorder of some kind.

Law is not the remedy for this condition, she needs medical treatment, her uterine system is at fault.
