rates on all east and west railroads have been cut down to a low point in order to meet the competition from the south. Rail-

the Atlantic seaboard to the ports of Texis, has been the means of reducing the freight tate from New York to Galveston to 2 cents per 100 pounds. The Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf railroad is making a proportionately Krug, Max Meyer, Louis Raapke, Charles A. Karbach, Herman J. Meyer, William A. Paxlow rate on freight from Texas to Colorado. As a result the lines running into Colorado from the east have been forced to make ridiculously low rates to save some of the business from the east to the all-rail routes. There was a runnor in local freight circles that the Burlington had already gone far below the Colorado vates announced on Sat-urday, but the runner could not be verified.
