

NEBRASKA SCHOOL EXHIBIT

State Will Put Its Educational Facilities on Parade. ARRANGEMENTS FOR A FINE DISPLAY. Superintendent Jackson Developing Plans in Connection with the Women's Board for the Show at School Work.

The action of the Nebraska Exposition commission in securing 7,480 feet of floor space in the gallery of the Liberal Arts building for an educational exhibit to be made by the public schools of Nebraska is the source of great satisfaction on the part of those who have taken an active interest in the matter. The officers of the Women's Board of Managers are especially pleased over the outcome of the efforts which have been made to secure space for the school exhibits, as it was apparent from the beginning that no exhibit could be made unless space was provided without being paid for by the school.

Under the plan which now stands Superintendent Jackson will instruct each school desiring to make an exhibit to make application to him before February 1. The amount of available space will be apportioned among the schools according to the enrollment and each school will be notified how much space has been assigned to it. These schools will be instructed to send their exhibits to the school superintendent of their county by April 1, and the county superintendent will be instructed to send these exhibits to Secretary Ford at Omaha.

The Women's board which distinctly understood that the individual competition instituted by the board was intended to stimulate the highest degree with the school exhibits. Under the rules of this competition judgment will be passed upon the work April 15. All work winning prizes will be included in the collective exhibit to be installed by the Women's board. The work not winning a prize will be turned over to the school to which it was assigned.

It is more than likely that the University of Nebraska will exhibit in the educational section, as it proposes to make an extensive exhibit of the work of the university. The complete collection of native words which is in the possession of the university museum, the unique collection of "devil's oakleaves," those ancient fossils found nowhere in the world except in the small district in which they are found in Nebraska, and many valuable specimens from the university museum will be given space in this section and will add little interest to it. In addition to these exhibits the university will also show the work of its classes in a manner which the faculty predict will attract the attention of students and investigators.

WORKMEN NOT BOTHERED BY COLD.

Wind Drops and the Men Make Excellent Progress on the Work. Although the temperature on the exposition grounds was considerably lower yesterday morning than it was Friday the wind had moderated and the workmen seemed to encounter no difficulty on account of the cold. The work progressed rapidly, the hitting and setting up of an immense iron pipe being completed. The roof trusses are being framed and the work of raising them to the top of the walls will be commenced next week.

BOYS' PROBABLE SUCCESSOR.

Many Applicants for the Position of City Milk Inspector. Although the body of S. L. Boyd has not yet been assigned to his final resting place, there is a notable activity on the part of a dozen individuals who would like to succeed him as milk inspector.

STORY ON THE LAGOON.

The ice on the lagoon is thick enough for skating, but the surface is too rough to make that sport really enjoyable. Men employed by the ice arriving commissioners worked on Friday night, making a block of ice. A number of small boys, however, ignored such small matters and were making the most of the opportunity afforded by the expanse of ice. They avoided the gatekeepers by climbing the fence and enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content.

A private letter received at army headquarters from Major Crowder, judge advocate of the department, conveys the intelligence that a sister of the major died a few days ago at Farmington, N. M.

REGULATION FOR THE EVIL.

Old Problem Facing itself to the Present Day. It is not likely that the resolution that was suggested at a meeting of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners some weeks ago which was designed to provide for the regulation of the social evil will be acted on. The resolution was not entirely satisfactory to the members of the board and a new resolution will probably be introduced shortly which will define an entirely new system.

EXEMPTS AUTOMATIC VENDORS.

Mayor Convenes the Police Board's Slot Machine Order. Mayor Moore yesterday issued an order to Chief of Police Gallagher notifying him that the resolution passed by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners Monday evening not to contemplate the abolition of slot machines which do not involve the element of chance, He takes the position that the radical interpretation of the resolution taken by the chief was not contemplated by the board and that the merchandise machines cannot legally be distributed.

PLENTY OF PLACE FOR CHARITY.

Superintendent Laughland Talks on the Situation. Superintendent Laughland of the Associated Charities said yesterday that the work of supplying the poor with food was continued yesterday and the balance of the big supply of coal which was collected for Thanksgiving was distributed among six families. Starting in Monday morning clothing will be given out to deserving people. In connection with the supply of clothing, Superintendent Laughland takes exception to the statements of several principals of public schools who are quoted as saying that the supply of wearing material contributed by the Associated Charities was larger than the demand.

RAILROAD NOTES AND PERSONALS.

At Union Pacific headquarters it is said that the regular session of the board of directors of the company has been received from New York City. St. Louis, President S. H. H. Clark is expected here from St. Louis, where he was in a naturally looked up with more than ordinary interest.

AT THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. A. A. Kinkaid's visit will probably be at the First Presbyterian church today, occupying the pulpit both morning and evening. The morning topic will be "Right Use of Common Things" and the evening topic "The Hand That Feeds." Evening topic, "One Thing That Lacked."

TIME IS TWO DAYS SHORT.

Attention to the Order Changing the Live Stock Rate.

STATE BOARD IN TO B G A HURRY.

Order for Change in Rates Confirms with an Interstate Commission Rate. Railroads Not to be Affected.

The publication of the order of the State Board of Transportation ordering the restoration of live stock rates based on dollars per carload, which bank of rates was the only one in vogue prior to August 10, 1897, created further excitement among railway men yesterday. The appearance of the order in the press before the railroads received official notification of the same occasioned some comment, and all the railroad men united in declaring that the only advice they had of the forthcoming order, which they had read in the morning newspapers.

In the order, Sunday, December 5, is set as the date for the change from live stock rates in cents per 100 pounds to dollars per carload. An official word was given yesterday said regarding this matter. "As this order is announced to become effective on December 5, it is clearly in violation of the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The commission has declared that at least ten days' notice must be given a railroad before any change in rates is made and ten days' notice has not yet been received, there are but eight full days before the order is to take effect."

BURLINGTON FEELS IT KEENLY.

"To the Burlington the injustice of ordering a restoration of the old rates is more apparent than to other railroads. It is for this reason that most of our stock cars are thirty-eight feet long, about four feet longer than the public car, and very early in the season we have a car in our yards that is at least ten inches wider. Now we certainly an unjust discrimination to compel us to submit to the same carload rates in volume as other lines do. We certainly are overworked the cars in would be a different matter, but we have a case on now where a man crowded sixty-four cattle into a car that was built to accommodate thirty, and has brought suit against us because some of them were crowded to death."

BALDWIN SEEN IN KANSAS CITY.

Says He Will Remain and Never Return to Omaha. KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27.—(Special Telegram)—Daniel Baldwin, the ex-Omaha policeman who disappeared, was in this city, Baldwin is searching for employment in Kansas City and says he is determined to remain here, but he said he has deserted his wife and children again, but will send them money. Baldwin's halitination is that all his friends have deserted him and that his wife believes that he is untrue to her. He is under the impression that some terrible trouble will overtake him should he return to Omaha and stubbornly refuses to listen to suggestions about going home.

ONCE CREATED A FUROR IN SWELL SOCIETY.

Deserts from the Navy and Settles in Newark.—Disappointment in Love Leads Him to Take His Own Life. NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The man who killed himself at Newark, N. J., on Wednesday night is now known to have been Marcus Musquin Deigi Azzi Viteleschi. The unfortunate marquis, according to the Herald, formerly was an officer in the Italian navy, but he said he has deserted his ship in this city rather than possibly face charges of remaining ashore longer than his leave allowed, and of quarrelling with a brother officer. The young man had been employed as a printer, and a paper which was found in his room told who he was. It was headed "Testament" and is as follows:

My dear wife, I have been thinking of you and of our children ever since I have deserted you. I am very sorry to hear of your troubles. But there was my wife and children and I must live for them. I have written to Captain Moxey to turn my money over to your wife.

HIVERTON PARK'S ZOO.

The board which was recently purchased by the Board of Park Commissioners, arrived yesterday afternoon and will be installed at Riverview park. The animal is only 2 years old and weighs 1,300 pounds. It is a very handsome specimen and has been thoroughly domesticated. The animal will be moved to the new zoo at Riverview park this morning, and these will be utilized to accommodate the specimens to the menagerie which is being constructed by Frank E. Gordon.

WAS AN ITALIAN NOBLEMAN.

Has a Recent Suicide in the City of Newark.

Deserts from the Navy and Settles in Newark.—Disappointment in Love Leads Him to Take His Own Life.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The man who killed himself at Newark, N. J., on Wednesday night is now known to have been Marcus Musquin Deigi Azzi Viteleschi.

Here he names the person against whom he obtained judgment and refers to the man and his wife in terms anything but flattering. Continuing he tells us that he has had some other things as follows: A bed, desk and other pieces of furniture, and a large number of books.

The title of the dead marquis is a senator in the Italian Chamber and the family is said to be one of the oldest in the Italian nobility. He was a tall and finely proportioned man of aristocratic appearance. He had been educated for the Italian naval service and held a commission as lieutenant on the Aetna, which took part in the Columbian celebration and naval parade in New York bay in 1893.

Not long ago his father sent him a draft for $2,000 and other remittances had been received by him at regular intervals. He engaged in the printing business some time ago and was apparently in a fair way to
