GIFT TO CORNELL

The two sons of the late Henry W. Sage of Ithaca, N. Y., have tendered to Cornell university the family home for a hospital and a fund of $100,000 to endow tender was made on December 1 and was accepted by the trustees of the university. Speaking of the gift President Schurman says: "We have long been in need of a hospital for sick students, and efforts to secure one have been made in the past, though unavail-ing. At present our students go to the Ithaca hospital, which is small and greatly over-crowded by city patients. Hereafter the young men and women attending Cornel Cornell university will have a hospital for their ow exclusive use, owned and controlled by the university. The building has one of the besites in the city, and while elevated above the city and surrounding street, it is ye easily accessible by the electric road and not distant from the main thoroughfares. The house is of stone and is solidly built. It is understood that, with the grounds, Mr. Sage's home originally cost over $80,000, and since his sons propose to make alterations and additions to it and furnish and equip it completely, it will, when turned over to the university, no doubt represent a cost not far from $100,000, which, with the endowmen-In regard to the endowment of $100,000 for the maintenance of the infirmary, Schurman pointed out that Mr. S erected the library building, he also gave an endowment fund of $300,000 for the purchase he maintenance of the Sage School of Phi-

The demand for teachers thoroughly trained in these departments is constantly growing. Many of these who would like to take special training are employed during the school year. They will now be enabled to pursue a course at the university during the summer vacation. This action of the university is preliminary to the introduction of industrial training into the common schools of Nebraska. The second important step was the adoption of a plan for thoroughly testing different means of prevention for hog cholera at the experiment station. Dr. Day and Dr. Peters were au-thorized to buy 100 head of swine for experimental purposes. These will be divided into four equal lots. The first will be given the serum treatment, the second the sterilized culture, the third the attenuated culture and the fourth will not be inoculated. After treatment the inoculated animals will be sent into infected herds. ever held by this organization. It holds December 27 to 30 inclusive.

In addition to the yearly routine work to be done, a number of special attractions have been announced. Among these will be an address by United States Commissioner of Education William T. Harris, who has been abroad many years, studying educational methods all over the world, and who has but lately returned home; an address by Dr. David Starr Jordan, one of the most prominent Pacific coast educators, and many others, among whom is President John W. Cook ers, among whom is President John W. Cook of the Illinois State Normal school. A most pleasing feature of the convention will be the musical carnival which occurs on Wednesday, December 29. This event has been arranged so that lovers of college glee songs will be afforded a rare treat. Several of the best college quartets and vocalists in the country have been secured and many rare old gems will be rendered.

The convention will be in charge of Pres ident J. W. Crabtres, Lincoln; Secretary Lil-lian U. Stoner, Valentine, and Tressurer C. R. Atkinson, Fairbury. There will be an executive committee composed of E. N. Brown, Hastings; W. H. Clemmon, Fremont; J. F. Taylor, Lincoln, and J. W. Crabtree. Lincoln. Special committees have been appointed to take charge of the college section, county superintendents' section, high school work, grammer school work, primary section, the Nebraska Library association, Society for Child Study, Nebraska Teachers of Litera-ture, Nebraska Teachers of History and the Association of Women.

Half rates on all railroads have been secured and the same may be said of the first-class hotels of Lincoln. The hotel assignment work is in charge of C. F. Beck of Lincoln, who should early be communicated with for the securing of quarters. The books for the enrollment of members will be opened in the library room in Lincoln Monday, December 27, at 1:30 p. m. A list of membership will be published each morning, together with hotel addresses, so that old friends may visit each other. All meetings held will be free, with the exception of the evening entertainments at the Lansing theater, admission to which will be by ticket theater, admission to which will be by ticket only. The executive and local committees only. The executive and local committees will have their headquarters in parlor I of the Lindell hotel, where all official business will be transacted. It has also been arranged that the State Board of Examiners will hold a special session at Lincoln during the convention for the purposes of issuing professional state certificates, and the board and the state superintendent will hold open offices during Monday and Tuesday of the convention week. A debate, "Should Hawail be annexed to the United States?" has been planned and will be participated in by mempers from Lincoln, Hastings, Beatrice and Orete.

The first business session of the convention will open in the library building, room 23, Monday evening, December 27, at 8 p. m. The officers who will have charge are Prof. W. A. Clark, clerk, and Prof. C. E. Bessey, vice chairman. The session will be given over to the reading of reports from the county schools, normal schools, colleges and to legislation. Tuesday afternoon will be devoted to the work of the auxiliary associa-tions, including the Nebraska Library asso-ciation, Association of Nebraska Teachers of History and Nebraska Society for Child Study.

WOMAN'S PART IN IT. A meeting of the Association of Woman's lubs will be held in room 22, library ng, the same afternoon. Among the topics discussed and speakers will be, "Upon the Physical Plane." Mrs. C. D. Schell, Beatrice; "Upon the Intellectual Plane," Mrs. P. T. Buckley, Stromsburg; "As to Aesthetics— Music," Mrs. Frances W. Ford, Omaha, and As to Aesthetics-Arts," Mrs. Langworthy, Seward.

The meeting of the Association of School Boards will take place in room 4, Library building, at 2 p. m. Tuesday with Luther P. Ludden of Lincoln, H. H. Shedd of Ashland and L. M. Pemberton in charge. Tuesday evening a general session will be held at the Lansing theater, which will consist of music, an invocation and an address by Hon. William T. Harris. Wednesday forenoon will be devoted to another general session in the Lansing theater, 8 o'clock. A paper, "Applied Education," will be read by Hon. William T. Harris. 'The Right Emphasis in Education,' Judge M. B. Reese of Lincoln, and the "Reation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union to Education," by Mrs. Medora D. Nickoll of Beatrice. Another feature worthy of special mention will be the address of Chancellor George E. MacLean, who will speak upon "The Next Stage in the Educa-tional Development of Nebraska." This will be given in the Lansing theater Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Among the college which have agreed to enter into the musical carnival are Cotner, Doane, Fremont Normal, Grand Island, Hastings, Lincoln Nor-mal, Nebraska Normal, State Normal, University of Omaha and University School of Music. The convention will conclude with a session in the Lansing theater Thursday evening, December 30. Among the features will be an address upon "Evolution" by Dr. David Star Jordan of Leland Stanford university of California.
