The Board of Education was reorganized last night without incident. The caucus program of the majority went through without a hitch, and the minority members either joined the procession or tendered complimentary votes to their friends.

Secretary Giles called the board to order and J. F. Burgess was made temporary president. Thomas then moved the adoption of the rules and regulations of 1897, with amendments. Of these the most important were two changes by which the authority of the superintendent of schools is broadened. The first change vested in the superintendent the authority to make all assignments of teachers "after consultation with," instead of "with approval of" the committee on teachers and examinations. The second provided that no teachers should be elected or assigned by the board or any of its committees, unless they had certificates as required by the rules and were recommended by the superintendent. The rules as amended were unanimously adopted.

ELECTING A PRESIDENT.

The ballot was ordered for the election of a president and Thomas stated that he was in no way a candidate for the position and requested his friends not to vote for him. He was only partially taken up by word, the ballot resulting, Jordan, H. C. Thomas, J. I.

In accepting the chair Jordan briefly expressed his appreciation with some sentiment. He declared his intention to try to maintain the present high standard of the school and asked the members to co-operate with him to effect an economical and business-like administration of the schools.

The vote for vice president resulted, Grattan, H.; Bandhauer, J.; Sears, J. President Jordan then appointed the standing committees.

Attorney Covell reported the result of his attendance at the meeting of the Judiciary committee of the city council, which was held in the city hall, and in which the police court affairs, Burgess moved that the matter be referred to the committee on Judiciary and the attorney. It was moved, an amendment that the attorney be instructed to make a thorough investigation and push the charges before the council if he found them to be well founded. The original motion prevailed.

The application of Attorney Covell for reelection was placed on file. The application of Annie Sprague, Ida Griebeling, Bessie P. Skinner, Mabel M. Jenks, Etta M. Lowrey, Harriett C. Kent and M. S. Botta for positions as teachers were also on file.

The resignation of Miss Mollie Brown of the Cass school was accepted. A resolution by Dennis allowed that the instructor in charge of the commercial department at the High school had proved incompetent and directed the High school committee to investigate the matter at once. Hesse objected to the resolution on the ground that it convicted a man before he had been tried. This view prevailed. The resolution was placed on file and the investigation was ordered without prejudice.

After the regular meeting of the board President-elect Jordan entertained the members of the majority and a few invited guests with a banquet at Henshaw's. A beautiful repast was served in the private dining room and the assistance of a most enjoyable social hour.

Mayor Moores Will Veto the Unpaid Tax Resolution.

Mayor Moores has decided to veto the resolution adopted at a late meeting of the city council, by which the comptroller was instructed to make his books conform to the new fund balances which were obtained by adding the uncollected balances of the last four tax levies. The mayor's objection objects to the change, which would place a large theoretical balance in the various funds without actually adding a cent to the cash resources.

New Year Greeting

We wish you a Happy New Year. During the year '98 we expect to remain in business and we ask the continuance of your trade. We do not ask it on the strength of our reputation. Or because you have known us a long time. Or because we sold goods cheap last year. We ask it because we will sell you goods cheap this year. With us every year must take care of its own business. Every sale must stand on its own bottom. Every one must judge us by what he buys—not by what his neighbor buys. We expect to increase our business this year on the same lines that we increased it last year—by keeping quality up and keeping prices down. Our contracts with mills and manufacturers lead us to think that whatever surprises will come to you in the shape of low prices this year will come largely from The Nebraska and that the first of them will make its appearance very soon.
