C. B. TOWER ROBBED OF CASH AND CHECK

Victim is Unable to Describe His Assailant Further Than That He Was a Tall Man—Loses $95.

The notable hard luck of the Omaha footpads changed last night when he secured the first haul in months that was worth while from C. B. Tower in the shadow of the fence around the Exposition grounds. The offender took place about 8 o'clock at a point a short distance east of Twenty-fourth street on Pratt, and Tower was robbed of $95 in cash and a check for $25.

Mr. Tower is a professional nurse and for some time past has been attending the family of R. A. McClosky, near Twenty-first and Manderson streets. He has been in the habit of carrying considerable money with him and last night had the amount named, together with a check signed by Mr. McClosky in the inner pocket of his vest. His duties for the day were over and he had started to return to his lodgings, at 1609 Douglas street. The nearest course was along the exposition fence to the Twenty-fourth street car line. The route is unusually lonely, being partially fenced in and almost without street lights or police protection. Tower had nearly reached the open highway on Twenty-fourth street when he came to a log in the fence, where a tall man with a muffer around his face was in hiding. Tower was startled by the meeting and sprang back, when he saw the man spring upon him and struck him on the head. The man grappled, but the highwayman proved stronger and with a warning to keep silent hastily searched Tower's pockets. He had no difficulty in discovering the wallet in the inner pocket and extracting the money he ran along the board walk.

The latter circumstance afforded almost the only description Tower was able to give of his assailant. He says the foot falls fell sharply, showing that the man wore no over-shoes. Further, that the man's pockets displayed to observe. He was not sure whether the highwayman was white or black, but is of the opinion that he was tall. No revolver was in sight and very few words were spoken. The detectives believe that the seclusion of the meeting place indicated a knowledge on the robber's part of Tower's habit of going through the market carrying a considerable amount of money, but they have almost no clew to work upon.

The case of a determined young house-breaker named Amansbury was twice brought to the attention of the police last night. About 8 o'clock he was observed loitering near a fruit stand at Sixteenth and Capitol avenue in company with another boy. Officer Rentfro approached the pair and saw that they had broken open the locks of several fruit boxes. The boys ran away at full speed, when they were discovered and it was not until they had been taken to the police station and several of the locks were found upon their persons. They had broken open the boxes through the lever of a scale. He had lighted the gas and was making an examination of the desk, which contained 15 cents in pennies. The patrolman noticed the light and looking in the window saw the boy at his work. He called to him to come out, when the boy was seen to throw something in the gutter and turn out the light. He was natural entrance was a light door secured with a padlock, which the officer wrenched open and the young burglar was brought out. He was charged with incorrigibility.

F. Habern arrived in Omaha yesterday afternoon with $20, which he shortly afterward parted with, so he believed, to three women named Ella Roland, Minnie Talton and Mabel Whitcomb. The occurrence took place on Twelfth street, where Habern was invited to an informal reception. He was unable to decide which woman got the money, and caused the arrest of all three on the charge of larceny from the person.

F. Evans was arrested last night on suspicion of having failed to return some personal property which was recently borrowed from John Hamilton at 170 Dodge street. Hamilton had an acquaintance answering Evans' description who was known as Roth, and the latter wishing to make a good appearance at a social affair, had secured of Hamilton's overcoat and gold ring. Hamilton says his acquaintance has been careless in returning the property, and as a result that he has been blackballed. He was suitably attired. He has not as yet called to identify Evans.

PUSHING SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Rev. Duhring on What is Being Accomplished.

URGES CREATION OF A LARGE FUND.

Learned Divine Will Address an Omaha Audience Tonight, Fully Explaining the Scope of the Work He Has in Hand.

Rev. Herman L. Duhring, superintendent of the Episcopal city mission work of Philadelphia and general superintendent of the Episcopal Sunday school institute of the United States, arrived yesterday morning on invitation of Bishop Worthington to visit this city and other points in the diocese. Rev. Duhring is on a tour of the country in the interests of Sunday school missionary work generally and for the particular purpose of urging the Episcopal Sunday schools of the country to make a large donation to the foreign and domestic mission funds during the coming Lenten season. It is the practice in the schools of his denomination to make up collections for this purpose every Lent. Last year $63,000 was secured in this way and in 1896, $70,000 was collected. The Sunday School Institute, however, desires this year to reach the $100,000 mark as a memorial to Rev. William Langford, late secretary of the board of missions who died suddenly last August.

Superintendent Duhring, however, is also engaged in general Sunday school missionary work, which is not entirely confined by denominational boundaries. He is at present endeavoring to increase the scope of the Episcopal Sunday schools, but this is only part of a general scheme to spread Sunday school work without regard to sects or denominations. The number of different denominations, including the Episcopal, have set to work to increase their Sunday schools 50 per cent by 1900 and Rev. Duhring is working along these lines.

EXTENT OF THE WORK.

In this connection Rev. Duhring stated that there are at present 2,700,000 teachers engaged in Sunday school work in the world. This number is divided among the various countries as follows: United States and Canada, 13,600,000; England and Wales, 7,700,000; Scotland, 1,100,000; Germany, 800,000; Sweden and Norway, 500,000; European states, 500,000; Australia, 1,300,000; West Indies, 200,000; South America, 250,000; islands of the sea, 400,000; Asia, 800,000; Africa, 400,000.

In the opinion of Rev. Duhring there is a very bright prospect ahead for the Episcopal Sunday school in this country. The school now numbers 5,000. The number of teachers is some 54,000 and there are over 500,000 pupils. During the last year the number of pupils has increased 100,000 and 2,500 more teachers have been engaged. Rev. Duhring says that the teachers are becoming more capable; substantial and commodious school buildings are being built and the work of the Sunday schools is advancing in every way.

System is also being introduced gradually into Sunday school work. During the last two years, the Sunday school institute has established the parent of them all in the Pennsylvania Institute, which has just celebrated its twenty-eighth anniversary. The institute is now in England, where there are now about 400 institutes. In this connection it will be of interest to many Omahans to know that the Rev. Duhring is the son of one of the founders of the Sunday School Institute of the United States, which Rev. Duhring is representing. At the time the bishop was a rector in Detroit. Also in connection with the charming Jessie of Little Miss Walker and the Nerissa of Miss Humphreys.

Mme. Scatchi, the great and favorite contralto, will be heard in concert at Boyd's tonight, presenting a miscellaneous program, including the fourth act of "Evans' Opera" and the second act of "The Girl I Left Behind Me." The program will be assisted by Miss Toulingue, a dramatic soprano, Thomas McQueen, tenor in Detroit. Also in connection with the sale of seats insure a very large audience.

The mails of honor of Queen Polaris will occupy boxes at the Seacal concert tonight. A misapprehension has arisen from an erroneous announcement that the band from Fort Crockett would be in the city for a performance Friday night. It is the Omaha First infantry band which will be heard on that occasion and not the fort band.

David Belasco and Franklin Fyles celebrated America's first "The Girl I Left Behind Me" comes to Boyd's next Sunday afternoon and evening. The record made by this piece is phenomenal. It abounds in thrilling situations, but has not the remotest resemblance to the lurid melodrama whose birthplace is generally the Bowery. "The Girl I Left Behind Me" is a piece of action, done dramatically by the Rev. of the American Indian and the American military post and clashes them strongly.

At Boyd's the first three nights of next week Herbert Kelley and Effie Shannon, accompanied by their own company, will be seen in "The Girl I Left Behind Me," a comedy, "A Coat of Many Colors." The sale of seats and boxes begins this morning.

Tickets for Nansen's lecture to be delivered in Creighton theatre Friday afternoon and in the First Methodist church in the evening, will be placed on sale at Kuh's drug store tomorrow morning.

DREXEL SHOE COMPANY.

Honest Value, Fair Dealings Drew Large Crowds Yesterday.

LADIES' $6.00 PATENT CALF SHOES, $2.50.

We Always Have the Shoes We Advertise—At the Prices We Advertise—Many Shoes and Slippers Have the Prices Cut in Half.

When shoes get in our store and for some reason move slowly, we just cut the price—cut it deep enough at first to move them as though they were on a toboggan slide, believing it better business than to hold them in stock, simply because they cost us more than this quick selling will bring. If you've not been to this sale, ask your neighbor about it. Then you'll come yourself.

Twenty bargain tables piled full of shoes and slippers—price ranging from 48c up to $1.98, and many more. But you'll say it's good for twice the money.

One table of ladies' $2.50 box calf shoes now $1.25. Another table of $3 patent tip, button, sizes 2 1/2 to 7, at $1.48. Table after table of ladies' and misses' shoes, button and lace, for 88c.

A big table of boys' lace shoes for 95c; its cheaper than having the old ones mended. Another table that's always surrounded is filled with bronze strap slippers that were $2.50 now 98 cents.

Ladies' $6 patent leathers, are $2.50. Ladies' $5 tan lace shoes, are $2.50. Ladies' jersey leggings, $1.00; misses' 75 cents, children's 65 cents. Children's corduroy leggings, 75c, leather, 75c.

We've taken all of our men's pointed toe patent calf shoes, including the Hanan & Soes', Edwin Clapp's, cloth and kid tops, most of them retailed for $7; none less than $8, and put them in one lot at $2.98. For the men with small feet we've $5 and $6 shoes at $1.98.

Men's broken sizes French calf, congress, $1.98. Men's broken sizes French calf, congress, $1.98. Men's broken sizes French calf, congress, $1.98.

Hanan's boys' calf, winter tans, and French calf, enamel, calf lined, $7 stock, now $4.95. $4 and $5 box calf, calf lined, double sole, $2.98. Enamel $5 value, bull dog top, heavy soles, $2.98. $5 and $6 kid, calf lined, rubber soles, $4 box calf, rubber soles, now 2.50.

Are you skeptical?

Do you fear that the suits we are offering—during this 20 per cent reduction sale—at $15, $18, $20 and $22 are too cheap to be good? Do you think the woollens offered at such a price must be part shoddy? Then listen!

These suits are cut to your order from English and Scotch Cheviots—Homespuns—Tweeds—Worsted and Casimeres—in exclusive designs of our own. They are scrupulously tailored in the very latest fashion—the fitting and finishing receives the same careful attention, as the higher priced garments—and are in every way adapted to the requirements of the most exacting dresser.

You'll have more faith in the assertion when you see the fabrics—when you feel their good quality—and inspect the making and trimming of garments.
