TRYING TO WIPE OUT DEBT

Iowa Legislators Attempt to Devise Ways and Means.

MAY BE ACCOMPLISHED IN TWO YEARS

Joint Report of the Committees on Ways and Means is Submitted-Necessary to Carve on Appropriations.

DES MOINES, Feb. 26.-(Special Telegram.)-The joint report of the committees on ways and means of both houses was filed in both bodies today. It gives the basis of anticipated revenue on which the state must work in arranging its appropriations for the coming biennial period. For 1898 it is estimated the treasury will receive $2,231,354, which, adding $108,645 on hand January 1, gives $2,340,000 available. Expenditures for the same time are estimated at $2,045,000. this including only $90,000 for extraordinary appropriations. Resources thus exceed expenditures by $295,000. Applying this amount to the state debt of $717,326 will reduce the debt at the end of the year to $422,326. The 1899 estimated expenditures are $1,825,000. With the same income as estimated for 1898, the balance of the debt would be paid during 1899; all but $82,000 of it during the first half of that year.

If the legislature makes extraordinary appropriations to any amount it must raise the lovy or give up the effort to get out of debt during the next blennium. A levy of 3 mills for 1899 would get the state out of debt and leave about $100,000 surplus, provided the valuation under the new revenue law re-mains as high as under the old, of which there is some doubt. The substance of the report is that it will require a 3-mill levy in 1899 and the assumption that the valuation will not contract under the new law to allow the state to get out of debt provided any extraordinary appropriations are made. It is certain that some will be made. The amount is impossible to estimate, but there If the state gets out of debt in the next two years, especially in the face of the clamor against an increase of the levy to 3 mills, it will be a remarkable acplishment.

In the house Ray presented a resolution to adjourn March 18. There is no prospect that work can be completed by that date. The resolution by Downing, populist, to cen-sure Congressman Hull of the Des Moines district for leaving his post in Washington and coming home to lobby for a building and loan bill was unceremoniously killed by indefinite postponement. Efforts were made, both forenoon and afternoon, to pass the primary election bill in the house, but it falled both times. The bill by Bailey of Sioux to prevent insurance companies dis-criminating between persons of like occupations and expectancy of life in the charge of promiums passed by a large majority. It is almed at certain organizations outside the which have taken advantage of a flaw in the law.

The senate did little business, devoting the time to minor matters. A bill was passed providing that the state pay the express charges of documents issued by it and an-other allowing the agricultural college to buy a tract of land for the experimental

At the afternoon session the house passed the McArthur senate bill to make appoint ment of police matron in cities optional with the council. The Potter bill, to increase from 1 to 2 per cent of gross receipts the tax on express companies, passed unanimously. The bill to provide a state board of barbering was defeated by a vote of 41 yeas to 30 tays, lacking ten of a constitutional majority. It will be reconsidered when there is a fuller attendance. there is a fuller attendance

CAMPAIGN MANAGER ARRESTED. S. L. Gross, one of the managers of the campaign of John Sherman for the republican nomination for mayor, was arrested this evening on charge of M. Chiesa, a prominent saloon man, who accuses him of forgery. The charge is that Gross, in collusion with other Sherman managers who are not mamed, forged and issued 10,000 tickets reading, "Good for 5 cents in trade, M. Chiesa." These ously by the Sherman agents, with the explanation that they were given out from MacVicar headquarters. The object was, according to the MacVicar people, to make it appear that MacVicar was doing a wholesale liquor business by way of booming his candidacy. A large number of the tickets were presented at the salcon and refused; finally a bunch of them was secured from a man who came in and offered them in exchange for a quarter keg of beer. The man declared that Gross gave him the tickets and explained that they were from MacVicar adquarters. The MacVicar people promise

Estimate of lowa's Debt.

DES MOINES, Feb. 26.-The ways and means committee in both houses of the general assembly will report today an estimate of the state's debt at the end of the fiscal of the states deed at the Fig. 37 the factor year June 30, viz.: $122,326.50. The committee is unable to estimate the levy to be made this year because of the un-certainty of appropriations. It is hoped that state will again be out of debt at the SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.-Dr. Charles F. Brigham, at St. Luke's hospital, made a complete excision of the stomach of a female patient suffering with cancer and at a late hour last evening, thirty-six hours after the operation, she was resting comfortably with almost a normal pulse and temperature. It will be at least a week, however, before there can be well grounded hope for complete recovery. The patient is 65 years of age and for the last three months has taken nothing but liquid food and that in very small quantities. Dr. Brigham, who has been attending her, decided to make an incision with a view to possible gastrectomy or gastro-gasterotomy, but after finding two-thirds of the tomach involved in the malignant growth he decided upon complete excision. In this he was assisted by Drs. Boyd, Porter and Huntington. The patient was a little over two hours under the knife, the anaesthetic causing her no subsequent discomfort. This is the third operation of the kind on record.

Dr. Brigham conducted the operation upon much the same methods followed successfully by Dr. Carl Schlatter in Zurich and his paient will be nursed back to strength under a similar diet. Prices Vary Widely on Chicago Board of Trade.

WEEK STARTS WITH A BULGE IN WHEAT

After Reaching the High Point in the December Squeeze it Drops Back to the Prices of a Week Ago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 .- The course of the wheat market in the past week has been an extremely erratic one and prices have covered a wide range. May showing 646 cents gun club for the annual meeting of the South Dakota Sporting association here the first week in June. The prizes will be liberal and the contests entered into by some of the best shots in the northwest. principal factors were the operations of Joseph Leiter and the course of Wall street Leiter that he had sold 4,000,000 bushels of protect weekly "calls" and sudden bidding for July by Leiter brokers caused a stampede of new shorts and resulted in the wildest market seen since the bull campaign started months ago. The market advanced about 5½ cents, May reaching the highest point touched during the December bulge, $1.09, and July sold to 93% cents. A 3-cent reaction followed on heavy realizing. The nervousness continued through Monday's session, though in a minor degree. There were further efforts of shorts to get out in view of Tuesday's holiday, but scarcity of offerings made trading in large lots out of the question. Small further advances were scored. Weakness developed on Wednesday on sharp declines in the English markets. and on Thursday the slump in Wall street, resulting from the gravity of the Cuban news, ceuced a general unloading of the smaller holders of wheat, the market becoming fully as weak as it had been strong earlier in the week. There was an increasing disposition shown among traders after Monday's bulge to close out their trades in wheat and go into the coarser grain markets on account of the belief that Leiter had almost complete control of wheat, and the effect was seen in the greatly diminished volume of trade in that commodity, except during the periods of excitement. Improvement in Wall street caused some covering of shorts early in Fri-day's session, but lack of support, heavy Argentine shipments and lower English mar-kets made a weak market of it later.

> "There has just been placed side by side in the Smithsonian institute at Washington two snowshoes which represent as fairly as anything in existence the progress of civilization on this continent," brose of Baltimore last evening. them is a most primitive affair and was originally secured by the Wilkes exploring expedition. It represents the oldest type of snowshoes known. The other is a snowshoe 100 of the sort that one sees in the shops where articles of that sort are sold—the modern type. The first of these was found at the mouth of the Columbia river in the state of Washington. The frame is an elongated and irregular hoop of pole, spliced and wrapped at the heel. There are no cross bars, but three turns of the rawhide netting are sewed together and answer precisely to the rest under the ball of the foot in the modern specimen. In the old snowshoe may be seen in a rude and primitive form what it known as the 'Renfrew fost' netting, set in a series of sliegs made of twined babiche or strips of rawhide, and caught around the frame with a half hitch and single truknot. In the irregular and artistic spacing of the slings are seen the foreshadowing of the open ornamental lacing on the more voyageurs, which are readily made in the same manner—by omitting the filaments that pass straight across in a triangle longer than it is wide.

The modern netted speeshoe is a strong contrast. Its frame is of one piete of squared and tapered wood, cut in a curve the toe. It is bent almost square in froand joined together at the beel with a short trailer; flat, somewhat short and broad, an having two crossbars set well front and but The front and rear netting is very light, acis attached to the knotted selvedge thousin the usual way. The ingenuity of the maker has been exhausted on the long can tral space. The most noteworthy features are the six-sided weaving in stout thoug the double loop knots above the frame, the single loops above the cross pieces, enclosed. ing at the same time the selvedge and the long twisted ends that form these groups Then there are the quadruple cross thou: footings to the holes in the wood anywhere about the middle space.
