THE ADVERTISING PAKIR.

Brand New One Appears in Omaha

Every Day. The fakir, like the poor, is always with us, but at some times he is more numerous than at other times. He is the forerunner and the companion of fairs, expositions and special happenings. A great many persons HOUSEWIFE who never have and never will make an honcet living have as keen a sense of the pleasure of attending these great occasions as other people, but not having the money they cast about for some scheme by the sid of which they can fleece the public out of their expenses whilst attending three expositions. Begging will not do, for they would be arrested; highway robbery is open to the same objection, but a living they must have The list of fake advertising schemes is studied and a scheme chosen, not on account of its merits, but because the parties think

> Last year, through the efforts of the adertising men, the newspapers and the mer-chants of Omaha, that king of all fake chemes, the State Fair Bulletin, got its quietus, and mrey other equally defarious enterprises of this kind were laid low and abandened for lack of support. But this year the eyes of every fakir in the country tre turned on Omaha as the harvest field. Within a week the writer has received two propositions to help push a fake which its promoters declare is a dead "cinch," stating that it will yield a profit of $5,000 between the 15th of March and the 15th of April cext. These gentlemen from the east confidently expect to have the merchants of Omaha ontribute to them for the privilege of placing their advertising in a special directory for the coming exposition. Just think of the margin there must be in this great fake which would yield at the rate of $60,000 cold each for its promoters in the year. This is better than Klondike gold mining stock at Parties are now at work in Omaha upon a we are able to display this stock to advantage to our customers. We have gone houses. They offer to direct exposition visitors the stock carefully and marked every tors to these rooms and lodging houses for 16 per cent of the gross revenue from the parties located. Thus the proprietor is to take and pay for an advertisement in the directory; the amount charged for the space varied according to the number of rooms the advertiser has for rent. For lestance, Mrs. A., with ten rooms, pays $25 for a half page in the directory, whilst Mrs. B., with We offer at this sale a fine Rosewood page in the directory, whilst Mrs. B. with cased sample piano, four feet seven inches five rooms, only pays $12.50 for the same space in the directory. The payments for these advertisements are made so much day. and the balance when the directory is delivered. The real advantages of this scheme to the schemer will appear when it is remembered that most hotels are rented on the basis of 10 per cent of the gross receipts. The schemer at this case not only zets an extortionate price for his space i the proposed directory, but actually rent on the helel or lodging house into the bargain. It: other words the proprietor not only pays for his advertising, but pays the takir a second rent on his premises for the privilege. A want ad in any of the daily papers would bring a thousandfold greater turns at one-tenth the cost.

This is just one of a score of schemes which are being sprieg on private citizens and merchants by faking from outside of Omaha. They offer no return for money paid them. They sever have and never will contribute a cent to the support of our city or its citizent. Good money is being lost in these worse than useless schemes. The time red patience of our merchants are being very out, and real opportunities for profitable advertising being lost. This matter of advertising is a recognized part of modern business methods, and should receive careul consideration from every business men. A merchant can to more afford to place his ectory or program than he can afford to house his asincss in a hen coop and then expect up-date, discrect buyers to patronize him. A medium to be of value must reach your lass of customers. It must reach a suffitient cumber of them and most have suffitient prestige and the confidence of the your announcement. This no transient fake scheme can have. A score of bushless men and merchants have thanked me for my former communications in these columns on he fake advertising schemer, and have assist the fakir in the future. It is doubtful whether any newspaper would get less ad-vertising if the woods were ten times fuller of fake schemers than they are now. They are not the ones who suffer. It is the merchant who patronizes the fake who paye the fiddler and dances to the tune which the takir plays. It is a sort of nickle-in-the-siot game, in which the man with the nickel is Country Merchants Take Advantage of Reduced Railroad Rates.

During the last week a considerable num ber of country merchants from the territory including Iowa, north Missouri, South Da kota, northern Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado Utah and Wyoming have been in the city buying their spring stocks of goods. Jobbers, particularly those dealing in dry goods have been busy in looking after these cus-

The merchants have been attracted by special excursion rates of one and one-third fare for the round trip from all points in the territory mentioned which comes within the jurisdiction of the Western Passenger association. These tickets were placed or sale from February 19 to 25 and are good returning between February 23 and March 5, both inclusive. The excursion rates were secured by the Merchants' bureau of the Commercial club. While a considerable number of country merchants were here, a greater number are expected at the second meeting next month between March 26 and April 1. The same reduced rates will then be in effect. The dates named will be placed between the dates named and will be good returning between March 30 and April 9. A greater crowd is expected then because the present me is considered a little too early for the country merchanta to stock up.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

Date for Holding the Spring Tests Has Not Yet Been Fixed. There is some doubt when the spring ivil service examinations for positions in the postoffice, internal revenue and customs departments will take place. Miss Coffin, secretary of the local board, has written to Washington regarding the date, but has received an answer that it has not yet been fixed by the civil service commission. According to the recent instructions sent out, however, the examinations will be held some time between March 15 and April 25.

A considerable number of applications of persons who desire to take the examinations have been filed with Secretary Coffin. Not very many more can be filed, since they must all be handed to the secretary by All applications that are presented for filing after that day will be

Difficulties in the Way of Making a Connection Overcome and the Pressure Turned on at Midnight.

Omaha Water company and the buildings on the grounds are protected against danger hey can work it, and clear up the most was caused by the conditions which were found to exist when work was started. The frost had penetrated the ground to a considerable depth, causing great difficulty in excavating the trench, and it was found that there was no valve in the exposition mains near where the connection was to be made, so that it was necessary to allow the water to run into the excavation and then pump it out before the work could proceed. These difficulties were surmounted, however, and the water was turned on.

> The next step will be to make connections grounds has been supplied through an inch pipe with water for construction purposes, but a complete system of large mains was laid some time ago the full length of this tract and connection will be made with this system at Sixteenth and Pinckney streets Work was started on this connection as soon as the water was turned into the main court, and there will be no cessation until the connection is completed. It is expected that this work will be finished some time Monday. The other connections will be made as fast as possible and by the end of the oming week it is thought the entire sition system will be connected on all sides with the water company's mains, giving a complete circulating system. > Plan for a Great Gathering Submitted to Exposition Authorities. F. A. Wood of Cedar Rapids, Ia., president f the National Firemen's association, and E. I. Alderman of Marion, Ia., vice presiden of the same organization for Iowa, are in the city for the purpose of making arrangements with the exposition management for a na ional tournament of firemen to be held in

Omaha some time during the latter par of the summer. "There has been no national tournament f firemen in the United States since the ournament held in Chicago in 1878," said President Wood to a Bee representative. 'At that celebration there were 17,000 firemen in line in the parade, and it is eviden from that that it is no small affair. I be leve if a tournament is held in Omaha and fair amount is offered in prizes that fully 75,000 people will be brought here as a result of the tournament alone." Messrs. Wood and Alderman called on President Wattles and presented the matter to him and also visited the exposition grounds with a view of determining whether a suitable place could be found there. They were well pleased with the opportunities of fered by the north tract of the exposition grounds and said this could be made to answer very well for the many tests of skill and efficiency which go to make up the firenen's tournament.

President Wattles agreed to lay the matter before the executive committee. EXCURSIONISTS FROM MINNESOTA

The Montana mining exhibit is growing at rapid rate and the preparations which are being made by that state for participation in the exposition are being greatly colarged. The Department of Exhibits has been notified that, in addition to the 2,000 feet already reserved by this state-in the Mines and Mining building, 600 feet more will be required in order to properly install the magnificent exhibit which is being collected. Vice President Sutherlin reports that matters are with the bluff tract. This portion of the a very promising condition so far as making grounds has been supplied through an inch an exhibit is concerned and he promises a showing in minerals and all other lines to be represented that will reflect great credit on the state and also on the exposition. In addition to its other exhibits the state will erect a state building at a cost of $12,000.

Buildings Selected from Which the gressman Mercer had succeeded in inducing commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones to advance the date of opening the Indian aupply depot in this city from June 1 to May 1 is existing conditions do not change was read with considerable satisfaction by the mem-bers of the Commercial club. That body bers of the Commercial club. That body has been especially vigorous in backing up Congressman Mercer in the matter.

The club members, however, do not se that there is anything left for them to do that thas not already been done. The club is ready to furnish a suitable building us soon as the government is ready to accept it. This building has been formally tendered rent free by the city authorities. Nothing remains to be done except for the govern ment to accept the offer, examine the build-ing to see if it is suitable and occupy it. Secretary Utt of the club says that neither e nor the club could do anything in the natter of selecting the building. They night rent one which the government officials would not deem suitable for the purposes for which it is to be used. Secretary Utt has a half dozen buildings on the string and is only waiting for the government to examine them and select the most suitable one In case Commissioner Jones himself comes to the city to make the selection, as is intimated in the dispatch, it is proposed to send a committee to Chicago to meet him and escort him to Omaha. The club has made efforts to have bids for Indian supplies opened in this city even be fore the opening of the depot, but is not very sanguine of success in this direction. It is not considered that the department on Indian affairs would care to purchase goods in this city before a place was obtained for storing them. However, Secretary Utt has written to Congressman Mercer regarding this and a day or so ago received an answer to the effect that the congressman would make an effort to have bids opened here for the purhase of equipment and horses for the Sloux

Some of these pets may think we've a rich uncle of an aunt that owns a Klondike gold mine. Well, we haven't. But if we had we wouldn't buy a car load of Hunyadi Water at one time. But if we did we'd pay for it ten days after we received it and set our discount. That's our way of doing business. We ask no time from anybody. There are some who do.

tion of the Great Show and the City of Omaha Combined in One Book.

In response to the great demand for illustrations and descriptive matter relating to the exposition, we have issued the first edition of the Official Guide Book to Omaha and the Exposition. This is the official and only guide book authorized by the exposition company. The book contains fifty full-page halftone illustrations, which thoroughly cover the representative scenes of the city with birdsmail, so they have something to show for eye views, etc., made from original photomail that they let out. By this system the graphs and drawings. The exposition views postmaster hopes to distribute the Sunday are exceptionally fine—the most of them mail in much less time than formerly, as made from drawings prepared especially for the purpose. The descriptive matter gives all the information obtainable at the present time concerning the exposition and in a con-densed and attractive form gives a clear idea Workmen Hurt at the Burlington of the many strong features which this expo sition will present. The descriptive write-up All of the workmen who were injured at of the city is the most comprehensive ever attempted and covers thoroughly both the business and social phases of Omaha life. structural iron which was being raised to especially for the purpose is inserted. This the roof will get well. Gus Larimer, who map is up to date and shows all the streets, was thought to have received internal in- street railway lines, railroads, parks and boulevards in distinguishing colors. It is just what you want to send to distan
