BURGLAR WINS A FOOT RACE

Blunder on Part of Officials Lets a Rad Man Cet Away.

RUNS AWAY FROM THE STREET GANG

Frank Casner, Caught with Plunder Under His Arm, Sent Out to Work on the Streets as a Vagrant.

It was not discovered until yesterday that Frank Casner, a vagrant picked up by Officer Martin and sentenced to the chain gang until he had done enough street cleaning work to approximate a fine of $15, was a burglar. The discovery was not made, however, until Casner had thrown down his shovel and won a foot race with the officer in charge of the gang. The incident occurred shortly after the street cleaning crowd had been put to work on Broadway. Casner is a large, husky young man and was shifty enough to take advantage of the first opportunity to drop his shovel and mix himself up with a number of vehicles in his vicinity and get a good start before his intention to quit work was made apparent by his actions. When last seen he was going in the direction of Omaha.

The proprietor of the Emmett house apfor the purpose of taking a look at Casner and examining some clothing he was curryand examining some cooling he was carry-ing under his arm when found by the officer at 3 o'clock in the morning. The clothing was promptly identified as the property of J. D. McDonald of Fairbury, Neb., a fire-man on the Rock Island rallway. McDonald was asleep in his room when the thief entered and stole his vest and trousers and all that they contained. He was making good his escape when he ran into Officer Martin's arms. He was unable to give uny reasonable excuse for his presence abroad at that hour and became still more an object of suspicion when he declared that the clothes he was carrying had been given him by some stranger with a request to take are of them until called for. On the way to the station the man endeavored to drop soveral articles and was prevented. When arraigned there was no charge placed against him but simple vagrancy, but a note was left for the city jailer asking to have him held for further investigation. The note was overlooked and the man was sent on the streets and took advantage of the first opportunity to escape. McDonald yes-terday filed an information in Justice Vien's court charging Casner with burglary.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETING Complete Arrangements for the Pending School Election. The Board of Education held a special meeting last night for the purpose of completing the arrangements for the school election next Monday. After some discussion it was decided that the number of tickets to be printed should be limited to 22,500, 10,000 each for the democrats and republicans and 2,500 for the populists, provided they hold a convention in time and nominate a ticket. It is understood that the populists will have a convention on Saturday evening and pos-sibly nominate a full city ticket. The judges and clerks of election were selected for the various voting districts, a member of the poard required by law to serve as one of the judges in each precinct. The election officers'

names follow:

Second district, Second ward: No. 13
North Main street.
Third district, consisting of Third ward and first precinct of Fourth ward: Terwilliger's barn, Main street.
Fourth district, consisting of Fifth ward and second precinct of Fourth: County building, corner Fifth avenue and Twelfth street.

Fifth district, Sixth ward: No. 2020 Broad-Chairman Spruit of the teachers' mittee reported that Miss Bull had ten-dered her resignation as one of the teachers on Friday evening and had left for Cleveland on the following day to take a position in the city schools there, and that her place had been filled by promoting Miss Vandercook. The report was approved. The letter of Superintendent Hisey notifying the board that he would not be a candidate for re-election was submitted by Mr Spruit, who stated that Mr. Hisey had in formed him of his election in another city and at his request Prof. Hisey prepared the letter that was published. Prof. Hisey explained that he had given the letter to the prees for the reason that he thought it adrisable to have the fact as widely tised as possible that there would be a vacancy here so as to enable the board to have plenty of material to select from. otherwise the letter would not have been published until it had been submitted to the board. Mr. Sims of the teachers' committee presented the names of a number of applicants who had filed written applications. Among the candidates whose letters he sub-mitted were W. O. Robinson, superintending principal of the borough schools at Athens, Pa.; Prof. G. W. Ellis, State Normal Training school, Peru, Neb.; A. B. Prospects Are Now Pavorable for a Early Agreement on This Measure_Paving of the Way.

DES MOINES, March 11 .- (Special Telegram.)-Oil was poured on the troubled waters in the senate this morning and the indications are brighter than ever for the immediate and substantial progress on the board of control bill. After a week of debate the ways and means committee was again sustained today by the defeat of the Lewis amendment. The vote had hardly been announced when Chairman Funk of the ways and means committee took the floor and an nounced that he wished to present a substitute. He explained that the provision for a statutory confirmation committee had called forth very harsh criticism. It had been alleged there was political intrigue connected with 't. For the committee he wished to say that it should not be taken as indinot be overlooked in securing evidence to committee and provides for the appointment convict—the law has been so changed that it of a committee of five without motion. In Iowa it is too late, even if it were hought desirable, to raise any considerable sum of money by private subscription, and it is universally recognized that if the legisature does not act the state will be unepresented or have only such representation as can be made by private exhibitors and with the $10,000 preliminary appropriation. Iowa of all states, doubtless even more than Nebruska, will benefit by the exposition. The visitors to the exposition from the east will be obliged to journey across the entire state and will see such an exhibit as no other state at the exposition can present. It will hardly do to have this first agreeable impression shattered by discovering that Iowa is either so mean in spirit or too poor in purse as not to be present at the expo-sition in the garb presented by other states. Thousands of visitors from Iowa will visit the exposition during the summer, in the aggregate up in the hundreds of thousands, and to these visitors it will be a source of more than regret to see a few mildewed apples and frayed stalks of corn as the only exhibition of Iowa's magnificent resources. Whatever may be thought now, it is certain that next summer failure to make an adequate appropriation will be the most unpopular act of the present legislature.

A JUDGE'S SUDDEN DEATH,

He Was Stricken In Church_A Strike ing Lesson To Those Who Neglect Timely Warnings.

A learned judge was taken suddenly sick in church, December 5, 1897, in the city of Brooklyn. Four days later, in spite of the best medical aid, he died. The doctors said the judge had kidney disease and had lived a surprisingly long time, everything considered.

A man or woman may live along for years with incompetent kidneys only to collapse as suddenly as a house of cards when the baby's hand knocks it over. The early indications of Bright's disease are sometimes very slight—headaches, dull pains, depressed feelings, lack of energy—all these indicate the first stages of Bright's disease and yet few people think they mean anything serious until, often, it is too late.

There has never been but one discovery known to the world and the medical profession for checking Bright's disease in its beginning or curring it after it has pro-beginning or curing it after it has pro-gressed. That discovery, which is so popular in Europe, America and throughout the world is Wurner's Safe Cure. If the learned judge, who was stricken in church, had realized years before the secret power that was undermining his life, he might have counteracted it and lived to
