Combination of Bearish News Makes the Wheat Market Dull.

AULY CLOSES AT A CENT'S DECLINE

Closing of the Foreign Exchanges on Account of the Easter Holidays Has Its Effect Upon the Volume of Trade.

CHICAGO, April 7.-A combination of favorable crop reports, weak cables and an absence of important trading made a very dull and weak market of wheat today, July closing at a decline of about 1 cent. The the Easter holidays undoubtedly had some effect on the volume of trading done. Every-thing else on the floor was weak, partly through sympathy with wheat. Corn closed Me lower, oats 1/21/40 lower and provisions came so marked during yesterday's session marked the opening in wheat today, July. which closed yesterday at 84%@85c, ranging all the way from 81%c to 814%c. Nearly everything was against the price at the start. The Michigan crop report was perhaps the most important factor. That re-port gave the wheat condition at 96c, the hignest April figures since 1891. Liverpool showed a decline of about 1/3d and continental markets were equally weak. The fear of damage to winter wheat by frosts, which has fovered over the market for several days, was effectually dissipated by the higher temperatures now prevailing throughout the west. About the only crumb of comfort the bulls were given was the figures on the northwest receipts, which snowed a considerable falling off. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 119 cars, against 220 last week and 234 a year ago. There was some scattered buying at the start by local shorts and scalpers were satisfied with recent profits, but toe majority of traders were on the selling side. Liquidation by discouraged longs was quite marked for a time and there was some active short selling as well. For nearly two hours the course of the majority of tracers ward, varied occasionally by small fractional rallies as shorts came into cover, About 11:30 the bad crop reports from California, which had been coming in all morning, began to have some effect on the market. The condition there as a result of which has hovered over the market for sevmorning, began to have some effect on the market. The condition there as a result of the cold and drought was said to be very grave, some reports placing the crop condition at not over 19 per cent. The effect of these reports was somewhat nullified by heavy rains in California during the last forty-eight hours, but the decline was stopped and an appearance of steadiness given the market. July had previously sold as low as $3½c, but it raillied to $3½c, and for the rest of the session kept close to that price. Trading became excessively dull late in the session and the pit at times was not more than half filled. Although all the local markets will be open tomorrow, the closing of the continental markets over the Easter holdays had a tendency to narrow the trading here and it finally degenerated into a more narrow scalping trade. The close was steady at $3%c for July.

trade. The close was steady at $37%c for July.

Corn was easy, influenced by wheat, by the warmer weather and prospects of larger receipts on account of the opening of navigation. There was a good deal of commission house seiling and some professional liquidation. The decline was stopped by the neavy cash business. May ranged from 20%c to 20%c and closed ½c lower at 20%c. Weakness in wheat and corn had a like effect on oats, that market ruling lower from the start. Unfavorable crop reports had very little effect. Trading was small, moderate offerings being taken very slowly. May ranged from 25%c.

Provisions were weak, partly with grain and patrly on lower nog prices. There was a continuation of the packing house selling of yesterday, particularly of lard. There was some recovery near the close on covering. May pork closed 7½c lower at $3.22½.

May lard 7½c lower at $5.11½, and May ribs 5c lower at $5.15.

Estimated receipts Friday: Wheat, 93 cars; corn, 205 cars; oats, 163 cars; hogs, 22,000 head.

Still there was about the same number as a week ago, or in other words, a fair average run for this market.

The average quality of the offerings was good, the receipts running largely to hogs on the butcher weight order.

Both packers and shippers were in the field with liberal orders, and though the market was a little sticky at first it really opened fairly active, and the alleys were soon full of hogs moving toward the scales. The prices paid were about the same as prevailed on yesterday's market, that is, $3.70 for mixed loads and from that up to $3.50, the top on choice butcher weights. A large proportion of the hogs sold early and on that basis, but later on, after the more urgent orders had been filled, and after messages had arrived announcing a lower market at Chicago and Kansas City, the trade slackened up. For a time the market came almost to a standstill with about twenty loads unsold, but it did not long remain in that condition. The arrival of fresh orders caused it to liven up again, and the close was fully as good as the opening.

Taking the market as a whole, the hogs sold about 10c higher than a week ago, and 10c lower than one month ago. Representative sales;

SHEEP—The big sheep barn, which looked so large when first built that people wondered what the yard company was thinking of in providing so much more room than was ever likely to be required, was full to overflowing this morning. Considerably over fifty carloads were reported in the pens, which was the largest run in the listory of this market. On March 17 11-14 head of sheep were received and that was the largest run up to that date, but the sheep market at this point is expanding so rapidly that a new record is hardly made until it is broken.

The strivals today consisted mostly of Fort Collins lambs, of good average quality, with only a very slight sprinkling of mutton sheep and feeders. It was in fact a case of too much lamb and not enough sheep.

The sheep in the vards were offered early and sold readily at strong prices, both muttons and sold readily at strong prices, both muttons and keep for the collins of the colling anxious first to hear from eastern markets, and besides that they were holding for putly strong prices. For that reason the market was slow about opening and it was rather law being anxious first to hear from eastern markets, and besides that they were holding for putly strong prices. Extreme Duliness Prevails, with Prices About Unchanged.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Extreme duliness prevailed throughout the day in the cotton market, with prices at no time showing particular leaning one way or the other. The closing of the Liverpool market at 1 p. m., or before our opening, until next Tuesday morning, and the conflicting character of the political news, caused both bulls and bears to hold off, resulting conflicting character of the political news, caused both buils and bears to hold off, resulting in an extremely small business. After opening steady with prices I point lower to I higher the market sagged off under a few outside selling orders, but later recovered this loss on buying for the account of local operators who were disposed to even up accounts. During the greater part of the day the pit was deserted. The close was very dull at a net decline of 162 points Spot, quiet; middling, 3-13-16c; net receipts, 226 bales; gress, 1,192 bales; exports to Great Britain, 1,299 bales; to the continent, 1,394 bales; forwarded, 72 bales; sales, 319 bales, all spinners; stock, 19,838 bales. New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The market for dry goods is again uncertain today. The pleasand weather has caused some slight gain, chiefly with jobbers, but this is not in any sense a healthy improvement. Orders received are for the smallest possible amounts in all lines of cotton goods. In print cloths there is a weak and dull market. Woolens in all grades, both in men's wear and in dress goods lines, are quiet and devoid of interest. Silks, linens, laces and other lines of imported goods are quiet and without feature. In staple cottons the demand for brown goods is quiet. Print cloth extras are obtainable at 2 per cent, the price paid outside the Fall River market. At Fall River there are no bids at that or any other figure. The market for odd goods is also quiet in nearly every grade and weak. Prices are without rhange.
