SEARCH FOR GOLD CONTINUES UNABATED

Recent Revelations in the Two Bit, with the Prospect of Yet Richer Discoveries Soon to Follow.

LEAD, S. D., April 7.—(Special.)—There is every indication that in a very few days one of the richest mining districts in the Black Hills will have been located for a certainty in Two Bit. The exact extent of the ore bodies in the original Harlin shaft are now known and enough high grade ore has been located to run for many years. The ore is pyritic, which makes a cheap and easy proposition for smelting. The vein of ore is nearly solid and retains a uniform thickness of twenty-two feet. The entire ledge, it is stated, will average $20 per ton. About one-half of the ledge will run $35 per ton, while about five feet of it will yield $150. There are several other shafts down in the camp to within a few feet of the ore body and a rich strike is expected every foot. The camp is "ready called" the "Lead vein" of the Black Hills. Years ago ore was taken from the Noble Grand property, joining the Harlin mine, which carried an average value of $100 per ton. The ore was silicious, however, and only a small per cent of the gold was saved by amalgamation in the stamp mill. The ore mined by the Noble Grand company, by Fritz Weeber, from the Golden Crest ground by Russell & Higbie, was all high grade and gave rich returns. In all of the shafts in the Harlin district that are approaching the ore zone, the chalcocite, sandrock, galena and other materials encountered, show metal values as high as $3 and $6 a ton in gold. This is unusually high and carries the ore through the stamp mill, when encountered, will be high grade. In sixty days or more it will be struck by a dozen or more companies. Their shafts are being put down as fast as machinery and men can be had. It is reported that the last workings in the Harlin mine opened up a body of silicious ore which forms a unique combination of ore. It is an uncommon thing to find silicious and pyritic ore so closely united. Harris Franklin, vice president of the Golden Harvest company, has gone down to confer with the officers of the company in regard to the construction of a smelter. The company has contemplated building as soon as a location is secured, a smelter with a capacity of 100 tons in every respect. The location of the plant is not fully settled. One place is situated on a fifty-foot ledge from Deacon, where there is unlimited room and plenty of water and also near coal and coke. About four months will be required to build the plant.

RIC H PRODUCER.
The Gilk Edge property, on Strawberry ridge, is proving the richest property in the Black Hills. The shaft is down 100 feet at present and a twenty-foot ledge of ore has been exposed at that depth every foot. The ore averages 100 percent profit above working expenses. The ore will run on an average of $100 a ton in gold and some shipments have been made which went into the market at a distance of seventy or thirty tons is being shipped from the mine each day. The shaft will be sunk deeper as soon as the new hoisting plant is set up. The mine is owned by the Gilk Edge Mining company, which during the first working of the mine is being sorted and shipped and yields fair returns. The shaft on the Badger group of mines, in Ragged Top district, which has been sunk to a depth of 350 feet, is proving rich. It has a bond, is down 355 feet, in prospect. Indications are favorable to striking a body of ore soon, the formations being the same as those on the other mines. Vertical shafts which yielded such rich returns to those who worked the mine last year. A fine face of ore was exposed in the shaft. A settlement was effected by the board in which $3,900 was accepted from Freudenfeld and his bondsmen in full for a shortage of $7,405. It had been charged that Freudenfeld, by the bank failures did not cover all the shortage. This settled up the investigation and the report shows a shortage of $3,897 yet remaining after the bond shortage was accounted for. The work of the succeeding treasurer is reported to be all right.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The case of the Bay State Land and Cattle company against the Union Pacific, in involving 150,000 acres of land in Wyoming and Nebraska, has been settled by an amicable agreement between the parties to the controversy. The Bay State company sought through the courts to be relieved from the agreement which it made with the Union Pacific for the purchase of a large body of Union Pacific lands upon which partial payments had been made. Under the agreement the railroad company was to convey to the state company a certain portion of the lands involved in the contract clear of further encumbrances. Pending the controversy the lands have been sold at public auction for delinquent taxes and the agents of the railroad company are now here settling with purchasers under these sales.

Program for the Salt Lake Meeting.
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 7.—(Special.)—As yet the program for the mining congress which is to be held here in July is mapped out only in a general way, but it has reached the stage where some ideas may be gathered of its interest and the field it will cover. A number of the subjects to be presented for consideration will be reported on by committees appointed at the convention in Denver last year. The most important are: a bill for the establishment of a national department of mines and mining, with representation in the president's cabinet; Hon. L. B. Pence, chairman of the committee, is expected to have the resolution in charge, and he will tell the congress what progress has been made in the direction of success.
A resolution favoring the reclassification of the mineral laws of the United States will also come up for discussion and action. In this regard the committee has already had a resolution in the direction of a change in the laws affecting extra-lateral rights, the desirability of uniform state and district mining laws, and the question of the establishment of work and defining the character of work and proof of its accomplishment. All of these subjects are expected to be presented by the committee, and the speakers will have developed opinion which the debate will naturally develop promise to add much to the interest of the sessions.

The mining men have already drawn up for presentation to the convention a resolution urging congress to make a consecutive survey of the entire Quilich range, connecting and including the geological and geographical relations between the camps of Bingham, Ophir, Mercury and Tintic. Legislation affecting mining labor will also be a subject of great local interest. In the view of the recent decision of the supreme court of the United States, in which is upheld the Utah eight-hour law.
California, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona are prepared to take up again a resolution which they offered at Denver urging congress to open the so-called Spanish land grants in those states and territories. Under present conditions these grants cannot be prospected and great areas of rich mineral land are excluded from development, without benefit to the owners or to the states and territories in which they are located.

These matters will be considered in the business sessions, with a host of collateral subjects, which will be covered by specialists in each line of discussion.

MEXICAN LIVE STOCK COMING.
Large Herds of Cattle and Sheep Crossing the Line at El Paso.
FORT WORTH, Tex., April 7.—(Special.)—Dr. Charles H. Blunson, an inspector of the Bureau of Animal Industry, who has been stationed at El Paso for several months past making a careful study of the conditions of the cattle imported into the United States from Mexico, passed through here this week on his way to Kansas City. The doctor says large importations of these cattle may be expected for this month. He is confident that they will find their way into this country. The activity in cattle trading at El Paso was never so great as now. The market is anxious to get cattle and are willing to pay almost any price, the recent advance in Texas stock having given that distant market an impetus. The range to the north of El Paso are in excellent condition.

The importations of sheep from Mexico this season will be large, exceeding by many thousands those of the former years. The firm alone, Mantley & Stockwell, has contracted for 27,765 head of the Mexican product, of which they have already received the border into the United States. These sheep will be passed over the trail to Las Animas county, Colorado.

Both gentlemen are engaged in buying cattle for the market and have shipped large numbers to the Atlantic cities for the last ten or more years, always by rail. They will thoroughly investigate the features of the new market for fat cattle north to the great seaboard markets. They claim that Savannah, Charleston and other intervening ports between the latter place and New York can be supplied with Texas beef cattle for less than 10 per cent cheaper going by the way of Galveston and thence by water than it has hitherto cost them by railway transportation. They also expect to export live stock to the coast much less. Very few cattle suffer severely from the coastwise voyage, as the temperature of the Gulf stream is always moderate. They are engaged in buying cattle for sale on the coastwise route, as the temperature of the Gulf stream is always moderate.

The boilers in the big power house at Armour's are being set and a large force is engaged in roofing this building. Work on this portion of the plant is being pushed as rapidly as possible in order that the machinery may be placed in operation by May 15, if possible. A new fertilizer building, the cost of which has not been determined, is under way and will be started as soon as the iron pliers placed in position. Gus Andreen of Omaha is placing his patent iron shutters on all of the windows, and is also putting in the iron doors in the interior of the building.

On account of the delay in receiving the oak piles for the big viaduct, which is to be constructed across the street, the contractor, the Armour log and beef houses, work on this structure has not been commenced. A great deal of the material to be used in this bridge has arrived, but piles must be driven before anything else is done. Chief Engineer King is looking for the first shipment of piles every day. There is some talk of a large force of men will be put to work in order to complete the viaduct as soon as possible. It is estimated that with all of the material now on hand it will not last thirty days to construct the bridge. Much of the interior work on the hog buildings has been completed, and the completion of the beef house is being pushed, and it is thought now that there will be no difficulty in commencing killing operations in six weeks.

In the printing of the ballots $200 was paid for the ballots, and the cost of the registrars alone was $81. The owners of each of the nine rooms occupied for registration were paid for the use of the rooms, and $113 for registration. Five judges and two clerks are employed at each voting precinct. There are 100 precincts, and the cost of the rooms occupied as voting precincts are paid for at the rate of $10 each, which adds $900 to the cost of the election. Reorganizing the Government.
Those who hold appointive offices under the city government are naturally anxious to see what the mayor will do when the new council is organized. A reorganization of the police force will be made in the first department, but it is expected that Chief Smith will continue to hold his position. The Montgomery street station at city at the corner and Herman Bell will most likely be reappointed city engineer. Mr. Buol has served during the last week in the city and is a candidate in every way. He took a great deal

Farmers and Milk Licensees.
Several farmers living in the adjoining county are causing the milk inspector considerable trouble on account of their refusal to pay the license exacted by the city from the holders of the license. These vendors have been notified by the inspector to procure licenses or else cease selling here, but they have refused to do either. It is claimed that the inspectors have no right to demand and assert that the city has no right to restrain or interfere with the selling of milk. Inspector Carroll will bring suit against the milkmen in case they do not come up and settle, and the ordinance will then be tested in the courts. It is thought in some circles that the milk dealers' union is behind the movement.

At the last camp meeting the South Omaha camp carried off the honors for having the best camp in the state.

W. R. Roberts, for many years cashier of the Citizens' Bank of Omaha, writes: "I have been troubled with nervous dyspepsia, cold feet and hands, lack of circulation, loss of flesh, etc. I commenced taking Dr. Kay's Renovator January 15, 1898, and I continued to improve from the third day, and have found this medicine most pleasant, no gripping, no sickness at the stomach, but complete relief of my distressing condition, without the doctor's request, recommend this to anyone afflicted with indigestion and nervousness which follows. I now eat well, sleep well, and have gained about twenty-five pounds in weight, am free from cold feet and hands, circulation free, and I feel better than for many years, and I attribute this to Dr. Kay's Renovator. One 25-cent bottle will convince anyone that it surpasses the whole train of pills and cathartics usually taken. I now only take one 25-cent bottle, which I take twice a day, and it will relieve me at once."
