WORK FOR EXPOSITION COMMITTEE. Change in Nature of the Wigwam Comes with County's Help.

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Council Bluffs Exposition association will be held in the Grand hotel this evening. It is earnestly desired that every member of the committee of fifty be present.

One of the matters to be considered is the immediate preparation for beginning the work of constructing the big wigwam. While this work is under the immediate direction of the wigwam and building committees there will be duties connected with its construction that will call for the best energies and hearty cooperation of every member of the committee.

Other matters will also be up for consideration, and it is probable that a number of communications will be presented to the association. The necessity will also be urged for the prompt collection of the $2,000 on the subscription list, so that the entire fund can be made immediately available.

The work of construction, it has been decided, shall be under the immediate supervision of President A. C. Graham, and the building committee with his approval, will also have the privilege of employing all of the workmen engaged in the construction of the building.

Officer J. T. Anderson yesterday surrendered his keys and star and severed his connection with the Council Bluffs police department, despite the fact that it was the intention and the desire of the new administration to continue his services.

A splendid record as an officer and could have held his position on the detective force during the present year and undoubtedly throughout the present administration, but he declined, assigning as a reason that he was too staunch a republican to accept such a favor from the democratic administration when there were so many democratic clamoring for places. His resignation takes effect immediately, but he will continue to serve until the middle of the week.

GLAD DAY FOR EVERYBODY

Easter Sunday's Beautiful Weather Comes to Good and Bad Alike.

CHURCHES CROWDED WITH WORSHIPERS

Special Programs of Music and Sermons Prepared for the Day Listened to by Great Throngs of People.

A more gloriously perfect Easter Sunday could not have been desired. With the atmosphere just crisp enough to be invigorating, a cloudless sky from morning till night, and just the faintest suggestion of a breeze blowing, there was nothing lacking that physical conditions could assure to give zest to the pleasures and devout observances of the day.

In all of the churches elaborate Easter services were held, and in each church the attendance was great enough to call into requisition its entire seating capacity.

In several of the churches the children of the Sunday schools took the leading parts. This was notably so in the Methodist churches. In the Broadway church these exercises were of a very appropriate and interesting character. The pulpit and rostrum were banked with magnificent Easter lilies, blooming plants, ferns and palms. The exercises consisted of typical recitations by the members of the school, responses and Easter carols.

The great auditorium of St. Francis Catholic church was much too small for the accommodations of the large number of people who sought to gain admission. The air was heavy with the perfume of the Easter flowers. The full Easter services of the church were celebrated by the members of the church of great interest, and the program that was prepared was the most elaborate that has ever been prepared for the church in many years.

In the organ loft was an unusually strong choir under the direction of Mrs. McCallister. At St. John's English Lutheran church the Easter observance took place in the evening, and was given over to the charge of the large number of happy hearted boys and girls who constitute the Sunday school.

It took the form of an Easter cantata entitled "The King Immortal." It represented a journey to the sepulcher of the Savior and the incidents of the resurrection. "Going to the Sepulcher" was represented by Miss Palmer's class; "Our Savior's Victory," by Miss Peterson; "Easter Flowers," by Sadie Zoller; "Saying from Heaven," by Miss Yvonne's class; "Christian Hope," by Edith Grims; "Arie and Depart," by Mrs. Snyder's class; "Easter Flowers," by Nellie Jacobs and Alma Peterson; "Remembrance of Heaven," by Sylvia Snyder; "Easter Flowers," by Miss Rudlo's class. The church choir assisted in the musical part of the program.

At the First Presbyterian church special services were held. The church was elaborately decorated and crowded with members of the congregation and friends. The feature was the musical program that was rendered by the choir.

An elaborate musical program was also the leading feature in the services at the First Congregational church. In the evening Invokavit commandery, Knights Templar, attended in a body.

At the First Baptist and the Fifth Avenue Methodist churches the evening services were devoted to the Easter exercises. Beautiful floral decorations brightened the altars and special musical programs were provided. In both of these churches the children took the leading parts in the services.

Manawau Matters. Colonel F. C. Reed has removed with his family to Lake Manawau, where they are now living in the cottage near the lake shore. Colonel Reed will this year have full command of the grand prize. Manhattan beach has been leased by the Manawau Railway company, which means the resorts on both sides of the lake will be under one management this season.

One additional train is promised early in the season. Oil burners to take the place of the soft coal burners in the motors is also promised. The opening day has not yet been decided upon, but it is likely that the trains will be running daily by May 1.

THEY HAVE NOT GIVEN UP IOWA.

Iowa Women Will Continue Their Campaign for the Right to Vote. DES MOINES, April 10.—(Special.)—Despite their defeat in the Iowa legislature last winter the women of Iowa who are organized into the Iowa Equal Suffrage association are not going to abandon their fight.

Last week they began a campaign of the state in its perspective is comprehensive. The working members of the state organization will cover the northern part and the southern half of the state. The northern campaign was begun at Nevada last week. The workers will hold meetings in all the counties of northern Iowa, and wherever they can arouse enough interest they will organize local clubs. The Iowa women working under the leadership of Mrs. M. W. Campbell, of Des Moines, and Mrs. A. S. Ballard, of Hull. Miss Ella Harrington of Carthage, Mo., is the only outside worker who will accompany them. The national officers are: Mrs. Henryetta G. Rice of Ohio, Mrs. Jennie Wilson of New York and Mrs. Laura Gregg of Kansas. Their campaign will be opened the coming week at Anamosa. Journeys and work will work across the southern half of the state.

Judgment for Unjust Prosecution. CARROLL, Ia., April 10.—(Special.)—In the district court here a suit was tried that attracted a great deal of attention in the county. B. F. Erb of Coon Rapids obtained a judgment of $6,000 against two fire insurance companies as the result of prolonged litigation over the burning of a store. Erb owned a drug store in Coon Rapids which was insured for $4,000. The store was burned. The companies refused to pay the insurance first on technical grounds. Defeated in that course, they opened made the defense that Erb set the building on fire in order to collect the insurance. When Erb had secured a judgment against the companies for that amount of his insurance and the judgment was affirmed by the supreme

FINE SITE FOR THE NEW HATCHERY

Buildings and System of Hatching for Western Waters—Fish Culture in Practice—Kind of Fish in Demand.

MANCHESTER, Ia., April 10.—(Special.)—The United States fish hatchery located on Spring branch near this city is just now at its most interesting stage and it is visited every week by many persons from Iowa and elsewhere interested in fish culture. The hatchery is located in a valley surrounded on all sides by high hills, thickly wooded, and here and there are huge formations of limestone covered with moss and clinging vines.

The little creek winds gracefully through the valley and makes a fine stream of contentment and restfulness as it flows along. There are limestone drives, good walks, pretty lawns, artificial lakes, rustic bridges and everything one can imagine to heighten, if possible, nature's original beauty.

There are five or six buildings on the ground, built somewhat after the southern style of architecture, or if so permitted to speak a seaside cottage style. The hatchery building is 40x50 feet long and one-half stories high, with a good deal of roof, the shingles of which are stained. The lower part is gaily colored and the exterior of the building is very attractive. Elliott of Kansas City; F. S. Fanning of San Francisco; Sam Glover of Rochester, N. Y.; E. S. Rice, Eddie Bingham and John Watson of Chicago; Frank S. Pammel of Omaha; L. P. Lavin of Rock Island; Dr. J. L. B. Kibbey of Marshalltown and Dr. J. L. Williams of Milwaukee.

Mysterious Case. DES MOINES, April 10.—(Special.)—The young woman who was found on the verge of apoplexy in a down town boarding house has at last recovered consciousness in sufficient degree to talk. She says she does not know anything about the circumstances of the affair. She said her name was Minnie Murray and that her home is near Russell, Ia., but afterwards she gave different names and finally said she didn't know what her name was and that she couldn't remember where she lived. She claimed she knew absolutely nothing about the circumstances leading up to the condition in which she was found and the police think she is playing a deep game of ignorance to keep from revealing her identity or any of the facts relative to the affair. The police are making every endeavor to find the young man who went to the boarding house with her and spent the night with her, but as yet have been unsuccessful and the case is still a great mystery.

TO SEE A GAY BLOPER

WATERLOO, Ia., April 10.—(Special.)—The county attorney of the state Board of Supervisors to commence suit against Rev. G. E. Scott and his relatives to recover the expense of his maintenance at the hospital for the insane at Independence. Rev. Mr. Scott is a native of Waterloo and a young girl, a member of his congregation, and eloped with her, leaving a family here. He was caught in Indiana and brought back, but escaped to Waterloo, Ia. He lives at the hospital in Independence and his family took a cottage nearby and lives there. Although a preacher, he was possessed of considerable property.

More Leprosy in Iowa. DES MOINES, April 10.—(Special.)—Since the secretary of the state Board of Health was sent to investigate the one known case of leprosy in Iowa two other cases have been reported to him. One of these is at Ridgeview, in the person of a Norwegian, who has what is known as the nervous variety and whose consequences are angelic and to be feared. The other case is also a Norwegian, at Roland. The young man, with his wife and two children, so far gone as to be confined to bed. These are the only cases known to be in Iowa.

Another Show to Start Out. DES MOINES, Ia., April 10.—(Special.)—A new Orton circus will soon start on the road under the management of Miles and R. Z. Orton, two of the famous Orton family, long connected with American circuses. This show is being fitted out on the original Orton farm in Dallas county at Ortonville, from which the old Orton show started on many journeys thirty years ago. The farm has never passed from the ownership of the Orton family.

Mormon Conference in Session. SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 10.—(Special.)—The sixty-eighth annual conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints convened in the Tabernacle this week with 7,000 saints, including nearly all of the general authorities of the church. The feature of the conference was the address of President George Q. Cannon in his opening address said that there are 1,700 missionaries in the field.

Preparing for Visitors. DUNLAP, Ia., April 10.—(Special.)—A new hotel, the Central, will soon be opened here in anticipation of good business during the coming season. The hotel is being built on the site of the old Dunlap Hotel, on the corner of the Mississippi Exposition. Business in Dunlap is experiencing a general revival this year and there is much building going on.

Iowa Press Comment. Sioux City Tribune: "The Gibraltar of Iowa democracy" means the state of Iowa. Des Moines Register: Bremer county stands at the head in value of butter product. Every acre in that county, taking out the highways, railroads, rivers, town sites and so on, produced $2 worth of butter last year, or only one of the products of Bremer county.

Dubuque Times: Senator A. B. Funk, chairman of the ways and means committee of the senate, after a service of twelve years in the legislature, will be ousted from office at Springfield with the expressed intention of surrendering public life. However, his friends propose to have something to say about this. They believe that in his character, ability and experience can help to be spared from public life.

Red Oak Express: The roadside weed nuisance got his children. The local police just closed and the land owner who won't do the work is to have it done for him. The law provides that "if the weeds are not cut by August 15 the road supervisor may give the land owner three days' notice, and if he does not cut the weeds then the road supervisor must do it at $2 a day, the cost to be taxed against the land owner."

Logan Nucleus: The twenty-seventh general assembly will go down in history as the best business assembly Iowa has had for many a long year. This is in a great measure accounted for the fact that it contained a larger number of democratic members than has any assembly for the same number of years. It is perfectly safe to say that the twenty-eighth general assembly will still be a better business body, for the very good reason that it will contain a majority of democrats.

Iowa Farm Notes. George Wells of Grundy county has sowed 600 acres of alfalfa this spring. The number of patrons of the Dows creamery will reach 200 this season. A farm of 160 acres in Grundy county was sold by C. L. Vanderveld to D. McBain for $1,000.

J. C. Rice of Harmony sold sixty-six hogs that weighed 22,670 pounds. Ten of the number weighed 4,950 pounds. F. R. Sage of the state weather and crop bureau will gather statistics relative to the loss of property by lightning. A farm of 418 acres in Viola township, Sac county, was sold recently for $25 an acre. Allen Armstrong of Lake View and S. M. Parnt of Sac City will be the bidders.

G. L. Farnum sold to W. S. Jarvis 240 acres of land near Traver for $12,000, and in the same neighborhood John F. Reimold sold to G. A. Eisenberg 190 acres for $9,600. A deal involving $21,900 was recently made in Delaware county, the farm being 320 acres of land in Bremen township, transferred from Ollida Krapfl to John Krapfl. Some of the land was sold for $68.50 an acre.

Arnold's Bromo Celery cures headaches, 10c, 25c and 50c. All druggists. HYMNICAL. Lieutenant Miller, U. S. N.—McCulla. OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., April 10.—The hurry and bustle of war preparation was interrupted for a short time yesterday, when in the little chapel of Fort Monroe navy and army officers in full uniform attended the wedding of Miss Catherine McCulla, the daughter of Commander McCulla of the Marblehead, U. S. N., and Lieutenant William C. Miller, who has just returned from the Philippines. The wedding took place at high noon and the little chapel was crowded.

In the enforced absence of Commander McCulla Colonel Frank, commandant of the fort, gave the bride away. The ushers were Lieutenant G. O. Squires and Lieutenant C. C. Williams of the United States Army; Lieutenant H. A. Bispham, Dr. J. C. Smith, Dr. W. F. Arnold and Passed Assistant Engineer L. M. Nutton, all of the United States navy. The best man was A. S. Miller of New York, a brother of the groom, and the maid of honor Miss Stella McCulla, a sister of the bride.

have ponds of their own. The game fish have not been successfully raised or hatched by hand, as is the method with trout. Each are therefore given a pond of their own and as far as possible they are provided with the same comforts their fishpond demand and crave. The rock bass and perch had celery and home beds, the croppies delighted in getting under old boards and the black bass were given a pond deep and darp and fed with running water.

It was the commencement of the spawning season with the river fish and good results are anticipated. A part of each pond was divided by wire netting in this manner after the little fish are hatched they can escape through the meshes of the wire and be out of the way of father and mother, who have no respect for person when a square meal is at stake. There are at least sixty black bass in one of the ponds and when we consider that the spawn from one little fish means 600 to 2,000 eggs, the percentage of the hatch varies greatly, but in some instances 95 per cent of the eggs have been productive. The springs here are said to be of the finest in the United States, the water runs at the highest rate both in winter and summer, and never freezes. The home production of trout this year was 50,000 fish. The eggs for the balance of the crop were shipped to the hatchery in the United States. The brook trout eggs from Massachusetts, lake trout eggs from Duluth and the rainbow trout from Nesho, Mo.

Shoot at Des Moines. DES MOINES, April 10.—(Special.)—The Charles W. Budd shoot to be held in this city May 10 to 13 inclusive will be the first of a series of three shoots, the second which will be held at Kansas City the following week and the third at Omaha the next week. The most noted shots in the world will be present at all three shoots including the following: men of great reputation; Fred Gilbert of Spirit Lake, Ia., generally recognized as a champion; Charles W. Budd of Des Moines, champion wing shot; E. D. Telford of Utah, N. Y., who was the winner of the 1885 American handicap; T. A. Marshall of Ketchikan, Ill., winner of the 1897 American handicap; R. O. Helkes of Dayton, O., the world's champion target shot; Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck of Minneapolis, the latter of whom is considered the champion lady shot of the country; Charles M. Grimm, lead Lake, Ia., who made such a record at the World's fair; J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City; F. S. Fanning of San Francisco; Sam Glover of Rochester, N. Y.; E. S. Rice, Eddie Bingham and John Watson of Chicago; Frank S. Pammel of Omaha; L. P. Lavin of Rock Island; Dr. J. L. B. Kibbey of Marshalltown and Dr. J. L. Williams of Milwaukee.

Machinery of the Hatchery. The operating power of the hatchery is two large springs with a capacity of 2,300 gallons of water per minute. These springs are under perfect control and are made to perform several missions before being allowed to escape into the creek or Spring branch. Large cedar logs, wooden tie, convey the water from the springs to the hatchery where are two rows of troughs on each side of the building, thirty-two in all. They are about sixteen feet long and one and one-half feet wide. Water flows in them and the troughs are made of a material which is allowed to escape into the creek or Spring branch. Large cedar logs, wooden tie, convey the water from the springs to the hatchery where are two rows of troughs on each side of the building, thirty-two in all. They are about sixteen feet long and one and one-half feet wide. Water flows in them and the troughs are made of a material which is allowed to escape into the creek or Spring branch.

These troughs are the birthplace of the fish. The eggs are deposited in this water and carefully watched until ready to hatch. They are then placed upon a small screen, separated and handled until they pop out of the under side of the egg. This egg is about the color of a half ripe currant and about the same size. Its shape will not allow it to fall through the meshes of the screen, but it will float on the surface of the water. Here the little wiggler lays upon its side for nearly thirty days. Attached to the underside of it is a food sack from which it draws its rations or nourishment for the thirty days it is inactive. The egg as near as we can discover it opens at both ends, showing a string jelly of a brick color. As they grow they are placed in the troughs, and they are fed six or seven times each day in this manner. As they grow stronger their rations are more abundant, but they are not fed so often.

CRADLE OF THE FISH. The troughs are the birthplace, and as they grow and are large enough to care for themselves they are either shipped out to some lake or are placed in the troughs in the outside of the building which is called their cradle. As they get still larger they have a larger pond, a trundle bed, and then they have the full sized bed, or a very large pond. In these outside ponds vegetable matter is cultivated, which forms in part their food. Here is the main part. In one pond was several hundred yellow perch in another there were one hundred and twenty-five large fish, while in a third there were 175 large trout, running from one-half to one pound and a half in weight. The troughs in the building there were one 10,000 and 20,000 little trout in one trough. It was estimated that there was on hand between 600,000 and 700,000 fish of this year's hatch. Almost 50,000 of this number were of home raising, hatched from eggs of the trout caught in Spring branch. The government fish camp was at Manchester, and the government hatchery at Clear Lake. A second shipment of a like number is to be sent the first of this week to Storm Lake.

The black bass, croppies and rock bass have ponds of their own. The game fish have not been successfully raised or hatched by hand, as is the method with trout. Each are therefore given a pond of their own and as far as possible they are provided with the same comforts their fishpond demand and crave.
