"PRESBYTERIAN ALLEY" CASE

Testimony of All But One Witness is Now Before the Court.

JUDGE MACY WINDS UP HIS VISIT

Judge Smith Resumes Control of the Court and Issues a Venire for Twelve Jurors to Fill the Panel.

All the evidence in the injunction case by which N. P. Dodge and others are endeavoring to prevent the closing of "Presbyterlara illey" was submitted to Judge Macy yesterday with the exception of that to be given by Thomas Officer, one of the former owners of the building recently purchased by the Citizens' bank. An order was made that this testimony should be taken by a commissioner and forwarded to Judge Macy at Atlantic, where he resumes his work on the district bench today. Judge Smith, who has been off the bench for the last three days while this case was being heard, will resume his duties today and will take up the equity docket. It is not likely that Judge Macy will reach a decision in the importan junction case for several days.

Lucy Eaton, the administratrix of the estate of the late Joel Eaton, made an application to have her bond reduced to $10,00 The entry on the court records shows that he bond was originally fixed at $100,000. Accompanying the application was an affilia-vit signed by Miss Eater and her brother, Gracille M. Eaton, showing that they were the sole heirs of Joel Eaton. The application was granted and the bond was reduced. The estate amounts to about $27,000. Judge Smith issued an order excusing eight of the regular jurymen and ordered the drawing of twelve extra jurymen to fill their places. The result of the drawing was as follows: B. B. Dentler, A. Grout, O. Millard, M. J. Kelley, K. M. Slyter, George Clatterbuck, John Wortman, Council Bluffs; W. W. Walker, Crescent; George M. Parents of Walter Young Get Cheer ing News from Him. The parents of Walter Young, who is seaman aboard the San Francisco, which has just reached New York from England in company with the newly acquired war ship New Orleans, received a long letter from him yesterday. It is the first he has writthat he had enlisted in the navy. Report engaged in forcing up a window when they to intercept them and the eagerness of the were discovered.

every man in the two ships knew his duty and was anxious to discharge it. Both ships would have given good accounts of them-selves if there had been occasion for it. We had a very fine trip during the first seven days, but after that had very bad weather, is fact the worst I have ever seen. It post tively could not have been worse. We made excellent weather of it, but the Amazonas had quite a bad time of it and delayed u so that we had to call at Halifax for coal. From there we had good weather. The New Orleans, as the Amazonas is now called, had boat stove in and several other small accidents, but no one was hurt. Our ship was mistress of the waves, just as every sallor now believes our navy is. We have received nearly all of our officers back and our marines, but none of our crew. It was necessary to take the New Orleans directly to the York. We are still anchored in the lower bay and are hoping to get in the navy yard where we can get some liberty an ore of the news. The St. Paul came in tonight and we gave her a royal welcome. Thu stion of war does not seem to make any change in us. We are all ready to do our duty and hoist our battle cry: 'Remember the Maine and take two for one.' You may rest assured we will do our whole duty if we have to die we will die like men. All you need to have to win a fight nowadays plenty of grit and be lively. Now, don't worry. God holds our lives in His keeping and if He thinks it is time to take us we will be ready for it any minute. The treacherous destruction of the Maine and the murder of our boys may prove to be the best thing the Spanish could have done for for revenge and when the time comes every man and boy will do more than his duty.

am afraid the only way peace can be preserved is for Spain to back out. It mean ruin for her if she fights and we are afraid she won't give us the chance we are all so anxious for.

preciative Andience. A concert was given last evening at the Dohany theater, which proved to be one of the most enjoyable that has been accessible to the Omaha public this season. It consisted in a song recital given by Mrs. Katherine L. Fisk and Miss Rita Lorton. The audience was large and appreciative and contained a small number of Omaha people. The program was made up of duets and solos covering a large range of styles of musical composition, ranging all the way from op-eratic arias to folk songs. An unfortunate defect was the neglect of the American com-poser, only Ethelbert Nevin being favored by a place among the world's musical luminaries. Mrs. Fisk sang "Divinite du Styx." by Gluck; "Feideinsamkeit," by Brahms; "Si J'etais jardinler," by Chaminade; "Lungi dai Caro Bene," by Seccht, and an old Irish, an old Scotch and an old English song. Miss Lorton sang the "Jewel Song" from "Faust," "Invocation to Vesta," by Gounod; "Sandmancheu," by Brahms; "Volksliedchen," by Schumann; "Vilanelle," by Del Acqua; "Who Was Slivia?" by Schubert; "The Wild Flower," by Leoni, and "My Laddie," by Nevin. The duets were "Sommernacht" and "Waldconcert," by Schultz; "The Angelus," by Chaminade, and "Les Zingarelles," by Bordese. Of these selections the aria by

PATH OF THE BUSY BURGLAR. House Owners Report Attempts to

Since the numerous attempts of a similar character have been reported by other citizens Mr. Pace has token especial pains to protect his home and has had electric burglar alarms placed at all of the doors and windows. The members of the family were awakened shortly after midnight by the clanging of a bell that had been set going by the opening of a window. The alarm not only awakened the family, but frightened away the bur-

A house-worker's designs upon the residence of P. C. DeVol were frustrated on Wednesday night. In the early part of the evening the front part of the house was unlighted and the curtains drawn closely over the rear windows, giving a deserted appearance to the place. At 8 o'clock the front door bell rang violently a number of times. Mr. DeVol was at home and was in no par ticular hurry about answeling the bell, which continued to be rung at short intervals. When he opened the door quietly he was confronted by a man with his coat collar turned up and a slouch hat drawn down over his face. The fellow appeared to be somewhat surprised at the sudden opening of the door, but explained his presence by inof assisting men in need of help. The fellow appeared to be in excellent health and hysical condition and lost no time in disappearing when a negative reply was given. DeVol has no doubt that the fellow would have broken into the house within a few members of the family were all away.

APPOINTEES EACH TO SERVE ONE MONTH

In This Manner All Who Have Applied for Positions Will Be Provided For and Everybody Given Something.

DES MOINES, April 21.-(Special.)-The Iowa Transmississippi Exposition commission has determined upon a method of procedure in the way of appointments which will satlafy a large number of candidates. The commission has decided to make its appointments for one month only. There are eight positions to be filled by the commission and as the exposition will last five months the plan of making appointments for one month only will practically make forty places to be filled. The commission has received an immerse number of applications for positions, many of which have come from worthy young people who desire to earn their expenses in seeing the exposition by working for the management. executive committee of the The Preceding the opening of the bids the committee discussed the subject of securing music during the continuance of the exposi-tion and also devoted considerable time to canvassing plans for the assembling in the building of a creditable art collection reprecentative of the best and highest aspirations of the state, but nothing definite was agreed upon and the subjects were deferred fo future consideration.

The following appointments of employes at the lowa building were made: For hostess for the first month of the exposition, which will open June 1, Mrs. C. O. McBride of Muscatine and for the same position during the second month, Mrs. Jonathan Werner of Council Bluffs.

Assistant for the first month, Miss Nellie Barber of Oukland. Messrs, B. J. Kinsley of Harlan, E. E. Crawford of Toledo and P. J. Klinker of Denison were appointed to positions in the building, while Fred Wright of Marshalltown was selected as janitor for the opening month and Mrs. McCausland was given the position of stenographer. Offices will be opened by Secretary Chase in Council Bluffs bout May 1. None of the employes named will begin work until the building is completed, which it is believed will be about the second week in May, leaving two weeks in which to fur-nish and place it in order for receiving the people from the state who will attend the exposition. An expert will in a few days commence the examination of the books of ex-City Clerk N. B. Vertrees, who retired from office last week. It is said that the books are not suf ficiently explicit and that there are a great many expenditures lumped instead of being given in detail. It is further stated by the city officials that when Mr. Vertrees retired from office he took his petty ledger home with him, so that it is impossible for the new city clerk to explain the lump sums on the general cash book. It is possible that the work of the expert will result in sensational developments. While the expert is at the work of looking over the ex-clerk's books it has been decided by the mayor to have the examination include all the offices. A general checking up of books will be accomplished so that the new officials can start out with clean ledgers and accounts.

FIRE RECORD.

Wharf at Vancouver. VANCOUVER, B. C., April 21 .- Not since Vancouver was destroyed by fire in 1886 has there been such a conflagration as took place this morning. The fire started in one of the buildings on Stimson's wharf and coon assumed disastrous proportions. entire fire brigade of the city was quickly on the grounds, but the fire had obtained so firm a hold and it burned so fast and furiously that it was soon seen that the build-ings on Stimsco's wharf were doomed.

A number of Canadian Pacific cars filled with valuable freight standing on sidings soon became a prey to the flames. The New Englied Steamship company's buildings, the bait shed and roof of the packing shed being soon in flames. The firemen turned their whole attention to this building and after an hour's hard work succeeded in getting the fire under control. The burning mass covered an area of wharfage about 250 by 70 feet No estimate of the damage has yet beer made, as it is not fully known what was destroyed.

College Burns. STROMSBURG, Neb., April 21 .- (Special Telegram.)-The Bryant Normal and Business college burned here today at 12 o'clock The fire caught in the upper story from the flue. Studen's had a narrow escape from their classes. The fire was not detected until the entire roof was ablaze. The buildng being but one-half mile from the water works facilities, the fire company could do nothing. In one hour the entire building was burned to the ground. The building was a mignificent structure, three and one-half stories high, 50 by 200 feet, with all equipments necessary. Nothing was save except part of the library and some furniture on the first floor. Students and in structors lose all their books and considera ble clothing. The property belonged to J. J Bryant, the president. There is $5,000 in-surance in five different mutual companies in the state for $1,000 each. The loss is es timated at $20,000. No one injured.
