WILLING TO AID THE SOLDIERS ANY TIME

Suggestion of General Manderso Finds Many Supporters Among the Women's Relief Corps in Omaha.

The augestion made by General Manderson in an interview with The Bee that the women of the country should form a volunteer women's relief corps has been enthusiastically received by the members of the Women's Relief corps, the feminine auxillary of the Grand Army of the Republic in this city. So general is the sentiment in favor of the plan that all three of the local corps intend to discuss it at their next meetings, and the outcome will probably be the formation of some body such as sug-

If the services of such a corps should ever be needed in the field, one or more can be readily and easily raised in this city. A large number of women have stated that they would be more than willing to go to the soit of warfare and render whatever assistance they can to the soldiery. If not needed ance they can to the soldiery. If not needed in the field, they are willing to render as much help as they can from their homes.

Mrs. George B. Eddy, president of U. S. Grant corps, is very enthusiastic over the plan. She said yesterday: "It is just such a thing es is needed, and I fear will be much needed before the close of the war. That was brought home to all of us by the departure of the militia from this city. I certainly consider that it is a most excellent suggestion. I am heartily in favor of it and I propose to bring it up before our next corps meeting.

"Just at the present time such a corps would not be needed in the field, but it could would not be needed in the field, but it could apend its time in making preparations. I would suggest that the women who would join in the movement should save their old linen, make bandages out of it and in other ways accumulate articles that will be needed by our soldiers in the field. It would be too late to do these things when the soldiers are actually engaged in fighting. Then, if it is needed, a corps of women could be sent outlint the field. There would be trouble about raising such a corps in this city. I know of at ing such a corps in this city. I know of at least fifty women among my own acquaint-ances alone, who would be more than willing to do their patriotic duty in this respect. MAY MAKE IT NATIONAL

"I would suggest that the movement be taken up by the Grand Army of the Republic Woman's Relief corps, as any loyal woman may join that. Later, if it is necessary, a separate organization could be formed. This should be national in scope. I thick it would be a good plan to sent letters women to a good plan to a the women to join in the plan. A central committee should be appointed to direct operations. This committee could gather together contributions of bandages, clothing and other necessities and could also have charge of the fixed of money that would be needed, which might be raised by contributions from MIS. O. S. Remington, president of Custer corps, was also much taken with the idea. She proposes to bring it before her corps in the near future. She said: "I think it is a most excellent plan. I had not thought of any plan of operation, as I considered it best to leave that to the corps. I believe that the matter should be considered at once in order that a corps might be raised immediately to make the neccesary preparations. There will not be the slightest diffi-culty in securing the required volunteers."

Mrs. John Jeffcoat thought the suggestion of General Manderson an admirable one.
"Women are the ones to take care of the sick and wounded soldiers," she said. "Men are not gentle crough. Besides that, a woman will be able to array much better than a man the feeling of homesickness that a sick soldier will experience. There will be a great amount of work for such a corps, I fear. It will not consist so much in taking care of wounded as of sick soldiers, because our troops are likely to far. diers, because our troops are likely to fall victims to southern diseases because of the fact that they will not be acclimated. There will be no difficulty to raising a corps in this city, and it will be composed of just such women as did the magnificent work during the civil war."

Mrs. R. S. Wilcox and Mrs. W. H Christie considered the plan an excellent one, and said that the services of some such corps would be absolutely necessary should land troops be called upon to battle. They also stated that more than sufficient women to form such a corps would be raised in the city without trouble, TECUMSEH, Neb., April 28.—(Special

Advisory Board Criticises the Course of the Legislative Body.

The advisory board did a vast amount of talking and transacted very little business at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The principal discussion was over one or two orders from the city council by which the Board of Public Works was ordered to delay action in the construction of permaneut sidewalks which the council had previously How this matter had anything to do with the Advisory board was not apparent, but the members took hold of it anyway and several of them expressed themselves very vigorously in criticism of the action of the council in ordering sidewalks and then trying to rescind the order after some of their constituents registered a protest. The mayor took the position that a concurrent resolution ordering a sidewalk could not be invalidated by a plain resolution and he directed the city engineer to go ahead and lay the walks. The communication of the building in pector in regard to a number of unsafe buildings, which was presented at the pre-vious meeting, was laid over for another

OMAHA, April 28.—To the Editor of The Bee: The business men of Omaha find upon investigation that the Omaha Guards and Thurston Rifles, who have suddenly beer called to the front, have been obliged to leave an indebtedness of from $1,000 to $1,200. We believe, under the circumstances, the citizens of Omaha will gladly constribute this amount, which is needed to pay for equipments, rents and moneys borrowed. This sum will wipe out all indebtedness of both companies and when they return they will be free from debt.

The Bee will be pleased to comply with the request made in this letter. The fund begins with $10; contributed $7.50 from the surplus of the money raised for the farewell demonstration. stration to the guardsmen, and a subsequen subscription of $2.50 from C. G. Pearse. Honorary and associate members of the Omeba Guards and Thurston Rifles have set on foot a movement to maintain the organiza-tion of both companies as it has always stood, during the absence of the soldiers from home. The first step looking to this end has already been taken by the reserves of the Rifles, who, at a meeting Wednesday night, appointed a committee of five, of which Cadet Taylor is chairman, on permanent organization. Members of the Guards who are at home will take a committee to the control of the c take a similar step immediately and nothing will be left undone by either committee to keep up the armories and preserve the property of the organizations during the absence of the boys.

The first important detail of this movement will be attended to by a fairle comment.

ment will be attended to by a joint committee of the military bodies. It is with reference to the indebtedness of reference to the indebtedness of the companies, the aggregate amount of which is in the neighborhood of $1,000. At a meeting held at noon in the armory of the Rifles this committee was appointed as follows: B. A. McAllister, C. W. Hull and H. W. Stoutenborough of the Guards, and F. W. Richards, C. A. Tracy and D. H. Christy of the Rifles The plan is to circulate the week this circulate through this circulate through the circulate and the control of the Rifles The plan is to circulate through this circulate and the circulate through the circulate and the circulate through the circulate and circulate and the circulate and circulate and circulate and circ culate through this joint committee a sul scription paper among the mer-chants of the city for money to lift the indebtedness of both compacies in this manner. Nearly all of the boys who have gone to the front left good positions to answer the call for volunteer and as their pay as soldiers will not be more than their private needs will demand, it is clear to those who are looking after their home affairs that they canont afford to assume the responsibility of the kelebted-ness. With this cleared up the members who reamin at home promise to maintain the organizations until the soldiers return home.
Already the merchants who have been asked to subscribe to this measure have re sponded liberally and as a result the committee feels encouraged in its efforts to keep the organizations together during the absence of the militia. Other meetings have been called to arrange further details of the joint committee work and when the plans are outlined definitely there will be a mass meeting of the members of both com panies who are home for the purpose of inthority of the committee on organization of each body. The general plan is to have the latter committees work as much as possible as a joint organization for mutual in-Treasurer Gamble of the business men's

"The sugar beet industry of Nebrask than been injured considerably by the talk of annexing Hawaii," said S. C. Bassett of Gibbon. "In the country surrounding the Grand leland refinery there are not nearly as many beets planted as there were last year. The reason of the light planting is this: The Grand Island refinery men wanted to make contracts with the farmers in which it was stipulated that they would give $4 a ton for the beets in case Hawaii were not annexed, and if annexation took place they would give only $3.50. This agree-ment was unsatisfactory to many of the beet raisers, and they put in other crops. The beet industry has been influenced so largely by political moves that it is not as satisfactory as it might have been otherwise. The government bounty which was withdrawn, and later the state bounty, which was never paid, have militated against the firm establishment of the industry. At a fair price the crop is one that is good for the producer, but with so many uncertainties. threatening the price of beets the growth of the industry will be slow."

About Welts

The welt on a shoe is the part where the sole is joined to the upper and it is the sole point in a shoe that has undergone radical changes in the last twenty years. Twenty years ago all welts had to be sewed by hand. A fellow named Goodyear thought hand work was too slow to suit him and he invented a machine which imitated hand work so closely that it took an expert to tell the difference. Even today in fake stores and bankrupt stocks and "yellow" shoe shops shoes in the Goodyear welts are offered for hand sewed. While a Goodyear welt is equal to hand sewed it doesn't make a shoe wear. In order to get good wear the stock has got to be good. There is no better shoe on earth for the money than our Goodyear welt at $2.50. It is made from specially selected stock. There are plenty of Goodyear welts sold for less money, but the difference is in the stock, not in the welt. We sell other welted shoes at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00, but they are not Goodyear welts and they will not wear like our Goodyear welts. We want your shoe money and we will give you good value for it, but we won't lie to get it and we won't sell you a $2,00 shoe for $2.50 even if it has a Goodyear welt. Some mighty poor shoes are made with a Goodyear welt.
