SELLS THE FUNDING BONDS

City Finds a Purchaser for the Entire Issue at Good Price.

Spitzer & Co. Offer a Neat Premiun and the Connell Accepts the Offer-Will Relieve Much Local Embarrassment.

The $300,000 funding bonds that were issued by the city some time ago and were afterward hung up on account of the "postage stamp" of an alleged New York firm of brokers that afterward failed to accept the bonds have been practically sold to Spitzer & Co. of Toledo and the arrangements for the transfer of the bonds will probably be made within the next fortyeight hours. W. A. Barnett, the traveling representative of the Toledo house, put in the third best bid at the time the bonds were originally advertised. At that time his instructions authorized a materially better bid until a few minutes before the bids were opened, when a telegram from the firm cut down his limit on account of the war scare. Since Bernard Thurman & Co. backed out of their proposition Mr. Barnett has been in Omaha several times to investigate the character of the bonds, and the result was a formal offer to accept the bonds at par and pay a premium of $3.550. The proposition was submitted to the city council in an executive session held yesterday afternoon and that body promptly to acept it. The is slightly better than the one that was previously submitted by Spitzer & Co., and s regarded as a very satisfactory figure for the bonds. The bonds bear only 4 per cent interest, and in view of the difficulty of floating even 5 per cent bonds at this time the council decided to accept the proposition if it can legally be arranged. The matter will come up at the regular council meeting tonight, when a resolution will probably be adopted instructing the city treasurer to accept the proposition and turn over the bonds The disposition of the funding bonds will relieve the city from a very embarrassing situation and also accommodate a large number of its creditors who have been waiting since 1897 for the sale of the bonds, A large amount of the floating indebtedness of 1897 has been held to be taken up by the proceeds of these bonds. Salaries of city officials for 1897 are still unpaid to the amount of $8,787.39. Salaries of members of the fire department, aggregating $4,608.72, ex-members of department. amounting $12,-044.91, are on the same list. It also includes the entire bills of the Omaha Water company for 1897, amounting to $87,040, and lighting bills to the amount of $42,858.83. The bills of the Barber Asphalt company for street repairs and a large aggregate of miscellaneous claims are also unpaid pending the disposal of the bonds. At the beginning of 1898 the council ordered the comptroller to start with a clean ledger in order to get rid of the incubus of overlaps that has been a financial embarrassment for the past five years. At the same time arrangements were made to take up all pending indebtedness by the funding bond issue. The delay in the sale of the bonds has kept these bills on file until this time and there is general rejoicing in the city hall that the matter has finally been adjusted.

Resolution Adopted by a Meeting of Irish Who Remember the

The one hundredth anniversary of the rising of 1798 was celebrated by the loyal Irish-Americans last evening. John Quin presided and Thomas O'Brien acted as secretary. Several patriotic speeches and recitations were delivered. Resolutions breathing the spirit of liberty and hatred for the "Anglo-Saxon robber" were adopted. The meeting closed with the pledge;

Resolved, That in looking over the battle-Resolved, That in looking over the battle-fields of the century just closing we view with regret that the Irish people have fought bravely for every land except their own, but we care not what others may do, our heriditary pride will never permit us to kiss the hand that smote us, and while others owe us a debt of gratitude, whether that deat be ever paid or not we piece that debt be ever paid or not, we pledge ourselves tonight to keep liberty's lamp burning and to husband our hate against the Anglo-Saxon robber until the time comes when 20,000,000 of our race shall be united in an effort to destroy him. No compromise, no friendship, no forgetting of the past. Let our motto be that taught by John Mitchell, "If I could command the lightning of heaven or the fires of hell, I would hurl an Aid to a Proper Understanding of

The war with Spain, so far resulting in the brilliant victory of Admiral Dewey in Manila bay, has centered public interest upon the United States navy. This great naval battle, which added another name to TOLEDO FIRM TAKES THE SECURITIES the list of naval heroes and demonstrated the efficiency of American seamanship, was chiefly important as affording the first real chiefly important as affording the first real test of the lighting qualities of modern war ships, equipped with high-power guns. Undoubtedly one of the results of our war with Spain will be the completion of a navy that will command the admiration and re-spect of the world. While our national pol-icy has always been a peaceful one, the government now recognizes, as never be-fore, the necessity of being always pre-pared for any exigency that may arise, while our foreign interests demand that European nations respect and recognize us as a power able to uphold its rights and enforce its just demands. The appropriation of "Millions for defense" will be followed by the construction of other vessels equipped with the deadly liest and most effective engines of destruction. It has been said that the Krupp gun is the forerunner of the "Era of good-will." A powerful defensive force means "Not the big wars that make ambitious virtue," but

You have thought much on the subjects outlined above since the commencement of hostilities, and you will continue to think of them no matter how long or how short the present war may prove to be, You want to understand what you read, and you wish to have the situation well in hand. All good citizens feel this way, all are anxious to pursue the course of events understandingly and intelligently.

In no way can you accomplish this more speedily and satisfactorily than by the purchase of a copy of the book entitled "The Official Photographs of the United States Navy," issued by The Omaha Bee. It costs only 25 cents and is on sale at the counting rooms of the paper or will be sent by mail to any address on receipt of the price.

In addition to the views of the ships their cost, size, displacement, armament, power, date of launching-every matter of interest is given, and many of the Spanish ships are similarly treated. One feature of intense interest, and one that is well worth the price of the book, is a set of twenty views of the ill-fated Maine, some of which were taken before and some after the explosion.

The course of The Omaha Bee in placing before the general public this valuable and timely work is to be highly commended. It enables everyone in possession of the book to thoroughly understand the naval side of this conflict that is making history every and is destined to very probably change the destiny of more than one nation. As the edition is limited it behooves every one to procure a copy of this book before the supply is exhausted. Thousands have alsecured copies, and when one remem bers that the cost is but 25 cents there will be no excuse for not being provided with this indispensable adjunct to a proper understanding of the events of these stirring

Many Strangers Attend the King's advisable. Court and Learn of Its

The greatest function that has happened so far in the assuredly eventful reign of King Ak-Sar Ben IV was that which transpired within the spacious Den of the king last evening. It was an excessively cosmopolitan affair and though different nations and peoples were represented they all looked alike to his majesty and were treated with that peculiarly touching cordiality that is concomitant with all of Ak-Sar-Ben's receptions.

Some two score of candidates from Omaha and adjacent cities presented themselves before the throne and submissively applied for admission to the royal court of the famous monarch. All their requests were granted, after some deliberation of the king and his advisers, though it was first necessary for a number of the candidates to take out naturalization papers.

Acide from the initiation of so large body of subjects and the splendid showing of strength made by the followers of the king, there was unusual interest attached to the occasion because of the presence of observed that he was unable to walk stead- a number of representatives of the Streets ily. Sergeant King encountered McLarnen of All Nations. They were on hand bright and early with their camels and many a poor candidate sincerely wished that they had left their camels on the exposition grounds. Hilarious rides on the camels tests and ordeals that defy description, goodnatured guying in a mixture of tongues that would have made the keepers of the Babel ten days pay was deemed sufficient to cover Tower real jealous, all helped to make up an entertainment that the forty wise mer who visited King Ak-Sar-Ben IV for the tial policeman in the service of the Omaha first time last evening will long remember as one of the eventful nights in their careers. Refreshments were liberally served at the conclusion of the initiatory proceedings.

Resolved, That the delegation from South

Omaha to the republican county convention be instructed to vote as a unit for the re-nomination of Hon. David H. Mercer for congress and to use all honorable efforts to secure his unanimous renomination at the hands of the congressional convention to held at Omaha May 28, 1898.

The resolution was introduced by B. Wilcox and was carried with cheers. Chairman Stryker stated briefly the object of the meeting when he rapped for order and called upon James H. VanDusen to make a few remarks.

Mr. VanDusen said that the republicans of South Omaha and the Second congressional district stood united for the renomination and re-election of Mr. Mercer. He spoke of Mercer's first race for congress six years ago and of the personal canvass made by the republican candidate against Judge Doane, the democratic nominee. The career of Congressman Mercer was briefly sketched and the speaker asserted that Mr. Mercer had done more for his district than any former representative. He pointed to the magnificent Omaha postoffice as a monument to Congressman Mercer's ability and spoke of the federal building, now under course of construction here to show what had been done for this thriving city by the present representative. 'The republicans of this district," Mr. VanDusen said, "demand the return of Mr. Mercer to congress." In closing the speaker stated that Dave Mercer had done as much as any other person to further the Transmississippi Exposition and ans given any signs of approaching trouble, he considered him the right man in the right Serge enses ...

There are serges and serges. You can buy a serge suit that will be a thing of beauty and a joy as long as you wear it, and you can buy one that will turn red with the first outing, and shrink several sizes with the first shower of rain. A poor serge is not cheap at any price. The Nebraska for years has made a specialty of good serges at a low price, and this year one of the best things we have to offer is a prime worsted serge at 6.50. It is good. It will hold its color and its shape, and it is one of the best serge offerings we have ever shown. Today you can find an abundance of these splendid suits on our second floor, but it wouldn't be safe to put off seeing them very long if this warm spell keeps up any length of time. These are not the cheapest serge suits we have, nor are they the best, but they are in many ways the best values in our entire line. You should make it your business to see them.
