Compromise with the Bolln Bondsmen is Finally Agreed Upon.

CITY TO GET THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND

Finance Committee's Report Recommending the Acceptance of the Offer Made by the Bondsmen is Adopted by the Connell.

At its regular meeting last night the city council determined to settle with the Bolin bondsmen on the proposition presented by the latter-a payment of $35,000 in full settlement of all claims against them arising out of the embezzlement of the ex-city treasurer, including the judgment. finance committee reported in favor of the acceptance of the proposition and in pursuance with this report the following resolution was passed by eight votes, Burkley be-

Resolved by the city council of Omaha. the mayor concurring, That settlement be and hereby is made with the first and second term bondsmen of Henry Bolin for the sum of $35,000 and the payment of all costs in the action heretofore pending in the distriet court of Douglas county against the first court of Douglas county against the first term bondsmen in which judgment has been entered, and upon payment of said rosts and the sum of $35,000 to the city treasurer within sixty days from date the city attorney is hereby authorized and di-rected on behalf of the city of Omaha to enter full satisfaction of said judgment in the records of said district court.

The committee on fire and police reported in favor of the rejection of the bids received for the erection of a barn at the new city jail and ordered that the specifications and plans be revised so as to keep the cost of the structure within $2,000. The report was adopted.

A proposition from Spitzer & Co. to take the unsold $15,000 of the $25,000 4 per cent intersection bonds bearing date of April 1, 1898, at par and interest to date with a premium of $15 to cover cost of delivery, was rejected.

Pay for Farnam Street Paving. A final estimate of $12,198.16 out of the district funds and $3,213,65 from the intersection fund for paving Farnam from Twentieth to Thirtieth-eighth street was allowed. The estimate was approved by the Board of Public Works.

George R. Crandall, city sidewalk contractor, was allowed an estimate of $1,199 for newly built sidewalks. -

City Electrician Shurig was allowed an additional inspector for two weeks at a salary of $70 a month.

The mayor vetoed several resolutions to place electric and gas lights on certain street intersections on the grounds that there are no available funds for the purpose. One or two other vetoes of minor resolutions were also sustained.

Recent washouts on private property by rains of the past week brought in a batch of claims. The biggest was that of Julia Flannagan of Boyd addition, who wanted $3,000 damages because she alleged that her damage was the result of a faulty construction of a main sewer. A number of street and sidewalk washouts were ordered

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS RECORD OF JUNE WEATHER BENNETT'S CLOSE ALL DAY

Twenty-Seven Years Show the Month of Roses to Be Very Decent Wednesday, June 1, Our Store Will Be Closed in These Parts.

For twenty-seven years a careful record of Omaha weather has been kept by the weather bureau and a table of June weather

compiled by Local Forecaster Welsh shows in a very compact form the conditions which have prevailed in years past and which may be expected to reoccur. The mean or normal temperature of June for twenty-seven years is 72 and the lowest average temperature for June was in 1878, when 67 was the average, the highest being 76 in 1871. The warmest June day since observations have been taken in Omaha was

June 28, 1881, with a temperature of 98, and the coldest was 42 on June 9, 1877. The average precipitation for June is 5.37 inches and the average number of days on which more than .01 of an inch fell is eleven. The greatest amount of precipitation during the month was 12.7 inches in 1882 and the least inches on June 17, 1895. The average number of absolutely clear days for June is nine; partly cloudy days, fifteen, and entirely cloudy days, six. During the month the prevailing winds have been from the south and the highest velocity of wind was sixty miles on June 16, 1875, and on June that has been suggested is to form an army of all the lions, elephants, leopards, wild-cats, panthers, hyenas, bears and wolves of the Hagenback's Wild Animal Show, now on the exposition grounds. It is certain that such an army would mean a saving of much money, and, if turned loose in Cubs, with Wallace, the untameable lion, at the head, would certainly cause a scattering and thinning out of the Sannish Mr. Hagen-

ONE GRAND GALA DAY

In Honor of the Exposition Opening.

The Grandest Day in the History of the West-What the West Has Worked For is Now Upon Us-Let 100,000 People Be There.

In honor of the opening of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition Wednesday, June 1, 1898, our store will be Wednesday, June 1, 1898, our store will be closed all day.

For years the people of the west, the business men of Omaha, and all patriotic citizens west of the Mississippi, have been working to establish an exposition that would show to the world the vast resources of the west, and place the west in its proper amount of precipitation was 1.43 inches in light among the large and wealthy regions 1897. The greatest amount of precipitation of the world,—thus to give a stimulus to our industries, and it augurate a reign of prosperity among us.

After years of work, of vast undertakings and vast accomplishments, of heavy investments and enormous preparations, the day has come to enjoy the fruits of all this labor—to invite the world to visit our exposition and see what we have and what we are. The success of the industries of the west, the success of Omaha in the fu-ture, and the success of each individual business man and citizen, depends largely upon the success of this most gigantic un-dertaking—the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition. To make it a success we must let the world know that we have an exhibition that is worth traveling thousands of miles to see. And there is no more forcible way of telling this than to be able to tell them that on the opening day there were 100,000 people here to see our exposition. To do this let every business house be closed and let everybody turn out en masse, not only from Omaha, but all over the west. The railroad rates have been made low enough to enable any person in this or any adjoining state to come to this cpening.

HOW A WAR IS FOUGHT.

Changes in the Mode of Warfare Illustrated by Pictures. If you wish to properly understand the war news, it you wish to have a definite knowledge of naval affairs and the events that are occurring in the East and West Indies you can secure no better, no more reliable source of information than the official photographs of the United States navy, just issued by the Omaha Bee. The price is only 25 cents, and more valuable and timely information was never offered for the money. It is on sale at The Omaha Bee counting-rooms, or will be sent to any address on receipt of price. The book consists of nearly 200 pages of views made by E. H. Hart, naval photo-grapher, and the list of subjects embraces everything of interest pertaining to our navy, of which every American is justly proud. First within the covers of this inter-esting work comes a map sixteen times as large as the book itself, showing on one side the Spanish possessions, and all ad-jacent territory, while on the other side the East Indian possessions are similarly treated. Steamship lines, with the dis-tances intervening between different points. are shown, and a close study of these maps will give one a thorough understanding of this territory, in regard to which the interest of the American public is now at fever heat. Then follow more than 200 rare pictures of the navy, its officers and equipment. The views are all authentic, and are the latest official photographs of our torpedo boats, torpedo boat destroyers, cruisers, battle-ships, gunboats, monitors, rams, dynamite cruisers, dispatch vessels, and other war craft, the whole embodying an authentic portrayal of the American navy as it exists Drive out to the Exposition and leave today. A complete description of the con-struction, displacement, size, speed, bat-The popular watch house is T .- L. Combs teries, armor, crew and cost of each boa will enable the reader to form an accurate estimate of our fighting strength. Included with these are photographs of the leading Spanish men-of-war, also fully described.
