Commission men report last week as be-ing very unsatisfactory to them owing to the fact that Wednesday was a holiday. Holidays are a good thing, but they are rather hard on dealers in perishable goods. Both new and old potatoes are reported as being in good demand, especially old ones, which are selling at from $0 to $0 cents per bushel and the new ones at from $1.35 to $1.50 ner bushel.

bushel and the new ones at from $1.35 to $1.50 per bushel. The tomatoes that are coming on the market now are the best seen this year. Four basket crates are quoted at $2 and 1-3 bushel boxes at $1.25. They are selling fairly well, but will doubtless be more pop-ular this week, as the receipts are expected to increase and consequently prices will be more moderate. Wax beans and peas do not seem to be ready sellers and heavy losses were sus-tained in these lines hast week. Grocers do an immense amount of damage to this market by refusing to pay reasonable prices as soon as there is a slight surplus of stock on hand. When they force com-mission men to sell goods for less than they are worth it stops shipments to this point and an unsafe market is created, which is just the kind shippers fear and try to avoid.

avoid. A few cherries from Missouri, commonly called sour cherries, are beginning to come in and are quoted at $2.50 per twenty-four-quart case. Gooseberries are also coming in good quantities for this season of the year and are selling at $2 per twenty-four-quart case. Lemons, as predicted, are going up and are quoted at $1.50. The warm weather makes them rapid sellers and they are next in popularity to straw-berries. berries

There is beginning to be a slight weaken

There is beginning to be a slight weaken-ing in the egg market, owing to the fact that the old rate on shipments between Chicago and New York has been restored. This adds a cent on every dozen shipped between these points. There is practically only one kind of but-ter in the market at present, namely coun-try butter. The frequent rains have made a luxuriant growth of grass and they have also caused a rank growth of weeds. As a result the quality of butter is not as good this year as usual, or as butter men say, it's weedy. Poilty is not in very good demand just at present owing to the abundance of fuils and vegetables, and consequently the market is a little week. Hens fell off is cent last week and spring chickens are also a little lower.

After a Generally Duil Day the Close Finds Prices Higher. NEW YORK, June 4.—The cotion market opened duil, with prices unchanged to 1 point higher. The nearer deliveries im-proved 2 to 4 points shortly after the call on a few scattering buying orders and scarcity of sellers, but traders soon de-serted the pit, leaving the market in a ner-yous condition. At 11 o'clock speculation was flat, with prices 2.5-8 points over the figures yesterday. Sales to that time reached but 2.100 bales. Crop news lacked special new feature, while cable accounts reflected stagmation in both spot and future departments of the Liverpool market. The market was flat up to the last moment and closed quiet with prices 1 point higher to 1 point lower. Total sales of futures were limited to 21.500 bales.
