ALMA BOYS PUT IN THEIR APPEARANCE

Sixty of Them Pass the Physical Examination and Line Up for Drill -Company C Gets Its Uniforms and Arms.

Company L of Alma arrived at Fort Omaha yesterday morning, making the twelfth company and filling the regiment up to its full quota. A rousing farewell was Milwaukee, Wis. extended the boys on the Fourth of July at Alma. Nearly every man in the company was decorated with numerous pieces of ribbon, the gifts of sweethearts and admirers, and when the company was lined up for inspection after passing the physical examination the gay colored ribbons gave it the appearance of a rainbow or an Easter Of the ninety men who arrived with the company thirty failed in physical examinations, but another officer of the company will arrive tomorrow with sufficient men to bring the company up to 100, the number required for mustering.

Arthur A. Underwood is captain of the company. Anzi A. Hadden is first lieutenant and the second lieutenant has not been chosen yet. "Tom," the mascot of the company, is a fierce looking bull dog that bears marks of many a hard fight and has the reputation of never having met de Clothing and arms has been issued to company C of Omaha and as soon as cartridge belts and canteens arrive the comrany will be completely outfitted and ready for service. The men in their uniforms are the lions of the entire regiments and all the other companies are striving to get recruited up to the 100 mark and be mustered in. So keen is the competition for new recruits that solicitors for several of the unfilled companies meet all the street cars when they arrive at Thirtieth street and rope in the men who come to the fort with the intention of enlisting.

Lieutenant Ralston of company A of Lincoln went to Lincoln on the Fourth of July and secured thirty men who expressed desire to join company A. The men were brought to Omaha and instructed to show up for physical examination yesterday. When the time came no men appeared or the scene and Lieutenant Ralston is still waiting for them to show up and hoping that the men did not come for the sake of having a Fourth of July excursion at the state's expense.

The band is enlisted in company A and will be under the charge of the officers of that company. The drum major who came with the company failed in his examination but another drum major, an ex-member of a United States army band, will arrive to morrow and begin practice with the musi-

Summer Addresses of Some Who Will Spend Their Vacation Outside of Omaha.

As a rule, most of the teachers in the pub lic schools of Omaha spend their summer racation outside of the city. This year, however, most of them will vary this rule and remain here, the exposition and the numerous conventions proving a stronger attraction than the mountains, the country and the watering places. Most of those who do intend to travel will not get away until the latter part of the present week at the earliest. The names and summer ad dresses of the teachers who will spend the balance of the summer out of town are: Jennie Salmon, East River, Conn.

Agreement Made at the Time the City Genuted Permission for the Erection of a Temporary Strace. ture is Violated.

The Union Pacific railroad may be prodded in the very near future by the city council it does not commence to get action on itself shortly toward the erection of a permanent depot. Several of the councilmen are considering the advisability of bringing manic body. If the company were living up to its agreement with the city, work should have been commenced upon the structure some three weeks ago. It was in the early part of April that the Union Pacific's depot proposition came before the council, and, it was on April 12, that the council deeded a lot of property to the Union Pacific for depot purposes and gave the road permission to erect its present temporary depot on condition that it commence work upon the permanent structure within sixty days. These sixty days expired on June 12, or thereabouts, and the railroad has as yet given no evidence of intention to build.

Some of the councilmen are somewhat manded. President Burt appeared before wanted President Burt to put up a guarantee in money that the condition would be comthe money all ready for a depot and that work would be promptly commenced. No cause can be assigned by city officials for the delay, because it is generally reported that the plans of the structure have been drawn for some time.

Just what action the city may take is not known, but those of the aldermen who have given the matter attention declare that they vill be in favor of tearing down that portion of the present temporary structure that lies on city property. They argue that they can legally do this, since the land was deeded for depot purposes and the temporary structure was allowed only on condition that the permanent depot be commenced omply with the condition would invalidate to the city.

All kinds-all sizes-LOWEST PRICES-See

Once more the mark-down microbe is abroad in the land. From now until cold weather he will be "at home" in his favorite haunts, and all sorts of mark-down humbuggery will follow in his wake.

There will be stock taking sales, overloaded sales, before and after inventory sales, clearance sales, must-get-out-of-the-house sales, and all kinds of forcing out and foisting off sales. We never have any of these sales. Our goods are marked down when they come in. We never wait until a season is over to get goods down to saleable prices, because we don't like the idea of charging one price to you and another to your neighbor. For twenty-five consecutive seasons in Omaha we have got along without any humbug sales, and we still decline to follow the fashion of overcharging our customers in season, and remedy-ing it after the season has gone by. Come in and see the linen crash suits for $2.50. They were not

The Beginning of the After Season Tug of War.

A Case of Financial Weakness

That Strengthens Faith in this Store.

One thing certain, you will never get a piece of shop-worn goods of this store.

Unless perchance a garment is smuggled in with some shipment. At any rate the guilty must be punished. Bring everything back that isn't in tip-top condition and exchange it for a new one or your money back. Don't have to be humble, either.

Conclusive proof that we can't afford to nurse goods.

With July the decline of summer clothing begins. One reason why we bunched 8 lines of suits and we renamed them $5.00 suits. They were good and honest values at $5.75 to $6.75. Take your pick at $5.00 a suit now-we prefer now-while you need one.

8 patterns to choose from. Shades of gray, brown and blue-either checked, plaided or mixed patterns -and the textures, cassimere, cheriot, tweed, tricot, worsted-either of pure wool-mind-pure wool.

And woolen cloth rising in cost with every sundown. We might be financially foolish, but commercially cor-reet and that's why we grow.
