

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily (Without Sunday), One Year $2.00...

Omaha: The Bee Building, South Omaha, Silver Block, Corner N and 24th Streets.

Washington: 502 Chamber of Commerce Building.

ALL communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to The Editor.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss: George B. Tschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing company, being duly sworn, says that the actual number of full and complete copies of The Daily, Morning, Evening and Sunday Bee, printed during the month of June, 1898, was as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Number of copies, Total, Less returns and unsold copies, and Net daily average.

Net daily average 29,234. Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 30th day of June, 1898.

N. P. PELL, Notary Public.

PARTIES LEAVING FOR THE SUMMER

Parties leaving the city for the summer can have The Bee sent to them regularly by notifying The Bee business office in person or by mail.

It is fortunate for all concerned that the South Omaha strike has proved of brief duration.

The question of coaling the Spanish fleet in the West Indies is no longer the burning one.

Those who remember the Maine also remember that this is a war for humanity and for that alone.

The campaign in Cuba may be practically closed, but the campaign in Nebraska is only on the eve of its opening.

The Spanish minister of finance may have to resort to an endless chain letter scheme for the benefit of his depleted treasury.

The rush among the populocrats to enter the lists against Congressman Mercer is not quite so strong as the rush for army commissions.

Now for the so-called silver republic county committee to appoint itself as the Douglas county delegation to the three-cornered state convention.

Cervera's bread cast upon the water when he treated Hobson with the courtesy due a hero is coming back to him now in the shape of angel food cake.

It remains for Nebraska democrats to introduce the system of government by parties without the intervention of political conventions or the bother of caucuses.

Now the gold stream has started from the Klondike and it is estimated that nearly as much wealth will be taken out by the prospectors as they took in last spring.

The 25-cent Sunday admission to the exposition should be restored. Every encouragement should be given Omaha workmen and workwomen to profit by the education which the exposition offers.

For the month of June the business of the Omaha postoffice topped the whole country for per cent of increase. That is a showing in which every citizen of Omaha and Nebraska has a right to take pride.

A few days ago a steamer left Portland, Ore., carrying 20,435 barrels of flour, destined for Vladivostok. Good American flour is in demand even in those parts of the east not under the protection of Uncle Sam.

Paving contractors are still tinkering with street pavements that should have been finished months ago. Future contracts for street improvements should be guarded with a time limit, with heavy penalties for inexcusable delays.

Douglas county has still considerable money tied up in broken banks that were formerly county depositories. An effort should be made to collect in what is due from the banks and their bondsmen, so that the suspended account may be completely closed up.

Although the railway companies are raising no serious objections to any part of the new revenue law, it is estimated that they will have to pay as their share of the war tax about $20,000,000 annually. They are raising no objections because they are taking it all out of the shippers and traveling public.

The people all around us are ready and anxious to come to the exposition, but are kept away by obstructive railroad charges. When they accept excursion rates for a trip to Omaha they want tickets that will enable them to remain more than one day. The railroad should wake up to the fact that their interests and the interests of the exposition are in this respect identical.

HOW TO ACHIEVE SUCCESS. Nebraska republicans must make no mistakes this year. They should see to it that only capable and clean men are nominated for every office on congressional, state, legislative and county tickets.

The attempts of discredited leaders and notorious bootleggers to foist themselves on the ticket in person or by proxy should be resisted and frustrated.

Nebraska republicans have sacrificed enough and suffered too much already by subscribing truckling to the dictation of corporate managers who want to dominate all parties and care little or nothing whether the state is governed by republicans, democrats, populists or anarchists.

The republicans of Nebraska should notify the corporations that they may expect fair treatment at their hands, but that the party cannot and will not mortgage itself and its candidates soul and body to curry favor with the corporations.

Among the lessons already taught by the war, one is that more attention should be given to the speed of battleships. The work done by the Oregon in the destruction of Cervera's squadron seems to be conclusive on this point.

England is giving more consideration to speed in the battleships now building than formerly and the expediency of making these war vessels swifter appears to be unquestionable.

The attitude of General Blanco and the Spanish forces in Havana, particularly the volunteers, is undoubtedly a strong influence with the Spanish government and probably has as much as anything else to do with deterring the government from proposing peace negotiations.

Blanco urges continuance of the war, not certainly, with any hope that Spain can retain possession of any part of Cuba, for that officer is too intelligent to believe that possible, nor with the expectation of winning any glory for the Spanish arms.

growing popular sentiment in that country in favor of ending the disastrous conflict may overcome the influences that are being exerted for protracting the war.

The managers of the Omaha exposition are said to be making desperate efforts to get Admiral Cervera to visit that attraction before he leaves the country.

Before Germany goes any further in the protection of her commercial interests in the Philippines, she must first define her interest to her to define what those interests are.

The last naval bill contained an appropriation of $8,000,000 for the building of sixteen torpedo boat destroyers and twelve torpedo boats.

The value of the surrender of Santiago in the saving of American lives is shown in the report of General Shafter, who states that to have taken the place by assault would have cost 5,000 lives.

Whatver may be the outcome of the Santiago business, General Miles has done himself credit by his attitude since he arrived on the scene.
