Bit of Ancient History. The present convention is frequently compared by the old time politicians with the famous congressional convention held in this city August 31, 1880, which nominated Colonel Hepburn. There were at that convention as at the present one, four candidates; Colonel Hepburn of Page county, which at that time was in the Ninth district; Jahn Y. Stone of Mills county; Major A. R. Anderson of Cass county, and Colonel Sapp of Pottawattamie county. The in formal ballot gave Sapp 54: Anderson, 3616; Hepburn, 1314, and Stone, 7. Interesting Developments Expected.

What today will bring forth no one last night offered to forecast, although some in teresting developments are expected. In the first place it is thought that a desperate and probable final effort to nominate Hager No Nomination Made by the Ninth District will be made, and if unsuccessful then a break may be looked for in his forces to McPherson, provided an assurance can be had that he will be nominated. Otherwise FOUR HUNDRED BALLOTS ARE TAKEN it is believed the Hager men will stand put until some dark horse is sprung. If Hager's strength is thrown to McPherson it One Roll Call Follows Another with is believed a general stampede will occur and Pottawattamie will break and jump into the band wagon of the man from Montgomery county. The general opinion on the outside last night was that of the four candidates McPherson's chances for the nomination were the best. Byer's friends are still hopeful and claimed last night that no break would take place in the ranks of any of his delegates, but the opinion seems to prevail that he cannot much longer hold

There is a large number in the convention who would like to see Judge Macy of Harlan sprung, but there are obstacles in the way and as long as Byers is in the field it is said that Judge Macy would refuse to allow his name to come before the convention. He is chairman of the Shelby county delegation and is a fellow towns-man of ex-Speaker Byers. Judge Macy has a strong following in the Pottawattamies and if Byers should withdraw and his name is presented his nomination can surely be looked for. The following additional witnesses who were subpoensed yesterday, were examined: Frank Cody, Captain Berger, a mute named Ryner and C. H. Gilbert. The general understanding is that the probing into the affairs of the school and the man agement of Superintendent Rothert developed the fact that in the main the charges made were more or less of a frivolous character, and that nothing will come of the investigation, unless it be a change in the present force of teachers. Under the new law the superintendent not only has general charge of the institution but also of the education department. Instead of the teachers being appointed by the board of trustees, as formerly, they are now hired by the superintendent.

An order for ten days' rations will be filled tomorrow, and Captain Olmstead will send in another order to Omaha for thirty days' rations for 1.200 men. He is expecting word from the War department at Washington at any time advising him of the expected arrival of the troops. INDEPENDENCE, Ia., Aug. 19 .- (Spe cial.)-Near Stanley in this county the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Foy were burned to death in a barn during a storm Wednesday night. The Foy farm is situated The State Board of Control completed its about three and one-half miles south of on into the management of the | Stanley and is a typical country residence, > Thomas, aged 18; Lewis, aged 16; George, aged 11, and Blanche, aged 9, were allowed to sleep in the barn, to gratify a childish whim, and at an early hour they went to hed in the hay mow. About 2 o'clock in the morning neighbors noticed flames is suing from the Foy barn and roused Mr. Foy, who was not till then aware of the danger to his offsprings. Everything possible was done to check the flames and to reach the children, but it was then too late, and shortly after the building collapsed and the cries of the children were hushed. The bodies could not be recovered till a late hour, owing to the fire, which continued to burn in the hay which had been placed in the loft, and then the remains were so charred as to preclude recognition. The children had doubtless been awakened by the heat and smoke from the fire, which had originated in the lower part of the building, but had been unable to escape as the ladders leading from the mow had been burned away.

Six horses and two head of cattle were also destroyed in the building, in addition and in consequence there was a grand rush to a large quantity of grain and hay, so that the financial loss to Mr. Foy will approximate $1,000. The family dog, which had been sleeping in the loft with the children, was also burned.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, and will probably never be known. The flames when first discovered were issuing from the lower part of the barn.
