PAYS THE WAR TAX IN TEXAS

Pacific Express Company Supplies Stamps to Its Customers There.

BAYS IT DESIRES TO AVOID A CONFLICT

State Authorities Threaten to Make Trouble for the Company Unless it Takes Care of the Internal Revenue Charges.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25 .- A special to the Post-Dispatch from Fort Worth, Tex., says: Superintendent O. W. Case of the Pacific Express company has notified the state officials that, beginning today, his company will comply with the recent ruling of the state railway commission to pay the war tax on express matter destined to points in Texas.

news conveyed in the above dispatch was confirmed at the headquarters of the Pacific Express company in this city yesterday afternoon. In speaking of the action taken in Texas a leading official of the company said: "This payment of the war tax on express matter shipped over our line applies only to intra-state business in Texas. It does not at all apply to interstate business. The company will pay the war revenue stamp only on express matter shipped from one point in the state of Texas to another point in the same state. This action was taken by the Pacific Express company, as well as by other express companies doing business in Texas, in order to avoid a conflict with the state authorities.

"They threatened to make us pay for the war revenue stamp tax, or else subject our express rates to a radical reduction. We thought it better to make a concession regarding the payment of the revenue stamp tax than to have our rates reduced, or to start a lengthy litigation. So far as I know now no action of this kind is contemplated in the other states in which the Pacific Express company operates."

ROADS WILL CURTAIL EXPENSES

Meeting of Representatives of Traffic Lines of Vanderblit New System. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 25 .- There were twenty freight traffic managers, all connected with lines under Vanderbilt control, in conference here to-day. Plans for the curtailment of general expenses and for the consolidation of local agencies as far as consistent were discussed. It was stated that in cities where there were a number of offices connected with various Vanderbilt lines a general agency would be established. The appointments of W. F. Wilson as general manager of freight lines operating over the West Shore; F. L. Pomeroy as general manager of freight lines operating over the New York Central, and G. C. Street to be general accountant, were confirmed.

A Kansas City dispatch says that the Santa Fe management has made the costly discovery that center ice tank refrigerator box cars are a failure. The discovery is costly for two reasons. The first is that during the three years the cars have been in service on the road there has been a loss in the amount of ice used on the basis of the amount used in the ordinary refrigerator cars. The second is that to save further loss in this way the cars are to be remodeled at a cost of several hundred dollars each. The cars have now two doors, one at either side of the ice boxes, and this space will have to be filled in and another door cut in the center of the car. This work, together with the building of the new ice boxes, will make the work of remodelfifty of the center ice box refrigerator cars were purchased by the Santa Fe about three years ago. The ice box was built in the center of the car, with space for produce at either side, and it was said that the arrangement was economical in the use of ice. But the Santa Fe management has found out differently. Instead of being economical, the arrangement has been costly, as it requires more ice to keep produce than in the ordinary cars with the ice boxes built at either end. The center ice box is now to be torn out and the new ice boxes built at each end.

Milwaukee Gets Better Rates. MILWAUKEE, Aug. 25.-An agreement on freight rates satisfactory to Milwauker and Minneapolis and for which the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce has been fighting for six years, has at last been reached and Milwaukee will hereafter be on an equality with Minneapolis for the grain trade of southern Minnesota and Iowa. The question was referred to a committee of the chambers of commerce of both cities. The railroads operating in the territory involved agreed to adopt rates as agreed to by the conference committee. The agreement gives to Milwaukee a rate of from 1 to 3 cents on 100 pounds less than the tariffs prevailing prior to June 20 last, from 150 points in the territory involved. It places

ford, Ont., is Dispelled. In the discovery of 15-year-old Victor Leon, whose true name is W. J. Ross, in a box car in the Burlington railroad yards with a choice collection of hoboes, the supposed kidnaping case in which the boy was the principal figure, that created a great deal of interest throughout Canada five years ago is cleared up. Young Ross says he was not kidnaped, but voluntarily left his home at Stratford, Ont., to see the world alone. He says he knew that the newspapers the country over was making a big fuss over his disappearance, but he feared to return, because he thought he would be severely punished by his father. Since leaving home, he says, he has not notified his father of his whereabouts and he thinks his parents believe him dead. He does not care, he says, whether his relations are notified of his whereabouts or not. He is more interested in finding his foster father, Prof. Bosco, the proprietor of a medicine show with whom he has been living for the last four years. The two became separated in the south. Prof. Basco is supposed to be in Grand Island and will be notified of young Ross' detention. The boy's father will also be notified.

Young Ross says that after he left home he went to Mississippi, where he worked for several families as a chore boy. About year later he fell in with Prof. Bosco, who was showing in the town he lived in, and the professor, learning he had no home, took him under his wing. He tought young Ross to sing and dance and play the banjo, and when he was efficient placed him on the stage. He has toured the entire country. Young Ross is a very bright boy, sturdily built and manlylooking. Nothing is known of his father. He is said to be quite well-to-do.

The Odd Fellows' bureau of information has just completed sending out 10,000 packets of advertising matter and is now starting in on a second installment of a like amount. The prime motive of this work is to boom Odd Fellows' day, which is to be on October 17. While this day is more than a month in the future the bureau has been engaged in disseminating information bearing upon it for some time and of course advertising the exposition to that extent. The matter is enclosed in a large envelope bearing the card of the exposition in large type and the date of Odd Fellows day. On the inside is a printed announce ment to Odd Fellows, giving something about rates, hotel accommodations and program and such other information as will be of value; there is one of the latest pamphlets issued by the Department of Publicity and Promotion and a printed sketch of the Peace Jubilee, with the fact of President McKinley's proposed visit. These have been sent to all the officers in all the subordinate lodges in every one of the transmississippi states and in five other states, with the request that they be read in open lodge. In addition to this a large hanger bearing upon the subject has been sent out, to be hung in the entry way to all lodge rooms. The officers of the bureau say they expect at least 30,000 Odd Fellows to be in Omaha on October 17 and are bending their
