

COMING DAYS AT EXPOSITION

National Dental Association's Convention the Leading Event on Tap.

SOME OTHER BIG EVENTS SCHEDULED

Old-Time Telegraphers and Military Telegraph Corps, the Lumbermen, Forestry Association and Number of State Days.

The annual meeting of the National Dental association will convene Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and continue until Friday afternoon. It will be preceded on Monday by a meeting of the State Dental association. This will be the first meeting of the national association, reorganized and consolidated.

No organized attempt will be made by the local dentists to prepare entertainment for the visitors, as it is the first of the kind here now, and have been coming on all trains, and will be arriving every hour up till the opening of the meeting. The down town hotels are full of them. As evidence that the meeting will be most important, one of the largest dental supply houses in the country has sent on ten of its men to take charge of the exhibit it will have displayed during the progress of the meeting.

No organized attempt will be made by the local dentists to prepare entertainment for the visitors, as it is the first of the kind here now, and have been coming on all trains, and will be arriving every hour up till the opening of the meeting. The down town hotels are full of them. As evidence that the meeting will be most important, one of the largest dental supply houses in the country has sent on ten of its men to take charge of the exhibit it will have displayed during the progress of the meeting.

The officers of the association are as follows: President, Thomas Pillsbury of Boston, who arrived in the city during the last week; eastern vice president, James McManus of Hartford, Conn.; western vice president, L. L. Dunbar of San Francisco; southern vice president, B. Holly Smith of Baltimore; recording secretary, George H. Cushing of Fairmont, Cal.; assistant secretary, William E. Walker of Pass Christian, Miss.; corresponding secretary, Emma James Chase of St. Louis; treasurer, Henry W. Morgan of New York.

The work of the meeting will be divided into sections, each representing some division of dental science, and the results of these sectional sessions will be reported later to the general body. There will be sections as follows: Pathology and bacteriology; chemistry and metallurgy; dental education; literature and nomenclature; operative dentistry; histology and microscopy; materia medica and therapeutics; physiology and etiology; anatomy, pathology and surgery; hygiene and prophylactic dentistry; orthodontia; clinics.

The sessions of the association will be held at Creighton Medical college. The first meeting of the sections will be at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

FOR THE OLD-TIME TELEGRAPHERS

President Dickey Names the Committee to Look After the Reunion

Elaborate plans are being made for the annual reunion of the Old-Time Telegraphers and United States Military Telegraphers in this city, on September 13, 14 and 15. The officers of the former association are: J. J. Dickey, president, and W. J. Dickey, secretary, and of the latter association: W. B. Wilson, president, and J. E. Pettit, secretary.

The following is a list of local committees appointed for the occasion by President Dickey: Committee of Arrangements—L. H. Kory, chairman; Luther Drake, C. B. Horton, W. W. Umsted, E. Rosewater, John A. Creighton.

Finance Committee—E. Rosewater, chairman; John A. Creighton, W. W. Umsted, Entertainment Committee—E. Dickinson, chairman; C. E. Post, C. B. Horton, M. H. Kory, J. H. Kory, J. Dickey.

Committee on Transportation—E. Rosewater, chairman; J. J. Dickey, W. W. Umsted, Reception Committee—John A. Creighton, chairman; E. Rosewater, C. E. Post, Luther Drake, W. W. Umsted, J. B. Sheldon, J. P. Ehrhart, S. A. From, W. J. Dickey, T. M. Orr, W. S. Dimmock, C. K. Morehouse, C. O. Plich, C. B. Keyes, E. Dickinson, H. E. Flavin, C. B. Horton, W. B. Fordyce, F. G. Lamb, W. S. Moore, G. W. Moore, G. W. Shaw, H. V. Lane, H. P. Ryner, W. S. Howell, George L. Morgan, J. J. Dickey, W. P. McFarland, Frank Lehmer, J. H. Owens, T. H. Fonda, C. E. Yates, N. B. Mead, J. B. Prichard, Frank J. Burkle, C. J. Lane.

IOWA IS COMING IN FULL FORCE

Secretary Chase Tells of the Celebration of His State's Day.

Speaking of the exposition, Secretary Chase of the Iowa commission, said: "It is a pronounced success, second in beauty and size to the World's fair, held in Chicago in 1893. All Iowa people will desire to visit the exposition before it is closed and there is no better time to come than during September.

"The Iowa commission has selected September 21 as Iowa day, and during that week it is expected that the railroads will make the very low rate of 1 cent per mile from all parts of the state. As Iowa is the first in importance of the transmississippi states, and a people who live on the Iowa side of the river, Iowa day should be and will be the greatest day in point of attendance of any of the state days.

"In order to make Iowa day at the exposition the grandest of all state days that will be held during the months of September and October, the Iowa commission has decided to appeal to the state and local pride of the various cities and towns and counties in the state to assist in making it the greatest event that should be staged. The speakers are on the program for the occasion.

Shriners' Arrangements

Shriners day at the exposition, which will be celebrated September 14, promises to be the greatest occasion for the members of that ancient and noble order in the world. The arrangements are in the hands of the Grand Shrine of Des Moines, and nothing will be lacking that can add to the enjoyment of their guests. The headquarters of the shriners on the grounds will be at the Auditorium, which has been reserved for their exclusive use and the celebration will begin in the Auditorium at 10 o'clock with a general reception which will continue for one hour. At 11 o'clock the visiting Masons will be formally welcomed to the exposition and badges and souvenirs will be distributed. At 2 o'clock there will be a special shriners concert in the Auditorium, at which an elaborate program will be rendered and receptions will be held in their honor at the various state buildings from 3 to 5 o'clock. At 6:29 there will be a grand military parade in which all the Orientals, with their camels and bands will participate, and at 9 o'clock there will be a special fire works display, which will include a number of pieces of artillery appropriate to the occasion. After the fireworks the shriners will descend on the Midway in force and a number of special entertainments will be given in their honor.

Toledo People Are Coming. A letter from J. E. Gunckel, passenger agent of the Lake Shore road at Toledo, O., to the Bee, states that about 200 people from the northern part of Ohio are preparing to visit the exposition to help celebrate Ohio day, October 5. Of these about 150 people will come from Toledo alone. The Toledo citizens want to have a day of their own, and if New York day is postponed from October 6 to October 8, the Toledo folks will get for October 5 for themselves. The governor of Ohio and his entire staff will be present on the day. A special train will

Stricken on the Street

Mrs. J. Marshall of 2522 Parker street, while wheeling a baby carriage on Twenty-fifth street, near Hamilton, yesterday was taken with an apoplectic attack and fell to the sidewalk. In her struggles she cut her chin very badly in two places and her scalp was badly bruised. She was removed to her home in a patrol wagon.

When the Boys Come

Marching home—they will see at the old reliable big value shoe store the grandest assortment of ladies' shoes ever shown anywhere—the very latest in ladies foot wear—there is the Foster custom last—so chic and natty—the Hannan man fashion beautifully neat—the military last that the boys like—the new model one of our latest the common sense and other popular lasts—pug toes, bull dog toes and all the new round toes in vogue and the soft velvety Russia and soles that make walking easy.

Drexel Shoe Co.,

Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House. 1419 FARNAM STREET.

Hotel Men Will Come Tomorrow

Feeders of the Hungry Will Visit the Exposition.

The hotel men of the transmississippi region will exhibit their wares tomorrow, Monday, August 29, was some time ago set aside for the keepers of hostilities west of the Mississippi river and the indications are that there will be a big number in attendance. Over 7,000 invitations have been issued, being sent to every hotel man in the territory represented by the exposition.

Chairman Coates of the Mercer hotel yesterday announced that a program had been prepared covering entertainment for the visitors for three days. Nothing is planned for Monday morning, the time being allowed the hotel men to arrive and get located. The exercises will open at the Auditorium on the exposition grounds on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There will be music by one of the exposition bands and Mayor Frank E. Moore will extend a cordial welcome on behalf of the city. He will be followed by President Gurdon Wattles, who will speak on behalf of the exposition directory. Ralph Kitchen, president of the Hotel Men's association of Omaha, will reply to the welcome. The exercises then the visitors will devote the remainder of the afternoon and evening to viewing the exposition.

On Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock the hotel men will assemble at Fourteenth and Harney streets. The exercises will be in the form of a trolley car and go to South Omaha. The entire morning will be put in there in inspecting the packing plant of Armour & Co. and at noon the hotel men will be the guests of the Armour people at luncheon. The remainder of the day and evening will be spent at the exposition. On Wednesday there will be another trolley excursion about town for the hotel men and in the evening there will be a theater party in their honor.

Plans of the Pennsylvanians. Vigorous efforts are being made to make Pennsylvania day at the exposition, October 5, one of the leading state days of the series. Omaha people will extend a cordial welcome to their place of nativity have enlisted the active support of those who live elsewhere in the transmississippi region and together they promise to make a creditable showing for their state. The time selected was that of the year 1800, with the Ak-Sar-Ben annual festivities and that fact is being made use of to bring the Pennsylvanians out to the exposition.

The details of the program for the day have not yet been arranged, but they will be worked out later. The program of the exposition and the state commission. Governor Hastings of Pennsylvania will be present and will respond to the welcome extended by the transmississippi states and Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith will make the address of the day. There will also be special music.

In order the better to gather the children of the Keystone state in Omaha on that date Pennsylvania clubs have been organized in this city and throughout the transmississippi region, which will bring the people interested in touch with this movement and arouse within them an interest in the day and a desire to be present at the celebration.

To make the gathering more like the harvest home festival so familiar in Pennsylvania years ago, the local clubs are arranging for a big basket picnic to be held at Hanscom park on October 6, the day after the state celebration. Here the time will be devoted to show speaking, music, singing, story telling and the forming of new acquaintances and the renewing of old ones. Five thousand button badges have been ordered as souvenirs of the day and the local committee expects to have the supply exhausted before all the Pennsylvanians present shall be served.

A Little Girl at the Exposition. Dear Mr. Editor: The last time my friend and I went to the exposition we had such a good time we thought we would go again and then I didn't know if you had got back from your trip. I had a good number of children was expected. I thought I had better be on hand.

I don't think there was quite as many children came this time as before, but there were enough to make things lively, and say, Mr. Editor, did you ever notice that when you are in a crowd that you meet the same party nearly everywhere you go? My friend and I had a whole lot of fun yesterday over a party that seemed to be tagging us everywhere we went. This party, a man and his wife and three children, were enjoying themselves in their way, which was greatly amused us. Say, did you ever stop to think how many different ways there are to enjoy yourself at the exposition? The mother seemed to be afraid that the children would starve, so she insisted upon feeding them every few minutes from a basket she carried with her, and I just wish you could have seen the things that came out of that basket. I know you would have been surprised, for I was. My friend and I thought it was time to move on, so we started to the Agriculture building and here I found the sweetest place I was ever in in my life and I will tell you right where to find it, so when you go out you can go and see it for yourself. You will find it in the Agriculture building, in Nebraska's exhibit.

Here I became acquainted with a bee that was not an Omaha Bee and it must have been a very busy bee. Here we found a big flour mill, constructed out of honeycomb and I thought you will agree with me when I say it was sweet. The mill and the house on the hill were made of honeycomb and besides this there was the tiny miniature railway with the engine and cars on the tracks, and the steeple and spire was not made out of honeycomb, and if the flour made in this mill is as sweet as the mill is I should think that all the bread would turn out cake.

This is only one of the many of Nebraska's beautiful exhibits. I was just wondering how much flour a mill like this could turn out in a day when "our party" with the lunch basket here in sight, and I was so afraid my friend would giggle again that I concluded I would wait until some other time to make inquiries. So we passed on and what attracted our attention most was that wonderful exhibit from Montana. I think Montana must be one of the most beautiful states in the west, with its long mountains, with their peaks wild all over them, and the curious little waterfalls comes dashing down the side of the mountain, and I wondered if the noted California trees could be any more beautiful than those I found here. And I made up my mind that if I ever got tired of Nebraska I would go to Montana to live.

We finally started for home and had just got seated in the car going home when our friends with the lunch basket got aboard the car, and would you believe it, Mr. Editor, that basket was not empty yet.

Watching Their Watches

When General Shafter had completed the investment of Santiago, word went along the five-mile line of battle, "The attack on the intrenchments will be made at 4:15." At 4:15 every American soldier's hand went to his American watch, and every American patriot on the field said: "NOW!" History tells the result.

A good watch is useful in war as in peace. Modern life, whether on the field of battle or in the quiet home, is measured by fractions of minutes. "Pretty near the right time" will not do, in these stirring times. Get one of my American Watches and go by it.

Mr. McKinley Gives Positive Promise to Be Here in October.

MANAGER ROSEWATER TELLS OF HIS TRIP

Washington Authorities Show Great Interest in the Exposition and Lend Much Assistance to Make It a Success.

Edward Rosewater returned yesterday from Washington, whither he went at the behest of the managers of the exposition to invite President McKinley to attend the Peace Jubilee early in October.

In an interview Mr. Rosewater said: "I have been out nine days and have had a very successful tour. Before starting for Washington I labored under the impression that Chicago had given up its proposed Peace Jubilee, but upon my arrival, there was a general feeling that it would be held and I decided to make an effort to get the president to attend their demonstration. In order to avoid any conflict with Chicago, which has a representative in the cabinet in Secretary Gage, I communicated with the committee of arrangements and was invited to a conference with President Revere of the Union League club and Ferdinand Peck. They expressed themselves as very anxious to co-operate and I promised to report to them what disposition the president would make regarding his proposed western tour.

"Arriving at Washington on Saturday morning I succeeded in securing an interview by appointment at 3 p. m. I was accompanied by Assistant Secretary of War McKinley. The president appeared to be very favorably inclined. He paid a high compliment to the pluck and energy of the exposition management which had carried out its plans in the face of war. The president was also highly pleased with the painting of the Grand Court, which he pointed out in the exhibition. That picture is now hung up in the White House and will be a reminder there for years to come of the great achievement at Omaha.

Gets Positive Assurance. "When I read the report sent out by the Associated Press to the New York papers, which seemed to indicate that the president had not yet made up his mind with reference to the Peace Jubilee, I decided to have a second interview and to make sure that nothing had happened to cause the president to change his mind. As I had at the first interview secured a promise from the president of a signed photograph to be kept in the cabinet, I decided to have a good excuse for returning to the White House. At the second interview the president was very positive that he fully intended to visit Omaha, there being no question except as to the time and possible complications that no one could foresee.

"All the cabinet officers were out of the city on my arrival, attending the New York naval review. On their return last Monday I succeeded in interviewing five of them and each promised to participate in our celebration on Cabinet day. The fact that they all seemed to have fallen in line indicated clearly that the president had already mentioned the matter to them.

"Just before closing my first interview with the president I broached the Chicago matter and the president waved his hand, stating that Chicago was quite able to take care of itself and I thereupon dropped the subject. While in New York I received the following telegram from Postmaster Gordon of Chicago:

"Anxious to communicate with reference to the president's visit to Omaha, Chicago people have been waiting for you. A telegram indicates that the Secretary Gage himself had not been able to get the president to commit himself to a promise to stop over in Chicago, coming or going, but in all probability he will do so.

"On my arrival in Chicago on the return trip the Times-Herald had this to say: "President McKinley has accepted the invitation to attend the Peace Jubilee in October. He will possibly be accompanied by Lynen J. Gage, secretary of the treasury, and John D. Long, secretary of the navy." "The Jubilee executive committee rejoiced yesterday over the receipt of this news from Washington. Edward Rosewater of Omaha, who went to the city to verify the news of the president's contemplated attendance at the Jubilee in October, has given positive assurance that the president will visit Chicago while enroute to the Transmississippi Exposition at Omaha.

"The cabinet officers who attended the Omaha Exposition, conferred with the Jubilee committee before he went to Washington and agreed upon a date which would give the president an opportunity to attend both cities without personal inconvenience. The formal invitation to the president has also been tendered by W. B. Harper, chairman of the invitation committee. Much depended on Mr. Rosewater's visit. Formal acceptance is expected by mail within a few days. "The news of the president's decision created great enthusiasm.

Will Have the War Balloons.

"As to the war balloons and war relics, the exposition is under great obligations to Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn, who has taken special pains to extend all the favors possible. It was chiefly through his co-operation that we succeeded in getting the balloons, although General Greely is a personal friend.

Don't Be Held Up—

By high prices—our prices on pianos are always $50 to $100.00 less than you can get anywhere else—and the class of pianos we offer are such that we can recommend and you will be satisfied with—we want sell an instrument we can't recommend and we've some pianos as low as $120—good pianos—the recommended kind—The ones are such high grades as Knabe—Kimball—Krauch & Bach—Hallett & Davis, etc.

"Almozo," the beautiful painting, now on exhibition and many other rare art treasures in our art rooms.

A. HOSPE,

MUSIC AND ART 1513 Douglas

PRESIDENT SURELY COMING

Mr. McKinley Gives Positive Promise to Be Here in October.

MANAGER ROSEWATER TELLS OF HIS TRIP

Washington Authorities Show Great Interest in the Exposition and Lend Much Assistance to Make It a Success.

Edward Rosewater returned yesterday from Washington, whither he went at the behest of the managers of the exposition to invite President McKinley to attend the Peace Jubilee early in October.

In an interview Mr. Rosewater said: "I have been out nine days and have had a very successful tour. Before starting for Washington I labored under the impression that Chicago had given up its proposed Peace Jubilee, but upon my arrival, there was a general feeling that it would be held and I decided to make an effort to get the president to attend their demonstration. In order to avoid any conflict with Chicago, which has a representative in the cabinet in Secretary Gage, I communicated with the committee of arrangements and was invited to a conference with President Revere of the Union League club and Ferdinand Peck. They expressed themselves as very anxious to co-operate and I promised to report to them what disposition the president would make regarding his proposed western tour.

"Arriving at Washington on Saturday morning I succeeded in securing an interview by appointment at 3 p. m. I was accompanied by Assistant Secretary of War McKinley. The president appeared to be very favorably inclined. He paid a high compliment to the pluck and energy of the exposition management which had carried out its plans in the face of war. The president was also highly pleased with the painting of the Grand Court, which he pointed out in the exhibition. That picture is now hung up in the White House and will be a reminder there for years to come of the great achievement at Omaha.

Gets Positive Assurance. "When I read the report sent out by the Associated Press to the New York papers, which seemed to indicate that the president had not yet made up his mind with reference to the Peace Jubilee, I decided to have a second interview and to make sure that nothing had happened to cause the president to change his mind. As I had at the first interview secured a promise from the president of a signed photograph to be kept in the cabinet, I decided to have a good excuse for returning to the White House. At the second interview the president was very positive that he fully intended to visit Omaha, there being no question except as to the time and possible complications that no one could foresee.

"All the cabinet officers were out of the city on my arrival, attending the New York naval review. On their return last Monday I succeeded in interviewing five of them and each promised to participate in our celebration on Cabinet day. The fact that they all seemed to have fallen in line indicated clearly that the president had already mentioned the matter to them.

"Just before closing my first interview with the president I broached the Chicago matter and the president waved his hand, stating that Chicago was quite able to take care of itself and I thereupon dropped the subject. While in New York I received the following telegram from Postmaster Gordon of Chicago:

"Anxious to communicate with reference to the president's visit to Omaha, Chicago people have been waiting for you. A telegram indicates that the Secretary Gage himself had not been able to get the president to commit himself to a promise to stop over in Chicago, coming or going, but in all probability he will do so.

"On my arrival in Chicago on the return trip the Times-Herald had this to say: "President McKinley has accepted the invitation to attend the Peace Jubilee in October. He will possibly be accompanied by Lynen J. Gage, secretary of the treasury, and John D. Long, secretary of the navy." "The Jubilee executive committee rejoiced yesterday over the receipt of this news from Washington. Edward Rosewater of Omaha, who went to the city to verify the news of the president's contemplated attendance at the Jubilee in October, has given positive assurance that the president will visit Chicago while enroute to the Transmississippi Exposition at Omaha.

"The cabinet officers who attended the Omaha Exposition, conferred with the Jubilee committee before he went to Washington and agreed upon a date which would give the president an opportunity to attend both cities without personal inconvenience. The formal invitation to the president has also been tendered by W. B. Harper, chairman of the invitation committee. Much depended on Mr. Rosewater's visit. Formal acceptance is expected by mail within a few days. "The news of the president's decision created great enthusiasm.

Will Have the War Balloons.

"As to the war balloons and war relics, the exposition is under great obligations to Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn, who has taken special pains to extend all the favors possible. It was chiefly through his co-operation that we succeeded in getting the balloons, although General Greely is a personal friend.

Don't Blame Us—

When you go to the Exposition gate and have to put up $1.00 to get your camera admitted—and only 50 cents for yourself—We haven't anything to do with the concession—but we do sell the best photographic supplies and at the cheapest prices—if you want you can use our dark room free of charge—we do developing and printing and guarantee our work to be the best in Omaha—Come in and look around, you can see something new that will be of interest to you.

The Rising Sun—

Rarely shines upon a finer carpet stock than the one we have now—you know a pretty design when you see it, but you cannot know a really good carpet until you have tried it—The quality design is the cheap John's ball—the designs we carry in stock are as tasteful as can be bought anywhere—and our qualities are the best we can get—We won't sell a carpet we can't recommend.

Omaha Carpet Co

Omaha's Exclusive Carpet House, 1515 Dodge St.

Don't Blame Us—

When you go to the Exposition gate and have to put up $1.00 to get your camera admitted—and only 50 cents for yourself—We haven't anything to do with the concession—but we do sell the best photographic supplies and at the cheapest prices—if you want you can use our dark room free of charge—we do developing and printing and guarantee our work to be the best in Omaha—Come in and look around, you can see something new that will be of interest to you.

The Aloe & Penfold Co

Amateur Photo Supp. Omaha. 1409 Farnam Street, Opposite Paxton Hotel. OMAHA

NEW

When you go to the Exposition gate and have to put up $1.00 to get your camera admitted—and only 50 cents for yourself—We haven't anything to do with the concession—but we do sell the best photographic supplies and at the cheapest prices—if you want you can use our dark room free of charge—we do developing and printing and guarantee our work to be the best in Omaha—Come in and look around, you can see something new that will be of interest to you.

The Aloe & Penfold Co

Amateur Photo Supp. Omaha. 1409 Farnam Street, Opposite Paxton Hotel. OMAHA

Here You Are—

A good washing machine for $2.98—does all the work—We've just received a new invoice of the celebrated "Stransky" steel ware for which we are sole agents for Omaha—The teakettles even have a seam in them—a No. 8 granite iron teakettle Monday for 45c—Come Monday if you want one at that price—Our line of pocket cutlery and scissors is worthy of your notice—A traveler's sample line just added gives us a larger assortment than any other store in Omaha—We always did sell cheap.

A. C. RAYMER,

WE DELIVER YOUR PURCHASE. 1514 Farnam St.

Watching Their Watches

When General Shafter had completed the investment of Santiago, word went along the five-mile line of battle, "The attack on the intrenchments will be made at 4:15." At 4:15 every American soldier's hand went to his American watch, and every American patriot on the field said: "NOW!" History tells the result.

A good watch is useful in war as in peace. Modern life, whether on the field of battle or in the quiet home, is measured by fractions of minutes. "Pretty near the right time" will not do, in these stirring times. Get one of my American Watches and go by it.

HENRY COPLEY,

WARES OF GOLD AND SILVER, 215 S. 16th St., Paxton Bldg.

sonal friend, having resided in Omaha years ago as a signal officer.

"The great war balloon which is to become a part of the government exhibit at the exposition was manufactured for the War department at Frankfort, N. Y., of pongee silk. Its capacity is 21,000 cubic feet, sufficient to carry four persons. This balloon is equipped with complete telephonic and telegraphic apparatus. Communication is established by means of insulated wire, paid out as the balloon ascends. A complete photographic outfit is also part of the equipment. The hydrogen gas is generated by means of an apparatus consisting of gas generator, gasometer, gas compressor, steam engine and several hundred gas tubes. These tubes are eight inches in diameter and fifty inches long. They are seamless, each tube being tested to a pressure of 4,000 pounds to the square inch. By means of the gas compressor the tubes are filled with hydrogen gas, practically in liquidified state. When the balloon is to be inflated the tubes are connected by means of valves and fittings to the gas chamber in the balloon and inflation is made. At Santiago this monster balloon was used by the United States signal corps in making observations in conjunction with a number of small balloons of various colors placed so as to indicate the position of each brigade or division.

"Another thing that I succeeded in bringing about was the enlargement of the Indian encampment. The Indians now here are to be reinforced by several hundred red men from the southwest. Prof. James Mooney of the Smithsonian Institution, who has been delegated for ethnological work, is here now and will proceed to the reservation of the Kiowas, Comanches, Wichitas and associated tribes, Arapahos, Cheyennes and Apaches, under Chief Geronimo, now held as prisoners of war at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. The professor will return with these Indians in about two weeks.

FUTURE OF THE CURRENCY

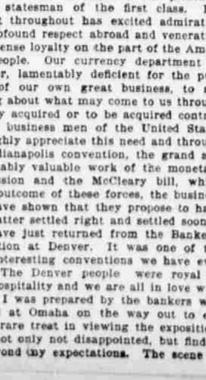

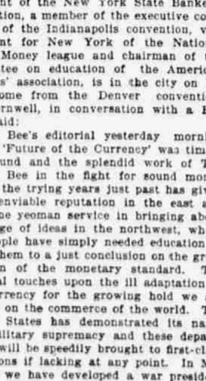

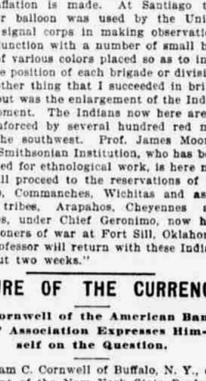

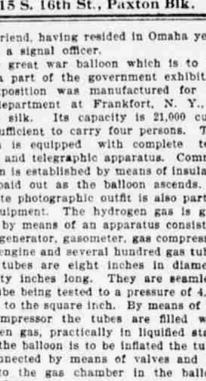

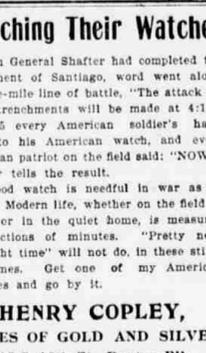

Mr. Cornwell of the American Bankers' Association Expresses Himself on the Question.

William C. Cornwell of Buffalo, N. Y., executive of the New York State Bankers' association, a member of the executive committee of the Indianapolis convention, vice president for New York of the National Sound Money league and chairman of the committee on education of the American Bankers' association, is in the city on his way home from the Denver convention. Mr. Cornwell, in conversation with a Bee man, said:

"The Bee's editorial yesterday morning on the future of the currency was timely and sound and the splendid work of Omaha in the fight for sound money during the trying years just past has given it an enviable reputation in the east and has done yeoman service in bringing about a change of ideas in the northwest, where the people have simply needed education to bring them to a just conclusion on the great question of the monetary standard. The editorial touches upon the ill adaptation of our currency for the growing hold we are getting on the commerce of the world. The United States has demonstrated its naval and military supremacy and these departments will be speedily brought to first-class conditions if lacking at any point. In McKinley we have developed a war president and a statesman of the first class. His conduct throughout has excited admiration and profound respect abroad and veneration and intense loyalty on the part of the American people. Our currency department is, however, lamentably deficient for the purposes of our own great business, to say nothing about what may come to us through recently acquired or to be acquired control.

"The business men of the United States thoroughly appreciate this need and through the Indianapolis convention, the grand and inestimably valuable work of the monetary commission and the McCleary bill, which is the outcome of these forces, the business men have shown that they propose to have this matter settled right and settled soon.

"I have just returned from the Bankers' convention at Denver. It was one of the most interesting conventions we have ever held. The Denver people were loyal in their hospitality and we are all in love with them. I was prepared by the bankers who stopped at Omaha on the way out to expect a rare treat in viewing the exposition. I am not only not disappointed, but find it far beyond my expectations. The scene at

The Rising Sun—

Rarely shines upon a finer carpet stock than the one we have now—you know a pretty design when you see it, but you cannot know a really good carpet until you have tried it—The quality design is the cheap John's ball—the designs we carry in stock are as tasteful as can be bought anywhere—and our qualities are the best we can get—We won't sell a carpet we can't recommend.

Omaha Carpet Co

Omaha's Exclusive Carpet House, 1515 Dodge St.

Don't Blame Us—

When you go to the Exposition gate and have to put up $1.00 to get your camera admitted—and only 50 cents for yourself—We haven't anything to do with the concession—but we do sell the best photographic supplies and at the cheapest prices—if you want you can use our dark room free of charge—we do developing and printing and guarantee our work to be the best in Omaha—Come in and look around, you can see something new that will be of interest to you.

The Aloe & Penfold Co

Amateur Photo Supp. Omaha. 1409 Farnam Street, Opposite Paxton Hotel. OMAHA

NEW

When you go to the Exposition gate and have to put up $1.00 to get your camera admitted—and only 50 cents for yourself—We haven't anything to do with the concession—but we do sell the best photographic supplies and at the cheapest prices—if you want you can use our dark room free of charge—we do developing and printing and guarantee our work to be the best in Omaha—Come in and look around, you can see something new that will be of interest to you.

The Aloe & Penfold Co

Amateur Photo Supp. Omaha. 1409 Farnam Street, Opposite Paxton Hotel. OMAHA

Here You Are—

A good washing machine for $2.98—does all the work—We've just received a new invoice of the celebrated "Stransky" steel ware for which we are sole agents for Omaha—The teakettles even have a seam in them—a No. 8 granite iron teakettle Monday for 45c—Come Monday if you want one at that price—Our line of pocket cutlery and scissors is worthy of your notice—A traveler's sample line just added gives us a larger assortment than any other store in Omaha—We always did sell cheap.