

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

Published every morning. Terms of subscription: Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year $10.00...

THE PEACE JUBILEE.

President McKinley and his cabinet have formally announced their intention to participate in the ceremonies of the peace jubilee projected by the Transmississippi Exposition management.

It is eminently appropriate that the triumph of American arms and the restoration of peace should be the occasion of public rejoicing in the most conspicuous place in all America.

The second building would involve a greater outlay than the cost of fireproofing one great building. The cost of annual maintenance of two high schools would impose a perpetual burden.

We do not believe the taxpaying citizens of Omaha will sanction the double high school scheme. A bond proposition contemplating such a departure can have little or no chance of carrying.

GROWING SENTIMENT AGAINST FUSION.

The latest appeal of the middle-of-the-road populists in national convention at Cincinnati finds its chief significance as an outcropping of the growing sentiment against fusion.

In giving preference to Omaha over all other cities that have been ambitious to secure his presence in a celebration of restored peace and prosperity President McKinley has conferred a most distinguished honor upon this community.

The populist proclamation therefore for independent party tickets in local, state and national contests without fusion with the democrats simply reaffirms the policy of the middle-of-the-roads and gives notice that they will not again be bound and gagged by any deal that savors of the Tom Watson bargain of 1896.

It is not so much the demand that irrefragable paper money or government ownership be made the vital tenets of the party faith in opposition to free silverism and Bryanism but the population of further fusion combines that may be regarded as of public importance.

Over 1,000 soldiers in the hospital at Camp Wilcox. This announcement is paraded by the poplarite yellow paper of these parts as a terrible arraignment of the maladministration of the republican war office.

These efforts of the yellow journals have been seconded by more reputable partisan sheets which are trying to counteract the popularity of the republican war president by pitiful stories of disease and suffering among the troops returning camped in the south or returned to convalescence in the north.

According to the Chicago Tribune the Philippines who are pleading to be taken under American protection can be governed without difficulty and at little cost. For a visionary expansionist the government of 8,000,000 semi-savage Malays 7,000 miles away from our coast line is as easy as rolling off a log.

Ex-Governor Waite of Colorado also wants it distinctly understood that in his opinion party treason is the only term that fitly characterizes the work of the populist leaders who have turned the party over to the democrats on a fusion spoils division.

Garrison duty may be unpleasant, but it is nevertheless necessary, even though the war is ended. With the conquered territory in the possession of the United States the regular army cannot possibly fill the bill alone.

Shedding crocodile tears over the sick soldiers in order to make political capital for a candidate who boasts that he helped to drive the soldiers to the fevered fields before the preparations for a campaign were completed is the most despicable demagoguery that has ever been resorted to in the interest of partisan politics.

The explanation is offered that the new Anglo-German alliance relates to commercial matters only. Even so it will be enough to send old shivers over France, Austria and Russia, each of which thought they had exclusive claim on one or the other of the parties to the agreement.

The poplarites are trying their hardest to make state issues exclusive in the battle of Nebraska. In this they are right; but there is nothing in the republican administration of national affairs that offers them a tangible foothold for political capital.

It is gratifying to hear that the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is in progress at Cincinnati is proving a greater success than anticipated and that the interest in the heroes of the war with Spain has not deteriorated from the glory attaching to the heroes of the war of 1861. Although the ranks of the old veterans have been inevitably thinned by the lapse of thirty-three years since the close of the war in which they were engaged the survivors still hold the places which they won in the hearts of the nation.

No Risk Leader. No Cuban has had the nerve to enter a complaint against the commissary department of the United States army.

Skill and Artillery. The British expert with the device has proved again that modern artillery is too much for armies that lack it or the skill to use it.

All Thinking Peace. Germany has given its assent to the disarmament proposition to the extent of agreeing to take part in the proposed conference, Norway and Sweden have done the same.

Making Away with the Swag. The departure of General Pando from Havana with 12,000 pesos is another illustration of Spanish methods.

Finances of the Nation. During the month of August the interest-bearing debt of the government was increased by about $75,000,000, being the amount of issues made for which cash has been paid into the treasury.

How States May Compel Express Companies to Pay Their Taxes. The merchants and traders of Omaha have commenced proceedings to test the power of express companies to evade the payment of their taxes.

Balked by McKinley. How a combination of European powers was prevented. Correspondence Chicago Record.

How a combination of European powers was prevented. I have just learned of a very interesting incident in connection with the diplomatic side of the war.

ECHOES OF THE WAR. Sabbath observers and those who fear to begin any enterprise on Friday will find mighty little in the events of the late war to sustain their convictions.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE. W. S. Witham of Atlanta is president of twenty-three banks, each one entirely independent of the others.

OUR DAILY BULLETIN. CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 7, 1898.—Gunnery has its triumphs in peace as well as in war, and on both land and sea.

"The hat is the ultimum moriens of respectability." Our fall styles in hats are ready for your inspection.

There are about four brands of hats that are sold everywhere at the top prices. Their makers trade upon their fame and they get these prices.

Some of the names which are foremost now in denouncing the mismanagement of the war were also foremost in demanding a spring or midsummer invasion of Cuba.

Some of the names which are foremost now in denouncing the mismanagement of the war were also foremost in demanding a spring or midsummer invasion of Cuba.

Some of the names which are foremost now in denouncing the mismanagement of the war were also foremost in demanding a spring or midsummer invasion of Cuba.

Some of the names which are foremost now in denouncing the mismanagement of the war were also foremost in demanding a spring or midsummer invasion of Cuba.

Some of the names which are foremost now in denouncing the mismanagement of the war were also foremost in demanding a spring or midsummer invasion of Cuba.

Some of the names which are foremost now in denouncing the mismanagement of the war were also foremost in demanding a spring or midsummer invasion of Cuba.

THE RISING TIDE OF PROSPERITY.

Condition of the Country the Most Satisfactory in Years. Indianapolis Journal 6th. The reports of the commercial papers for last week make it certain that the country is enjoying a season of unprecedented prosperity.

Confederate Soldier who saw four years' service, writes the Washington Star a letter showing that the hardships and mortality of the soldiers of the Cuban war are not to be compared with the riot of death in the confederate army in camp in 1862.

Colonel Hay of the Third regiment of Immunes at Guantanamo had one thrilling experience during his brief career there, and one which required great tact to avert disaster.

Philadelphians Times. Demagogues keep shouting that the poor are growing poorer and the rich richer, and the deposits in the savings banks which represent the savings of the people keep on increasing.

THE ANGLO-GERMAN ALLIANCE. Philadelphia Press: The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

PHILADELPHIA PRESS. The only power which can afford to aid Germany in any new step in Turkey is England.

BRIGHT AND BREEZY.

"Chicago Record": "Have you ever thought of a man who smokes cigarettes in the country where he is?"

"Chicago Tribune": "If you'll always give me full swing," observed the publisher, "you will never have any trouble with your horse."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Post": "Speaking of the terrible risks of war," said the hero who had just returned, "it is said you know, that disease germs lurk in the air."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

BRIGHT AND BREEZY.

"Chicago Record": "Have you ever thought of a man who smokes cigarettes in the country where he is?"

"Chicago Tribune": "If you'll always give me full swing," observed the publisher, "you will never have any trouble with your horse."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Post": "Speaking of the terrible risks of war," said the hero who had just returned, "it is said you know, that disease germs lurk in the air."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

"Chicago Record": "I don't know about that. He managed to tip the boat over and drown two of his crew."

