White none can be traced to any authentic source, a few of the most persistent are interesting as having a bearing upon the possible choice of the convention, should no caucus candidate be decided upon and the convention, as the prevailing impression would seem to indicate.

Among these rumors are the following: That Danforth will go into the convention with 150 delegates and that showing the greatest strength of any individual candidate he would be apt to secure the Tammany hall vote; that Frederick Cooke of Rochester, despite his interview upon his return from Europe denying that he was a candidate for governor, is still a strong favorite with the delegates from the western and middle states and a likely thing about whom a caucus might be made, should the first few ballots prove indeterminate; that D. Cady Herick of Albany is the choice of Tammany and that he will be given the support of the organization.

Many of the delegates had had conferences with Senator Murphy and former Senator Hill today. The word of the leaders, to representatives of localities having candidates for the first and other places upon the ticket, is that they get together and decide upon the candidate (that their respective localities will make on the convention and abide by this decision.

FIRE RECORD.

TIMBER ON FIRE.—CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Sept. 27.—(Special Telegram)—A bad prairie fire, which started on the hillside at 1600 hours, has done considerable damage. The fire swept northward through the narrow strip of cedars lands until it reached White river, when it went westward through the extreme northern portion of the timber land, burning hay and doing other damage. By hard work the force of Indians saved the government issue house at Lower Brule subagency below White river. In the cedared part of the reservation numbers of ranchers' houses were burned, while others were saved only by prolonged and vigorous efforts to keep the fire back. A considerable portion of the cattle range was swept over and destroyed. The fire is still raging sixty or eighty miles to the westward.

ROBBED BY HIS ESCORT.

J. R. Maxie was robbed early yesterday morning as he entered the hallway leading to his lodgings at 1600 hours. He had been drinking quite heavily during the night and was walking unsteadily along the hallway. He met two colored men. One of them remarked that Maxie was hardly in condition to find his way home alone and offered his services. Maxie, however, while others assumed the responsibility of victor and wherever our flag has gone, there the liberty, the humanity and the civilization which the flag embodies and represents must remain and abide forever. The republican party has been the party of brave conservation of a triumphant faith in the nationality of this people and we know that the president and statesmen and voters of the republican party will meet these issues of the future as bravely and triumphantly as we have met the issues of the past.

TWO DIVISIONS FOR CUBA

First One Leaves During October Under Command of General Wade.

LEE'S DIVISION DEPARTS IN NOVEMBER

Troops Which Go with General Wade Designated, but Those Which Accompany General Lee Not Made Public.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—A comprehensive program for moving troops to Cuba has been formed by the War Department and its initial features have been decided upon. This is in accordance with directions given by the president on September 15, that the army be ready to move to Cuba, Major General Miles at once outlined a plan for sending two divisions to Cuba, the first under command of Major General Wade to leave in October, and the second division under Major General Lee to leave in November. Each division will embrace about 8,000 men, so that the plan is to have some 16,000 troops in Cuba or on the way there within the next sixty days. It is not contemplated, however, that any large number of this force shall be assembled at any one point in this country or in Cuba, the desire being to keep them scattered as they can thereby be handled to better advantage.

Form the fact that they go to Cuba, it does not mean that they will proceed directly to Havana, the bulk of them being scattered through the western end of the island, garrisoning the small towns and thus gradually putting into effect the military occupation of the island. The quartermaster's department is preparing to have transports available for the troops. It had been intended to thoroughly overhaul all the transports, putting them into dry dock and transforming them from crude merchant ships into modern transports. But this plan will have to be altered in part in order to keep transports ready for the approaching move toward Cuba.

The War Department today gave out the order directing the formation of the first division which is to go to Cuba. It simply creates the division, making no mention of the proposed service in Cuba or the expected time of departure. These features, however, are embraced in a confidential telegram sent to the several commanding officers affected by the order. It makes known to them that the division is for "service in Cuba, not later than October 20."

First Detail for Cuba. The organizations forming this October division are as follows: Cavalry brigade, composed of the Seventh and Eighth United States Cavalry, to be commanded by Brigadier General H. L. Carpenter, United States volunteer; First infantry brigade, composed of the Fifteenth United States infantry and the Fourth United States volunteer infantry, to be commanded by Brigadier General Simon Snyder, United States volunteer; Second infantry brigade, composed of the First United States infantry and the Sixth United States volunteer infantry, to be commanded by Brigadier General E. Williston, United States volunteer.

The order leaves open the command of the division, but General Snyder will be in temporary command until a permanent division commander is chosen. General Miles' recommendation of General Wade for this command is likely to be carried out, although it is still open to the possibility of General Wade's being freed from his service at the head of the Cuban commission now holding sessions at Havana.

Although the November division under command of General Fitzhugh Lee has been generally projected as a part of the same program, its formal execution will be deferred for a time. Regiments forming the November division embrace both cavalry and infantry, with General Sumner in command of the First brigade.

New Head of the Omaha Police Force Assumes His Duties and Gives a General Order.

Chief of Police White, during the morning, received congratulations of many friends, who called on him to pay their respects. He also had many congratulatory telegrams piled on his desk. Among the more prominent ones were: W. A. Pinkerton, Superintendent of the Pinkerton agency, Luke P. Collieran, chief of detectives of Chicago, Chief of Police Kipley of Chicago, Chief of Police Hayes of Kansas City, Chief of Police Eldridge of Boston. A great many prominent business men the country over sent telegrams.

The new chief's first and only order is that every suspicious character, known or unknown, working within the limits of the district are to be brought to the attention of the police as fast as they are found. This order was not only issued to detectives, but to uniformed officers. All known thieves and grafting women brought in will be given a full and complete examination as to their character, either leaving the city or taking the limit of law provided for such characters. The prosecution of these cases he intends to make very rigid. There will be no lukewarm prosecution as marked the last administration.

Chief White says he intends to move slowly in weeding out inefficient officers. He will first direct his efforts in building up the detective bureau. He will not appoint a chief of detectives until he has got the force into a state of efficiency. For the present he will personally direct the men. For the present, he says, the personnel of his command will undergo no change. Captain Haze will assume his old command at the Central station, Sergeant Debut taking his place in command of the station house.

In making changes the chief said he would be guided simply by a man's worth. Politics, "pulls" and influences will not be of force. Police officers, he says, will have to fulfill all qualifications as such to remain members of the force.

TO ACCOMMODATE VISITORS

Commercial Club's Executive Committee Discusses the Problem and Announces a Plan.

The executive committee of the Commercial club held an important business meeting in the club rooms at noon yesterday, C. S. Hayward presiding. The greater part of the time was devoted to the transaction of routine business, and matters relating to commerce, but several subjects of general interest were discussed, chief among them being the problem of providing accommodations for exposition visitors. It was stated in the meeting that one night during the week past visitors were unable to find rooms, and consequently walked the streets or found seats on curbing or in parks until morning. This was admitted to be true, but it was explained that the people had arrived in Omaha during the night and did not know where to look for accommodations. Plans for preventing a recurrence of such a contingency were discussed, and it was decided to mail 49,000 circulars to various points in the state announcing that the club can furnish accommodations for all who applied.

A letter was read from F. W. Peck, commissioner general for the United States to the Paris exposition, explaining the conditions under which Nebraska firms may send exhibits to the exposition.

After reading the financial report showprosperous condition, the question of freight rates was discussed. Many of the shippers feel that they are unable to ship goods to outside points as advantageously as firms in other cities, but no plan of action to secure a more satisfactory adjustment of rates was determined upon.

LESSONS GIVEN KANSAS MEN.

J. R. Carpenter and W. W. Allen, direct from Clark county, Kansas, met a man yesterday who taught him to unlock a little padlock which was lying on the ground. The amount charged for lessons was $18 and $17.50 respectively. The man experimented fruitlessly until he met the second man who fixed a wager with him. During the progress of the affair a third man appeared wearing a star. He said he was under instructions to permit no irregular practices on his part and would be obliged to arrest the whole party. He finally arranged to let Carpenter and Allen go free on deposit of a bond for their appearance in police court and bore the amount of the bet.

ROBBED BY NINETY DOLLARS.

Daylight burglars entered the house of Carrie Rawland, 311 North Twelfth street, yesterday and uncovered a hiding place containing $90. The work was apparently done by some one who knew of the woman's habits, as nothing else in the house was molested.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The bell for the clock in the tower of the new justice building has been successfully landed in the eighth story of the tower ready to be placed in position.

Charles McFee and Frank Collins, habitual vagrants with innumerable "boater" sentences hanging over them, were sent to the county jail for thirty days yesterday.

Peter Hansen, bartender at the Police Court saloon, Fourteenth and Jackson streets, was badly hurt by being caught in a wheel which had made its home in the saloon for some months.

Mrs. Joseph Nolle, a Swedish domestic, was directed by Detective Greer of the Boston street shifting and was arrested. About $5 worth of small articles was found secured in her clothing.

Albert Snell, who was arrested in South Omaha on a charge of passing counterfeit money, had a hearing before United States Commissioner Anderson yesterday and was found over to the federal grand jury in the sum of $500.

Suit for $1,000 damages has been commenced in the county court by Walter E. Milligan against Lesueur Bedford for injuries done to his horse by stepping on a rusty nail while bathing at the natatorium, 1213 Howard street, July 16 last.

Internal Revenue Collector Houtz calls attention to the fact that every county fair must pay a tax of $10 under the new revenue law. He says this is not generally known to fair managers, and they should be reminded of it to avoid heavy penalties.

A meeting of the household economic department of the Omaha Women's club will be held Thursday morning, 10 o'clock, at the club rooms. As this department stands for the betterment of the household, a convention to be held October 12 and 13, it is necessary that every member should be present to learn what is expected of them individually and to be assigned to different committees.

by the wise utilization of the conditions forced upon us how to be safer and stronger within our old boundaries, and to use our resources to American enterprise and opportunity by becoming masters of the sea, and entering with the surplus of our manufactures the markets of the world. We cannot retreat or hide. We must "ride the waves and direct the storm."
These things require constructive statesmanship. As in 1776 and 1861, we need architects and builders. The restless logic of events overcomes all other considerations and impels me to present the name of, as it will persuade you to nominate as our candidate for governor of the state of New York Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. If he were only the hero of a brilliant charge on the battlefield, and there was nothing else which fitted him for this high place, I would not put him in nomination. But Colonel Roosevelt has shown conspicuous ability in the public service for ten years. He was a soldier three months. It is not time which tells with an executive mind and restless energy like Roosevelt's, but opportunity. Give him the chance and he leads to victory. He has held two positions which generally ruin the holder, the chief clerkship and the unthinking. One was civil service commissioner and the other police commissioner for New York City. So long as the public did not understand him there was plenty of lurid language and gnashing of teeth. The people are always lit in the end. Let them know everything that can be said about a man and let all that the searchlight of publicity will reveal and their verdict is the truth. When the smoke had cleared away from the batteries of abuse they had the untouched and unharmed figure of a public-spirited, broad-minded and courageous officer, who understood official responsibility to mean the performance without fear or favor of the work he had promised to do and obedience to the laws he had sworn to support. The mistakes from those who followed him by an innocuous and did the bulleins from the Spanish masters on the hill of San Juan. When he became assistant secretary of the navy he was in a sphere more congenial to his genius and abilities. He is a better soldier than he is a policeman. Life on the plains had broadened his vision and in-igorated his youth. The country owes tribute to him for the efficiency and splendid work of his administration. It is seldom in political conflicts, when new and unexpected issues have to be met and decided, that a candidate can be found who represents the popular and progressive side of those issues. Representative men move the masses to enthusiasm and are more easily understood than measures. For this reason, in this crisis, for the voters of the Empire state, for the young men of the country and the upward, onward and outward trend of the United States, the candidate of candidates is the hero of Santiago the idol of the Rough Riders—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

References to President McKinley were received with tremendous applause and there was a vigorous repetition of the tribute to Governor Black. When he told of the charge of the Rough Riders and mentioned Colonel Roosevelt, the audience went almost crazy. When Mr. Depew had reached the point in his speech where he alluded to the non-effect of Maudslayi's two or three men rushed down the aisle bearing a large portrait of Colonel Roosevelt in Rough Rider uniform. There was a three minute interruption and the picture was taken to the stage and set up. Mr. Depew finished at 5:25 amid applause that was almost a pandemonium.
Then Charles T. Saxton Wayne took the platform and seconded the nomination of Governor Black. Assemblyman Wallace of Queens seconded the nomination of Roosevelt. Abraham Gruber that of Governor Black and George N. Southwick of Albany that of Roosevelt. Senator Lenox took the platform to speak for Governor Black, but the audience showed its dissatisfaction at delay by crying for the vote. He
