Oct. 4 .- Wheat and provisions were weak today, while corn and oats were Wheat was influenced by the enormous visible increase, heavy primary re ceipts and a disappearance of the October premium, and closed 3-80014c lower for December. Corn was firm, principally on bullish husking returns, and advanced 1/2c.

Provisions were heavy. Continued prevalence of yellow fever in the south, disappointment over the small decrease in world's lard stocks, and liberal hog receipts were all bear influences. Longs were sellers and stop orders were reached. Packers also sold. Shipping demand was quite active. At the close January pork was 10c lower at $8.87½ and January ribs 7½c lower at $4.57½.

STOCKS AND BUNDS. Irregularity in Stock Dealings and Bond Market Active.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Considerable irregularity marked today's operations in the stock market, but the net result was in favor of the bulls, final prices showing sharp gains in many cases. Elements of strength included the St. Paul statement strength included the St. Paul statement for the fourth week of September, gold engagements presaging further ease in the monetary situation and more general commission house buying.

St. Paul was taken in hand at the outset and lifted sharply, but improvement in the general list was arrested by irregularity in the specialities. The market, generally speaking, did not take on a decisive tone until the late session, when heavy buying orders were executed all around, which advanced prices materially. Evidence that leading interests were supporting their favorites created uneasiness among the shorts and large lines were taken in. This likewise influenced outside demand, which had been eliminated from the market during the demoralization of the specialities. The bears attempted to make capital out of the closing of the Tradesmen's National bank, but it was not an effective card, as, after a period of duliness following the announcement, prices worked up slowly until the movement assumed large proportions in the late afternoon. The futile efbank, but it was not an effective card, as, after a period of duliness following the announcement, prices worked up slowly until the movement assumed large proportions in the late afternoon. The futile efforts to bring about a substantial reaction in the railways combined with the ready absorption of all offerings infused more hopeful feeling, which became intensified as additional encouraging traffic statements came to hand. Some lines reported falling off in income, but this showing, it was felt, would soon be counterbalanced by certain unfavorable influences.

Tobacco pursued its usual wild course and variations occurred in other members of the industrial group. Brooklyn Transit made a conspicious show of strength, the stock being taken on expected benefits to accrue from the absorption of the Nassau road and effective economies in operating expenses. A concerted drive against Sugar late in the day depressed the stock over three points and haited the general market when the rise was in full swing. Realizations occurred all around, but a better tone prevailed at the close, the market ending steady.

The bond market today developed considerable activity and heavy purchases were made in the current active issues. The general tone was strong and a brisk inquiry prevailed for some mortgages, which usually do not figure to any extent in the trading, notably St. Louis and San Francisco liens. Total sales, $2,850,699.

Considerable activity developed in United States 3s today, a gain being made of 1-8 per cent to 1654. Bid quotations of all other issues were unchanged.

The Evening Fost's London financial cablegram says: The stock markets here continued stagnant today, but the tone was fairly good. Grand Trunk was good on traffic reports. More attention was given to Americans in the belief that New York liquidation of the unwieldy industrials is virtually complete and that Wall Street is consequently healthler. Operators here lent some support to the railronds. The advance was led by St. Paul on the bull talk of Pre

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The dry goods market showed no shange in any department worthy of more than passing notice. There were not many buyers in town and these are not heavy buyers of merchandise. Mail orders were quite light in all grades. Woolen goods of all descriptions were duli and fratureless. Dress goods in particular are making a record for slow market. The operations of some clothiers were not as nearly as heavy as was expected earlier in the season. The market for staple cottons continues unsatisfactory. Buying of sheetings and drills is still light in the export trades. Point cloths are still very duil.

Conditions Unchanged in China. WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The Chinese minister was at the State department today and had a short talk with Secretary Hay. The secretary said afterwards that there was no change in the condition of Chinese affairs, so far as he new, and no late official dispatches. It was thought that the minister's call might have had some relation to the critical condition of affairs in China and the dispatch of American war ships to Chinese ports, but Mr. Wu said his visit had no connection with the general situation in China, but related to pending routine affairs. He received an official dispatch, but it brought no developments on the reported death of the emperor, or on the disturbed condition of the foreign element had a larger proportion of heifers, and the bunch before that brought $3.70. Other good westerns brought $3.70@3.80.

The feeder market was in the worst shape of anything, for the reason that the yards were full of that kind of cattle. Not only were fresh arrivals heavy, but speculators nad a good many cattle carried veel from yesterday. There was a world of common cattle on sale, but no very great number of really good cattle. There was a demand for good cattle, but the common and me-dium stuff was badly demoralized. As a general thing the market was 10c lower, but any one who had cattle that would not e considered desirable found it even worse than that and it is hard to say just how much lower it really was. Sellers were calling it a rotten market and that perhaps best expresses the situation. Represent-

HOGS—Today's receipts of hogs were double what they were vesterday and the largest of any day since Wednesday of last week. Some of the trains did not arrive until rather late in the morning, which held back the market. At the same time with the heavy run here both Chicago and Kansas City reported large receipts and weaker markets. As a still further bear influence there was the fact vesterday of this market being high in comparison to other markets, especially on the heavy packing hogs.

SHEEP-The receipts were the larges 5.000 to 5.500 head, were feeders and stockers.

The yards were full of cattle, and as some of the trains did not arrive until late it was well along in the forenoon before everything had been yarded. In consequence the market was very late in opening. When it did open it was slow and lower, owing to the large receipts and tack of encouraging receipts were the talgest of any day in two weeks or over and there was a fair showing of pretty much everything. At the same time there was no great number of fat sheep or lambs compared the market was very late in opening. When it did open it was slow and lower, owing to the very specific production of the demand. Chiing reports from other selling points.

Buyers were reporting about twenty-five loads of corn fed steers and about forty loads of grass westerns, good enough for firm prices. Common and undesirable sheep may have been a little weak. There were more feeding sheep and lambs on sale than for some time past, but the demand for that kind of stuff remains very
